P. S. All goods warranted sound and perfect. Will be placed on exhibition in a few days, as per further announcement.

LOCAL NEWS.

The mail for the Coast closes this morning at ten o'clock.

The steamer Lehua reports plenty of rain along the Hamakua coast.

The steamer W. G. Hall sails for Maui and Hawaii, at three o'clock this afternoon.

A new barber shop has been opened by a Portuguese on Hotel street between Nuuanu and Fort streets.

No more passengers had been booked up to late hour yesterday afternoon, by the Zealandia than were reported in yesterday's PRESS.

The S. S. Zealandia, Captain Oterendorf, sails for San Francisco at noon to-day. She takes a full cargo and about one hundred cabin passengers.

The stockholders of C. Brewer & Co. will hold their regular quarterly meeting this morning at ten o'clock at the company's office on Queen street.

A seizure of 151 tins of opium was made in a house on Queen near Richard streets, yesterday, together with two persons supposed to be the owners.

For a good bargain in groceries, dry goods, etc., go to the regular cash sale at J. Lyons' auction rooms, corner of Fort and Queen streets, at ten o'clock this morning.

Mr. Williams, mate of the bark Elsinore, who was injured by a fall into the hold of that vessel a few days ago, was so far recovered as to be able to resume his position yesterday.

A band of native musicians were stationed on the veranda of the Hawaiian Hotel last evening, where they dispensed sweet music, much to the enjoyment of the guests.

If you want a dish of fine ice cream, go to Meller & Halbe's on King street, who introduced the first good ice cream into Honolulu, and are the only firm that keep up their standard of manufacture.

The negligence of the contractor for lighting the streets is very noticeable of late. Every evening, about half the lamps are lighted while the other half are left to keep the stars from shining on the sidewalk.

Mr. A. V. Bowen and Mr. E. G. Wilson, two composers on the Advertiser, leave for San Francisco by the Zealandia to-day. They go for a short vacation, returning to Honolulu within a short time.

The Honolulu Steam Laundry is now entirely completed and those who wish to give their washing to this new enterprise, will be notified by the drivers of the company, several days prior to calling for clothes.

E. More and D. Barry, the two men arrested the other day for disorderly conduct on board the bark Elsinore, were sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for twenty-four hours each, in the Police Court yesterday.

Jim Dodd will run an extra 'bus to the baseball ground to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock sharp, from the corner of Hotel and Fort streets, so that those who do not relish paying hack fare can be accommodated at the usual 'bus fare.

Mr. Noble's noon-day "Talk" at the Iron Works, which was announced for to-day, has been postponed until to-morrow afternoon at half-past twelve o'clock. Mr. Noble will also address a meeting for men only in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at half-past seven o'clock to-morrow evening. All young men are invited.

A large and fashionable audience assembled at the Hawaiian Opera House last evening, the occasion being the benefit tendered Mr. F. W. Millis, the ventriloquist. The performance was the best given by Mr. Millis since his arrival in Honolulu, and was thoroughly appreciated.

The American bark Elsinore, Captain Jenks, sailed for the New Hebride Islands, via Samea, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Edwards, formerly of Wolfe & Edwards, and his family, and a Mr. Buchanan, took passage for Samoa by her. She also took eighty-three South Sea Islanders to their homes.

A Chinese drayman met with an accident near the corner of Nuuanu and King streets, at a little after noon yesterday, which tried his patience, besides trying his purse to the sum of about five dollars. He was coming down Nuuanu street with a sewing machine on his dray, when suddenly tipping, the machine fell to the ground, breaking it to pieces. Gathering up the fragments, he drove slowly away.

The case of the Crown vs. T. B. Walker, charged with burglary, was resumed in the Supreme Court at ten o'clock yesterday morning, the examination of witnesses being continued. The testimony did not materially differ from that given at the first trial. The case was given to the jury at a little before five o'clock, and after being out about fifteen minutes, brought in a verdict of not guilty, the jury standing eleven for acquittal and one for conviction.

Five Honolulu young-men were engaged in a friendly game of pool the other night at Charlie McCarthy's. One young man, who was watching the game, became so deeply interested as to who would make pool, that he forgot the weary world outside, and in a moment of intense excitement braced himself against a large window frame to "shoot" for his favorite player. He suddenly disappeared and was seen no more—until he was picked up on the outside where he was found grasping the rotundity of the earth, as it dashed on through space at the rate of a thousand miles an hour.

By the request of a large number of citizens, Mr. F. W. Millis has agreed to give two more performances before his departure for San Francisco. On Saturday afternoon, therefore, he will give a matinee for ladies and children, and Saturday evening will positively be his last appearance in Honolulu. Mr. Millis' reputation as a ventriloquist and humorist, and his ability to entertain an audience speak for themselves. There will be an entire change of programme at both of Saturday's performances, when new songs, new sketches, and new jokes will be introduced. Remember, this is your last chance to see the "only Millis," as he leaves for San Francisco on Sunday.

