The transport Pennsylvania with the Iowa Regiment has left for Manila. The boys had a good sendoff.

With the completion of the new annex to the Royal Hawaiian Hotel Honolulu will have a hostelry to be proud of.

There is a report that a man of the ship Sargent fell overboard and was drowned, but we have not verified the statement.

The town team won a very easy victory over the Iowas at baseball yesterday; the score being 22 to 1. The attendance was slim.

The big auction sale at the store of H. W. Schmidt & Son which commenced today was a great success. Don't forget that the sale goes on tomorrow at 10 a. m.

The Rio de Janeiro is due from San Francisco tomorrow morning. She was to have sailed at 1 o'clock on the 10th, thus bringing two days later news and the election returns.

First Lieutenant Clarke, of the Wyoming Battery, is a newspaper man from Cheyenne. With the very large number of writers connected with the volunteer army the records of the war will be voluminous, if not accurate.

The transport Newport, 8 days from San Francisco, arrived last night with Kansas and Wyoming troops. Brigadier-General Marcus P. Miller, commanding Second Division Eighth Army Corps, and staff came with them.

The American ship St. Francis, Wain, has arrived 143 days from Norfolk, with 2324 tons of coal for the U. S. Government; and the American schooner Endeavor, McAllep, from Port Townsend, with lumber for Wilder & Co.

Major Davis, U. S. Surgeon in charge of the Military Hospital has given permission for the invalids there to have a Thanksgiving dinner. Donations for the happy incident may be sent to Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wright at Little Britain or left at Lewis & Co.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Lihue Hospital held yesterday in this city, the charter of incorporation granted to them was accepted and the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year: Hans Iseberg, president; Geo. N. Wilcox, treasurer; C. Wolters, secretary; and W. C. Parke, auditor.

A painful rumor was current this forenoon that one of the officers of the Newport had been eaten by a shark while bathing. There is no truth in the report. The Newport is alongside the Oceanic dock and all on board, except two invalids, are in excellent health. The steamer awaits the arrival of the Rio de Janeiro before sailing.

The following ladies arrived on the Newport: Mrs. M. P. Miller, Miss R. E. Miller, Miss Elizabeth Anderson and Mrs. R. H. Allen, daughters of Major-General Anderson, Mrs. Chas. G. Woodward, Mrs. M. K. Barroll and son Morris K. Mrs. F. M. Kemp, Mrs. E. B. Funston, wife of Col. Funston, Twenty Kansas Infantry, U. S. V., Mrs. G. A. Goodale, Mrs. S. E. Potter, Mrs. C. A. Devol and two children, Lucille and Mary, Mrs. J. W. F. Diss, Mrs. J. F. Lucie and Mrs. J. T. McMillan.

Abdullah Almost Captured.

CAIRO, Nov. 8.—Khalifa Abdullah, the defeated Dervish leader, is hard pressed on the frontier of Kordofan, southwest of Khartoum, by natives friendly to the Anglo-Egyptian expedition and it is believed his capture is imminent. Ali Shereef, his son-in-law, is already a prisoner, and is being brought to Khartoum.

Jolly Comedians.

The audience which occupied every seat in the Opera House last evening realized with great pleasure that the McKee Rankin company is composed of actors and actresses, who rank high in the comedy as well as in the drama.

"The Magistrate" was hailed with enthusiasm by the whole audience, and all admitted that the work of the company was excellent.

The play selected contains many comical situations and is full of fun from beginning to end. L. R. Stockwell was very amusing as the "spree-going" judge and caused the audience to roar whenever he appeared on the stage. The many friends of Herbert Carr were surprised to see him display such talent as a comedian and could hardly believe that the British colonel in "Pilikia" was the favorite hero and dramatic lover of the Honolulu public.

Leslie Morosco deserves great credit for the manner in which he presented the young scamp of a somewhat uncertain age. His fine stage appearance made him a general favorite, at least with the female part of the audience. Nance O'Neil did very well, of course, as the judge's wife, but we prefer to see the talented actress in something better adapted to the high standard of her art.

The other characters of the farce were well represented and gave great satisfaction to the audience.

Thursday night Leah the Jewess, a most interesting drama, will be presented.

The Planter Arrives.

