

Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may do a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease...

It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury remedies totally destroying the digestion...

S.S.S. For the Blood is guaranteed Purely Vegetable, and is the only blood remedy free from these dangerous minerals.

with chestnut brown hair and a rick color. Veloutine, like peau de soie, is a silk that grows constantly in favor. It is as soft as silkenness or undressed flannel, only of firmer texture, with a glossy surface.

The new royal, marine, neapolitan and silver blues in cloth and lighter weight wools, for costumes, princess dresses, redingotes and jackets will present such tempting shades this autumn that they will find purchasers without number.

It is already evident that the fashion for fancy waists will not vanish with the summer season. On the contrary, besides the shirt waists of dark colored satin foulard, liberty silk, plain and fancy taffeta, etc., there will be a great many varieties exceedingly pretty in style.

The handsome English crapes manufactured wholly without dressing are soft, lustreless and entirely unlike the stiff, wavy weaves of other seasons. The new crapes are very pliable, and, though at first intended only for veils, they have come into use for entire costumes, party gowns and for crapes and accessories.

A great-granddaughter of Betsy Ross, who was the first American flag, is living in Washington. She is Mrs. Southwell Guthrie. Mrs. Guthrie remembers her great-grandmother, who died when she was a child of 5. Mrs. Ross was 90 at the time of her death, but when she made the first flag she was but 23 and quite girlish in appearance.

OUR ADMIRAL. Dewey, it seems, is so great a man that even the Kaiser does not care to quarrel with him.—Philadelphia Ledger. When Admiral Dewey is quoted as saying an indiscreet thing, the presumption is always that he didn't say it.—New York Tribune. Admiral Dewey has consented to place himself in the hands of the New York centennial committee. No braver man than Dewey ever lived.—Atlanta Journal. It is pleasant to read in a cablegram that Admiral Dewey had a day to himself. He will get more of them when he gets up in the Green mountains of Vermont.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune. George Dewey is not yet 62 years young. Here's hoping more than one happy decade is in store for our admiral after he passes through the ordeal of enthusiastic welcome from his countrymen.—Boston Journal.

BEAUTY SPOTS. Try lemon juice to remove stains on the nails. It must be well rinsed off afterward and the fingers carefully dried. Oranges eaten before breakfast have a wonderfully beautifying effect on the complexion and can do no harm if eaten in moderation. Sweet almond oil alone agrees excellently with some skins. Try it for a day or two. Nearly every skin requires different treatment, and the only plan is to experiment. Fruit stains are often difficult to remove, especially when much fruit has to be picked by hand. Dilute fruit acid diluted will be found most useful and should be used as soon as the stains appear. Nothing is better for sallow complexions than bathing in elder flower water. At night this should be allowed to dry on the skin. In the morning wash the face in the usual way, bathe with the elder flower lotion for a few minutes, wipe with a soft towel and finish off with a soft, clean camellia leather.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN. Fruit that is badly injured, poor and watery will not keep well under any circumstances. Strawberry plants set in August will bear next summer if care is taken to give them a good start to grow. See that the labels do not cut into the trees. In attaching them room should always be allowed for growth. Cabbages are gross feeders. They require a rich soil and thorough cultivation if the best results are obtained. Arrange good drainage in the orchard. Water standing in the orchard injures many trees. Drain so as to avoid washing. Manuring may be overdone with young and growing trees, but after the tree comes into bearing it requires much rich food. With a large number of diseases of fruits and trees preventive measures are much the more effective. It is hard to cure a sick tree. It is claimed that grapes on a clayey soil are darker and more glossy than those on a gravelly soil, but those grown on a gravelly soil are the sweetest.

AUSTRALIAN ODDITIES. The native dogs never bark. They only howl. Some seeds grow completely outside their fruit. The bears live altogether in the trees and cry like children. Some of the trees shed their bark in winter instead of their leaves. One kind of fish found near the coast makes a noise like a small trumpet. Some of the birds laugh exactly like human beings. Some cannot fly at all. The native flowers are all single in petals and almost all are completely scentless. The swans are all black. The birds generally have very brilliant plumage, but have no song. Most of the animals go about on their hind legs. They move along by jumping, or rather hopping. Some of them fly through the air like birds, and some of them have bills like ducks.
