A Good Race

The H. A. A. C. is entitled to great credit. The race of the boys under the auspices of the association was as neat an affair as anybody could desire. The fine time made by Sylvester showed that he was monkeying at the run a week ago. He then tried to persuade us that he did his best. He disappointed his friends and they look still more askance at him when they realize that he needs 38 minutes in which to make 10 miles and only 13:30 to win a five mile race. Ain't you ashamed, brother Sylvester of the Advertiser?

The race was good however, and the public was not disappointed. How the police (through the marshal) can allow a few boys to take charge of the public roads, we do not know. The Marshal evidently has a cinch on the government. When the Attorney-General returns, disagreeable questions may be asked in regard to the authority which forced the delivery wagons of grocery, mineral waters, and other necessaries to wait for hours while a certain "gambling" crowd took possession of the public road.

The Marshal may yet have to explain?

The riders tumbled over each other. They scared horses and even tram cars. They fell off and sprained their monstaches and finally they came home. The race, taken all round was a good one. Sylvester is the champion of Honolulu, and he has had some very clever riders to contest with. Allow THE INDEPENDENT to suggest to Mr. Sylvester that it is fine to be a champion, pure and simple, and that it is finer yet to hold that position without using monkey tricks.

To Write a Book.

From private correspondence of Nov. 8th, from San Francisco we are advised of the arrival of Professor J. R. Musick. He arrived on the Australia on Saturday. The learned gentleman comes out under engagement with Messrs. Funk and Wagnalls, the celebrated publishers of the Standard Dictionary, to collect notes for the purpose of writing a book on the islands to be sold by subscription. The book will be handsomely illustrated from actual photographs taken on the ground and reproductions of well-known scenes. The reputation of the firm is a guarantee of the success of the work as well as its faithful attention to all the details necessary to a correct impression.

Out of Sight

The "yacht" race arranged by the boys who yet remember Kalakaua's birthday was not a success. The young fellows who had charge of the so-called race quarrelled and made trouble. The miniature yachts got stuck in the mud, and when Cupid ran in Lady... there were protests enough to make all contestants weary.

The boys enjoyed the day, however, and the "yachts" were admired by everybody present. The silver cup now belongs to Lady L, and Lady Eva, the favorite of the day, was rendered hors de combat at once. She stuck in the mud. Next year we hope the boys will put up real boats and stop the baby play.
