

Wiggle-Stick Laundry Blue

At All Grocers
Won't Freeze
Won't Break
Won't Spill
Won't Spot Clothes

Costs 10 Cents, Equals 20 Cents worth of any other kind of bluing

Wiggle-Stick is a stick of soluble blue in a bag inside a perforated wooden tube, through which the water flows and dissolves the color as needed.

Directions for Use: Wiggle-Stick stand in the water.

Manufactured only by THE LAUNDRY BLUE COMPANY, Chicago

ONE CENT A WORD

WANTED.

Wanted—A good girl for general housework, 510 First street.

Wanted—Competent lady stenographer and bookkeeper. Address Lock Box 124, Marshalltown.

Wanted—Competent girl. Mrs. O. L. Ingledue, 312 East Main street.

Wanted—By experienced bookkeeper. S. M. R. Cars of T. R.

Wanted—At the Stoddard Hotel, a dining room girl and pastry cook.

FOR SALE.

For Sale—Iron bed, book case, couch and kitchen furniture on Thursday and Friday. 103 1/2 West State street.

For Sale—Seed oats. G. W. Calhoun, 1 South Eighth street.

For Sale—Good 20 acre farm, fine lot, Marshalltown. Good location. Will sell or trade for city property or small truck farm. Address K-23, care T. R.

For Sale—A good 20 acre farm, fine location, 3 miles northeast of Marshalltown; all in good cultivation, a portion seeded to grass, under hog tight fence. Has new barn, other out buildings, young orchard, small fruit, good well and good wind mill.

For Sale—A snap, new eight room residence in western part of city, furnace and electric lights, one business lot on paved street, two vacant residence lots, price $2,300 if taken at once. Part time if purchaser desires. Parties going away from city and want to close out quick. Address R-23, T. R.

For Sale—A few choice, registered Aberdeen Angus bulls. H. L. M. Bruner, Toledo, Iowa. Phone 3.

For Sale—Pure bred Barred Plymouth Rock eggs, 50 cents per setting of fifteen; $3 per 100. H. L. M. Bruner, Toledo, Iowa. Phone 3.

For Sale—One Clyde stallion, five years old. Inquire of John Brown, D. R. 1.

For Sale—Some choice five-acre lots in Denmead's subdivision, south Marshalltown; also residence lots in Electric addition. D. T. Denmead.

For Sale or Trade—160 acres of land, Leclaire county, Mo. Box 512 Marshalltown, Iowa.

For Sale—On easy terms, new and second-hand billiard and pool tables, bowling alleys, cigar store and bank fixtures at the Iowa branch of the Brunswick-Balke Colander Company's. Address T. D. McElroy, state agent, Marshalltown, Iowa.

FOR RENT.

For Rent, Cheap—Good eight-room house; all modern improvements and good barn. Delano T. Smith, court house.

For Rent—Furnished room, bath and heat, reasonable, gentleman preferred. 107 North First street.

For Rent—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, bath and heat. Will be vacant April 15. Address W-23, care of T. R.

For Rent—Building formerly occupied by Spencer-Letts Coffee Company, North Second avenue, between Main and State. Spencer-Letts Coffee Co.

MISCELLANEOUS.

List Your Exchange—If you are wanting to dispose of your stock of goods or have a farm and wish to go into business, list the same with us. "Why?" Because we make exchange a specialty, and perhaps have just what you want. But do not go to the trouble of sending us a list of property that is encumbered for what it is worth, as we are not dealing in that line of goods. Smith & Walker, exchangers, Rockwell, Iowa.

Wanted—Everybody to know that the AMERICAN DISPATCH MESSENGER CO. Delivers Parcels and Packages.

Reliable Messengers Furnished. Prompt Service. Reasonable Charges. Phones, New 805; Old, 63. J. F. CROSBY, Manager.

Colonist Rates to Washington, Oregon.

