Dimond vs. Dimond.

Attorney Paul Neumann appeared before Judge Alfred Carter in the Circuit Court this morning on behalf of Mrs. Carria Dimond, asking for lawyer's fees and alimony.

Mr. W. Kinney who represents Mr. W. W. Dimond was in attendance.

The lawyer's fee was granted without any dispute and the Court awarded $250 to the attorney of Mrs. Dimond. In regard to an alimony $25 a week was granted until the divorce case has been finally settled.

It was proven that Mr. Dimond had made a very liberal allowance to his wife upon her departure. The attorney for the lady, however, called for winter clothing and claimed that the amount granted was not sufficient to shield his client against the cold, cold climate now prevalent in Honolulu. At the Orpheum less cloths will be needed, but in Honolulu there is yet a chilly blast.

So far only five subpoenas have been served. It is generally reported that another batch of prominent people will be called as witnesses. The persons who will be asked to appear on behalf of Mr. Dimond have not been called yet. While being unable, in justice to compromise with Mrs. Dimond, the injured husband has no desire to entangle his friends into an affair, which, to say the least, will be distinctly scandalous.

The names of the witnesses are well never mind, THE INDEPENDENT is a family paper.

Another Kamaaina Gone.

In the death notice, in another column, will be noticed the passing away this morning, through pneumonia, of Mrs. Angeline Munn Kuhiau at the ripe age of 67 years. Mrs. Kuhiau was the last direct descendant, bearing the name of Munn, of the well known John Graves Munn, whose daughter she was. Her sister married another pioneer, well known in Hawaiian history, H. L. Sheldon. There are many collateral descendants of Munn's blood left but none now bear his name. The death occurred at the residence of her niece, Miss Sophie Sheldon, at Iwilei. The funeral will take place from there at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, and the remains will be interred in the Munn vault in Nuuanu cemetery. The sympathies of THE INDEPENDENT are extended to the bereaved relatives and friends.

A Grand Concert.

In spite of other attractions it is safe to state that the Graham concert at the Opera House this evening will be the leading event of the evening.

Mr. Donald de V. Graham will sing some of his most favorite airs and Mrs. Marquardt will play the harp in a manner that cannot be equalled. Harry Gillig in spite of a severe cold will allow his voice to be heard, and Miss Axtell will assist the gifted musicians. The "400" will be there.

Sentence Suspended.

Manuel Fernandez, who was arrested a few days ago for selling liquor without a license, was released this morning in the District Court, a nolle prosequi being entered. The "boss" of the boy was then arrested and plead guilty to the charge mentioned. Sentence was suspended in his case and everything was serene. Creighton & Corea appeared for the Portuguese defendants.

SLIGHTLY MIXED.

W. W. DIMOND'S

There are all kinds of knives for all kinds of business, but for cutting bread nothing has ever been devised that will equal a Chrysty. Made of aluminum steel; of the same quality as the best saw. Unlike the Clause, the Chrysty bread knife has a wooden handle and it has other advantages.

We have a patent trouser creaser that surpasses even a flat iron for keeping the trousers free from "knee," and wrinkles. Nothing bulky about them and they will hang out of the way in any closet. Seventy-five cents a pair.

Aluminum lime and lemon squeezers are new as to material, but not in shape; their superiority is in their cleanliness. Aluminum collapsible water cups are light and convenient for the pocket.

Many fine tables are ruined by careless people laying lighted cigars on the edges. The Pendegrast cigar holder and ash receiver obviates the damage at very little cost. They are detachable and will fit on any table.
