ALOHA KE ALII.

From every corner of the Hawaiian Islands today, a fervent prayer goes up to Heaven asking the God of Nations to pour down his blessings upon her who was and is still—our beloved Queen.

Sixty-four years ago today, Her Majesty Liliuokalani was born, and the loyal people of all the islands—her people—unite in sending to her their most affectionate aloha and their best wishes for "many happy returns of the day."

In the midst of a political battle which, unfortunately, through the defection of an alii will prove one of the bitterest in our annals, the Hawaiians will lay down their arms and proclaim a truce, so as to join most heartily in the respectful and well meant congratulations which go forth to their beloved Queen who has sacrificed health and fortune in a noble attempt to defeat robbers who are responsible for the rape of Hawaii.

Sixty-four years ago Liliuokalani saw the daylight of beautiful Hawaii and the dawn of a brilliant future. Today she finds herself surrounded by her faithful friends but deprived of all to which her birth entitled her and a stranger, practically, in her own land. But through the long years of trials and humiliation she has always conserved her love and interest in her people, who fully appreciate her patriotism, and who cry out to her on this, her natal day, their loyal and deep-felt Aloha Alii.
God save the Queen!

WILCOX AND CUPID.

The first gun of the battle has been fired, the smoke has cleared away, and on the battlefield facing each other in a last struggle for political supremacy, we find not Cupid or Wilcox as we expected yesterday, but—and Wilcox Cupid.

Prince Cupid has thrown down the mask of independence with which he has been parading for the past few months, and deserting his best friends, faithful supporters and enthusiastic followers has gone over to join the Republican cohorts, and is now marching side by side, for a common cause, with Sanford B. Dole, L. A. Thurston, W. O. Smith, General Hartwell, George R. Carter and all the former enemies of his race and of his people.

Prince Cupid had before him the opportunity of a life-time. He was bound to be the leader, not only of his race, but also of a great party. In a comparatively short time he had rallied around his name men of different political faith, who were proud and willing to follow his lead. He has ignored all these things to become a Republican, and his political influence and usefulness has gone forever. Had the Prince remained what he professed to be, independent of factions and parties, had he continued to follow the path in which he had engaged, had he agreed to be the organizer and head of a fusion ticket, we have no doubt but that he would have carried the islands; and would no doubt, in due course of time, replace the present leaders. As it is, the great majority of the young Hawaiians who had deserted their party to follow in his lead are thoroughly disgusted and have returned to their first love. Their idol was made of clay and nothing remains of it but the shattered fragments.

The defection of Cupid, however, has proved to be a godsend to the Democratic party. From a small minority, that party through its alliance with the Home Rulers and the Kuokoa, if accomplished, will become the dominant party of these islands. Under its banner will rally all men of independence and character who have the good of the Territory at heart, and under its guidance the days of Republican autocracy and oligarchy will soon be brought to an end.

Robert W. Wilcox has been chosen as the standard bearer of the fusion forces. As this paper has contended, the campaign of calumny and abuse which has been conducted against him by the Republican press, was all for a purpose. The Republican envoys who have been swarming in the streets of Washington during the past year have promised the President that if Governor Dole was allowed to remain in the Executive chair, they would send a Republican Delegate to Congress, have employed these means to deliver the goods, and they are not yet in a position to fulfill their promise.

Robert Wilcox will return to Washington not as the representative of the Home Rule Party, but as a Fusionist Delegate of the Home Rule and Democratic parties. He will have the cordial support of the Democratic members of both houses, and we feel confident that he will no longer be ignored as he has been in the past. This will be his second term as Delegate. He knows the ways and means to be used when at the Capital, is well acquainted, and with the help of the Democratic party will be able to work for the best interests of this Territory, Senator Thurston and his employers to the contrary notwithstanding.

It is now the duty of every man, Hawaiian or haole, who is disgusted with a regime of trusts, imperialism and hard times, to put their shoulders to the wheel, forget their personal animosities and work for the success, not of Wilcox, but of the standard bearer of the Democratic party.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Unity and Harmony should now be the watchword of the Democratic and Home Rule parties.

The Advertiser may curse and the Advertiser may pray, the Democrats will remain true to the Home Rulers and carry the mutual banner to a glorious victory.

Prince Cupid has chosen the Queen's birthday to change his political affiliations and associate himself with Dole, Thurston and their holy crowd. Very bad judgment for a man of your birth, Prince.

Prince Cupid announced and declared himself at the Republican Territorial Convention today that he was now a "Republican from top to bottom, from head to foot." "Nuf sed." THE INDEPENDENT is only too pleased to know it directly from his own lips and now we know where he is at, how he stands and where he is to be found.

WILL PLAY FIRE.

Sale of Seats Opens For Frawley Company Tomorrow.

The Frawley Company, well remembered by all Honolulu playgoers, will pass through the city on Friday en route to the Orient and will in all probability present a performance here on Friday evening. Strong efforts have been made to get the steamer to stay over in this port so as to permit of the play being given and on the last mail Mr. Frawley was very hopeful of success.

The play selected for the occasion is the celebrated war drama "Secret Service," now being presented to overflowing houses in San Francisco by the Frawleys. The company is a picked one, especially chosen for the grand tour of the Orient which is contemplated and includes many beautiful and well known actresses. The play is a stirring one of war times, full of action. It requires special scenery and effects all of which are being brought down by Mr. Frawley.

The sale of seats started this morning at Wall, Nichols and Company with a rush at nine o'clock and there is little doubt but what the opportunity, all too rare of seeing a first class company in a first class play, will be eagerly seized.

The sale of seats for the performance of Secret Service to be presented here on Friday evening by the Frawley Company, will continue at Wall, Nichols and Company tomorrow morning. The opportunity of late for seeing a really good performance by a first class combination seems to be getting rarer and local playgoers are apparently eager to seize the present occasion. The play will be given on Friday evening with all the scenery and effects with which, aided by the unusually excellent personnel of the company, especially chosen for this initial tour, Frawley is winning golden opinions in San Francisco.

MERRY COMMITS SUICIDE.

Body of Former Honolulu Man Has Been Found on Kauai.

F T Merry, formerly with Atkinson and Judd of this city, but lately clerk and stenographer to Judge Hardy's Court at Lihue, Kauai, has committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

He was last seen Friday afternoon at four o'clock and had been missing ever since. Searching parties were organized as it was said he had a $1,000 government check in his possession and might have met with foul play; his body was discovered yesterday a short distance from Lihue, Kauai, and a revolver lying on his breast was a mute witness of how he came to his death.

Merry was a quiet young man and is said not to have been in the best of health for some time. This with perhaps, some financial difficulties may have led him in a moment of despondency to commit the rash act which has put an end to his life.

To Serve Without Pay.

Judge Gear this morning denied the Attorney General's motion for a continuance of all the criminal cases until next November and issued a special venire for a new panel of jurors to serve without pay for the time being. The jurors must be present in Court tomorrow morning when the Ferris murder case will be taken up—if no new move is made in the meantime.

The Queen's Birthday.

Queen Liliuokalani today celebrates her 64th birthday and will receive her friends between the hours of 3 and 5 this afternoon, when the Hawaiian Band will be present and play. A large number of people were on hand early this morning with their best wishes, and Washington place is a bower of flowers and leis brought by Her Majesty's faithful subjects.