The Iowa Central railway will sell daily during March and April one way excursion tickets to Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane, Helena, Butte and other points in the northwest at extremely low rates. Through trains to St. Paul and Minneapolis daily, making direct connections in the union depot with thru trains to the coast, giving but one change of cars. Rates and full particulars furnished on application to agents, or address A. B. Cutts, G. P. & T. A., Minneapolis, Minn.

PROCEED WITH CANAL

Paris Litigation Will Make No Difference In Progress of Canal Affairs

FRANCE IS GIVEN NOTICE
The United States Government Will Not Submit to Any Extortion on the Part of the old Canal Company—Cabinet Discusses the Subject at Last Meeting.

Washington, March 23.—Albion the litigation in Paris over the transfer of the Panama canal property to the United States is considered worthy of the dispatch to Mr. W. A. Day, assistant to the attorney general, and C. W. Russell, special assistant attorney, this government will not permit a legal tangle to interfere with the shoveling of dirt on the isthmus.

The first meeting of the Panama commission was held here yesterday, and it became known that diplomatic correspondence had been held with France on the subject. The state department has informed the French government of the mission to France of Messrs. Day and Russell. The hope was expressed that they would be able to see the legal difficulties removed.

This communication was made the occasion to inform France that the United States now having possession of the canal strip will not allow litigation to interfere with the construction of the waterway and that progress in that direction would be made regardless of the complications in Paris. In the canal treaty Panama agrees to give the United States the use of any property or land it may need in building the canal.

A response has been received from France in an expression of appreciation of this government's position. The French government expresses a willingness to assist in removing the legal obstacles.

The government will submit to no shrewd game to make it pay more than $40,000,000 for the French canal company's property. That sum is being distributed to the proper parties, but the United States will not let dig the canal until the disputants determine who shall receive the money.

Mr. Day will look after the transfer of shares in stock in Paris and Mr. Russell will devote his attention to seeing that the votes of the stockholders are legally recorded. The president has decided the expenditures of the canal commission shall not be a general discussion of the duties of the commission and the general scope of the work.

In course of the discussion a letter written by the president March 8 was read. It was in the nature of instructions to the commission.

After a reference to the importance of the work, the president in the letter declared he had selected the members of the commission because of their ability and ability, but if at all possible they neglected to serve with fidelity and efficiency, he would feel at liberty to remove them.

The president also urged the commission to disregard and all financial matters that may be brought to bear on them in the selection of their assistants.

Continuing, the president in his letter said: "As to the details of the work itself I leave it to you. It is to be done as expeditiously as possible and as economically as is consistent with thoroughness. There is one matter to which I wish to call your special attention; that is the question of sanitation. You will take measures to secure the best medical experts for this purpose whom you can obtain, and you will, of course, make the contractors submit as implicitly as your own employees, all the regulations of the medical department under my I presume you will find it best to have one head for this medical department, but that I shall leave to your own judgment."

Plans are to be carefully made with a view to the needs not only of the moment but of the future. The expenditures are to be supervised as rigorously as if they were being made for a private corporation dependent on the profits upon the returns. You are to secure the best talent this country can afford to meet the conditions created by every need which may arise. The methods for achieving the results desired by you. What this nation will insist upon is that the results be achieved."

ROBBERS CAVES UNDER WALK.

Rich Loot Discovered in Caverns in Heart of Indianapolis.
Indianapolis, March 23.—Several caverns fifty feet under ground and in the heart of the city, which were used by a gang of robbers for years, were discovered by the police yesterday, and thousands of dollars' worth of booty was recovered. The robbers were under the leadership of Len Hoyt, a notorious criminal, and for years the band committed robberies with impunity. The gang finally was broken up in 1902.

About thirty-five years ago the old Michael brewery plant, situated in the block facing California, Washington and Maryland streets, was burned. The brewery had been abandoned during the civil war and the main buildings were occupied by poor families. It became a sort of tenement house. Because the old plant were cellars and sub-cellars, built of stone with arched roofs, several of them as large as the auditorium of a church of average size. A member of the old robber band who escaped from the police at the time the gang was broken up, and whose name is withheld by the police, came to Indianapolis after an absence

FAVORS BEER DRINKING

Professor at Chicago University Advises Co-eds to Drink the Foaming Beverage

THINKS IT IS A GOOD CUSTOM
Says That All German Students Drink the Glorious Beer and That it is a Habit All Girls and Boys Should Cultivate—Women Score Him Severely—Other News.

