Piano confidence.—You may think this is a peculiar expression. It may be, but did you ever stop to think that confidence in your dealer is almost absolutely essential? You feel safer when buying a piano if you are dealing with a reliable dealer, who handles nothing but strictly high-grade instruments. Don't you? It's natural to feel that way because you know you will be honestly dealt with. This is the basis on which we do business. It will pay you to call and have a talk with us about the superiority of the Emerson piano. E. A. Tuttle.

Miss Olive Steel and brother Edward left Wednesday evening for Kingfisher, Okla., where they will remain for a two weeks' visit with relatives before leaving for Oklahoma City to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele will join their daughter and son in Oklahoma City in two weeks and will remain during the winter. The family's home is transferred to Oklahoma on account of the condition of Miss Steele, who has been in poor health for the past few years. She is much better now than she was last year, but it is feared that her health would again decline if she remained here during the winter.

Considerable money is being placed in this city on the result of the election, many republicans giving odds on McKinley of from 2 to 1 to 5 to 1. Mr. Ed Schilling, one of the prominent democrats of State Center, was in town Wednesday and expressed a willingness to back Bryan at 1 to 5, and found his personal business man who put in $100 against $20. There were several other republicans who were willing to give the same odds and both William Horsley and S. G. Bentley asked Mr. Schilling to further back his faith in Bryan by waiving $20 against $100, but the State Center man declared he had enough, even at those great odds.

Mr. C. E. Greer, of Eldora, was in the city this morning, being en route to his home from Pasadena, Cal., where he accompanied his wife and family a few weeks ago. Mrs. Greer on account of whose health the California trip was made, stood the trip remarkably well, and Mr. Greer left her and the children comfortably situated in a furnished house that he leased in the old Painter home. Mr. Greer feels that his wife will soon show decided improvement as a result of the warm air and bright sunshine of the land of flowers, or at least that the climate will not aggravate her condition, while, if she had remained in Iowa this winter, it is thought she could hardly have stood the many changes in the weather. Mr. Greer thinks that California is a great country for the sick, but for himself he says that he will take Iowa and her change of seasons. Mr. Greer expects to return to California about holiday time, and his stay there will depend largely upon circumstances.

On election night the Odeon will be lighted up for a show that will make the "gallery gods" hearts thump happily, to say nothing of the better groomed and older head who effects the lower floor of the theater. The company includes Miss Madden Cauffman, Marie Hilliker, Bessie Primrose, John B. Max, James DeKoyler, Ralph Arthur, W. S. Lackeyer, J. M. Gray, Gus Rapier, R. G. Cauffman, the great rag-time trio, the Manhattan comedy four and the Empire Quartet will be on hand to help along a jolly bill arranged by R. G. Cauffman for laughing purposes to please the faithful. In the front rows the music is of the jingling kind, the dances rattle and the jokes can be stamped 1900. Besides all this fun, full election returns will be read from the stage. See the fun and hear the news at cheap prices—25, 35 and 50 cents. Open seats early. There will be a crowd.

Rouse, a traveling salesman in the employ of the American Wringer Company, of New York, who has made his home in this city for the past two years, arrived in the city yesterday and will remain after election and in order that he may be here to register Saturday. Miss Emma Fredland left Wednesday evening on the Colorado special for Denver, Col., where she will spend the winter with her brother, Mr. A. J. Fredland, who is in the west on account of his health. Miss Fredland will remain with her brother and keep house for him, as his condition will not permit his boarding at a hotel. Encouraging news has been received from Mr. Fredland for several weeks until recently, but a week or so ago he contracted a severe cold and that has aggravated his condition considerably.

Mr. Willis Schott, of Denver, Col., purchasing agent of the Colorado & Southern railway, a former Marshalltown boy and at one time clerk for ex-General Managers L. L. Dudley and C. H. Ackert, of the Central, was in Marshalltown in the city as the guest of his brother-in-law, C. H. Schott, of the Central. Mr. Schott was on his way home from St. Paul, where he went several days ago on account of the illness of his former employer, the late A. B. Plough, of the St. Paul & Duluth. Mr. Schott left Wednesday evening on the Colorado special for Denver.

