MARSHALLTOWN, IOWA, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1899

NO. 272

IT'S UP TO THE VOTER

Party Managers and Political Speakers Pass the Issues Up For Judgment.

Forecasts and Ante-Election Claims All Made and Results Confidently Awaited.

Campaigns Have Been Lively and Sometimes Bitter—Good Election Weather Promised.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The weather bureau has the following special election day forecasts:

"Fair and cool weather will continue Tuesday in the Atlantic coast states, lake region, upper Ohio valley and west of the Mississippi river, except in the southwest.

"Rain is likely in the middle and western gulf states, Oklahoma, southern Kansas, southern Missouri, Arkansas and the lower Ohio valley."

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Elections will be held in twelve states tomorrow: Ohio, Iowa, Kentucky, Mississippi, Maryland and Massachusetts elect governors; the other state officers; Nebraska judge of the supreme court and two regents of the state university; Pennsylvania, treasurer and judges of the supreme and superior courts; South Dakota, three justices of the supreme court; New York, New Jersey and Virginia, legislatures.

There are five tickets in Ohio, five in Iowa, six in Kentucky, two in Mississippi and three in Nebraska; two in South Dakota, three in Maryland, five in Pennsylvania, five in Massachusetts. In Kansas and Colorado county officers will be elected and municipal elections will be held in San Francisco, Salt Lake, New Orleans and Detroit. In addition to sheriff and some judicial officers in Greater New York, mayoralty elections will be held in some other cities in New York.

THE OHIO OUTLOOK.

Fight Has Been Bitter and the Outcome Hard to Predict. Cincinnati, Nov. 6.—Arguments in the exciting Ohio campaign are closed. Indications are for a vote next in volume to that of the presidential election. Choice of decennial appraisers of real estate for the purpose of fixing the tax valuation for the next ten years is relied on to bring out all the farmers. Aside from the estimate of ex-Governor Campbell, there has been no definite claim made for the democratic vote. Campbell says McLean's plurality will be 40,000 if the democrats keep united. There has been no democratic middle in Cleveland and in Cincinnati there is a well-defined opinion that George B. Cox's interest in the republican party is much more concerned about the success of the county than the state ticket. These influences may offset each other in reducing the vote in Cincinnati as much as it reduces McLean's vote in Cleveland. But, in both cases, there is a strong probability that Jones, independent, will be the beneficiary. The claims made for Nash vary from 20,000 to 60,000 plurality, dependent on the uncertainty as to how the Jones vote will affect the republican vote.

Hanna is Confident.

Cleveland, Nov. 6.—Hanna today reiterated the declaration that Nash will be elected governor tomorrow. He declined, however, to say whether his estimates, saying any plurality would be a great victory for the republican party in Ohio under the existing conditions.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Apathy Likely to Reduce the Vote—Anti Quay Faction Uncertain Quantity. Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Exceptionally fine weather is promised for election day in Pennsylvania, but notwithstanding this and the fact that the rival candidates for state treasurer have led the parties "spellers" into nearly every county, the usual "off" year apathy appears to exist and the leaders of both parties have little hope of getting out a large vote. There are rumors from various sections that the state "insurgents," as the anti-Quay republicans are called, will vote the democratic ticket, but the republican state chairman confidently claims upwards of 150,000 plurality for his candidate. Democratic state leaders claim they will win, if their efforts to prevent fraudulent voting in Philadelphia are successful.

IOWA IN SURE COLUMN.

Question is One of Pluralities in This State. Des Moines, Nov. 6.—The ticket to be elected tomorrow in Iowa is governor, treasurer, state superintendent of public schools and railroad commissioner. Upon the legislature hinges the selection of United States senator, and the election of republican candidates in doubtful counties will determine whether Gear or Cummins will be chosen. Chairman Weaver of the republican state central committee said today: "While conditions are decidedly apathetic in the matter of getting voters out, the committee figures on a majority of 45,000. It is more than likely it will exceed that figure."

Chairman Huffman, of the democratic central committee, says the party is sure to control both branches of the next legislature, which will elect a United States senator in 1901.

MISSISSIPPI.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 6.—There has been a very general awakening of interest in the election throughout the state and a much heavier vote than usual is looked for.

DIVORCE FOR VON MOLTKE.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—A divorce has been granted Count Von Moltke, the emperor's aide de camp. The decree places the entire guilt on the wife.