Chicago, March 23.—Within the sacred precincts of higher criticism, from the restraints of the greatest Baptist university of the land, in the heart of the prohibition district of conservative Hyde Park, in the presence of modest co-eds and meek students of theology, Dr. Edward Meyer, professor of history in the University of Berlin, one of the German scholars, who is now a guest of honor at the University of Chicago, lauded the stein as the true emblem of student life, and named beer, "glorious beer," as the supreme factor in creating "the golden haze of student days."

The several hundred undergraduates men in Dr. Meyer's audience, who are compelled to walk at least a mile every time they want to hear the clink of the steins, rose and cheers his sentiments enthusiastically. The co-eds, however, were terribly shocked, while the divinity students and many members of the faculty were indignant.

Women Score Professor.
Dr. Meyer had called down upon himself the unbridled wrath and con-

THE FASHIONABLE ORCHESTRA OF SEOUL, THE CAPITAL OF KOREA.

The illustration shows the orchestra which is engaged to perform at most of the ultra-fashionable social functions of Seoul. Like everything else in Korea, the musical instruments are primitive in the extreme. What is most interesting about the orchestra is that it is composed of instruments which are brought from the Italian school of music. Anyone who has heard the execrable harmony proceeding from a Chinese theater can form some idea of the nerve-racking complication of sounds of a Korean orchestra. One of these instruments, which is an enlarged and elongated edition of the banjo.

Happy, Healthy Children.

Any child can take Little Early Risers with perfect safety. They are harmless, never grip or sicken, and yet they are so certain in results that robust constitutions requiring drastic means are never disappointed. They can not fail to perform their mission and every one who uses DeWitt's Little Early Risers will be glad to repeat their approval of my remarks.

Homeseekers' Rates.

On the first and third Tuesdays of each month the Iowa Central Railway will sell special one-way rates for excursion tickets to points in the northwest, west, southwest, south and southeast, at one fare plus 25 cents. Return limit twenty-five days from date of sale and stop-over permitted. On some dates special one-way rates in effect for benefit of settlers.

Do You Want Strength?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nervous blood and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Sold by all druggists.

Low Rates to California.

Commencing March 1, and continuing daily until April 30, the Iowa Central railway will place on sale special one-way excursion tickets to San Francisco, Los Angeles, etc., at a reduction of 25 cents. Only $30.85 from Marshalltown; $30.25 from Grinnell; $29.25 from Oskaloosa; and $31 from Marshalltown and Peoria. Correspondingly low rates from other points.

A Pullman tourist car is run thru without change each Wednesday via the city and the popular Santa Fe system thru New Mexico and Arizona, arriving in Los Angeles on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. This car runs thru a most delightful climate at this season of the year, where snow blockades are unknown and the passenger is not inconvenienced on account of cold. Before you make your trip call on agents for particulars or address A. B. Cutts, G. P. & T. A., Minneapolis, Minn.

Raw or Inflamed Lungs.

Yield quickly to the wonderful curative and healing qualities of Foley's Honey and Tar. It prevents pneumonia and consumption from a hard cold settled on the lungs. B. A. Morgan.

