RAIN HAS DONE LOTS OF GOOD
Reservoirs Are Filled and Running Over—Big Dam Nearly Pau.

"This little rain we have had today has been worth not less than $3000 to the department of public works," said Superintendent Marston Campbell yesterday afternoon. "All the reservoirs are full now—except, of course, the Nuuanu dam. As the men were working in the dam tunnel, we had to let the water run out. But the rain has done lots of good. It has been raining steadily up in the mountains all day long. That's what we get for Christmas."

Mr. Campbell states that the work of putting the finishing touches on the big dam is progressing rapidly and it will be only a short time until the structure is completed. This will be a big load off the department of public works, for the Nuuanu dam has been a good deal of a bugbear for several years. Not that there has been any especial pillikia during the past year or two, but there has been an endless amount of detail to be looked after, and it has all taken time and work.

Land Patents.
The people of Kapaa and Anahole get as their Christmas present from the government their patents to the town lots that were sold recently. The papers were sent over to Kauai in time to be received by the lot owners by today. This, also, clears off a troublesome detail from the slate of the land department.

Kula Pipeline.
Fred Harvey, the engineer in charge of the Kula pipeline project, returned to Honolulu yesterday to spend the Christmas holidays. He reports to Superintendent Campbell that the work is progressing rapidly and that already two miles of the five miles of trail have been completed. Mr. Campbell states that the work of distributing the pipe along the twenty miles between Olinda and Kanio will be started in January. This is the hardest part of the enterprise, as there are several deep gulches to be crossed, one of which must be spanned by a high trestle. A tunnel 300 feet long must also be dug.

REVENUE CUTTER THETIS WILL ARRIVE TODAY

Some time this forenoon the United States Revenue Cutter Thetis will arrive from Seattle and will be given permanent moorings in the stream by Captain Clark, the harbor master. The Thetis has been fitted out for a long stay in these waters, and it is likely that in future a revenue cutter will always be on station here. The Thetis is not unknown to Honolulu. She is of the rig of the small wooden warships which used to call here during the monarchy days, and will remind the belles and beaux of that day of the good times they used to have on the decks of the old bark-rigged boats. The Thetis is commanded by Capt. W. V. E. Jacobs. The Thetis has wireless in that she expects to reach port today. The present principal duties of the Thetis may be to patrol the islands included in the "Bird Reservation" created by the President.

Upon information and complaints from international Audubon societies, the government has become aroused over the extensive slaughter of Hawaiian birds for commercial purposes. It is asserted that Japanese in large numbers and with well-equipped facilities are capturing and killing the Hawaiian birds, sending the skins and feathers to Japan. There the product used for millinery purposes is fitted for shipment to the important markets in London and Paris.

SWEATING THE NEW GOLD COIN

Sweating the new twenty-dollar gold pieces, those with Miss Liberty standing in a new attitude and the eagle making a new sort of flight and with stars on the rim instead of the familiar milled edge, is going on either in Honolulu or on the Coast. New coins show that considerable effort is being made by possessors to get as much of the gold from them as possible.

Sweating is a simple process. The coins are put into a canvas bag and the sweater keeps the bag and the coins in motion. The coins rubbing together wear off almost infinitesimal atoms of gold, but it is gold and in the long run the sweater gets a little surplus for his efforts. Some coins which were passed over the counter of a steamship office showed clearly that they offer exceptional opportunities to the sweater. The rims or just high enough above the disk to give an edge which can be pared. The stars on the rim offer additional opportunities. Some of the coins show that the rim edge on the eagle side is chosen for paring. The stars on the rim on the coins inspected yesterday show their points closer to the edge than on the Miss Liberty side.

NEW YEAR'S AT KILAUEA CRATER

One week from today will be New Year's day and, unless all signs fail, there will be a large number of people at the crater at Kilauea on that day. Indeed, it would be difficult for a man of ordinary desire to add to his store of knowledge to resist the temptation to go up and see Nature spitting fire at the rate she is doing now. The conditions can not last forever.

History fails to record a time when the activity spread over as many months as this and when the lava begins to subside it will go out through a hole in the bottom of the lake at a greater pace than water flows through a mill race. Twenty-five dollars pays for the round trip to the crater, and the Mauna Kea, which will not be over-crowded, will leave on New Year's eve. President Kennedy requests those who intend booking to do so now. No berths kept unless paid for.

THRUM'S ANNUAL FOR 1910.

Thrum's Annual for 1910 has just been issued from the press, and is an even more valuable and interesting volume than its predecessors. The book contains the usual statistical and general information about Hawaii, and has in addition a number of particularly interesting special articles relating to these Islands. The latter include "Business Building Chances," "Honolulu Reminiscences of 1845," by Gorman D. Gilman; "Heiaus: Their Kinds, Construction, Ceremonies, etc.," a Hawaiian legend of the deluge, "Canoeing Off the Puna Coast," "Pyrethrum, a Possible New and Profitable Industry for Farmers"; "Pineapple By-Products," "Early Tobacco Culture in Hawaii," and many other articles of like nature. Thrum's Annual is always valuable, and the 1910 volume is particularly so.
