PASSED AWAY.

Death of Eveline Wilson, the Faithful Friend of Liliuokalani.

When the death of Mrs. C. B. Wilson, which occurred this morning at her family residence on Young street, was made known, there was sincere grief and tears in many a household, where the deceased was revered as a dear friend and a noble woman.

Mrs. Wilson had been ill since the days when she shared the imprisonment of her royal friend Liliuokalani, but recently it was hoped that she would recover her health, and a few weeks ago she was able to attend a wedding at the home of a dear friend.

Last night she was feeling worse and a consultation was held by her attending physicians who still entertained no fear of immediate danger. This morning at 8 o'clock the crisis came, and the woman, whose devotion to Liliuokalani is on record in the history of Hawaii, expired in the arms of her heartbroken husband.

Twenty-nine years ago handsome, dashing Charles B. Wilson married Eveline Townsend, a handsome young girl, who was the special friend and companion of the then princess, Lydia. After their marriage the couple resided in Wailuku and later on in Honolulu, where her husband, through his ability and energy, rose to high honors and great prominence. Mrs. Wilson may sometimes have regretted the happy days, when she and her husband lived under comparatively humble conditions, but she bravely stood by him under the trying circumstances when his responsibility in the affairs of the country was great.

One son, John H. Wilson, is the only surviving issue of the marriage and in him was centered the interest of the life of the deceased and his well-deserved success was the happiness of his devoted mother.

The deepest sympathy is felt for the old mother who cries at the bier of her beloved daughter, and for the husband and son whose happy home has been broken up. Hawaiians and foreigners alike, who admire faithfulness to a friend and to an Alii, and a bravery which means sacrifice of self interest, grieve over the departure of Eveline Wilson.

The funeral will take place from Kawaiahae Church to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the interment will be in the family plot in the Churchyard.

Meeting of the Executive Committee.

The executive committee of the Boys in Blue met this forenoon, G. W. Smith, presiding. Principal Richards of Kamehameha tendered the use of the school band and glee club; the Government offered the services of Capt. Berger's band, and Williams offered Hawaiian views for the officers.

Mr. Atherton reported $3000 as collected, but he advised the committee not to incur any more expense than was absolutely necessary, inasmuch as it was the opinion of experts that the war vessels and transports would not come near the islands but proceed direct to Manila.

It was ordered that all bills be certified to by the chairman of the several sub-committees, and then turned over to the finance committee for payment.

It was decided that no donations be used for the supply of liquors, wines, and beers, as this line of action was desired by those who would have command of the men.

The ladies' committee reported through Dr. Maxwell that they had everything ready.

The committees were ordered to keep down expenses until something definite was known.

A STRANGELY AFFLICTED WOMAN.

Big Knots Swelled Up in Parts of Her Body—Where the Swelling Exists the Skin is Pink and There is a Pain Like a Bee Sting—The Case Puzzles Physicians.

Mrs. William Seib is the wife of a prominent citizen of Batesville, Indiana. A reporter recently called to interview her regarding her serious illness, of which he had heard so much. Mrs. Seib seemed to be in perfect health, having no indication of any recent illness. She is nearly fifty years of age.

"I have been afflicted for twenty-one years," said she. "My trouble was rather a peculiar one, even the doctors not knowing exactly what it was. It resembled dropsy, but I am yet ignorant of the real trouble and cause, but now since I am well I suppose there is no further reason to worry about the matter.

"My trouble came on gradually at first, and kept getting worse each year. The main trouble was the swelling of my limbs. They would swell up in great big knots, remain this way a few days, then go down, and the swelling would then appear in some other part of my body. When I was in this condition I was in perfect misery. Ordinarily, the swelling would be perfectly hard. The skin would be pink, and there would be itching pains like a bee sting, which were almost unendurable. Some times the swelling would be in the neighborhood of my heart, and this alarmed me very much.

"A year ago last fall I was sick with the yellow jaundice. I was confined to my bed for some time with this trouble, and suffered intensely. I was as yellow as an orange. When I was finally able to be out I was troubled as bad as before. My blood was all out of order, and the doctor said it had become very thin. The doctor tried many things, but nothing seemed to benefit me. Mrs. Galtman, a neighbor, advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as she had been so greatly benefited by them. I decided to try the medicine and did so, with the result that now, I am thankful to say, I am entirely well. I fully believe now that the swelling of my limbs came directly from poor blood, induced by some liver disease. I am satisfied at any rate that my blood was diseased, and that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills purified it effectually. I can most cheerfully recommend these pills in any such case as mine."

COFFEES

Some are cheap now. Cheap cereal adulterated coffees are very plentiful and are forcing down the prices of the old Kona product, especially the medium and lower grades with which they compete.

The higher grades of Island coffees have declined a little in sympathy.

Our customers are the first to benefit by reductions.

Fine coffees are scarce and no reductions can be made in their prices.
