

Eminent Doctors Praise Its Ingredients.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John E. Fyfe, of the Editorial Staff of The Medical Review says: "The ingredients of the 'Favorite Prescription' are of the highest quality and of the most valuable character."

A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator, makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system.

Dr. Fyfe further states: "In Helonias we have a medicinal plant which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted."

In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women, in addition that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent."

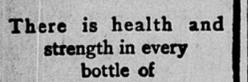

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the female system, such as chronic inflammation and general debility, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root: "In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is so much general opinion."

Prof. Bartholomew, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal: "Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

WOMAN CRIES FRAUD

Mrs. Mary E. Craigie Makes a Sensational Address at Suffrage Convention

LEGISLATURES ARE ACCUSED Declares That Practically All the Legislators are Under Control of the Liquor Interests—Sweeping Charges Made at the National Meeting of the Suffragists.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 9.—Charging that almost all of the state legislatures are heart and soul in the control of the liquor dealers, Mrs. Mary E. Craigie in a sensational address at the second day's session of the Woman's National Suffrage Association's convention demanded that women be accorded the right of the ballot in order that the American home might be saved from the demon of drink.

Mrs. Craigie made sweeping charges of corruption among legislators and saloon men, but she cited no specific cases and did not make any direct charges.

Mrs. Craigie quoted numerous statistics to strengthen her argument. She also attacked prominent San Francisco women, whose protest to equal suffrage, she declared, had been prominently posted in saloons on the Pacific coast.

"It is a well-known fact," she said, "that in most of the state legislatures today the liquor element controls and reform legislation is most always defeated. The power of the ballot was seen recently in one of the western states, where several sessions of the legislature reform measures had all been defeated. The Anti-Saloon League began an agitation and twenty-five members who had voted against their measures and who were up for reelection were defeated at the polls and twenty-five men nominated thru their intrigues and pledged to support temperance measures were elected.

"In the showing I have made of the forces arrayed against the saloon does it seem possible that any woman would be willing to degrade their influence to the level of the saloon and become allies with them in working to keep from the voting constituency of the country a great moral, temperate class whose votes are feared by all the liquor dealers. Yet there are such."

Consents to Have Photograph Taken in Her Wedding Gown. Washington, Feb. 7.—Miss Alice Roosevelt spent another busy day shopping. She had a fitting of her wedding gown, and it is understood that the entire outfit will be ready by the end of this week.

MISS ALICE TO POSE IN FINERY. It was stated at the White House yesterday that all details about the trousseau of the president's daughter will be made public before the wedding. This will include a full description of the material, which was specially designed. A list of the most important of the wedding gifts also will be made public. The presents are catalogued as they arrive and then sent to the attic. The most valuable of plate and jewels will be transferred to a bank vault.

In the diplomatic corps there is an aggrieved feeling because only the heads of embassies and legations and acting charges d'affaires have been asked to the wedding. Even the daughters of the British and Russian ambassadors, Miss Josephine Durand and the Baroness Elizabeth Rosen, have not been included, although both girls are on friendly terms with the bride-elect. In society as well as among the relatives of the bride, there is a feeling of grievance. Mrs. Roosevelt has observed the rule of asking only two out of each family. Only those girls who are the intimates of the bride are to be present in the blue room. The ceremony will occur at a temporary altar, erected between the grand windows which face the east.

BOSTON BANK CLOSED.

Arrest of One of the Officials of the Hanover on Fraud Charge.

Boston, Feb. 7.—The Hanover Bank of this city will not open its doors for business today. Acting at the request of the state banking commissioners, Attorney General Malone yesterday secured from the supreme court an injunction restraining the bank from doing any business in this state until further order of the court.

The action of the banking commissioners followed the arrest of Foster Hooper, vice president of the Hanover Bank, as an alleged fugitive from justice. Hooper is alleged by the New York police to be connected with a bogus draft scheme for which William Leary and John S. White were arrested in New York.

Some time ago a concern called the Imperial Securities Company of Jersey City, N. J., is alleged to have issued and sold bonds which were in fact drafts on the Hanover Bank amounting to $20,000. The arrests of Leary, White and Hooper followed. Hooper denied any connection with the alleged swindle. His story is that he had sold his bank entered into business relations with the Imperial Securities Company, believing it to be a legitimate concern. When he became suspicious of it he broke off relations and warned the bank's customers to have no further dealings with the New Jersey enterprise.

The Hanover Bank is a West Virginia corporation with a capital stock of $250,000. It has branches in Stoughton and North Adams, Mass. Its business has not been large, and for some months it has been looked upon with some disfavour by the bank commissioners.

HESPER ...BY... HAMLIN GARLAND COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HAMLIN GARLAND

CHAPTER XIII. THE little room to which Mrs. Kelly conducted Ann was hardly larger than a steamer state-room and was very primitive as regards its furnishings.

"It's a small place and a rough place for such as you, but it's the best we have," said Mrs. Kelly.

Ann responded to the humility which shaded the hearty voice of her hostess, and, though she shivered in the chill air, answered cheerily: "I'm sure this is very nice. The best is tempting."

