HIGH HOPES TO BEAT THE MAILES

The soccer games for tomorrow will be: Mailes vs. High School, at two o'clock, and Panahou vs. Iron Works, at 3:15 o'clock. Secretaries of teams are particularly requested to send in a list of players, who will appear on Saturday, to the league secretary, so that the same may be published in tomorrow morning's paper.

The management promises a punctual start of the game tomorrow. The first game was a trifle late last Saturday, and this should not be tolerated, as the public is asked to be there at two and the players should make an effort to be there, too. If all the players can not get there on time, they should start the game with what players are there and let the others come on later. Such an action taken by the league management would not have to be repeated. The players would get on there.

The first game tomorrow looks like a very exciting affair. It is true that the Highs were defeated by the Puns, but by a very close margin, and by what one might easily call a fluke.

Their forward work was wonderfully steady up to a certain point, and there is every reason to believe that this point will be passed tomorrow, after the practise they have had during the week.

While the Mailes have a team that may shape into championship form before the series is over, they did not show quite as much class in the first game this year as they did at the beginning of the series last year. They have a superb defense, but the Highs are also good in this department, and nobody can say that they will not drop the Mailes one notch in their climb for the championship.

The second game should also prove as interesting as the High-Punahou game of last Saturday. The Iron Works team showed remarkably good form, and if they have learned not to bunch up and not to pass the ball beyond their forwards, they should be able to do something good.

TENNIS FINALS FOR WALL CUP

The finals in the Wall cup series will start promptly at half-past three on the Beretania courts this afternoon. A. L. Castle will play Captain Low of the U. S. M. C., and the match should be a very close and exciting one to watch.

Castle held the championship of Hawaii last year and well deserved to win the title, for his playing was a great exhibition of steadiness and nerve and he always came up at the end with a strong finish.

Captain Low has proved himself a very finished racketeer and he has a good chance of winning out finally.

The winner of today's match will meet E. S. Gee, present champion, at half-past three tomorrow afternoon on the same courts, to play-off for the cup. Should Gee win he will have his name twice on the cup and will have to win it only once more to obtain full possession.

Jockey Ferreira is peeved. He says that everybody here has cold feet and does not want to race against his mare Lady Bernice. For this reason the resilient, not to say bouncing, jockey has shipped his mare to the Coast to run at Emeryville.

FIRST OF BASEBALL GAMES MAY BE POSTPONED A WEEK

BERT BOWER, THE NONPAREIL OF UMPIRES, WHO WILL OFFICIATE IN THE JAP-JEWEL SERIES.

Both Teams Working Hard to Insure Victory--

Pete Baron Determined to See
Jewels Win.

There has been a movement started to postpone the first of the great Jap-Sparkler baseball games from next Sunday until the following week, on account of the Kalakaua avenue walking race. Nothing was decided yesterday and, if the magnates finally decide to postpone, the announcement will be made in tomorrow morning's paper.

But the players are not worrying about whether the games are to be postponed a week or not. Every afternoon the Japs are out for a hard workout on the Athletic Park diamond. Jack Notley is there every time to watch his men like a hawk and he is getting them rounded into great shape.

Teamwork is the main thing that Jack is working for. He is succeeding nobly, too. When the Japs get out on the field for the first game, they will all know just what they have to do when they get the signal; and there will be no such thing as a man trying to get from second to third base when he should have stayed where he was.

Bert Bower to Umpire.

The question of an umpire has been definitely settled. Bert Bower has promised to act and this decision is one that will please every fan in town. Bert has proved himself the nonpareil of umpires here. Last year somebody kicked about one of his decisions, which was proved to be perfectly correct, and so much of a dust was raised that Bert retired.

Then the fans were treated to an interregnum of the fiercest umpiring that was ever seen here. Any old sport was put out in the field to umpire and each retired after the game with a shake of the head and a violent vow never "to do it no more."

They Begged Him to Return.

Finally even those who had been the hardest kickers against Bert's decision went on their knees and prayed him to come back. Bert came back and there never was such an ovation accorded an umpire in this Territory as when Bert walked on the diamond with the indicator. He is the right man for the place and all the real sportsmen will be pleased that he has consented to act.

Down beyond the river where most of the Japanese and Chinese people live, hardly anything else is talked about but the big series. The knowledge of the game that the local orientals have picked up is wonderful enough, but the expert knowledge they have of each individual player and what he is capable of doing, is far more extraordinary.

A Japanese Expert.

A prominent local fan came up to the office yesterday to tell of a talk he had with his Japanese yard boy about the games. With quiet dignity this little Jap orated about all the players in both teams, picked them all to pieces, reconstructed them and then showed why he believed that the Japs would win the first game.

"It was the most scientific piece of baseball fanning that I have ever listened to," said the fan. "He had me baffled all right, especially when he wound up by saying that 'All Japanese hope Jack Doyle be there make big banzai.'"

Pete Baron Is There.

The Jewels are none too confident that they have an easy thing before them. This is clearly shown by the way they are working. Every one of them gets out to practise in the afternoon and are going through a great course of sprouts.

They have a most enthusiastic adherent and trainer in the Grand Old Man of sport, Pete Baron. Nothing can make Pete believe that the Sparklers can lose, but he is taking no chances and goes out to encourage the boys, even though he has to leave sundry long-legged youths to do their calisthenics at the Healan boat club without his supervision.

WORKING HARD FOR FINAL RACE

All the walkers who qualified for the final race next Sunday are out getting in good condition to make the spurt of their lives for the championship cup. Ayres and Kaoo are training together, with David Kahana to make pace for them in the spurts.

Ayres is certainly in excellent shape and may well surprise everybody next Sunday. He has trained for this event harder and more conscientiously than he ever trained before, and Dick Sullivan will have to make fast time to get there ahead of him.

Dick is not underestimating the task that he has before him. He is down at the Healan boat club every morning, working out on the road, and has a corps of expert rubbers to thoroughly massage his muscles after the exercise.

Sullivan is looking famously fit and should be able to make the distance in even less time than he did last Sunday, when he was put to his utmost during three parts of the distance by Antone Kaoo.

One more entry has come in for the veterans' race in the name of Jack Campbell of the Honolulu Iron Works. Mr. Campbell is said to be a very lively man for his age and able to step it with the youngsters. His entry makes it more than ever impossible to pick a winner for the old boys.

No less than three entries for the heavyweight race were proffered yesterday, but they all had to be refused because the entrants weighed less than the stipulated minimum of 210 pounds.

There is a tremendous amount of interest being taken round town in the event, so much so that the baseball magnates have talked seriously of postponing the first of the Diamond Head-Jap series. Whether this will be done or not is not yet known. It seems hardly necessary, however, as those who wish to see both the finish of the race and the baseball game will have plenty of time to get down to the Athletic Park after the race is over.
