MRS. FAIRBANKS WINS APPLAUSE

Great Enthusiasm Displayed At Sessions in Charge of Education Society

The struggle for the next meeting place of the Iowa Baptist state convention was ended this morning by the confirmation of the committee's first choice, Ottumwa, with Rev. R. W. Hobbs...

The morning's quiet hour talk by Dr. H. O. Rowland on "The Bible as a Factor in Evangelism," closed a feature of the convention that has been quite as much a treat to those who have heard these earnest, simple talks...

Today, the last of the convention, is being given over to the women's home and foreign missions. Splendid reports were read this morning by Mrs. C. W. Miller, of Ottumwa, state secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and Miss Laura Mason, of Burlington, home missions state director and vice president of the state society.

H. O. ROWLANDS, D. D., Whose Morning Hour Services Have Been a Feature of the Convention.

The other was made by Mrs. H. H. Clouse, who is actively engaged in mission work among the Kiowa and other Indian tribes, down in Indian Territory.

The annual offering, to be equally divided between home and foreign missions, was taken up by Mrs. C. E. Wilcox, and Mrs. E. B. Jones.

One of the most important addresses was that made by Miss Violeta Peterson, of Hannibal, Burns, whose recital of the work done in this foreign missionary field was of unusual interest.

Just at the close of the session, the convention was favored with an appropriate and beautifully rendered solo by Mr. C. W. Mountain, whose efforts as musical director have been such an aid and are so highly appreciated.

Enthusiastic Educational Sessions. Great enthusiasm marked the sessions of the state convention given over to the Iowa Baptist Education Society Thursday afternoon and evening.

a following committee were appointed. To prepare a list of delegates—Rev. H. O. Rowlands, Rev. F. G. Davies, Rev. O. W. Catlin, and Rev. John Rumsay.

A letter from the Nebraska state convention was read by Dr. W. M. Walker, asking for appointment of a committee to discuss work at the Kansas City Theological Seminary.

The committee was appointed as follows: Dr. W. M. Walker, Dr. Rowlands, and Rev. J. P. Sanders. Rev. J. B. Smith, of Cresco, was leader at the devotional half hour, preceding the annual sermon, which was read by a masterly address, delivered by Rev. A. J. Kempton, of Muscatine.

Reports from the schools were given by Professor T. W. Todd, of Cedar Valley Seminary; Professor G. W. Lee for Sac City Institute; President L. A. Garrison for Central College; and Professor J. P. Stephenson for Des Moines College.

The printed alumni record and data for the first general catalog of the school at Pella, was distributed. Professor Todd emphasized the Cedar Valley Seminary was to be the forefront in secondary education and has set the pace for the high schools of the state.

Other addresses, well delivered and of great interest to the convention, were given by Rev. J. E. Sanders, of Clinton, on "The Relation of the State Convention to Our Educational Interests," which was to have been delivered by Rev. C. H. Stull, of Warsaw, and "An Educated Ministry," by W. P. Crannell, D. D., Kansas City, Kas.

The keynote of the former address was that brains must be developed to use the accumulated stores of many years.

Hoyt and company in "Hamlet."

MRS. FAIRBANKS LEAVES

After Delightful Two Days' Visit In City Goes to Chicago Thursday Night

MEETS MARSHALLTOWN D. A. R.

Reception Held at H. J. Howe Home for Younger of D. A. R. Chapters—Addresses by Mrs. Fairbanks and Mrs. Peck—Other Social Affairs Thursday in Mrs. Fairbanks' Honor.

After a most delightful stay of two days in the city, Mrs. Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indianapolis, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and wife of the Indiana senator who is republican nominee for vice president of the United States, left for Chicago Thursday night at 11:35, in company with Mrs. Charles H. Ackert, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Fairbanks was the guest of the Chicago chapter, D. A. R., today, addressing the members at a reception held in her honor this afternoon.

The social affairs of the closing day of Mrs. Fairbanks' visit were fully as numerous as on the preceding day, and were carried out as planned on short notice, when it was found that the honored guest could be here for two days. Mrs. Fairbanks put in a busy day, accompanying a party of friends as the guests of Mrs. T. J. Fletcher on a drive about the city in the forenoon; taking luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore, at 1 o'clock; meeting the Iowa Baptist State Convention for a short address at 3:30; and the Marshalltown chapter, D. A. R., at 4 o'clock.

THE WOMEN'S CLUB.

Regular Meeting Wednesday Afternoon in Charge of the Philanthropy Department.

The program prepared by the Philanthropy department of the Women's Club for Wednesday afternoon, contained several treats for the fifty or more members and their guests present. Mrs. Delano T. Smith, one of the club members, gave an interesting and interesting account of the day's experiences, the advantages of which make Ames the best agricultural college in the world, and the cordial welcome and courtesies extended the ladies by President Storms and members of the faculty. A report of the district convention recently held at Belle Plaine, was given by Mrs. W. H. Burrows, who went as a delegate. Both reports were accepted. Mrs. Sears announced a joint meeting of the home and education and mother's child study departments, for Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the club rooms, the which the club members are invited, each being privileged to bring a guest. Miss Edna Falarion, chairman, announced a meeting of the literature department next Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Lyons, 191 East Church street. Mrs. Lyon and Mrs. Zug were announced to take their places at the door during the next month.

Following a beautiful piano solo and encore number, given by Miss Charlette Whinery, Mrs. George W. Smith, chairman of the department in charge read a paper entitled, "Does the Higher Education of Woman Tend to Unfit Her For the Duties of Life?" which was written for discussion in her department last year. The discussion was a convincing proof that the brains of a cultured woman may put economy into the home and make it better, as if that a reformed domestic life is not the distant in the future. The speaker said the ideal woman is no longer confined, but here, and is the cause of much of this world's best work.

The principal address of the afternoon was made by David Dempster, of the Presbyterian church, upon "Philanthropy." Rev. Dempster said he was highly gratified to meet the members of the club. He explained his views upon such organizations, saying that a club which does not do something practical is a waste of both time and talent, but that an organization designed to uplift both self and fellow beings is a great power and influence for good in a community. In such estimation he holds the Women's Club. Notable examples of women's philanthropy were cited, and the subject considered from a general standpoint, also the practical side of local philanthropy. On the principle that to help the needy is to help themselves is better than any other charity, suggested how looking after the city field might be reduced to a system, and expressed confidence that the work will be attended to as it should be. Mrs. Sears, in the name of the club, thanked him for his interest and expressed pleasure over the meeting.

Guests present from out of town were Mrs. B. W. Robinson of St. Louis, and Mrs. Kudnor, of Detroit, Mich.

American Fence. Farm Profits Every rod of good fence on your farm helps to cheapen the cost of your matured hogs, beefs, sheep and horses. The better and greater the quantity of efficient fence on the farm, the higher the price per acre. If you do not raise stock, the good fence protects your crops and insures largest possible returns. Thousands of investors are making fortunes by buying up so-called "run-down" or "raw" farms, putting on a few new buildings and good fences, then selling them for improved up-to-date farms. Good fences, well built, pay bigger dividends than good barns or good houses. You want bigger profits per acre—build good fire-proof, stock proof, time-proof fences. Now is the time to do it. American Fence is the best fence, fully guaranteed, always satisfactory. It is cheaper per rod today than ever before. The manufacturers propose to double the use of American Fence during the next twelve months. We are here to help them. In helping them, we help you by offering you American Fence, the best in the world, at heretofore unheard of prices. Come and see us, don't delay—this opportunity is too good to miss.
