SHOPLIFTERS ARRESTED.

Hurlington Officials Recover Stolen Goods and Capture Guilty Parties.

Tuesday Charles Payne and Miss Etta Payne were arrested on a charge of theft by several merchants, and part of the stolen goods was recovered. Suspicion pointed to another woman named Platt, who fled on the appearance of the police. A search of the Platt house brought astonishing results, several hundred dollars' worth of dry goods, groceries, perfumes, clothing and jewelry being found. FOOT BALL GAMES CANCELLED.

No More Will Be Played on S. U. I. Grounds This Year.

Iowa City, Nov. 22.—The athletic board of S. U. I. held an important meeting last night and the Simpson game and all inter-class games were cancelled; that is, those games that were to be played on S. U. I. grounds, the action being taken on account of the death of Winfred Stephenson. The Illinois game to be played in Rock Island Thanksgiving day will not be cancelled. Yesterday morning Professor A. G. Smith, president of the athletic board, said: "Professor Stephenson, Winfred's father, says the fate of his son was entirely due to an accident and to the boy's participation in the game, contrary to Coach Knipe's orders. Professor Stephenson has not a word of blame for the other players, nor has he condemned the game. Out of respect for the young man's memory we will let it right, fitting and proper to cancel all games on the home grounds, but the board, faculty and team are united in the thought that it is not advisable to strike off our schedule the Illinois game on foreign ground."

COMMENCEMENT AT AMES.

Annual Graduation Exercises Being Held at Agricultural College.

Ames, Nov. 22.—The twenty-seventh annual commencement exercises of the Iowa State College are being held here this week. Last Saturday evening the literary societies held their graduation exercises; Sunday afternoon Dr. Beardshear preached the baccalaureate sermon; Monday evening the president's reception to the senior class was held at Margaret Hall; yesterday afternoon the class day exercises were held and last night Dr. William H. Harper, president of Chicago University, delivered the annual commencement address, after which the junior class was promoted by Governor Shaw and the diplomas were presented by the president, Dr. Beardshear.

This commencement marks an epoch in the history of the institution, as it will be the last of the autumnal graduations. The commencement hereafter will be in June. Last spring the trustees provided for raising the standard of the curriculum and the requirements for admission. The present class is the last one to graduate under the old requirements. They were given the opportunity of continuing till next June and completing their course under the new curriculum. About twenty of the class will pursue this plan, but the majority, numbering sixty in all, will be graduated this week.

Provision has also been made for changing the college year. Next year and the succeeding year the spring term will end about the middle of June and the fall term will begin about the middle of September, continuing until the holidays, followed by a vacation of a month and a half before the beginning of the spring term in February. This arrangement brings the long vacation in summer instead of winter, as has been the case since the college was founded. The honor members of this year's graduating class are as follows: Agricultural course, D. E. Hollingsworth; science courses, Alice Hess, Jeanette Young, F. A. Scheultz, J. R. Allen, E. Rhodes; mechanical engineering, R. E. Anderson; electrical engineering, E. B. Tuttle; veterinary, R. B. Rogers.

News of Cedar Falls. Special to Times-Republican.

Cedar Falls, Nov. 22.—The ladies of the Women's Relief Corps of this city made arrangements to go in a body to the Fifth district convention which was held at Parkersburg, Butler county, today.

Cedar Falls people are still using their lawn mowers and basking in the bright beautiful autumn weather. In Pennsylvania there are here six inches of snow and people are sleighing. Mr. J. A. Murray, an expert and experienced electrical engineer from Carbondale, Pa., is here looking over our electric plant with a view of purchasing the same. Our home company has made him figures, which he is considering.

One of the largest audiences of the year assembled at the opera house Monday night to hear the Chase-Vaughn-Walsh troupe, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. Miss Wales has but few equals as a reader and impersonator. Each time she appeared on the platform she was encircled enthusiastically, and she responded three times after each number of the program. She was assisted by Miss Louise Ketchum, soprano; Miss Mae Burnham-Orcutt, pianist; and Mr. Earl Maynard, violinist. The verdict of the audience was that the entertainment was fine. The visiting committee of the State Normal board of directors—Judge McDuffee, of LeMars, and W. W. Montgomery, of Red Oak—are at Normal Hill looking over matters pertaining to the school.

