Those Doctors.

A wealthy American who took the waters at Carlsbad this summer, was given minute instructions by his physician, who dismissed him with this injunction: "As for smoking, you must limit yourself to three cigars daily; three light cigars and no more." After a few days, the patient visited his physician, who asked: "Well, and how are you?" "I should be all right," replied the patient, "but your orders about smoking are difficult to follow." "I am sorry," the doctor said, categorically, "but no more than three cigars a day. You must just put up with it." "But, doctor, it really is an awful business. Wouldn't two a day do? I feel ill every time I smoke." "Why, man, what in the world do you smoke for at all, if that is the case?" the doctor roared. "But, doctor, wasn't it you yourself who said 'three cigars a day and no more?' Of course, I thought they were part of the cure, and began upon them, though I never in my life smoked before."

The First Local Mint.

One of the institutions here which has the special attention of tourists as well as the local people is the Mint, which is established on Nuuanu street, opposite Queen Emma Hall. It is interesting to enter the large main working room, where general manager McDonough and his corps of assistants are at work. The cool and large laund is a proper resting place and the vaults, where the "bars" to be minted and beer are kept present a very tasty spectacle. The Mint is open from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. and during those hours the work never ceases. Visitors after looking over the place will find first class refreshments and the purest of liquors.

Charged With Perjury.

At last night's session of the tax appeal court, attorney A. G. M. Robertson, on behalf of the government charged Y. Ah In with fraud and perjury in making his return of income for the year just passed. The court took the matter under advisement.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Home Rulers are amusing themselves by setting the political ball a-rolling. Go it boys, and enjoy yourselves! The "colonel" has not yet returned to town.

That people living in Hawaii depend on California vegetables and fruits for their larders, is a sign of the indifference of the people, or their wealth, or their laziness and lack of enterprise, or of the difficulty in obtaining lands and reasonable transportation rates. The idea that people in California have to pay 50% more on their vegetables, than before because the Hawaiian demand is so heavy, is disgraceful to the Territory.

Mr. L. A. Thurston will find that he was unwise, for many reasons, in allowing the outrageous cartoon which appears in the Advertiser this morning to be published. Bishop Willis may have retired from his diocese and his honorable position as head of the Anglican Church in Hawaii. If he has done so, he has beyond doubt acted after due consideration and for the best interests of his flock. The "Bishops" attending the Episcopal convention at San Francisco had neither the right or the power to throw our Bishop over. As far as we know some of them were gentlemen and true friends of their church, and would always act as such, and condemn the attempt to ridicule a God fearing man who tried to build up the Church of England in Hawaii. The writer is not a member of the Anglican Church or a communicant, nor does he attempt to create a schism, as claimed by the Advertiser. He is simply trying to place before the public, including Mr. Thurston, an unbiased opinion on matters of public interest. And on that line we say that the Advertiser cartoon this morning is a gross insult which should be resented by every member of the Anglican Church—with the exception of course of those very nice shopkeepers, etc., who are Christians in a society manner only, don't know.

Bishops Ballot.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12—Five missionary bishops were named by the House of Bishops yesterday and the formal confirmation of the nominees will unquestionably be accorded by the House of Deputies.

Holy Communion was administered to each member of the House of Bishops at 9:30 a. m. The Right Rev. Samuel David Ferguson, Bishop of Cape Palmas, was the celebrant. The House then went into executive session and the balloting for the missionary bishops commenced. With the exception of a discussion of Article XI. of the constitution, the entire morning session was devoted to the balloting, with the following result:

Bishop of Hongkong—The Rev. John Addition Ingle of Hongkong.

Bishop of the Philippine Islands—The Rev. Charles H. Brent of St. Stephen's Church, Boston, Mass.

Olympia—The Rev. Frederick W. Keator of Dubuque, Ia.

Porto Rico—The Rev. William Campbell Brown, D. D., of Brazil.

North Dakota—The Rev. Charles Campbell Pierce of Washington, D. C., recently United States Army Chaplain at Manila.

The House of Bishops took up the proposition of excepting part of the Diocese of Kansas as a missionary district, and decided that they felt unable at present to approve the cession, but recommended to the favorable consideration of the Board of Managers for Missions the consideration of the fact that the Bishop of Kansas, the Right Rev. Frank R. Millepugh, is laboring under extraordinary burdens.

They also proposed the appointment of a joint commission of five bishops, five presbyters and five laymen, to draw up and present to the next General Convention a canon on the subject of provinces. This has reference to a scheme for the division of the whole of the United States into provinces. The bishops appointed as members of the committee were: The Bishops of Albany, Fond du Lac, Texas, Vermont and Los Angeles.

It was also decided to appoint a committee of three bishops, three bishops, three presbyters and three laymen to take into account the translation of bishops and their reference to another mission. At present a missionary bishop can be elected bishop of a diocese; but there is neither prohibition nor permission for translation to another mission, and so this committee was proposed, and will report at the next convention. The Bishops of New York, Maryland and the Coadjutor of Southern Ohio were appointed upon the committee.

Then the House of Bishops took up the question of marriage and divorce, adopting as a substitute for Canon 37 the following, under the title of "All persons marrying after divorce":

"No person divorced for causes arising after marriage and marrying again during the lifetime of the other party to the divorce, nor any person marrying a person so divorced, shall be admitted to baptism or confirmation or permitted to receive the Holy Communion until the written approval of the Bishop shall be given; provided, that this prohibition shall not apply to the case of an innocent party to a divorce for the cause of adultery."

Dyspepsia Resulted.

Apropos of the death of Charles Crist Delmonico at Colorado Springs, on September 20th, a writer in the New York Sun says: "Probably the most expensive dinner ever given at Delmonico's restaurant, on Fourteenth Street, was that given by Mr. Morton Peto to the tea and coffee merchants of New York, two hundred in number. It cost twenty five thousands dollars. The rarest wines and the most elaborate decorations were mere incidents. The menu-cards were of gold, and the guests sat on silk cushions on which their names were embroidered. In the centre of the table was a miniature lake in which swam swans taken from Central Park. Clara Louise Kellogg received one thousand dollars for singing two songs at this feast and a present besides of a diamond bracelet. The sa'on was smothered in flowers. Another dinner given at one of the Delmonico establishments, for ten people, cost four hundred dollars a plate. It was luxurious enough to be classical. The waiters, five of them, were dressed as sailors. The host was a yachtsman, and he bought the waiters' clothes. The guests drank, or, rather, tasted, every vinted liquor that ever has been brought to America. They finished, with a pousse cafe made of eleven liqueurs. Before each plate sat a cut-glass basin about twenty inches in diameter and four inches deep. Each was nearly filled with water perfumed with otto of roses, on the surface of which floated half-open pond-lilies. In the basin a perfect model of the yacht owned by the host was placed. It was cut in red cedar-wood, with cabin, rail, wheel for steering, brass work, such as belaying-pins and binnacle, man-ropes worked and trimmed with sailor knots, scraped pine masts and booms, rigging, of silken cords colored as it would be in the original, and sails of satin. There was a gold oar and many other gewgaws."