THE GENTLEMAN FROM INDIANA

By Booth Tarkington

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.
Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—John Harkless, fresh from college, buys the bankrupt Crawley County Herald, at Plattsville, Ind., and starts in to reform things. His first triumph is to compel Rodney McCune, withdrawn from the candidacy for congress under plan of exposures. He reclaims a drunken college professor named Frisbee and takes him on his staff. Gossip tells him of a strange woman named Sherwood who is visiting the night of Judge Briscoe. He-Miss Sherwood deeply interested in Harkless. She hears of the White Caps, at Six Crossroads, whom he has attacked in the Herald. They threaten Harkless with exposure if he does not give up his newspaper. Harkless gets a vague hint thru Frisbee that he may have met Miss Sherwood at Winter Harbor in his college days. He goes at night to call on her, but is followed by William Todd, his guard. Harkless is fired on at Judge Briscoe's door. Miss Sherwood rushes out and refuses to retire until he does. He carries her indoors. Harkless is followed by Judge Briscoe's gardener, Harkless and Helen Sherwood talk sentiment in the moonlight, but barely break the ice of acquaintance. Harkless jokes at the White Caps, but thanks Helen for saving his life. With Helen and the Briscoe Harkless views the circus parade. He rescues Hartley Bowdler, another drunkard reformed by his efforts, from the clutches of two skin gamblers, and aided by Eph Watts, a gamester, the pair arrested. He is again assailed by White Caps. VI.—Harkless and Helen discover that they have met and danced together years before at Winter Harbor. She is the cousin of Tom Meyer, Frisbee's college chum. At night Harkless sets out for Judge Briscoe's, accompanied by his guard, Lige Willetts the banjo of Minnie Briscoe. VII.—Helen wants to stay in Plattsville and work on the Herald. Her people are against it, and she is required to leave Briscoe's next day and join them on the trip. Harkless betrays his love for her, then abruptly starts alone for his office during a thunderstorm. Helen sees ghostly white figures in the fields. Harkless can not be found.

"He was the best man we had, boys," said Landis as he poured the little glasses full. "He got out sent him to the legislative hall of Washington long ago. He'd done us honor there. But we never thought of doing anything for him. Jest set round and left him build up the town and give him empty thanks. Drink hearty, gentlemen," he finished gloomily. "I don't grudge no liquor today—except to Lige Willetts."

"He was a good man," said young William Todd, whose nose was red, not from the whisky. "I've about give up on the whisky."

"It's gosh to seem mighty empty around here," said Ross Schofield. "What's gosh to become of the Herald and the party in this district? Where's the man to run either of 'em now? Like as not," he continued desperately, "it'll go against us in the fall."

Dibb Zane choked over his four fingers. "We might's well bust up the dabb dusted ole town of he's gone."

"You know what's come over that Cynthia Tipworthy," said the landlord. "She's waited table on him last two years, and her brother Bud works at the Herald office. She didn't say a word, only looked and looked and looked like a crazy woman; then her and Bud went off together to hunt in the woods. They jest tuck hold of each other's hands like—"

"I reckon there ain't many crazier than them two bowlders, father and son," interrupted a patron, wiping the droplets from his beard as he set his glass on the bar. "They rid into town like a couple of wild Indians, the ole man beatin' that gray mare o' theirs till she was one big walt, and he ain't natcherly no cruel man either. I expect Lige Willetts better keep out of Hartley's way."

"I keep out of no man's way," cried a voice behind him. Turning, they saw Lige standing on the threshold of the door that led to the street. In his hand he held the bride of the horses and ridden across the sidewalk and that now stood panting, with lowered head half through the doorway, beside his master. Lige was hatless, splashed with mud from head to foot; his jaw was set, his teeth ground together, his eyes burned under red lids, and his hair lay tossed and damp on his brow. "I keep out of no man's way," he repeated hoarsely. "I heard you, Mr. Tibbs, but I've got too much to do, while you loaf and gas and drink over your dabb. I've got other business than keepin' out of Hart Bowlders' way. I'm lookin' for John Harkless. He was the best man we had in this ornery hole, and he was too good for us, and so we've maybe let him get killed, and maybe I'm to blame. But I'm goin' to find him, and if he's hurt I'm goin' to have a hand on the rope that lifts the men that did it if I have to go to Rotten to put it there. After that I'll answer for my fault, not before."

He threw himself on his horse and was gone. Soon the room emptied, as the patrons of the bar returned to the search, and only Mr. Wilkerson and the landlord remained, the bar being the professional office, so to speak, of both.

