A THIEF ENDS HIS LIFE

Sensational Suicide of a Prisoner on a S. C. & W. Train Near Sioux City.

Borrows Knife From Deputy Sheriff and Then Savagely Attacks Conductor.

The Officer Threatens to Shoot and the Prisoner Cuts His Throat.

Sioux City, Dec. 1.—A wildly tragic suicide of a Black Hills horse thief and all around desperado took place at noon Thursday on a train of the Sioux City & Western, near Sioux City. The smoking car of the train was crowded at the time. The man was Harry Rogers, who was being taken by Sheriff Sweeney and a deputy from Butte county, S. D., to the penitentiary.

The prisoner was known as a dangerous man, one who would shoot or kill in a desperate attempt to make his escape. The officers had kept the man between them all the way and most of the time he had been laughing and joking. The train was moving along at a rapid rate. Rogers spoke to the deputy, who was sitting in front of him, asking for his pocket knife, saying he wanted to cut his finger nails.

Indecently the request was granted and he "cut" the finger nail, and with an exultant whoop and made a dash at the conductor of the train. The next minute he cut a gash in his own throat, and just at this minute the sheriff pulled a gun and was about to fire, when Rogers turned.

"Hold on there!" shouted the sheriff, and the passengers made wild dives under seats.

Rogers saw he was looking down the barrels of two big revolvers. His eyes were wild, his face ghastly, and blood was flowing from the wound in his neck. He still held the knife in his stamined hand. He made a lunge forward, and hesitated as though he knew it meant instant death to go further.

Then it was he held up his left hand in a deprecating sort of way which plainly said: "Don't shoot," and with four terrible stabs in quick succession, he sent the sharp blade of the knife deep into his neck. With an awful oath that made the blood of his hearers run cold, an oath which was half wail and half curse, the horse thief fell on his back and expired instantly on the floor of the car.

Not until he was dead did the frightened passengers recover their senses, and even then they kept out of the car until the body of the desperado had been removed. The South Dakota officers will return to the Black Hills with their dead prisoner.

The conductor on the train, Tom DeLong, had a narrow escape at the hands of the bad man, as he was sitting just across the aisle, but the revolver in the hands of Sheriff Sweeney probably saved him.

TERRY M'GOVERN WINS.

Knecks Out Eddie Sprague in Second Round by Solar Plexus Blow.

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 1.—Terry McGovern, champion of the world at his weight, made short work of Eddie Sprague, of Streator, Ill., yesterday afternoon at the National Athletic club, disabling him in less than one minute in the second round. He practically disposed of his man in the first round when, after a fierce exchange of blows, McGovern landed a heavy blow on Sprague's solar plexus that laid him on the floor.

Sprague went down three times in the first round, slipping once, and remaining down another time until eight seconds were called off. For the remainder of the round he managed to keep away from McGovern. Sprague landed two hard blows on McGovern, one of them on the jaw, which staggered Terry.

In the second round McGovern sailed in with right and left swings on Sprague, the latter finally going down and remaining on the floor until counted out. He had to be assisted to his corner.

RACING AT NEW ORLEANS.

First Day of the Season a Signal Success.

New Orleans, Dec. 1.—The regular winter meeting of the Crescent City Jockey Club was inaugurated yesterday in the presence of one of the largest crowds that ever passed through the gates on an opening day.

The spacious grand stand was taxed to its utmost capacity. The center field presented a picturesque appearance as the sun shone on the silks and satins which bedecked the feminine occupants of the carriages drawn up in a line directly opposite the stand. Society was out in full force, and to all appearances seemed to enjoy the racing hugely.

Everything passed off smoothly, the management deserving a great deal of credit for the way the subordinates carried out their instructions, and, all things considered, it was the most successful opening the Jockey Club has ever enjoyed.

Starter Fitzgerald was at his best, as in almost every race the horses were dispatched at the first effort. Fifteen books drove in and they were kept busy the entire afternoon attending to the wants of the public, the speculation being brisk throughout.

The feature of the afternoon's racing was the inaugural handicap, for which $300 was guaranteed, of which $200 to second and $200 to third. The fourth saw a runaway money. Thirteen first class horses were carded to start, but at the last minute Mr. Walden decided to withdraw Hardy, leaving a dozen to sport silk at the call of the bugle.

Each entry had a large following, with Mizpah and Imp Mitt Saxe as the favorites. Just before post time there was quite a plunge on the latter and by the time they were in the starter's hands the Texas horse was a decided first choice. Whatever chance he may have had was wasted by the manner in which he was ridden by Frost, but at that the race was captured by far the best horse.

Triaditza rushed to the front at the drop of the flag and for a time it looked as if she would make a runaway race of it, but the early effort told on her and at the sixteenth pole she was all out and staggering.

Mizpah during the early stages of the race was in the rear division, being all tangled up at the start, and it took Mason three-eighths of a mile to get the big gelding going. When once on his stride, however, he moved down the leaders one by one, finally winning by half a length. It was a grand performance, and stamps the winner as the horse in the west.

May Beach ran a very bad race, showing none of her former speed at any time during the race. The other races furnished very little excitement, with the exception of the first, which was won by the favorite, Jolly Roger, after he had tried to run to the outside on entering the stretch.

