Mr. Moses Waterman, of the Times-Republican, received a sad message yesterday announcing the death of a maiden aunt, Margaret Scroggs, a pioneer resident of Des Moines. She was a lovable christian character, with as gentle a spirit as one could wish to meet. She resided on a small farm, now within the limits of the capital city, with an elder surviving sister and a widowed sister-in-law and daughters.

Rev. Richard Swearingen, of Gladbrook, formerly of Albion, arrived in the city Wednesday evening, en route to Des Moines, where he had been summoned by a telegram from his son-in-law, Mr. C. L. Keeler, announcing that Mr. Charles Swearingen, of LaPorte City, who has been ill for some time, was rapidly sinking. Swearingen's condition has been such as to cause much alarm for some time. His first trouble seemed to be an attack of jaundice, for which he doctored at Colfax for several weeks. Later he was brought here, and then went to Des Moines.

Miss Susie Mills went to Cedar Rapids this morning, where she will attend the annual convention of the Iowa Epworth League. Miss Mills is state president of the junior department. Rev. J. G. Misses Lou Valentine, Clara Bonwell and Ed Moler, of Montezuma, arrived this morning, and accompanied the Marshalltown delegation on the afternoon train. Miss Valentine will spend Sunday in the city as the guest of Miss Clara Trautmann.

Mayor Pierce has, through City Marshal Jones, distributed cards throughout all the business district of the city today calling attention to the ordinance regarding the throwing of rubbish in any kind in the streets or alleys without burning the same. Another section of the ordinance is also given on the printed card, in effect that it is unlawful to burn such rubbish without permission from the mayor, marshal or city council. Any person violating the ordinance is to be arrested without a warrant, all members of the police force, street commissioners or any other city officers being instructed to that effect.

Dance tonight at Forney's Hall.

A second chapter in the trouble between two colored people, Irene Burdell, of Des Moines, and George Dorsey, of Ottumwa, occurred Wednesday afternoon, when Dorsey, who did not leave the city as expected, took the woman's clothes from the house where they had been living on South Third avenue and threw them into Linn creek. The clothes were contained in a satchel, but they were taken from it and dropped separately, so as it would be impossible to recover them. William Delap and wife saw the man throw the wearing apparel, satchel and a trunk into the creek, and young Delap at once went to work to try and get them by means of a rake. He succeeded in recovering a part of the woman's possessions, which he turned over to the police. The last seen of Dorsey he was running east on May street, past the glucose works.

Obituary.

Tretter.

Mrs. Joseph J. Tretter, aged 21, died Monday afternoon at her home, No. 512 South Second street, after an illness of four months of consumption, following an attack of typhoid fever. Deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Kelly, of this city, and is the last of four children, all of whom died of consumption. Aside from her husband and parents, the deceased leaves one son, aged 4 months. The funeral will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's church, with interment at Riverside.
