THOROUGH TUITION.

Yesterday the HERALD representative visited the Fort-street School, in order to examine some of the work done there, free from the hampering crowd of closing day.

Chief of the specialties of the Fort-street School is undoubtedly its teaching of English. Principal Scott is most enthusiastic on this branch, having proved the excellence of his method in Japan as well as here.

In about five minutes the jury returned with a unanimous verdict for the defendant. Mr. Dole took exception to the verdict as contrary to the evidence, and gave notice of motion for a new trial.

Before Judge Bickerton, Intermediary Division, July 21st. Shar York vs. Alo. Assumpsit, claim $150. Appeal from Police Court, Honolulu.

M. Makue vs. Akana. Assumpsit, claim $37.50. Appeal by defendant from the District Court of Ewa, where on June 9, 1887, judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff.

When it is remembered that the roll of scholars comprises children of many different mother tongues, and that the most excellent attainments in English are not proportionately more frequent among those born to that speech than among others, the value of the tuition imparted in this school may be to some extent realized.

The schooner Sarah and Eliza, bound from Ewa to Koolau with a cargo of paddy, was compelled to put into this harbor Wednesday night owing to heavy weather.

The barkentine Ella, Captain E. C. Rust, will sail to-day for San Francisco. Her cargo consists of 2,976 bags sugar, shipped by Castle & Cooke; 243 bags by F. A. Schaefer & Co.; 3,173 by T. H. Davies & Co.; 200 bags rice by Wing Wo Tai & Co.; 850 dry hides by C. Brewer & Co., and 7 gasoline tanks by G. W. Macfarlane & Co.

The schooner Canute took freight from the steamer Surprise yesterday for Hilo and way ports.

The Blue Ribbon League will have its usual entertainment to-morrow evening. The programme prepared by Mr. Scrimgeour is unusually interesting and includes three numbers by "Blues" from H. M. S. Conquest, and a recitation by the Poet Laureate.

SUPREME COURT.

July Term, before Judge Preston.

The case of H. Ackerman, master of the American schooner Geo. C. Perkins, vs. J. H. Congdon, was resumed yesterday and continued throughout the day. The complaint of the plaintiff states that he claims of the defendant five hundred and ninety dollars and sixty three cents ($590.63), for freight and primage on account of two hundred and fifty hogs shipped on board the said schooner on deck in San Francisco on the 28th September, 1886, by the defendant at his risk, for Honolulu; that the schooner arrived in Honolulu on Sunday the 17th October, 1886, and on the next day all the said hogs except about twenty-five which died at sea and were thrown overboard, were delivered to the defendant at Honolulu; that plaintiff claims interest on the above amount from the said 18th October, but that defendant has neglected and refused to pay the amount until the date of closing.

The case seemed to turn upon the point of whether the hogs that died were lost through negligence or bad treatment of the captain. On the plaintiff's side evidence was given to show that the hogs suffered from a contagious disease, while the defendant produced testimony to indicate that the fatality was produced by suffocation through want of room and air.

The Court charged the jury that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the full amount, whether the hogs were delivered dead or alive, unless the defendant proved an offset on account of hogs lost through the negligence or bad care of the captain. The words "owner's risk," in the bill of lading, did not exonerate the captain, as a common carrier, from all responsibility. If it was proved that the hogs had died of disease, then the captain was free from all responsibility. His Honor reviewed the evidence, elucidated the legal points involved, passed upon requests by counsel for specific rulings, and at 5:08 o'clock gave the case to the jury.

Mr. Dole took exception to the verdict as contrary to the evidence, and gave notice of motion for a new trial.

Before Judge Bickerton, Intermediary Division, July 21st. Shar York vs. Alo. Assumpsit, claim $150. Appeal from Police Court, Honolulu. Continued from June 30th and July 14th. Further continued by request until next Intermediary Term day, June 30th.

M. Makue vs. Akana. Assumpsit, claim $37.50. Appeal by defendant from the District Court of Ewa, where on June 9, 1887, judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff. Judgment of lower Court affirmed. W. A. Kinney for plaintiff; J. A. Magoon for defendant.

The Royal School.

There was a large attendance at the closing exercises of the Royal School. The morning was taken by a general review of the studies by the different classes. At half past eleven the following programme was begun, under the direction of Rev. A. Mackintosh, Principal:

Opening Chorus—"Rowing Song," School. Music—"The Mermaid's Evening Song," School. Music—"Music on the Waves," School.

Dialogue—"William Tell," Knowles—William Tell, Chas. Akau; Gessler, Wm. Kino; Sarnem, Duke; Bov, Aneas R. Mackintosh.

Recitation—"Address of Sergeant Buzfuz," Dickens—Kelekoma Haul. Recitation—"The Bended Bow," Felicia Homans—Napela Harrison. Recitation—"The Vagabonds," J. T. Trowbridge—J. S. Kalakiela. Recitation—"The Frightened Traveler," Anonymous—Wm. Kino.

Recitation—"The Country Pedagogue," Valentine—Chas. Akau. Recitation—"Daniel versus Dishclout," Stevens—George Rosa. Recitation—"Hezekiah Bedotte," Witcher—J. S. Kalakiela. Dialogue—"The English Traveler," F. F. D.—Landlord, George Kipa; Traveler, Napela.

Dialogue—"The Female Exquisite," F. F. D.—Mrs. Kersey, mother—George Rosa; Becky, her daughter—D. Kamakauhua; Katy, her niece—J. S. Kalakiela; Madge, servant girl—Aneas R. Mackintosh. Music—"The Beautiful Silver Sea," School. Music—"Buy My Flowers," School. Music—"Sailing by the Lowlands," School.

Distribution of Prizes. "Hawaii Pono," School Drill.

The opening choruses were rather flat. The literary part of the programme, however, overweighted the fact, by its excellence. Master Kele-koma Haul distinguished himself in the address of Sergeant Buzfuz, Pickwick. Master J. S. Kalakiela also contributed greatly to amusing those present. Number thirteen on the programme proved entertaining, the different characters being well sustained. The closing choruses were well rendered, making up fully for the defective opening ones.

The prizes were distributed by the Hon. C. R. Bishop, President of the Board of Education. In the remarks he made previous to the distribution he said that it was a great pleasure for him to be called upon to present to the winners such trophies, which their hard study had won. He called the pupils' attention to the fact that anything worth doing is worth doing well. In all the best schools in the United States and France the closing days were attended with presentations which prizes were greatly valued. It should be considered an honor to any boy to win the first prize in the Royal School of Honolulu. He thought Job Nukauna deserved special credit for gaining the first prize, because he lost two months by sickness and made up by extra hard work. As captain of the school he ought to be the boy to set the example to all others and assist the teachers in all ways. He thereupon decorated Master Nukauna with a silver medal, as the first prize.

The second prize was awarded to George Rosa; third to Wm. Kino; the fourth, for best recitation, was awarded to J. S. Kalakiela by a vote of the audience. Kelekoma Haul receiving a number of votes. Following the distribution of prizes the school drill was held. The execution of the different manoeuvres would have done credit to an organization of men.