At 11 o'clock Judge Briscoe dropped wearily from his horse at his own gate and said to a wag girl who came running down the walk to meet him, "I'm feeling nothing yet. I sent the telegram to your mother—to Mrs. Sherwood."

Helen turned away without answering. Her face was very white and looked pinched about the mouth. She

she would to stay in spite of him and the Sherwoods too. "I've always thought she was grand, ever since she took me under her protection at school, when I—Minnie was speaking sadly, mechanically, but suddenly she broke off with a quick sob, turned to the window, then turned again to Briscoe and cried: "I don't believe it! He knew how to take care of himself too well. He'd have—"

(To Be Continued.)

Cough Settled on Her Lungs.
"My daughter had a terrible cough, which settled on her lungs," says N. Jackson, of Danville, Ill. "We tried a great many remedies without relief, until we gave her Foley's Honey and Tar, which cured her." Refuse substitutes. B. A. Morgan.

THE GENTLEMAN FROM INDIANA

By Booth Tarkington

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.
Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—John Harkless, fresh from college, buys the bankrupt Crawley County Herald, at Plattsville, Ind., and starts in to reform things. His first triumph is to compel Rodney McCune, withdrawn from the candidacy for congress under plan of exposures. He reclaims a drunken college professor named Frisbee and takes him on his staff. Gossip tells him of a strange woman named Sherwood who is visiting the night of Judge Briscoe. He-Miss Sherwood deeply interested in Harkless. She hears of the White Caps, at Six Crossroads, whom he has attacked in the Herald. They threaten Harkless with exposure if he does not give up his newspaper. Harkless gets a vague hint thru Frisbee that he may have met Miss Sherwood at Winter Harbor in his college days. He goes at night to call on her, but is followed by William Todd, his guard. Harkless is fired on at Judge Briscoe's door. Miss Sherwood rushes out and refuses to retire until he does. He carries her indoors. Harkless is followed by Judge Briscoe's gardener, Harkless and Helen Sherwood talk sentiment in the moonlight, but barely break the ice of acquaintance. Harkless jokes at the White Caps, but thanks Helen for saving his life. With Helen and the Briscoe Harkless views the circus parade. He rescues Hartley Bowdler, another drunkard reformed by his efforts, from the clutches of two skin gamblers, and aided by Eph Watts, a gamester, the pair arrested. He is again assailed by White Caps. VI.—Harkless and Helen discover that they have met and danced together years before at Winter Harbor. She is the cousin of Tom Meyer, Frisbee's college chum. At night Harkless sets out for Judge Briscoe's, accompanied by his guard, Lige Willetts the banjo of Minnie Briscoe. VII.—Helen wants to stay in Plattsville and work on the Herald. Her people are against it, and she is required to leave Briscoe's next day and join them on the trip. Harkless betrays his love for her, then abruptly starts alone for his office during a thunderstorm. Helen sees ghostly white figures in the fields. Harkless can not be found.

"He was the best man we had, boys," said Landis as he poured the little glasses full. "He got out sent him to the legislative hall of Washington long ago. He'd done us honor there. But we never thought of doing anything for him. Jest set round and left him build up the town and give him empty thanks. Drink hearty, gentlemen," he finished gloomily. "I don't grudge no liquor today—except to Lige Willetts."

"He was a good man," said young William Todd, whose nose was red, not from the whisky. "I've about give up on the whisky."

"It's gosh to seem mighty empty around here," said Ross Schofield. "What's gosh to become of the Herald and the party in this district? Where's the man to run either of 'em now? Like as not," he continued desperately, "it'll go against us in the fall."

Dibb Zane choked over his four fingers. "We might's well bust up the dabb dusted ole town of he's gone."