The Planter arrived this morning from Laysan Island, with the flag flying at half-mast. On board of her were the remains of the master of the vessel, Captain F. A. Dow, who died on the 2nd of November, two days after his leaving Laysan Island. Captain Dow was well-known in Honolulu, where he had numerous friends. He had been in command of the Planter about eight years, and from here he was to take the vessel to San Francisco. "This is my last trip to Laysan Island," said the Captain, when he last left Honolulu. His words were prophetic. Many vessels in port half-masted their flags out of respect to his memory.

Captain Dow was an American, and was about forty years of age. He leaves a widow and two children in New England, to mourn their sad loss. The deceased was not well during his last visit to Honolulu, but his friends did not consider his ailment very serious.

The Planter encountered very rough weather on the trip and brought only 47 tons of guano for H. Hackfeld & Co. Several Japanese laborers returned in her.

Grand Military Concert

Captain Berger and his band had a right glorious musical time of it this morning in speeding the Pennsylvania on her warlike path. There was a combined concert of the Hawaiian and Iowan bands playing in unison, with 20 trumpeters, making 80 pieces in all. Captain Berger felt proud to be the leader of such a company and the field music was grand. It was a musical triumph for all participating and a pleasure to the large audience.

Eighth Cavalry Going to Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The War Department has decided to send the Eighth Cavalry Regiment to the province of Puerto Principe in advance of the Fifteenth Infantry or the Third Georgia. Six troops each of the Eighth are to be sent to Nuevitas and Puerto Principe, the capital of the province. The transport Manitoba will take the Eighth to Cuba.

General Gilmer Down With Fever.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—General John G. Gilmer, adjutant general at the headquarters of the army, is seriously ill with malarial fever at his residence in this city as a result of exposure in Cuba and Porto Rico with Major General Miles.

Ready for War.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A cable to the Sun from Paris says: The Fashoda crisis has ended as all clear-sighted observers foresaw. There never was any serious danger that it would plunge France and England into war. There is reason to fear, however, as has been hinted for several weeks past, that a graver situation has been masked behind the Nile quarrel. Europe has been suspecting for some time that England was arming for another purpose. The fact that the complete backdown of France on the Nile, which has been discounted for several days, has not checked British mobilization, is causing genuine alarm, especially in St. Petersburg.

Is it the Maria Teresa?

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—James E. Ward & Co., steamship agents, this afternoon received a cablegram from Mr. Moyer, their agent at Nassau, N. B., that a two-funneled steamer, the name of which had not been learned, was ashore on Cat Island, about thirty miles from the point where the former Spanish warship Maria Teresa was supposed to have foundered during the storm. The stranded steamer may be the warship or one of the army transports.

Bryan Has "Military Lockjaw."

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—Colonel William J. Bryan, Third Nebraska Volunteers, arrived here to-day from Savannah, Ga., on his way home.

In response to a request for an interview, Colonel Bryan said: "Don't ask me to discuss the political situation. Don't intimate an inquiry as to the prevailing conditions in the army. Why? Because I have military lockjaw."

Unruly Tennesseans.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—The 150 volunteers discharged from the Tennessee regiment at San Francisco passed through Los Angeles to-day on their way home. The train men said the soldiers had raised "Cain" on board. They had their final pay in their pockets and were ready for anything. Trouble is feared on the trip East.

Jesse Moore.

The soldiers from the South passing through Honolulu on their way to Manila are always clamoring for the famous Jesse Moore whiskey, and heretofore they have been unable to obtain it. The owners of the Anchor Saloon has filled a long felt want, and Wm. Carlisle and Chas. Andrews are busy from morning till night supplying this health renewing beverage to the boys in blue. All judges of good whisky admit that the Jesse Moore brand is the best, and it is well to know that it can now be had, unadulterated at the Anchor on the corner of King and Nuuanu streets.

Joseph Chamberlain, in his now famous speech at Birmingham, said he would prefer the judgment of the people to that of the diplomats.

In the long run the majority will be found to be right—this is proven by the success of our Republic.

The people may not be easily imposed upon and the wise merchant knows it.

Many Kamaainas travel considerably and learn from observation what other countries produce, and know what's what.

When we offer an article for sale and call it something we're quite sure there's no false label on it; quite sure, indeed, that it is just what we call it or we wouldn't expect to hold our position in the trade very long.

We haven't labored steadily well on toward the one-fourth century mark to reach the top in our line of business just to fool away that good name we prize so much on a game of chance like misrepresenting an article of food.
