STRONG TESTIMONY.

This is Marshalltown Testimony and Will stand investigation. If you doubt this and wish to investigate you haven't to go to some other state in the union to prove it. It's not a long yarn published in Marshalltown about a resident of Kalamazoo, Mich., or Woonsocket, R. I., it's about a resident of Marshalltown. You can get lots of testimony in Marshalltown about remedies, but keep this fact constantly in view, there is only one remedy endorsed by Marshalltown citizens. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Mrs. E. N. Solomon, of 397 South Third avenue, says: "Two years ago I had a serious attack of kidney trouble, placed myself under treatment by a physician and was cured at a cost of $10. In the spring of 1898 I had another severe attack accompanied by much inflammation in the neck of the bladder. It seemed as if a swelling of considerable size had obstructed the secretions of the kidneys and it caused great pain. We heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and Mr. Solomon got me a box at McBride & Will's drug store. I used them and relief was obtained almost at once. The use of two boxes effected an absolute cure. The difference between $1 and $10 is an item worth saving, to say nothing of the suffering. My nephew, living in LaPort, Ind., also used Doan's Kidney Pills and Doan's Ointment with wonderful results. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills whenever opportunity offered and if any lady desires further information I shall be glad to give it if she will call on me." Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all Dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-McMurray Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitutes.

VETERANS' BIG WEEK Philadelphia Rapidly Filling Up With Grizzled Veterans of the Civil War.

Lavish Preparations For Their Entertainment—Reunion Promises To Be Great Success.

Visitors to the Encampment Will Reach Enormous Numbers—The Week's Program.

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—Unless all signs fall the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which will be held in profusely decorated Philadelphia during the coming week, will be the most imposing patriotic event of its class in American history. Besides the 50,000 veterans enrolled as comrades who will be the city's guests of honor, it is estimated that not fewer than 250,000 other visitors will come to Philadelphia from all parts of the country, and the number may mount up to 600,000. These, with a large proportion of the Quaker City's own population of 1,200,000, will watch with sympathetic heart beats the procession of grizzled veterans, many of whom must limp over the line of march on Tuesday next to pass over the remains of President McKinley.

The Grand Army was born in Illinois thirty-three years ago last April, and at the head of its noble phalanx as the line moves through Broad street on Tuesday will fitly and proudly march Post No. 1 from Rockford, Ill., the oldest one in the veterans' organization. It was organized in 1866, and its present commander, Thomas G. Lawler, has been elected to the office thirty-two times.

Between long rows of white pillars and heroic military statues, constituting the resplendent avenue of Fame, covering a distance of five squares, south and north of the city hall, as well as over their longer and less richly decorated route, with red, white and blue all-a-flutter around and above them, the old boys in blue will march while the plaudits of countless thousands ring with grateful greetings. The first delegation to arrive from the west—Post 227 of Hartford City, Ind., got into Broad street station shortly after noon Saturday, and fourteen other posts, from Illinois in Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts, got in during the afternoon and evening.

The first really big delegation of visiting veterans came yesterday morning, when the posts of Brooklyn arrived, over 1,000 strong. Other delegations will follow in rapid succession. Illinois will send thirteen posts of 1,000 men all together, and these, after their fitting reception at the hands of local veterans, will be escorted, one post to the Stratford hotel, one to Alsace and Lorraine hall, one to Clerk's hall, six to the Third regiment armory and four to Camp Sexton, at Belmont, out in Fairmount park. At the latter spot on a picturesque slope on the side of a green hill overlooking some of the most attractive sections of Philadelphia, 2,700 white tents flap open their welcome to nearly 12,000 men who will then encamp, eat, sleep and tell their camp fire stories during the week.