"You know what's come over that Cynthia Tipworthy," said the landlord. "She's waited table on him last two years, and her brother Bud works at the Herald office. She didn't say a word, only looked and looked and looked like a crazy woman; then her and Bud went off together to hunt in the woods. They jest tuck hold of each other's hands like—"

"I reckon there ain't many crazier than them two bowlders, father and son," interrupted a patron, wiping the droplets from his beard as he set his glass on the bar. "They rid into town like a couple of wild Indians, the ole man beatin' that gray mare o' theirs till she was one big walt, and he ain't natcherly no cruel man either. I expect Lige Willetts better keep out of Hartley's way."

"I keep out of no man's way," cried a voice behind him. Turning, they saw Lige standing on the threshold of the door that led to the street. In his hand he held the bride of the horses and ridden across the sidewalk and that now stood panting, with lowered head half through the doorway, beside his master. Lige was hatless, splashed with mud from head to foot; his jaw was set, his teeth ground together, his eyes burned under red lids, and his hair lay tossed and damp on his brow. "I keep out of no man's way," he repeated hoarsely. "I heard you, Mr. Tibbs, but I've got too much to do, while you loaf and gas and drink over your dabb. I've got other business than keepin' out of Hart Bowlders' way. I'm lookin' for John Harkless. He was the best man we had in this ornery hole, and he was too good for us, and so we've maybe let him get killed, and maybe I'm to blame. But I'm goin' to find him, and if he's hurt I'm goin' to have a hand on the rope that lifts the men that did it if I have to go to Rotten to put it there. After that I'll answer for my fault, not before."

He threw himself on his horse and was gone. Soon the room emptied, as the patrons of the bar returned to the search, and only Mr. Wilkerson and the landlord remained, the bar being the professional office, so to speak, of both.

At 11 o'clock Judge Briscoe dropped wearily from his horse at his own gate and said to a wag girl who came running down the walk to meet him, "I'm feeling nothing yet. I sent the telegram to your mother—to Mrs. Sherwood."

Helen turned away without answering. Her face was very white and looked pinched about the mouth. She

she would to stay in spite of him and the Sherwoods too. "I've always thought she was grand, ever since she took me under her protection at school, when I—Minnie was speaking sadly, mechanically, but suddenly she broke off with a quick sob, turned to the window, then turned again to Briscoe and cried: "I don't believe it! He knew how to take care of himself too well. He'd have—"

(To Be Continued.)

Cough Settled on Her Lungs.
"My daughter had a terrible cough, which settled on her lungs," says N. Jackson, of Danville, Ill. "We tried a great many remedies without relief, until we gave her Foley's Honey and Tar, which cured her." Refuse substitutes. B. A. Morgan.

"TIRED ALL OVER"

But Now—Strong, Full of Health and Vitality, They Send Their Praise of the Celebrated Nerve Tonic

Paine's Celery Compound

"HEAVY AND DULL."
"Could Not Feel Like Working"—Strength Came Back at Once When He Took Paine's Celery Compound.
"The writer feels that a word from him regarding the value of Paine's Celery Compound and the good it has done him will not be out of place. "Last spring my condition was such as to occasion some alarm. My work exposed me to all kinds of weather and the effect was plainly felt. I could not feel like working, being very heavy and dull. My system was entirely out of order. "As your remedy was highly recommended by friends, I commenced its use, and could hardly credit the improvement brought about immediately. My strength came back and if my restored health had been accomplished by a doctor he would not have a better friend in this community. But I give all the praise to Paine's Celery Compound."—S. Frank Butler, Moores, Pa.

"I suffered from spring depression, was tired, worn out and nervous. I obtained no satisfactory rest from my sleep and my appetite was poor. I was induced to try Paine's Celery Compound and the beneficial action was instantaneous. I am well and feeling all right. I am satisfied that I saved a sick spell."—Noel C. Crookes, 655 Lin street, Cincinnati, O., April 26, 1903.

Learn how much better you can feel—Go to your Druggist Today—Get one bottle—Feel just ONCE that abundant nerve force made by Paine's Celery Compound—You will NEVER AGAIN be contented with low spirits and poor health.

HENRY SUNDELL'S O. K. RESTAURANT

That is where you get the coffee they are all talking about. It is the best Coffee because our urn is the best in town. For that hungry feeling try our 15 Cent Meal. It satisfies. It is our specialty.

