It is understood that steps are being taken by the judicial committee of the city council to collect in a quiet way some of the back taxes due to the city against the estates of some of the well-to-do residents now living, and to say nothing about the matter further than to report the aggregate amounts thus collected. It is doubtless true that some of the citizens would prefer to pay up quietly than to stand a suit in court, and if the city can thus effect a settlement it is probably better for the municipality.

The Grinnell correspondent of the T. R. has evidently been delving into the records of the civil war, and in a communication to this paper says that in the records of the naval operations of the North Atlantic blockading squadron, May 26, 1863, Acting Master's Mate A. F. Harodon is commended for his gallant and brave conduct in Washington, N. C. The correspondent asks if this is A. F. Harodon of Marshalltown.

Although Mr. Harodon has recently become a resident of Chicago and could not be seen in regard to the matter, his reference is undoubtedly to his action, as he was an officer in the navy during the unpleasantness between the north and south.

The Des Moines Capital of Thursday evening says: "N. S. Ketchum, of Marshalltown, was one of the onlookers at the convention. His name was strongly mentioned this year as a candidate for the railroad commissioner'ship, but he would not permit it to be used. Mr. Ketchum is a practical business man with a long experience in the implement business as to Iowa freight rates. He is after the office at some future date and stated last night that he would try and succeed Mr. Mowrie. Further, he said: 'I do not expect any contest in the campaign from J. U. Sammis of LeMars. I understand that he has withdrawn from the race for the commissioner'ship and that he will next announce himself for the attorney general'ship.'"

A stranger among a strange people and unable to speak their language or to understand a word of it, applied to the sheriff's office this morning, evidently for the purpose of having assistance in seeking out his countrymen and friends. The officers could get neither head nor tail to his plea, and the man was taken to F. S. Widd, who has helped more foreigners out of temporary difficulties than any other man in this community. It developed, to the stranger was a Bohemian, and Mr. Widd's printer, Eugene Krapf, who is a German, but who understands some Bohemian, gathered that he had friends here and wanted to find them. Mr. Widd took him to John Loyka, a Bohemian merchant, and the latter will probably be able to find the friends sought. The stranger's name, it developed, is Joseph Simek, and he recently arrived in this country. Simek was badly rattled until he met Mr. Krapf and realized that some one could understand his desires.

Been swearing lately? Perhaps your coal was not up to the standard or your lumber was unsatisfactory. The moral is, buy your coal and lumber of Frudenberg. Business is good with us for the reason we have not advanced prices, nor do we intend to. If you want to be comfortable this winter, buy lumber of us, build your house, and then let us furnish your coal, and you will not say—you cannot say—life is not worth living.

One of the liveliest camps of the season saw its finish yesterday when the members of Camp Glad Hand struck tents. With the frequent visits of relatives and last friends through the day and the timely arrival of Messrs. G. C. Reynolds, Frank Ogde, L. D. Elmer Ogde, Ed Lewis and Elmer Reynolds will, after a two weeks' vacation, resume their duties as firemen on the Central next Monday.

Over a year ago a large number of German carp placed in the cemetery lake were taken therefrom and placed in the Iowa river. The larger fish were sold and the smaller ones were given to the small ones a change to grow and thrive. The fish are prolific breeders and fast growers, and as a result of the placing of a large number in the river the waters of this stream are thick with them. Many are being caught by fishermen, some of them weighing as high as two pounds. Opinion differs as to the quality of the meat. Some seem to relish them, while others say the meat is coarse and that the fish are full of bones.

New fall styles of hats at Stern's. NEW EQUIPMENT. George E. Adams Adding to His Livestock.

It has long been conceded that Geo. E. Adams keeps the best horses and carriages of any livery in the city. This week he purchased a new line of rubber tire carriages, among them a handsome trap, being desirous of giving his customers the best rigs possible. He has also added several horses to his livery, consequently is in a position to accommodate his many customers, and give them stylish and reliable rigs as cheap as those of his competitors. Mr. Adams proposes to keep his equipment up in first class style. When you want to take your friends driving, telephone Adams & Son for one of their stylish turnouts, and do the thing up right. It will cost you no more than a cheap rig.

SCHOOL SITE SELECTED. Board Purchases Grounds on Which Will Be Located New "Fifth" Ward Building.

Plat of Ground 180x180 Secured on South Third Avenue, on the Brow of the Anson Hill.

Eight-Room Building to Be Erected Next Year—Preparations For the Opening of School.

The new school building to be erected in the "Fifth ward," to take the place of the present Anson school, will be located on South Third avenue, on the brow of the hill overlooking that portion of the city. This was decided at a meeting of the school board, held Thursday night, at which Messrs. Turner, Atkinson and Devine were present.

Mr. Atkinson, of the committee on buildings and grounds, recommended at the meeting, after a careful survey of the territory, that a tract of land 180x180 be purchased of Mr. Henry Anson, for the sum of $1,000. The land is located on the east side of South Third avenue, between High and South streets, and south of the brick yards.

The site is considered a very desirable one—one of the most beautiful in the city, in fact—and is much nearer the center of population on the south side than the present building. A modern structure will be erected next year, probably of eight rooms, although but six will be needed for a time. The site is one on which Mr. Anson at one time expected to build a new home for himself, and he says he would not sell it for even double the amount except for school purposes.

In this connection the board has been discussing the advisability of securing a division of the south side territory and the making of another ward in this city. While it is not within the power of the board to do this, all the members seem to favor it, after a study of the situation, and will agitate the question.

The board is preparing for the opening of school in September, and Mr. Devine, of the committee on supplies, presented bids for furnishing materials for school work. Mr. C. J. Larder was awarded the contract for furnishing chemicals for the laboratory and also that for furnishing miscellaneous supplies. The coal contract was left undecided for investigation.

The board adjourned to meet next Tuesday night.

IS IT RIGHT For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C. It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet it is a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of waiting when a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by druggists.

Grain-o Brings Relief. to the Coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally indulged in and almost as universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-o? It is almost like coffee, but the effects are just the opposite. Coffee upsets the stomach, ruins the digestion, affects the heart and disturbs the whole nervous system. Grain-o tones up the stomach, aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. There is nothing but nourishment in Grain-o. It can't be otherwise. Fifteen cents and 25 cents per package.

Clear Lake Excursion. August 7th, 1899, will be "Patriotic Day" at Clear Lake, Iowa, the famous summer resort. General John C.
