

STARTS WITH A COLD.

Catarth is a Lingerin Cold Which Refuses to Yield to Ordinary Treatment.

Catarth usually starts with a cold in the head and left unchecked in this climate rarely gets well of itself.

As fresh cold is taken the disease spreads, getting deeper and deeper, creeping along the mucous membranes from nose to throat, from throat to windpipe, from windpipe to bronchial tubes and from bronchial tubes to lung cells.

The mucous membranes all connect one with another. Hence it is easy to spread from one part to another lined with this same membrane.

Everybody is now well agreed that catarth is a blood disease and not a local one and the attempt to cure by local applications simply gives temporary relief from the purely local symptoms without the remotest effect in staying the progress of the disease.

There is a new preparation recently offered to the public that is apparently destined to do away with every other form of catarth treatment.

This new remedy is not a secret patent medicine, but is a large, pleasant tasting tablet composed of sauguarina, ucalypol, guaiacol, hydrastin and other valuable and harmless specifics, which are taken internally and seem to have a remarkably beneficial effect upon the blood and mucous membranes, apparently eliminating the catarth poison from the whole system.

These tablets, while being pleasant, convenient and absolutely safe to use, have made cures in long standing cases of catarth that are little short of marvellous.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized package and no matter where the catarth is located, in the head, throat, lungs or stomach, Stuart's Catarth Tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarth Tablets and any catarth sufferer who has tried inhalers, lotions, ointments, salves, etc., and realized their ineffectiveness and uselessness, will fully appreciate the difference between a mere palliative and a permanent cure after giving Stuart's Catarth Tablets an impartial trial.

RALLY ROUND THE FLAG

Republicans of Marshall County Holding the Big Rally of the Campaign.

BOB COUSINS AND SENATOR DOLLIVER THE ORATORS

Cousins Pours Political Hot-Shot Into the Opposition in His Afternoon Address—Speaks Before a Large Audience at the Odeon

—Dolliver to Talk Tonight—The Parade.

This is republican day for Marshall county and vicinity. The flags have been flying, horns tooting, bands playing, crowds jostling.

Senator Dolliver, who was expected to arrive from Oskaloosa on the morning train, did not come then, and word was received to the effect that he had remained in Oskaloosa.

Senator Dolliver, who was expected to arrive from Oskaloosa on the morning train, did not come then, and word was received to the effect that he had remained in Oskaloosa.

Some of the prominent republican workers of the city and county will dine this evening with Senator Dolliver and Congressman Cousins.

The Cousins party will dine at the Pilgrim and in it will be representatives from each township in the county, the press of the city and the business interests of the city.

TONIGHT'S PARADE. The parade tonight will be one of the features of the day's rally, and the fact that those who march will have the first opportunity to secure seats in the Odeon will augment the number in line.

ANOTHER FREMONT CLUB. The members of the Iowa Soldiers' Home who voted for Fremont in 1856 have organized a Fremont Club and propose to take part in the balance of the campaign.

COUSINS' ORATORICAL HOT-SHOT. Magnificent Audience Hears the Congressman This Afternoon.

The meeting at the Odeon this afternoon was a magnificent tribute to the Fifth district congressman, and Mr. Cousins appreciated it. The theater was packed to its capacity, stage space included. On the stage were 150 grizzled Fremont voters, members of the Marshalltown and the Soldiers' Home club. There was no semblance of republican apathy. Every patriotic air by the band, every campaign song sung by the quartet, and every reference to Congressional Cousins services and popularity and every point of the speaker's address was loudly applauded.

Congressman Cousins was at his best, and the address was one of the brightest of his many Marshalltown speeches. His sarcastic references to the opposition party were clothed in garments of eloquence, and his arguments were irrefragable.

Congressman Cousins launched out on the Bryan sea of a 16 to 1 dollar and Bryan's calamity predictions of 1896. He made the assertion and presented the figures in proof of the fact that more money was in circulation in the United States today than ever before and the largest circulation per capita ever before known.

