TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Star editor records a second Red Sea miracle. Oh, Moses!

Wonderful! The Advertiser does not want to rush the Thurston-Spalding cable scheme this session without consideration. Well! Well! The Devil must have lost his partner.

The Advertiser prints the following remarkable sentence from the S. F. Chronicle relating to the American flag. Perhaps it accounts for the Hawaiian's "Jacks and Jingoos." But even there will be almost the same irregularity, though the field will be more nearly filled up and will appear less jagged than now.

The Advertiser now says now A. D. McAvoy, late ex-spy for Hitchcock, did good work while here—let them go back over their own files and see what they said about him before. Liars have short memories. The Advertiser and McAvoy only want to draw three of a kind to make full hand.

Thurston uses the following two old saws in his cable report. "The Lord helps those who help themselves" and "If you want a thing done do it yourself; if not, get some one else to do it." And now he has got Z. S. Spalding to do it, and Hartwell is out on a cold, cold, world again, without a cable to round his waist.

The Advertiser says in regard to the cable scheme. "Though this scheme were the worst 'job' ever perpetrated on the Government it is time to talk about it when the details are made public." Yes. Lock the door when the steed is stolen. Or move the powder magazine after it has blown up—as Hanuua wants it—to do it.

The Treasury balance a year ago was $189,898.74, now it is $107,523.92. The Loan fund balance was then only $10,015.92, now it is $52,050.57. Well! well! well! Can't be helped. The more you owe in this country the greater your credit and the more profound the obsequiousness of your creditors. Honest people who pay their debts get no consideration.

"There is one consideration that the Star does not recall as having been mentioned yet, that would warrant Hawaii in putting about $1,000,000 into either the Nicaragua or Panama canal, and considerable into a cable enterprise." The answer is "yachts." But there is another consideration, brother, which doesn't warrant it. And that is Hawaii hasn't got a bean to put into anything.

Minister Damon favors the cable scheme although he knows the government will never require to send $50,000 (or anything like it) worth of messages per year. But he thinks it will revolutionize business methods and save as at least two thirds of our military expenses well as giving us the continued presence of the warships of all nations and commercial and pleasure vessels galore. Good for you!

The alcohol question is now settled. The liquor dealers will sell it as per usual—perfumed or not—in quantities to suit. The druggists will methylate their alcohol at the Custom House and the saloons in their cellars, and not make any more perfumery—only import. But no druggist will hereafter sell crude alcohol to liquor dealers, licensed or otherwise—to poison their customers under any specious label. And the
