W. McBride, pianist. Mrs. Bond will give all her new vocal and instrumental compositions and several of her other best ones. Don't miss the brilliant concert.

Much disturbance has been caused on South Third avenue by the rough class of loafers that drift in from the railroad camps, but nothing has yet occurred to stir up half the commotion that Tony has created by the prices he is making on the tailoring. Everybody knows how well he can make a suit or overcoat and when he announces his prices you would think Buffalo Bill's show was going past his shop, so many are the people running to put in their orders.

W. G. Spratt, of 206 South Fifth avenue, an employee of the Glucose Sugar Refining Company, was injured Sunday morning at Battle Creek, Okla., while at work in the dry house at the factory. Spratt had ascended a ladder for the purpose of throwing a belt from a pulley, when his foot slipped and he fell to the floor, a distance of twelve or fourteen feet. He struck his right arm in such a manner as to cause a dislocation of the elbow joint and will be kept from his work for at least a month.

Mr. E. W. Whitney, of Boulder, Colo., who was called to the city ten days ago on account of the serious illness of a brother, Mr. M. T. Whitney, whom he took a week ago Sunday, to Battle Creek, Mich., for treatment, left for his home on the Colorado special Sunday evening. Mr. Whitney was accompanied home by a little girl, Edith Coon, of Boise city, Idaho, whom he took from an orphanage at Battle Creek, Okla., whom he expects to adopt. Mr. Whitney heard Sunday from his sister-in-law, who is connected with the Battle Creek sanitarium, to the effect that his brother's condition was not at all improved.

Rather a strange accident occurred on the Northwestern east of the city Saturday afternoon, and although but one man was hurt slightly, it is a wonder that there were not more injured. As his foot struck the ground, he encountered a loose stone and as the result his left ankle was badly sprained. He was brought to this city and taken to his room at the hotel, where his injury was dressed.

Pappé Bros. carry the largest stock of stylish hats in town. Sergt. James G. Warren, of the United States cavalry, who has charge of the cavalrymen in the Buffalo Bill show, passed through the city Saturday evening en route from Mason City to St. Louis, where he will drill forty colored men for a week, prior to the show's appearance in that city next week, when they will participate in the battle of San Juan Hill. This part of the show is to be made a special feature in St. Louis, and accompanying Sergt. Warren was Mr. Dan Taylor, master mechanic of the company, who will have under his supervision the erection of the hill, the manufacture of the Spanish blockhouses, throwing up of earthworks, etc. Master of Transportation Cole, of the Buffalo Bill show, was also a passenger on the south-bound Central train Saturday night and will remain in St. Louis until the show appears there. Sergt. Warren, who has been spending a summer's furlough with the show, has been in the government service in the Fifth and Sixth cavalry for fourteen years. He was stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., till the last of last May, when he took furlough to take charge of the cavalrymen in the Buffalo Bill show. He will be perfectly at home in St. Louis, as he was drill instructor in the Jefferson barracks for two years.

Mrs. Wentworth has been at Belmont for the past two weeks with her husband, Conductor Wentworth, of the Central, who is in charge of one of the construction trains on the Algona extension.

Justice Allen's court was the scene this morning of a family trouble airing in which Mrs. H. Kraack was the complaining witness and Mrs. Ed Hillman the defendant. The suit was made Saturday afternoon by Constable Leech, assault and battery being charged. The defendant was discharged, as there was no evidence to sustain the charge.

Mrs. A. G. Brenneke received Saturday a letter from Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Coen, formerly of this city, but now of Grand Island, Neb., which announces that they recently buried their two youngest daughters, Marian, aged 2, and Alice, aged 1 year, who died of scarlet fever. Mr. and Mrs. Coen will be remembered by many friends in this city.

Fall and winter underwear is ready at Pappé Bros.

Justice Burritt, in the absence of Mayor Pierce, disposed of the cases pending up by the police officers during Saturday. Fourteen strangers, presumably hangers-on around the railroad camps in this vicinity, were up for intoxication, and were sentenced to five days each. John King and Charles Litchy, two old soldiers, were given twenty days in jail on intoxication charges, but Litchy was released on payment of the costs.