More Light on Ellis Glenn.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Dec. 1.—It is now claimed that Ellis Green, alias Battle Cole, the principal in the Hillsboro (Ill.) sensation, was at one time a resident of this city. The story is that she and her husband, Melvin Rader, moved here from Addison in 1888, opened a small store in Seventh street and a few months later moved their home and business into a building on the Sand road opposite the pottery, about two miles in the suburbs. Their store was the first in that section. They gave dances nightly and the place became notorious. Cole was with them at the time. They moved to Belmont from here, after which, until the report of the murder of Rader, all trace of the woman was lost.

Big B. & O. Mortgage Filed.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 1.—The first mortgage on the southern division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was filed in the office of the recorder of deeds of Sangamon county yesterday. The mortgage is to secure $45,000.00 of 3% per cent gold bonds, January 1, 1900, and is given to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, of New York, and W. H. H. Miller, of Indianapolis, Ind.

To Build a Monster Reservoir.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—The Burlington railroad has let a contract for the building of what is said to be one of the largest reservoirs in the world. The reservoir will be located five miles southeast of Galesburg, Ill., and will be 2 1/2 miles long, 1,500 feet wide and 20 feet deep. It will have a capacity of 445,000,000 gallons of water. The water will be supplied from Haw creek.

Protest by Methodists.

St. Louis, Dec. 1.—The Methodist Episcopal church congress yesterday wired the following resolutions to Washington:

"Resolved: That the Methodist Episcopal church congress, in session at St. Louis, respectfully and earnestly appeals to every member of the Fifty-sixth congress to use his vote and influence to prevent, by constitutional means, the seating of the polygamist member-elect of congress, Brigham H. Roberts, of Utah, or secure the expulsion of said Roberts if seated."

Cedar Rapids, Dec. 1.—At two union Thanksgiving services at which more than thirty churches were represented a committee from the Ministerial Union presented resolutions protesting against the seating of Mr. Roberts as congressman from Utah. If this can not be prevented it is asked that his expulsion be secured. Congress is also urged to prepare the way for a constitutional amendment which shall root out polygamy.

BURN JUDGE IN EFFIGY.

Fort Scott, Kan., People Resent Sentence of a Striker.

Fort Scott, Kas., Dec. 1.—Judge John A. Williams of the federal court, district of Arkansas, who last Monday sentenced National Committeeman Reese, of the United States Mineworkers of America, to ninety days in prison for his participation in the Kansas coal miners' strike, was burned in effigy in the streets of Pittsburg, Kas., yesterday. By prearranged plans a great crowd of strikers assembled in the main business street and marched through the town, carrying banners and cartoons, burlesquing the court. At the end of the procession came a large crayon portrait of the gray-haired old judge carried by two men, and followed it closely was a crude coffin carried by six pall-bearers.

When a certain point was reached the coffin divided and halted and amid loud shouts of derision the coffin and picture were burned. Reese, who is in jail here, heard the reports of the demonstration with considerable satisfaction. He is receiving telegrams of sympathy and congratulations from labor leaders all over the country. The most remarkable among them is one from G. C. Clemens, the Kansas socialist, who says:

"Congratulations. When slavery is on the bench freedom's place of honor is in the prisoner's dock."

The union officers have issued an order to take foot next Monday, suspending work in all mines in Kansas until Reese is released from jail in an honorable manner.

Efforts in Behalf of Reese.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1.—National Organizer Chester E. Evans, of the United Mine workers, and Editor W. C. Scott, of the United Mine Workers' Journal, have declared that everything within the power of the national order will be done to free John P. Reese, who is now undergoing a three months' jail sentence at Fort Scott, Kas.

"We have over $30,000 in our national treasury," said Mr. Evans, "and every effort will be made to take care of Reese. This organization, since the first of the year, has collected and distributed over $300,000 to suffering miners, and we do not propose to sit idle and let Reese suffer. If we can not get him out of prison we will undertake to make life in a miserable place agreeable to him. The jail at Fort Scott is a miserable den and he ought not to stay there, because he is likely to have his health undermined."

One of the moves which will probably be made by President Mitchell and attorneys engaged by the national order will be to have Reese's case taken to the United States circuit court at St. Louis. Habeas corpus proceedings may be instituted.

Thanksgiving at White House.

Washington, Dec. 1.—A very general observance of holiday by persons in all walks of life marked Thanksgiving day at the national capital. The day was more closely observed at the executive mansion than for some years. The house was closed to visitors and business was almost suspended. The president saw only a few intimate friends, Mr. and Mrs. Almer McKimley came over from New York to dine at the white house, and accompanied the president and Mrs. McKimley to church, attending services at the Metropolitan M. E. church. The president had several invited guests with him to dinner at the white house, the center piece being a Rhode Island turkey, which is sent him each year.

John Engler, Marshalltown, Iowa: Boonsboro, Iowa, Aug. 31, 1898.

Dear Sir:—In reply to your favor of this date, we say that for us to claim that we have the best coal, will have but little weight unless the consumer has tried it. Every operator in Boone thinks he has the best coal, but when we say, without contradiction, that we are operating the oldest mine in Boone county, the "Old Reliable Logan & Canfield Mine," our lower vein coal needs no further endorsement. We hereby appoint you as agent to sell our coal in Marshalltown, Iowa.