An amusing scene was witnessed in the Police Station yesterday afternoon, when a white man, a native woman, several native men and "steen" policemen marched up to the desk and all commenced to talk at the same time, driving Sam McKeague almost crazy. The outcome was that the white man was locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct. The trouble was caused by the white man and several natives drinking and dancing in a house back of the Queen's Hospital, disturbing the whole neighborhood. They were asked to desist several times, but refused to do so, and as a last resort the police were sent for. The native woman, although not locked up, looked as if she had been in a ten round slogging match.

Yesterday morning about eight o'clock Jim Dodd's watering cart was driven in front of Nolte's, where the driver left his horse while he went inside to buy some tobacco. While the driver was gone the horse ran away up Fort street, with the empty cart—Jim says the horse never think of running away when the cart has five or six tons of water in it. Everybody got out of the way as the circus passed; in this instance the show preceded Jim Sherwood's silver cornet band, which followed a block in the rear. The two big cart horses undoubtedly thought they were going to a fire, and consequently dashed past the stable where everybody thought they would stop. They continued up Fort street until they reached the Chinese church, when the weight of the big cart began to tell on them and they were stopped by one of the stablemen. Jim Sherwood reached the corner of Fort and Beretania streets in time to give a derisive blast on his fish cornet as the horses were taken back to the stable. No damage.

They say: That the art of being inconsistent is not hard to learn; that a horse that will try and run away with a sprinkling cart would run off with a four-ton fire engine if he had a chance; that the author's carnival is to be agitated again; that the pot factory nuisance will be looked after soon; that the Waikiki bridge is to be repaired—next spring; that the last enterprise thought of by a certain citizen of Honolulu is a cocoanut fiber rope factory; that the electric light question will be agitated in Honolulu when the Legislature meets; that the quondam scheme of raising $5,000,000 by importing one million Chinamen, was "signed, sealed and delivered" by some of the leading lights of the present political parties; that the people of Manoa Valley are complaining of the roads again; that the next Hawaiian election will have some new political phases; that the sun total of political excuses can be told in two words, viz: "no funds;" that the Lottery scheme is not dead, but sleepeth; that the foreign syndicate know not what they do when they offer to unclasp their golden dollars for such a franchise; that the Zealandia will take away lots of wealth and beauty this noon; that the custom house officials have been known to make discriminations lately in the matter of taking goods away from the wharf before the duties were paid; that if the little racket is played again the whole thing will be exposed; that the order for discrimination came from one of the head officials; that a poor man was denied the same privilege immediately after the order of discrimination had been practically acted upon; that the whole thing was done in violation of the law; that it happened within the last month; that the names of the parties will be furnished the authorities if they want them, provided they will promise to investigate the case; that there were several 'luans in town day before yesterday; that the people ought to present each supreme judge with a cane botomed chair, until the Government is in funds again; that everybody in town speaking of the acquittal of T. B. Walker, said: "Just as I said it would be;" that the Zealandia will take the largest number of passengers that ever left Honolulu at one time; that Honolulu society will soon be startled; and that the street lamps will all be lighted in the sweet makepe (3).

Answers to Correspondents. LEX.—We consider the verdict in the Walker case a just one, and decline to publish your comments.

IMMIGRATION.—The question you raise, as to whether any part of the late proclamation concerning Chinese immigration is legally and properly issued, we are unable to answer, until we look the matter up. This we will endeavor to do in a day or two.

STUMBLER.—If you are anxious to find out about the history of the Pali road you may be able to learn something from committee reports and newspaper files, but we are afraid that you will find the truth hard to get at, as you find it is unwritten history and the men who know it won't tell.

The Tongue Guard Society.

Editor Daily Honolulu Press.

DEAR SIR.—What heartless, unfeeling wretch is trying to start such an outrageous society as this? He surely (I know it cannot possibly be a she) does not calculate on the results or he would hesitate. Just think of it! No slander? No lies? Of what earthly use would the telephone be, for instance? They would have to be removed from nearly all our houses as there would be no earthly use for them. Nothing happens in Honolulu, and it would be perfectly dreadful not to be able to talk about things that might have happened or ought to have happened. And the newspapers! Not of course you, Mr. PRESS, but 'other ones; it surely is hard enough to make an interesting local column now, without any restriction. But suppose you (I beg your pardon, I mean of course the "Gentle Organ") had to pay a cent a word for every little embellishment, where would the dividends be which now inumber the coffers of the stockholders in that concern? Beware, Mr. Promoter of the "Tongue Guard Society"—Unless you want Honolulu to lose its reputation as an interesting, lively, attractive town—don't, oh! don't, gag its girls and its press! Why, if everybody told the truth the fun would be all gone, and I suppose the Tongue "guard" (?) would insist on the restraining of even the truth. Don't do it.
