of South America, where the mango matures with ease and man with difficulty.

All who consent to work in the Hawaiian Archipelago are virtually slaves, for they work under the laws of contract labor and can not leave their employer until the contract has expired. The laborer of Honolulu gets 30 cents a day and boards himself out of it. Besides the 40,000 natives there are 50,000 more of the most undesirable people in the world and about the most discouraging material to make a republic of—Chinese, Japanese, Portuguese, Polynesians, and unclassified hordes from the great Micronesian Ocean to the west, unable to read or write, and with little regard either for their own liberty or the liberty of others.

THE COMMISSIONER OF THE UNITED STATES sent out to investigate the causes of the so called revolution says:

"The Portuguese who inhabit the islands amount to 8602. They have been brought here from time to time from the Madeira and Cape Verde Islands by the Hawaiian Government as laborers on plantations just as has been done in relation to Chinese, Japanese, Polynesian, etc. They are the most ignorant of all imported laborers, and reported to be very thievish. They are not pure Europeans, but a commingling of many races, especially the negro. They intermarry with the natives and belong to the laboring classes. Very few of them can read and write. Their children are being taught in public schools, as all races are. It is wrong to class them as Europeans.

"The character of the people of these islands is and must be overwhelmingly Asiatic. Let it not be imagined that the Chinese, Japanese, and Portuguese disappear at the end of their contract term. From the report of the inspector in chief of Japanese immigrants on March 31, 1893, it appears that twenty "lots" of Japanese immigrants have been brought here by the Hawaiian Government, numbering 21,110 Of these 2517 have returned to Japan: 8,592, having worked out their contract term, remain, and 9,626 are still working out their contract term. More than 75 percent may be said to locate here permanently.

"There are 13,067 Chinamen engaged in various occupations, to wit: 8,763 laborers, 1,479 farmers, 133 fishermen, 74 drivers and teamsters, 564 mechanics, 42 planters and ranchers, 776 merchants and traders, 164 clerks and salesmen, 12 professional men and teachers, and 1,050 in various other occupations.

"The number of merchants and traders in the entire country is 1,238. Of this number 770 are Chinamen and 81 are Americans. The largest part of the retail trade seems to be conducted by Chinamen.

"The Portuguese population in 1884 amounted to 7.377 and in 1890 to 8,602—a loss of 775. These have been leaving in considerable numbers for the past eighteen months, making their way generally to the United States. In 1890 the males were classified as to occupation thus: Laborers, 2,653; farmers, 136; fishermen, 3; mariners, 10; drivers and teamsters, 63; mechanics, 167; planters and ranchers, 17; merchants and traders, 56; clerks and salesmen, 13; professional men and teachers, 11; other occupations, 123; total, 3,266. On the cane plantations there are of male Portuguese, 277 under contract and 1,651 day laborers.

"Of the population in 1892, 20 536 were laborers on sugar-cane plantations, 16,723 being Portuguese, Japanese and Chinese. Of the whole number 10,991 are contract laborers. The remainder are designated as day laborers. The total number of laborers in the islands by the census of 1890 was 25 466.

"In 1890 there were 23 863 male laborers. Of this number 18,728 were Chinese and Japanese. At this period there were 41,073 persons of all occupations. Of this number 24,432 were Chinese and Japanese.

Extracts from our Recent Catalogue

Our best efforts have been expended for nearly quarter a century in making desirable connections for the purchase of high class foods.

Now is the time of year to entertain—that's when you need us.

Some one said "I never come into your store without feeling that I would like to buy it out."

The price of a thing is generally what it is worth, competition regulates that. The higher the price, the better the quality as a rule; but price doesn't always guarantee quality, the reputation of the seller counts.

There's great responsibility selling groceries.

Life and health depend on good nutritious food.

That's the kind we sell.

Refined folks use refined foods; that's the kind we sell.

Why people come long distances to buy at the

Palama Grocery

REASON 1—Because one customer tells another how much they have saved by dealing at this live and let live establishment.

REASON 2—Because the saving from their grocery bill helps them to pay the house rent.