FINE CAMP ACCOMMODATIONS. The camp accommodations are both fine and extensive. In one corner are the enormous tables where the thousands will gather in the mess and the collection of cooking utensils is ready to meet the most exacting demands. In one tent are twenty-five barrels of whisky, donated to the hospital corps, and in another are the medical tents, with the administrators to the sick—for these aged, falling men, many of whom already totter on the very verge of the grave, will need abundant sustenance to enable them to continue their line of march.

For this reason fifteen surgical stations will be established along the route, and the Red Cross corps will furnish refreshments to the fatigued paraders. Besides these temporary hospital stations there will be 100 halls down town in which which from fifty to 200 men can be accommodated. Surgeons will be provided for each hall and 200 medicine cases have already been donated.

The assured presence of President McKinley and the participants of the North Atlantic squadron under Rear Admiral Sampson are two prominent features that have aroused interest to an especial degree. The naval veterans of the Grand Army, of whom there are thousands, have an exceptional reason for looking forward to a high-water mark encampment by reason of the cooperation of a naval squadron in active service, a feature entirely unique in the army's yearly convales. The latter feature will include the armored cruisers New York and Brooklyn, battleships Indiana, Massachusetts and Texas, unprotected cruiser Detroit, the minesweepers Nashville, all of which arrived at the Delaware breakwater yesterday morning and will come up to Philadelphia under Admiral Sampson's command tomorrow.

The squadron will be the scene of great activity early this morning, when all the vessels, launches, cutters and gigs will be brought into requisition to land the 1,400 sailors and marines, with their officers, for the naval veterans' parade. In this procession, besides the veterans, will be the officers and sailors of Sampson's squadron, the naval reserves and all men from this vicinity who served in the navy during the recent hostilities with Spain. There are about 1,000 of these alone, besides those in Canada and near-by places. President McKinley and party will leave Washington this evening, arriving in Philadelphia at 9 o'clock. On Tuesday he will review the great parade, attend the camp fire at the Academy of Music and participate in several other functions that night. A rehearsal of a chorus of 3,200 school children who are to sing patriotic airs during Grand Army week took place at the Academy of Music Saturday morning. The events of the week aside from those outlined above will be: Tuesday night—Meads Post's banquet in Odd Fellows' Temple, with 500 prominent guests, including President McKinley and Admiral Sampson. Wednesday and Thursday—National encampment and convention. National executive meeting, with 1,300 delegates, in Grand opera house, at which the most important work will be the selection of a new commander in chief, in the race for which position Maj. Leo Rossier of St. Louis and Col. Albert D. Shaw of New York are neck and neck. Wednesday evening—Reunion and dog watch at the Academy of Music. Thursday evening—Veterans' camp fire. Friday—Naval pageant on the Delaware river.

Last Day of Dubuque Races.

Dubuque, Sept. 4.—The last day of the big Nutwood park meeting was a success from a racing point of view, some of the best sport of the week being furnished in the three events on the card. There were about 1,000 people present. The weather was fine and the track in good condition. No favorites won. Baby Ruth won the first heat in the second race in 2:06 1/2, which time was beaten but once during the meeting. She also ran half a mile in 1:01, the fastest time of the meeting. The meeting has been a big success financially and otherwise. Summary: The Iowa 2:30 trot, $2,000, five starters; Tessie S. Won; Dr. Book second; Black Robert third; time, 2:12 1/2. The Mississippi 2:17 pace, $2,500, six starters; Don won; Baby Ruth second; Auntie Shucks third; time, 2:06 1/2. The Nutwood 2:30 trot, $1,000, four starters; Alto L. won; William C. K. second; Stella W. third; time, 2:15 1/4.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES

ALBION. Sept. 4.—Mrs. Doris (VanHorn) MeLeod, of Kansas, was a recent visitor at the home of her brother, Will. Mr. Curtis' father, mother and brother have returned to their home at Elkhardt, Indiana.

Mrs. Sanford and children, of Belchertown, Iowa, have been visiting Albion friends. Mr. Fred Blivins and Miss Etta Reynolds were married at the Presbyterian parsonage last Wednesday evening. They will live near the mill where Mr. Blivins' work is.

