FIRE IN A CHURCH.

Burning Chimney Starts a Blaze in Methodist Edifice—Little Damage. The timely discovery of a fire in the basement of the Methodist church Wednesday night prevented material damage to that structure. A fire had been built in a stove in the basement room of the church to heat the room for the prayer service. At 10:30 o'clock, after the close of the service, Mr. John A. Dale, whose place of business is across the street, observed that the soot in the chimney was burning. He also noticed a small blaze in the basement, at a place where a false fire place had been built and then plastered over.

With W. M. Abbott and B. F. Crumm he secured a bucket of water from a window was broken and entrance effected, and the flames were smothered with little trouble. Had the fire burned a little longer and got between the walls, considerable damage would have resulted.

Worked on New Rations. One of Uncle Sam's army boys got a lift with Grape-Nuts. A private at Fort Harrison, Mont., named Orlin Miller says: "When I was all run down with dyspepsia and got so I weighed only 121 pounds a friend recommended that I take Grape-Nuts Food."

A SOURCE OF SATISFACTION.

Six Reasons Why the Pilgrim Hotel is a Safe Place to Stop.

It is a source of satisfaction to not only the traveling public but the citizens to know that a reputation of the disaster that befell the Tremont hotel is almost impossible in the Pilgrim for following reasons:

First: There is a large standpipe constantly filled with water running from the basement to the fourth floor with hydrant and one hundred feet of hose attached ready for instant use.

Second: At the end of each hall there is an iron fire escape from the roof to the ground with platforms at each floor.

Third: From the public toilet rooms in the west wing there is a similar iron escape.

Fourth: From the center of the house thru one of the guest rooms is a like iron escape landing on the first story roof and then an iron ladder to the ground.

Fifth: The stairways are broad and direct and are located remotely from the elevator so that a fire cutting off access to one would not affect the other.

Sixth: Coal bunkers are built under the drive way and outside of building, have stone walls and brick arches and thus avoid danger from spontaneous combustion from fuel. Ashes go in similar bunkers.