LADYSMITH ALL RIGHT

Gen. White Lifts Immense Weight From the Public Mind in London.

A Dispatch Received Today Showing That He is Safe and Still Confident.

Evacuation of Colenso Believed to Be For Purpose of Aiding Pietermaritzburg.

London, Nov. 6.—An immense weight was lifted from the public mind today by a brief official dispatch, published this morning, showing that the continental stories to the effect that Gen. White's force at Ladysmith had surrendered are false; but further anxiety is caused by the evidence that White, instead of remaining entirely on the defensive, is risking other disasters by sending out sorties. Generally, however, the cheery tone of the dispatch, showing there is no anxiety at Ladysmith in regard to the ability of the beleaguered forces to hold their own, had an excellent effect on the country, and the fact that White was able to shell the Boer camp is thought to indicate that he is not so closely invested as supposed. The ability of the Boers to invade Cape Colony is awakening the fear that some of the Dutch in the British possessions have joined the Boer forces, as otherwise the Boer number can not be accounted for. It is thought the evacuation of Colenso may be for the purpose of reinforcing Pietermaritzburg, which, it is said, is threatened by the Boers. It is said the evacuation of Stormberg may have been for the purpose of hurrying forward the supplies here to Durban, for the use of Methun's division, which Buller may have decided to send to White's relief.

Colenso Stores Saved. Durban, Natal, Nov. 3.—It is said the Colenso garrison saved all stores, tents, etc. The Boers numbered 5,000, comprising fresh corps from Orange Free State. An armored train did splendid service, taking a detachment of Dublin Fusiliers to relieve the opening force, garrisoned by volunteers. Reassuring reports are received regarding the position at Pietermaritzburg.

BATTLE STILL RAGING. Artillery Conflict Continues Near Ladysmith—Boers Force Fighting. London, Nov. 6.—Shortly before midnight a dispatch from Gen. Buller at Cape Town was made public. This contained the following message from Gen. White, received by carrier pigeon at Durban: "Ladysmith, Nov. 3.—Yesterday Gen. Buller sent me a message that White meant to say Brecklehurst went out with cavalry and field artillery and effectively annihilated the Boer laager without loss on our side. Lieut. Egerton, of the Powerful, is dead. "Gen. Joubert sent in Maj. C. S. Kincaid, of the royal Irish fusiliers, and nine wounded prisoners. Eight Boers were sent out in exchange, no others being fit to travel. "Col. Bredt, with cavalry, field artillery, the imperial light horse and the Natal mounted volunteers, was engaged today with the enemy to the southwest of Ladysmith. The fighting lasted several hours, our loss being very small. "The bombardment of Ladysmith continued yesterday and today. My Boer shells being pitched into the town. Our troops are in good health and spirits and the wounded are doing well. "The London public had not even this dispatch to calm its anxiety throughout the long Sunday and Friday's needless rumors of disaster to excite it. The latest bulletin that had been received before the one just quoted was that announcing the retirement of the British force defending Colenso, twenty-three miles south of Ladysmith. That partially confirmed the Belgian report of Thursday that the Boers had occupied Colenso and multiplied worry a thousandfold, for worse reports than that have come out of Brussels since. There and at Lisbon it is persistently rumored that Ladysmith has fallen and that Gen. Sir George White and his thousands of men are prisoners in the hands of the Boers. "At the best Gen. White is surrounded by an impossible and reinforcement rendered most difficult. He may hold out. If the war office has given out the worst fears, the Friday's dispatch he can hardly be in extremity by his time, provided he has adhered to defensive tactics. "Those two provisos comprehend the whole of the question of Gen. White's present and future security. It is the general belief that the war office is suppressing unwelcome tidings, and it is the general fear that even if Ladysmith is still safe the garrison may be drawn into yet another trap. "Attention is directed also to the fact that no word escapes the war office as to the present temper of the Cape Dutch. Their feelings are said to be crystallized into allied action. If the Cape Dutch were unroused by Boer successes, it is argued, the war office would be glad to remove from the public mind that potent cause for alarm. "The war office is careful not to mention Gen. Buller's movements, and military circles here it is not considered unlikely that the next news of the commander-in-chief may tell of the execution of the coup of the war—the mobilization at Delagoa bay of the force now on the way to the Cape. The dispatch posted last night purports to come from Gen. Buller at Cape Town, but it by no means follows that the commander-in-chief is there. If he has gone to Lorenzo Marques, or is on his way there, it is not in the war office's plans to tell the world of it. "If the mobilization is not to be at-

ROSEMAN A ROBBER

Investigation Shows Late From Citizen of Montezuma Wolf in Sheep Clothing.