Complain of Attorney's Acts. Special to Times-Republican.

Fort Dodge, Nov. 22.—A petition was filed today with the clerk of courts for a proposed disbarment of J. P. Adams, a local attorney, on the charge of extortion. The affiant, Mrs. Martha E. Brown, a widow makes statement on oath that Adams attempted to collect certain amounts contracted by her husband, now deceased, and made claims that she was attempting to settle his estate outside of the court, which she claimed to be in violation of the law and was a penitentiary offense. That he had in some way come into possession of the accounts contracted by her husband, who had no assets, all of the property being in her name, and attempted to make the statement that she was violating the law and subject to imprisonment. The matter will come before Judge S. M. Weaver at the present term of court.

Another Boy Escaped. Special to Times-Republican.

Eldora, Nov. 22.—The escape mania seems to have taken possession of the inmates of the industrial school, and following upon the six who left Sunday another case is reported this morning. Willie Maher, aged 15, left the school about 6 o'clock last night and has not been heard of since. He is described as having blue eyes and brown hair, and wearing a dark grey wool coat, blue jeans trousers, dark blue and white shirt and a dark winter cap.

A Webster City Enterprise. Special to Times-Republican.

Webster City, Nov. 22.—A new enterprise will soon be started in Webster City in the shape of a cracker factory. H. S. A Dense Fog. Special to Times-Republican.

Chariton, Nov. 22.—For so dense that travel became almost impossible, accompanied by a light rain, settled down over this city last night. A common lantern became useless, many collisions of pedestrians were reported and several collisions by teams were narrowly averted. One could not see three feet from one and the electric lights across the square were barely visible.

Garwin, Nov. 22.—Thieves entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller last evening and stole $10 in cash and a gold watch. The family were at home, but having retired and being asleep did not hear them. Mr. Miller was awakened by some person trying to get into his house the same evening.

IRON ORE IN IOWA.

Immense Deposits Said to Have Been Discovered Near Waukon.

Des Moines, Nov. 22.—The possibility of Iowa some day taking rank as a great iron producing state would have been considered a very distant dream ago. But since then the northeast Iowa iron deposits have attracted public attention, and today it looks as if a really wonderful mine would soon be developed.

The deposit is in the hill region of Allamakee county, the roughest and most picturesque section of the state. For years it has been known that almost everything imaginable in the way of minerals and metals was to be found in the hills of extreme northeast Iowa; iron ore had been found many times, but never in paying quantities. But it now seems almost certain that Waukon is to become the iron center of Iowa.

Will F. Parrott of Waterloo, who was in Waukon a few days ago, told a reporter last evening about the find and its development to this time. Mr. Parrott took pains to inform himself about the deposit in Allamakee county last week. The deposit is about four miles from Waukon, and the land is still in the hands of a number of farmers who have put in enough money to thoroughly investigate their bonanza. They propose to get this much as possible out of it, and to this end secure the services of experts to investigate the section. These have located the deposits very accurately; borings have been made, and it is declared by these investigators that there is an immense deposit of the richest kind of iron ore. It is situated on a tract of 450 acres they have carefully examined, there is enough to run a mine for 100 years, taking out 500,000 tons a year, and leave a pretty good iron mine at the end of the century. And the ore is from 30 to 50 per cent pure iron, easily mined and easily reduced.

the ore, which will be sent to a Milwaukee smelter for reduction. They propose to test it thoroughly, and if it proves a good thing will organize a company and open the mine without delay. The ore comes to the surface in places; then it dips, and reaches down to 100 feet below the surface in other places. Immediately above it is a deposit of yellow ochre of remarkable richness, which is said to be about as valuable as the iron ore.

There is no reason for the belief that the deposit is limited to the area on which it has been proved to exist. On the other hand, there is every indication that it extends much farther. The town of Waukon, seeing before itself a great future as a manufacturing and mining center, is already threatened by a boom. Everybody is excited over the discovery and prospective development. Mr. Parrott was convinced that it is really a great discovery.
