Deputy Marshal Metz Strangely Disappears

Left Nearly a Month Ago and No Trace of Him Found Since—A Mishap Feared.

(Correspondence The Republican.)

HILO, Sept. 21.—Deputy United States Marshal Metz appears to have disappeared from the face of the earth, at least so far as Hilo is concerned. Seriously, Metz is mysteriously missing from his haunts. When Judge Estee came here to hold court, Deputy United States Marshal Metz was not on hand to receive him. Nor did he meet his chief, United States Marshal Ray. Those who knew Metz well marveled at this. It was an opportunity such as Metz would not willingly have missed, and the matter occasioned comment.

Sheriff Andrews has not heard a word of Metz and has not seen him since he left on a tour of the island, about three days after his return from Honolulu. Mr. Bosworth, the man with whom he had rooms, has not heard from him, nor has any one who was well acquainted with him, so far as known.

When Metz left here it was ostensibly to do some work for Collector of Internal Revenue Haywood. Since then he seems to have dropped completely out of sight.

Some of his friends fear that he may have met with foul play, as there does not appear to be any reason why he should abscond himself so mysteriously or go into hiding.

It is known here that Marshal Ray is also in ignorance of Metz's whereabouts.

It is not believed that the little Wai-kiki affair relative to that watch had anything to do with Metz's somewhat mysterious absence, and the feeling is growing that he has met with some mishap.

A GERMAN BISHOP IS GOING TO CHINA

The Rt. Rev. T. B. R. Von Anzer, of Berlin, a Roman Catholic Bishop, was a passenger on the Doric bound for China. Bishop Von Anzer stands very high among German divines and is said to have great influence at Court, despite his adherence to a faith other than that of the State Church—Lutheran.

Bishop Von Anzer has control of all German Roman-Catholic missions in China and his present journey is in the interest of those charges. The bishop does not speak English. In his mother tongue he said he did not care to talk for publication, but he thought the troubles in China were practically over and that this was the time for the Church to be in the field and to be up and doing. The influence of the Christian religion ought now to make great strides forward among the Chinese.

GRAND ARMY CAMPFIRE A STUNNING SUCCESS

BEAN SOUP, WAR SONGS AND THRILLING REMINISCENCES OF CAMP AND MARCH

Telling Speeches by Judge Estee, Rev. Dr. Cruzan, W. O. Smith and Many Comrades

Duly Inspired.

De Long Post No. 45 held its annual camp fire last evening at Independence park. After dinner, which was in real army style, and highly enjoyed, a number of speakers responded to toasts. Judge Estee, in responding to "The Country We Love," spoke of the reasons why we should love it. He also mentioned the expansion of the country that it grew just like Topsy.

"I love Hawaii in spite of her mosquitoes," said the judge, "for her American spirit—the spirit which prompted her to swear allegiance to the United States in '97. The spirit that will some day make Hawaii one of the best of states. We Hawaiians, as Americans, have shown that we are capable of governing ourselves. At the time of the establishment of the constitution we were looked down upon and scorned, but now we are in the first rank. Three years ago I was standing," said the judge, "with a prominent Frenchman on Market street, watching our stalwart soldiers starting for Manila. 'Never have I seen such fine soldiers,' said my companion. 'Oh, that's nothing,' said I. 'Wait till you see a million of 'em.'"

"Captain Prindle, in responding to 'The Navy,' preferred to have his guns speak for him. He stated that he expected to attend a camp fire before long in the City of Peking or anywhere in the middle of Africa, where 'man hath never set foot.'"

Rev. I. A. Cruzan, who toasted the "Grand Army of Republic" dealt in reminiscences.

"We of '61," he said, "remember many things that you of the later times can know nothing about. We remember the call for volunteers, the thrill that ran through the north and the old songs we used to sing. And we remember that our favorite was not 'America' or 'The Star Spangled Banner,' but it was 'The Girl I Left Behind Me'—and let me tell you, ladies, that you were not always the girl left behind. But most of all, we remember the uniform. The hat that was as thick as your finger. The trousers through which you stuck your knee the first night on picket. The shoes with the paper soles and—the shirt! How can we forget that blue, brindie grey, boiled shirt, for we used to boil the shirts in those days, they were such good hustling grounds. And then, like the tide, began to rise. An officer, who was inspecting a company, noticed a shirt that had not been boiled for some time. 'Sergeant McGinnis,' he called angrily, 'how long do you wear your shirt?' 'Sixteen inches, sor,' was the answer."

W. O. Smith toasted the President of the United States, placing him on a level with the greatest presidents of history.

Major Emus responded to The Army. Geo. W. De Long Post No. 45 was toasted by Comrade Robinson, and when The Republican reporter left the scene was a most happy and festive one and the campfire of last evening was voted a most glorious success.

was at the Ieper settlement on Thursday and from there they will go to Halawa, Pukoo, Kamaio and Kaunakakai, boarding the Kinau at the latter place for Lahaina next Tuesday, the 25th inst.

Unless there is some very decided manipulation between now and tomorrow, the republican platform will demand county and municipal government. To recede from this position will be a dangerous step to take, a fact that every delegate not part and parcel of the family compact realizes fully.

The democratic mass convention, called for the purpose of nominating legislative candidates for the island of Oahu and to elect delegates to the territorial convention, will meet at the drill shed tomorrow evening. There will undoubtedly be a large attendance.
