

Music at the Alexander Young Cafe

The concerts during the dinner hour constitute one of the most popular features of this ever-popular Cafe. For this evening, and each succeeding Sunday, Kaai's famous Exhibition Glee Club has been retained. A special effort has been put forth to make tonight's the best Thanksgiving dinner we have ever served in Honolulu.

PUNAHOU PREPARATORY THANKSGIVING EXERCISE

In the presence of an audience of parents and friends that filled Charles R. Bishop hall, the Punahou Preparatory School yesterday forenoon held their annual Thanksgiving exercises. The hall was tastefully decorated and in accordance with the custom of the school all the Thanksgiving gifts brought by the children for the poor of the city were artistically grouped in front of the platform. The quantity of gifts both of food and money far exceeded those of any previous year.

The service opened with the chorus singing of St. George's chapel hymn, followed by the reading of the Thanksgiving proclamation of Governor Frear. Librarian Reece offered prayer and a response was sung by the school. Selected pupils from the Sixth and Fifth grades sang the anthem: "Father in Heaven, We Thank Thee," under the direction of Miss Ruth Smith and Stanley Mott-Smith played as a violin solo, with Mrs. Ross accompanist, Mendelssohn's "Bauernanzug."

Following the musical program there were represented on the stage seven scenes showing pilgrim life and environment as depicted in Longfellow's "Courtship of Miles Standish." Ruth Super read the poem as the scenes were presented. The first three were laid in the rooms of Miles Standish and of Priscilla, the former cleverly taken off by Alapai Smith, while Genevieve Taggard made a beautiful Priscilla. The visit of John Alden to the home of Priscilla, as played by George Murray, was one of the best acted scenes. Then followed the meeting in the council chamber, where Joseph Farrington, as Elder William Brewster, sought to restrain the choleric captain. The sailing of the Mayflower was the next scene, accompanied by the singing of a Thanksgiving anthem by the school choir of forty voices. A quick change brought the most picturesque scene of all—the Indian encampment with

"Women at work by the tents and warriors"
"Horrid with war-paint."
The scenes concluded with the tableau—the reconciliation of Miles Standish and John Alden.

Cameos Circle meets this evening at half-past seven o'clock in San Antonio hall.

LITTLE WILLIE GETS DROPPED

Willie Crawford has been investigated by the grand jury. Except for the free advertising, Willie Crawford doesn't suffer very much as no indictment was decided on.

One of the members of the grand jury yesterday stated that so much contradictory evidence was introduced and that both sides were corroborated to such an extent that the jury was unable to find sufficient grounds to carry the matter further. Yesterday's sitting over the matter was in the nature of an investigation and Willie was not being tried.

John W. Gathcart, city and county attorney, conducted the case, the charge being that of accepting forty plunks from a celestial, supposedly to clear the latter from a charge of selling opium.

The session of the grand jury was one of the longest that it has held and occupied the whole day. Over a dozen witnesses were called, among them being His Honor Mayor Joe Fern who is supposed to have given valuable testimony (one way or the other). Anyway, Willie's dropped.