Unique invitations were issued by Misses Grace Farrand, Maxine Kelley and Grace Sullivan for the party which they gave Wednesday evening and which was enjoyed by about thirty-five of their young lady friends. It was a game party and so disguised were the guests that it was almost impossible to name them until they had laid aside their white robes. Every superstition known was brought out during the evening and the ghost stories that were told were very vivid. The refreshments were quite elaborate and the ice cream was very appropriately formed like Brownies.

Artistic effects and harmonious combinations should be aimed at in the selection of furniture. The decorations of the rooms, their contour, the arrangements for lighting, all have an important bearing on the size, kind and decoration of the furniture required and demand a variety from which to choose, such as can only be found in an establishment like D. C. Wilbur's. This firm's show rooms comprise an exhibition of the newest, most substantial and prettiest furniture in artistic designs, to which visitors are always welcome and where buyers will receive all the assistance in selection that experienced salesmen can render.

SALEON ATTACHED

Bernstein Bros., Place Closed by the Sheriff's Officers.

Following the filing of claims in the district court to the amount of about $12,000 against Bernstein Bros., wholesale and retail liquor dealers of this city, the sheriff's officers on Wednesday afternoon took possession of the saloon of the firm on North Center street, under attachment secured by the Straus Bros. Company, an Illinois wholesale firm. The claim of the latter concern amounts to only $692.55, a portion of which is not yet due, and is for goods sold during the present year. It is probable that the attachment will be complied with by John D. Vall and Adolph Rich, whose claims are protected by chattel mortgage.

Sermons on "Way Down East."

"Way Down East," which enjoyed such a long and prosperous run at the New York Manhattan theater and will be presented in this city for the first time on November 1. The success of the play has been remarkable. It caters to all classes of theater goers and presents a strong moral without a sermon being preached to you. It is owing to this latter point that it has aroused the interest of the clergy in the different cities in which it has been presented. During the engagement in New York several clergymen in Brooklyn used it as a text for their Sunday sermons.

"Way Down East" depicts life as one finds it in rural New Hampshire and admits of elaborate staging, which Manager William A. Brady has supplied. Probably the most conspicuous scene in "Way Down East" is the snow storm, which is presented throughout the entire third act.

FOOD SAVES.

Doctor Knew the Value of Grape-Nuts.

A breakfast food that a baby can handle is a pretty safe proposition for grown people with weak stomachs. Dr. William Hall, 156 State street, Boston, has tried Grape-Nuts food in his own case, as a result of which he says: "I have been relieved from the distressing form of indigestion caused by the non-assimilation of starchy foods, and since making Grape-Nuts a part of my dietary scale, I have had no trouble, and find my power of concentration markedly increased."

"I have frequently prescribed Grape-Nuts food in my practice, with most excellent results. The most of one case I enclose herewith. July 10th, 99, called to see M— B—, 2 years and 3 months old; found the child ill-nourished, with waxen skin, enlarged joints, beaded ribs, enlargement of the abdomen, furred tongue, constant vomiting and diarrhea in short, a typical case of rachitis. The child weighed fourteen pounds and was daily losing flesh."

"Inquiring into the dietary, I found oat meal, macaroni, rice, white bread and milk had formed the chief articles of food, and lately all had been rejected. I once stopped all other foods and placed her on a diet of Grape-Nuts, which was retained on the stomach from the first."

"On my next visit, July 17, I found the child bright and cheerful vomiting all stopped, stools formed and natural in appearance, weight 14 1/2 pounds. From then, for the next three months, the child made a regular and even improvement, gaining from eight to ten ounces each week. She is now quite recovered. In my opinion, this girl has been saved from an early grave by the use of Grape-Nuts food."