The first monthly report of the operation of the free state employment office at Chicago, as compiled by the state board of labor statistics for the month ended Aug. 25, shows: Applicants for employment, 7,108 of which 5,890 were males and 1,428 females; applications for help from employers, 4,022, of which 2,546 were for males and 1,476 for females; positions secured for 2,361 applicants, 1,567 males and 894 females. This is considered a satisfactory showing.

A BIG CORN CROP Prospects Good For a Record Breaking Crop of the Great Cereal.

Dry, Hot Weather in the West May Curtail the Yield to Some Extent.

Some Estimates on the Present Season and Statistics of Previous Crops.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Will this year's be a record corn crop is about the only doubtful point now left as to the great American harvest. It is assumed that it is to be a 2,000,000,000 bushel crop, but there have been four such already; in 1896, when the total was 2,283,000,000 bushels; in 1895, when it was 2,151,000,000 bushels; in 1891, when the figures reached 2,000,000,000, and in 1889, when the crop was 2,112,000,000.

It has been dry and hot in the west for over a fortnight, and it kept getting hotter and dryer each day until the corn people began at the close of last week to fear that the prospect of a record-breaker in their line was to be lost. The weather interest in the west just now centers around this. Has the been done damage enough to the tasseled maize to spoil the prospect of a new figure, a new mark on the western possibilities in the greatest feed crop of the world, the one which last year brought the farmers of the west over $550,000,000, which always great exceeds in value the wheat crop, and which is the one crop America raises for the world and in which it has no competitor? Of the 2,359,000,000 bushels of corn raised last year the world over the United States gathered about 2,000,000,000 bushels.

The Kansas authorities figure that the Sunflower state is this year to have about 400,000,000 bushels and the Kansas crop is made and has been in large part cut. Nothing can now spoil the Kansas figure. The government officials, always conservative, put the Kansas yield at 345,000,000 bushels. Its record up to the present was made in 1896, when there was a harvest of 247,000,000 bushels. Nebraska is pretty nearly as far along as Kansas, some of its corn being cut in the south. Besides, Nebraska has been well favored with rain, even while some of the other states have been suffering. The Nebraska state authorities figure their corn crop at 350,000,000 bushels. The government crop report August 10 put Nebraska at 300,000,000. But even this conservative figure makes a new record for Nebraska. Nebraska's greatest crop was in 1896, when its total was 298,000,000 bushels.

The hugeness of this year's corn promise is best shown by the official Washington estimates in bushels on the great crop states, compared with the two previous years.

Table with columns: State, 1897, 1898, 1897. Ohio 90,000,000, 103,000,000, 92,000,000. Indiana 130,000,000, 120,000,000, 110,000,000. Illinois 210,000,000, 200,000,000, 200,000,000. Missouri 120,000,000, 135,000,000, 172,000,000. Kansas 310,000,000, 250,000,000, 282,000,000. Iowa 250,000,000, 220,000,000, 220,000,000. Nebraska 300,000,000, 350,000,000, 241,000,000. Total 1,670,000,000, 1,730,000,000, 1,520,000,000.

These are the most conservative figures, and they compare with big corn crops of 1898 and 1897. It is assumed in commercial circles that the government's estimate on the whole corn area, 81,907,000 acres, is about 8,000,000 acres too low and that the crop will be over 2,350,000,000 bushels for the whole country, unless the present dry weather or severe cold snap should in the next two weeks spoil the promise.

It is a risk of only a few days, a fortnight at the outside. Already half the corn area is beyond the danger point. In another week three-quarters of the whole will be made, and in a fortnight the entire crop will be secured. It is not remarkable, consequently, that the interest in the corn belt weather should at this juncture be intense, nor remarkable that the corn speculator or should be especially apprehensive of the possibilities. It is the momentous risk of the day, of the greatest importance to the entire country; to the farmer, whose interest is direct; to the cattle man, the railroader, the merchant and the banker, whose interests are hardly less at stake. Even Wall street knows that its values might be cut sensationally over night by an accident in the next ten days to the corn crop.