Robbed Friends Who Confided in and Honored Him—Rowe's Record Outdone.

Now Known That O. L. Roseman Was Defaulter and Embezzler For Some $27,000.

Special to Times-Republican. Montezuma, Nov. 6.—Ever since the O. L. Roseman funeral an investigation has been in progress in the business transactions of the firms of Roseman & Cummins, O. L. Roseman & Son and O. L. Roseman. The investigation has gone far enough to establish the fact that O. L. Roseman died a defaulter and embezzler to the extent of $27,000 or thereabouts. It is a great shock to our people, as nearly every one supposed him to be in good circumstances. But as the search progresses it is found that he has beaten the record of the notorious Chet Rowe. The latter robbed the county of several thousand, while Roseman has robbed his best friends, and in some instances it will take the savings of a lifetime and leave the families homeless. C. D. Roseman was arrested late Saturday as an accomplice of his father and will answer to the above charges in court. As Roseman was in the abstract business and a loan broker, besides enjoying the utmost confidence of a large acquaintance, it gave him frequent opportunity. His abstracts now are worthless, as many are said to be false and show clear title to land that was already mortgaged in order to procure loans. It is now known that in the Roseman defalcation, W. H. Butts loses $750, money paid Roseman for the purpose of paying off a mortgage. There is some prospect of this amount being settled. W. W. Cummings loses from $3,000 to $5,000, the amount not being definitely known as yet. A Mr. Wymore loses $3,000. J. E. Taylor, of Deep River, is a victim for $2,000. It is reported that Schmidt & Volmer are out $1,500. Robert Hicks is said to be loser by $1,500. The $1,000 Roseman held as trustee of the Odd Fellows will be taken to the courts. There is about $3,000 due other parties, but it is believed they will agree to a settlement today. All of these amounts were sums deposited with Roseman to pay off mortgages, etc., in which Roseman was the agent through whom the loans were obtained. The parties trusted to his honesty and supposed everything was all right. One fellow died a few weeks ago. He died, it was said at the time, of apoplexy, his death being very sudden. In view of the developments, there have been suggestions in some quarters that Roseman may have suicided rather than face the disgrace of exposure, which he probably realized must come sooner or later. This theory, however, is given little credence, as Roseman undoubtedly was hoping for a turn in affairs by which he might retrieve his losses, make good his defalcations and save his good name. Roseman was a prominent Odd Fellow, a past grand master and his funeral was attended by a large number of the high officers and members of that order, including the present grand master and a number of past masters. The town is greatly excited over the discoveries being made and many farmers and others who have had dealings with the firm are coming into town to look up the records and ascertain whether they have been made victims of his dishonesty.

CLOSE ON ENEMY.

American Troops Pushing the Rebels Into Close Quarters—Whole Company, Armed, Captured—The Advance.

Manila, Nov. 6.—Magalang, the town taken yesterday by two columns of MacArthur's division, under Col. Smith and Maj. O'Brien, is a strong town situated midway between Angeles and Arayat. The movement is the part of a plan for the Americans to possess all the country to the southeast of Tarlac, as the troops close in on the capital, cutting the line of the enemy's retreat in that direction. The insurgent force is estimated at 1,600. Col. Smith first encountered a small force entrenched a quarter of a mile beyond Angeles, which soon retreated, leaving two dead. The enemy made a short stand at the outskirts of Barrios and San Francisco. Capt. Brush, with an advance guard, charged the Filipinos, who fled. Seven Americans were wounded. The Americans almost surrounded the insurgents, who resisted stubbornly, but Lieut. Hamilton's artillery cut them up. Lieut. Slavin's troops captured a company of the enemy, with arms, during the advance. Wheeler's brigade is formed at Angeles prepared for a general engagement.