He spoke on cheap money, the paramount issue, the integrity of the United States dollar, its standard of value, and said its standard of value should be made the paramount issue. He told of the needs of supporting our president, of the time of war and when they were right and fighting for the right they should be supported.

Cousins told us that Jefferson was an expansionist, his cabinet and senate were made up of expansionists—democrats, by the name during his administration Florida was annexed to the United States, and our more recent new possessions are being governed in the same manner, only on more liberal lines as Florida was by the democrats.

BRINGS $50 PER ACRE.

Jacob Williams, of Dillon, Sells 157 Acres of Fine Land.

An important land transfer was consummated at the eight o'clock Friday afternoon when Mr. Jacob Williams, one of the well-known and prosperous farmers of the county, residing at Dillon, sold to Mr. Dedrick Wollen, also of Dillon, his 157-acre farm, located immediately west of Dillon, for $80 per acre.

LOCAL COMMENT.

That little episode concerning the cement sidewalk contract concerning the government and soldiers, and especially in the time of war and when they were right and fighting for the right they should be supported.

Chairman Charley Henry, of the county democratic central committee, is a good fellow, and has a right to say what he pleases concerning republican politics, but if the democratic party of the county imagines the republicans are going to ask its advice when it comes to choosing a successor to "Bob" Cousins' congressional shoes, it is mistaken.

Even the weather man is on the side of the party of McKinley and prosperity this year. Hereabouts the democrats appear to have taken to the woods.

The president of the Marshall Printing Company, Mr. B. H. Howig, who is one of the democrats who was divorced from his party in 1896 by its marriage to populism, has asked his employees to make a record of their votes Nov. 6, in order that he may, if Bryan is elected, determine who shall be the first to take an enforced vacation because of business paralysis.

When in Marshalltown to secure that new depot promised a long time ago by the Chicago Great Western? That system has improved its road-bed and its equipment to a remarkable degree, is doing a great deal of business, of which Marshalltown contributes a share, and the fact is attested to a depot that is at least respectable.

Marshalltown isn't the least bit slow in the line of progressiveness as far as mosquitoes are concerned, altho the city has not figured in a date line of the record that the slowest city in Iowa is that the may, if Bryan is elected, determine who shall be the first to take an enforced vacation because of business paralysis.

The editor of the local populist organ is aggrieved because the T-R. quoted a democrat's views on the trust question without making public the name and in another column of the same paper prints an alleged communication of an anonymous character from State Center in which an attempt is made to belittle an absent editor of the T-R. The Reflector article has the earmarks of one of the publishers of that paper and the comment thereon as the effusion of the republican editor of the great and only exponent of Bryan principles in Marshalltown.

OBITUARY.

Blossom.

The people of the city were surprised this morning to hear that Mr. Charles H. Blossom was so seriously ill as to make his recovery impossible. The rumor of his death was circulated a number of times before death really came at a few minutes before noon.

John Frederick Noyd died at 2 o'clock this morning at his home, No. 411 West Linn street. He had been ill for the past ten days with peritonitis and had been seasonally ill during that time.

Mrs. Matilda Edwards, aged about 40 years, relict of William Edwards, died Friday night at her home near Liscomb after a three weeks' illness with typhoid fever. Mrs. Edwards leaves five children.

FILES A DEMURRER.

Boardman Estate to Contest the Action of H. D. Matthews in Old Statesman-Press Controversy.

The attorneys for the H. E. J. Boardman estate have filed a demurrer in the case of H. DeVaux Matthews, formerly of this city but now of Des Moines, against the Boardman estate, in which the plaintiff claims $6,000 due him from the estate. When Charles Beverly, founder of the Morning Press, committed suicide, money was furnished J. W. Shannon, one of the partners of the company, by Mr. Boardman to conduct the business. Mr. Boardman wishing to use the organ more or less for political purposes, Mr. Matthews was also a stockholder in the paper, then known as the Statesman-Press, and he alleges that Mr. Boardman did not furnish all the money that he promised to under the contract.