RAILWAY TIME TABLES

Iowa Central Railway

Time Table at Marshalltown, Iowa, Corrected to March 20, 1904.

THE "SHORT LINE"
To St. Paul, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Peoria and all Points Beyond.

Table with columns: Trains Arrive and Leave as Follows, Arrive, North Bound, Leave, 8:38 a.m. St. Paul Mail (daily), 9:30 a.m. 12:53 p.m. St. Paul Ex. (daily), 12:59 p.m. 8:45 a.m. Peoria Mail (ex. Sunday), 9:15 a.m. Local Freight (ex. Sun.), 6:35 p.m. South Bound, 5:55 p.m. St. Louis K. C. Mail (daily), 6:25 p.m. 2:40 p.m. St. Paul Ex. (daily), 6:55 p.m. 8:45 a.m. Peoria Mail (ex. Sunday), 9:15 a.m. Local Freight (ex. Sunday), 6:50 a.m. Story Branch, 4:35 p.m. Mail (ex. Sunday), 11:40 a.m. 1:45 p.m. Local Freight (ex. Sun.), 6:25 a.m. 11:00 a.m. Mixed (ex. Sunday), 6:10 p.m.

Elegant New Vestibule Pullman Sleeping Cars and Coaches Run Daily

For Folders, Rates, Etc., apply to A. B. CUTTS, J. F. TALLEY, G. P. & T. A. Ticket Agent, Minneapolis, Minn. Marshalltown, Ia.

C. & N. W. RAILWAY. GOING WEST.

No. 1. Overland Limited. 3:10 a.m. No. 2. Pacific Express. 8:15 a.m. No. 3. Colorado & Oregon Ex. 6:53 a.m. No. 13. Chicago & Des Moines Ex. 5:00 p.m. No. 11. Colorado Special. 5:28 p.m. No. 15. Fast Mail. 9:10 p.m. No. 25. Dakota Express. 1:25 a.m. No. 43. Freight. 11:00 a.m.

GOING EAST.

No. 2. Overland Limited. 1:40 a.m. No. 4. Portland Special. 2:04 p.m. No. 6. Chicago Limited. 11:25 p.m. No. 3. Atlantic Express. 7:30 p.m. No. 12. Chicago Special. 9:25 a.m. No. 14. Chicago Express. 9:25 a.m. No. 16. Sioux City & Omaha Ex. 1:17 a.m. No. 42. Freight. 12:45 p.m. No. 14, 14, 42 and 43 daily except Sunday.

CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN RY. Maple Leaf Route. Effective 12:01 p.m. June 28, 1904.

No. 1. D. M. & K. C. Limited. 4:45 a.m. No. 5. D. M. S. J. & K. C. Ex. 9:30 a.m. No. 9. Southwestern Express. 7:05 p.m. No. 7. Des Moines Express. 4:30 p.m. No. 3. Chicago & Des Moines Ex. 5:00 p.m. No. 4. Twin City & Chi. Spec. 6:09 a.m. No. 4. St. Paul & Chi. Ex. 10:50 a.m. No. 2. Twin City & Chi. L'd. 10:50 a.m. No. 8. Oelwein Express. 7:10 p.m. No. 42. Freight. 12:45 p.m. All trains daily, except Nos. 7 and 8.

WEST BOUND.

No. 1. Overland Limited. 1:38 a.m. No. 3. California Express. 8:23 a.m. No. 5. Pacific Express. 6:09 p.m. No. 91. Local Freight. 11:15 a.m. EAST BOUND.

C. M. & ST. P. RAILWAY COMPANY. Time Card at Peeking.

WEST BOUND. No. 1. Overland Limited. 1:38 a.m. No. 3. California Express. 8:23 a.m. No. 5. Pacific Express. 6:09 p.m. No. 91. Local Freight. 11:15 a.m. EAST BOUND. No. 6. Eastern Express. 12:12 a.m. No. 4. Atlantic Express.