LOSS, HALF A MILLION. Fire in Kansas City Saturday Night Proved Very Serious. Kansas City, Nov. 6.—Half a million dollars' worth of property was destroyed after midnight Saturday night by fire that started in Jones Bros' big department store, on North Main and Sixth streets, and spread to a half block of other buildings on Main and Walnut streets. The aggregate insurance loss is estimated at $750,000. The heaviest losers are Jones Bros., who estimate their stock, which was totally destroyed, at $300,000. Insurance carried by this firm amounted to $2 per cent of the loss. It was the most destructive fire that has ever visited the uptown business district. The other heavy losses are Jones building, owned by W. C. Lobenstein, New York, $60,000; J. C. Lobenstein, owned by Archibald Francis Ferdinand, son of the late Archibald Charles Louis, and heir presumptive to the throne of Austria-Hungary, and Countess Sophia Chotek, on condition that there be a year's delay. The countess was formerly maid of honor of Archduchess Isabella. Lawyers hold that the marriage will not affect the archduchess's succession to the throne, but that his children by the marriage are excluded. Jamaica Insurgents Defeated. Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 6.—Reliable Colombian advisers just received describe an engagement with the insurgent steamers by the Colombian cruiser Hercules under Gen. Rodriguez, accompanied by the steamer Columbia, having troops on board. The insurgent steamer Drag was rammed and sunk and four smaller ones were captured. Cisneros, with the surviving insurgents, escaped. The insurgents lost 250 men.

McKinley Goes to Canton. Washington, Nov. 6.—The president leaves Washington this evening for Canton, where he will deposit his ballot tomorrow.

Smith and Nancy Convicted. Nevada, Nov. 6.—The trial of Smith and Nancy on the charge of shooting Conductor Hicks at Kelley during state fair week terminated. Smith was convicted of assault with intent to commit murder and was given ten years. Nancy was convicted of assault with intent to commit manslaughter and got five years, the full statutory penalty in each case.

to whose agent was Roseman, the latter is a victim for $2,000. In these particular cases it was not asked by if he was the lender's agent. No one seems to know where the money went. He leaves little or no estate, aside from life insurance, but it is the general opinion that it was dropped by the enormous cattle and horse deals that he and his son, C. D. Roseman, have been for the past two years trying to swing. The losses must have been heavy. No one here believes that the wife or mother had the faintest suspicion of what was going on and the deepest sympathy is felt for them. Just how Roseman secured the confidence of the Davenport people to the extent he did no one can understand. His record as county treasurer was very unsavory. A good many people recall the hard coal episode. Many inquiries have been made as to what he had done with the enormous amounts of delinquent taxes collected, but nobody has ever yet received a satisfactory answer, while other men have often wondered why a certain firm in Des Moines got all the blank-check contracts at prices nearly 50 per cent below what they had been at a printing establishment in this country. It is probable that much litigation will grow out of these tangled affairs, and the most unfortunate feature about it is that these losses will most likely have to fall on men who can not stand it, and who will be hopelessly ruined.

THEATRICAL TROUP MOBBED.

New Hartford Resents Intrusion of Waterloo's Hobo Talent. Special to Times-Republican. Peshawar, Nov. 6.—Your correspondent interviewed the police chief of New Hartford in regard to the affair which took place there Saturday night, and which caused no few people considerable anxiety as to the outcome. It seems that the "Waterloo Hobo Amateur Theatrical Performers" tried to have some fun in and around the "Ten Nights in a Barroom" at the New Hartford people's expense, and that before the play was half over the Waterloo company came to the conclusion, because of eggs and other articles, that they had run up against the "real thing" and decided to give up. Later in the night the company, with the protection of the police, started from the hotel to the depot. Eggs and small pieces of rock were thrown and the marshal's lantern was soon shattered. One of the company was knocked down by a rock hitting him on the head and the whole crowd seemed to act worse than if they had really spent ten nights in a barroom. It is rumored that there is still another act to follow.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Veterinary Surgeon of Maquoketa Meets With Fatal Accident. Special to Times-Republican. Clinton, Nov. 6.—K. R. Hugo White, a well-known veterinary surgeon of Maquoketa, was run down by a Milwaukee passenger train at Elwood this morning and instantly killed. He was 49 years old.

Weightmaster Kinsey Killed. Charleston, Nov. 6.—John Kinsey, weightmaster at West Cleveland (shift No. 4) was killed Friday. He fell down the shaft and struck at landing No. 2 and died in fifteen minutes.

