Christmas Books Are Now Ready

Select gift books, now while the assortment is large and while you have the time to give thought to your choosing.

Thousands of fine books for children and adults have been pouring into the store during the past week and dozens of buyers have been in to pick up the choice things.

Don't wait until the rush of the last few days of Christmas shopping, but select wisely now and lay aside the books until the time comes for presenting them.

It is hardly necessary to remind you that a good book makes the most valued gift.