Indian Crops Aided by Rain.

London, Sept. 4.—Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, has received a dispatch from the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, asserting that immediate anxiety regarding the crops in the central provinces of India has been removed by a heavy rain sweeping from the Orissa coast and extending into the Baghelkhand district and the eastern half of the northwestern provinces and of Oudh.

Elsewhere the rainfall is insufficient and rain is urgently needed to save standing crops in Madras, Bombay, Rajpootar, much of the Punjab and the western section of the northwestern provinces and of Oudh. The monsoon winds are abnormally light.

Steamboat Rock.

Steamboat Rock, Sept. 4.—H. H. Turner left Saturday night for Chicago to be gone a few days.

John Williamson left Saturday afternoon to visit friends in the eastern part of this state.

Charles Jackson sold his interest in the hotel to Mr. Fiddler, from Iowa Falls, and they have taken possession. James Jackson has gone on the road in the interest of a Chicago live stock commission firm, his wife going to Iowa Falls, and their daughter Etta leaves this morning for the western part of this state, where she expects to find employment in a store.

Mr. O. W. Robinson, of the Trenton State Bank of Trenton, Neb., is here visiting old-time friends, after an absence of twenty-seven years. He is a visitor of the late Moses Robinson, who was the first Presbyterian preacher and who founded the First Presbyterian church of this place. He was very widely known throughout this part of the state during his active part of life and died thirty-six years ago. Decatur, Ill., district coal miners are holding special meetings to formulate new demands upon the companies.

ADAMS FAMILY REUNION.

Descendants of the Late David Adams Assemble at Gifford. Special to Times-Republican. Gifford, Sept. 4.—The annual reunion of the Adams family was held in a pretty grove near this town on Sunday, and was attended by ninety members. The day was devoted to visiting, feasting and music, and plans were made for a more elaborate reunion next year. Descendants of the late David Adams and his wife, with their children, were present from various points in Iowa and from Illinois, South Dakota and Minnesota. David Adams settled in Harlan county in 1855 and at one time owned the land on which the town of Gifford is located. The first Sunday in September has been fixed for the date of the next gathering.

Phil Hanna Home.

Waterloo, Sept. 4.—Phil C. Hanna, United States commissioner, formerly consul to Porto Rico, is visiting his boyhood home here. Mr. Hanna says the general condition of affairs in the island is very promising. He says the present government is not what the people there want nor what the Americans would like to give them, but it is probably the best that could be devised for immediate emergency until legislation could be secured. The old system of Spanish courts is still in existence, but is not satisfactory. The people want the government entirely Americanized. They are eager to become American citizens. Mr. Hanna says the island has been fixed for the date of the next gathering.

Eighty-three recruits for the navy have been sent to Mills Island navy yard from the St. Louis, Mo., recruiting office.

Sturdy Children... ARE MADE SO BY Grape-Nuts FOOD FOR CHILDREN. Determinded people will generally accomplish their aim if they persist. But simple "will" is not enough. One must enlist other forces, particularly health, and health is obtained from good food and a well balanced mind. Children, especially, should be given food known to contain the elements required by body for its proper building and rebuilding. Children fed on white bread, quantities of potatoes, candy and pie are sure to be "rickety" and a disappointment to their parents and themselves. Children fed on Grape-Nuts and cream each day are supplied with a food containing all the food elements nature uses except water and oxygen, and children so fed are sure to round out into sturdy, healthy and brainy young men and women unless some unforeseen and exceptional bar arises. The delicate grape-sugar sweet of the food makes Grape-Nuts a prime favorite with young and old. Postum Cereal Company, limited, make Grape-Nuts at their Battle Creek factories and all first class grocers sell them.