Peter Olson, aged 26, and Chris Nelson, aged 31, were killed by a Chicago & Northwestern train at Racine, Wis., while returning from church yesterday. It is presumed they did not hear the train approaching.

James W. Gosnell, a well-to-do farmer, living at Mt. Pleasant, Jefferson county, O., was shot and killed by unknown parties Saturday night. He was sitting near a window reading a newspaper when the murderers fired from the outside, killing him instantly. There is no clue.

ONE MAN'S INFIDELTY

I. B. Cappron, Hotel Proprietor of Grinnell, Leaves His Wife and Town.

Pretty Woman and Ex-Employee Said to Have Caused All the Trouble.

Vice President Hobart Growing Weaker—Samoan Question Finally Settled—Other News.

Special to Times-Republican. Grinnell, Nov. 6.—For some days there have been whispered rumors of the sudden departure of a prominent business man from this city, and yesterday the story was repeated, with such evidence of its substantial correctness as to warrant newspaper investigation. It is said that Mr. I. B. Cappron has left the city with no intention of returning again to live; that a certain young woman, Mrs. Addie Carr, formerly employed at the old Chapin Hotel, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Cappron, is the cause of all the trouble. It is alleged that Mr. Cappron has written back here that he never intends to return to Grinnell and that his clothing was packed up and sent to him yesterday. That he should leave so soon after building and furnishing in elegant style a new home, up to date and first class hotel is what surprised everybody. To a correspondent of the T.-R. one conversant with the business affairs of Mr. Cappron says that they are in excellent condition. Trouble has been rife, however, between Mr. and Mrs. Cappron for several years, and the former's recent infatuation for Mrs. Carr has caused a termination of all relations between the husband and wife. The statement is made that Mr. Cappron is at present at his farm in Marshall county, near Marshalltown. The hotel business conducted here has been a paying investment for years. It is owned in Mrs. Cappron's name and will be continued by her.

Mrs. Cappron, when seen, proved non-committal, and neither affirmed nor denied any of the rumors regarding the disappearance. She did say that she had secured the trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Cappron, and that he was here at Marshalltown and that he was there Saturday, adding "that he was probably at his farm."

From other sources it is claimed that he met the woman in Chicago Friday evening of last week, and since that time he has been in Grinnell.

Sympathy here is entirely with Mrs. Cappron, as she has always been known as a hard working, industrious and good woman. The building up of a good business has been due to her efforts, as is also claimed by her friends, was the case in St. Charles, Mo., where the Capprons formerly resided.

It is said that a division of the property of Mr. Cappron is to be made with his wife and that a separation is to be the outcome in the near future.

Mrs. Carr, the woman who is alleged to have caused the trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Cappron, is a buxom, good looking woman of probably 35 years, a grass widow. Her first husband is now dead. Her second husband is an Ottumwa man. She came to Grinnell to take charge of the lunch room at the hotel, but she was assigned to work in the dining room at the hotel. She formerly resided in Marshalltown.

Some of Cappron's creditors here are somewhat on the anxious seat.

HOBART'S CONDITION.

Little Change is Apparent, But He is Weaker. Paterson, N. J., Nov. 6.—The condition of Vice President Hobart is slightly weaker. He spent a fairly comfortable night, and slept a goodly part of the time.

In Newton denies that he is suffering from cancer of the stomach. Paterson, N. J., Nov. 6.—Hobart takes no solid food and comparatively little liquid nourishment. His vitality, upon which he is living, is remarkable. He fully realizes that the end is near.

SAMOAN QUESTION SETTLED.

England, Germany and United States Reach an Agreement. London, Nov. 6.—Although the exact terms of the agreement are carefully guarded, the Associated Press is able to say that the Samoan question is practically settled; that the finalities are to take place within a few days, unless some unexpected hitch occurs. It can be said that American control of Tutuila Island is confirmed. It is understood that the United States has agreed to the arrangement between Germany and Great Britain. Regarding the latter the British foreign office authorizes the statement that none of the recent surmises of the German press are correct. It is pointed out that the United States having secured Tutuila, all she wanted is thoroughly satisfied; that she is constantly consulted about the negotiations between Germany and Great Britain as to the rest of the group.