Hesitatingly, with many misgivings, Mrs. Kelly withdrew, and Ann hurriedly disrobed and leaped into the bed, which was white as snow and almost as cold. It was like a plunge into the breakers at Magnolia; it fairly took her breath away, and there was no escape from this icy contact, for the air was as bitter as the sheets.

But the joy of the meeting with Louis and the unexpected glow of confidence and pleasure with which she met Raymond's anxious, piercing eyes came back to warm her heart.

How changed Raymond was! How deeply brown! He looked as vigorous as she saw him first at the ranch, and yet different—years older; and with his strength, his resolution, something new was mingled—something graver and sweeter. He was handsomer in the miner's heavy boots than in the cowboy's spurs and kerchief.

Her mind took up again the singularly of her position, lying there in a frosty bed in a miner's cabin. She laughed. "Am I to meet my death by freezing?" But at last a glow of contentment came over her, and she lay peacefully on her side, her sewing stood away in radiant contrast above the reeking saloons, the reckless crowds and the rows of drink inflamed men lounging along each bar.

The lover's senses, sharpened by Ann's presence in the camp, detected a more sinister change in the temper of the men. Up to this time all that had taken place had been jocular, at least on the surface, but the sheriff's threatened invasion with a hundred hired thugs stirred the red fires of wrath in men like Hanley, Brock and Culloway, who had hitherto been but onlookers, and they were now the inciting centers of men talking loudly and with undisguised fury.

Hanley, perceiving Raymond at the door, approached to say: "One of Munro's redettes intercepted that kid of yours last night and got word that Don Barnett was on his way up here. You better warn him off."

Raymond resented his tone, but coldly replied: "The boy was mistaken. Barnett turned back at Grand View."

Some one plucked him by the arm, and, following his guide, Raymond entered the room used as the office of the union, where he found Carter, the president, and Larned, the organizer, in the midst of a hot argument with Munro, Smith and a group of others of their sort. Larned was shaking with excitement and rage, and Carter, the little president, looked white and scared.

Munro, with a grin, said: "Come in, Rob. This is a council of war."

Raymond entered calmly, his head a little bent, his keen eyes studying every face. "What's it all about?" Larned explained, his hands quivering, the veins on his forehead bulging, his eyes restless and fevered, but he did not leave—I get out, I will not countenance lawlessness of this sort. I'm not a fool. I know what the effect will be. If they turn back this posse the state militia will be called out. I came to organize a union to meet the coming question of labor and capital. I did not come here to form mobs. I refuse to sanction it. I will not have a thing to do with it. If you make this raid I leave the camp."

Raymond spoke. "I'm not involved in the present disagreement, so that my advice is disinterested. If they do it, I'll be ridden up and asked me to give it as my opinion that Larned is right. You can stand off a sheriff once or twice, and you might even stand off a regiment of militia, but you can't stand off the United States army, and that's what you'll run up against in the end. Jack, you ought to have sense enough to keep out of this."

Munro smiled. "I'm only the military arm of government. I'm not making laws; I execute them."

"Why not call a meeting and put it to a vote?" asked Smith.

"I know why," replied Brock. "Larned is afraid it will carry."

Larned leaped to his feet. "I admit it! I don't want the word to go out that this raid has been voted on by the union. With the camp boiling with excitement, it might carry. Outsiders must be taught the difference between the action of the mob and the will of the organization."

Smith was brutally plain. "It isn't your say. It's Carter's place to call the meeting and discuss what we are to do. A half dozen of us have laid ourselves liable by doing duty for the union. Now, the question is whether the union is going to stand by us or sneak and leave us to eat dirt in a valley jail."

"You had no sanction from the union."

"I know we didn't—no official sanction—but you know perfectly well that the men were with us then, and they are with us now, every one of them."

A rap on the door started them all. It was like the tap of the flag of fate. Munro opened the door, and Dolan, the reporter, entered, "Hello, lads," he called easily. "What's doin'?"

They all shouted, "Hello, Jim!" and Larned, starting forward, exclaimed: "Any news?"

"Well, rather. The sheriff, with a hundred men and a special train, is at Trinchera. He means business this time, lads."

ELOPE WITH $50,000 BONDS.

Mining Promoter Has His Wife and Chauffeur Arrested.

New York, Feb. 7.—After a lively chase which lasted for twenty blocks, Frank Stanley, a chauffeur and former employee of George C. Coleman, said to be the president of a gold-mining company in Goldfield, Nev., was arrested today, Mrs. Mabel Coleman, wife of Coleman, is also under arrest.

Coleman alleges that he was deserted by his wife January 15 last, at which time his chauffeur took her and he discovered the loss of 50,000 shares of a gold-mining company with a par value of $1 each.

Mr. Coleman has been living at a hotel in this city for several months. When he came here with his wife, who was Miss Mabel Zimmer, of Philadelphia, whom he married November 26 last, he leased an automobile and employed Stanley as chauffeur. Mrs. Coleman is but 19 years of age.

Stanley was arrested early in the afternoon at Broadway and Fifty-fourth street by central office detectives and as soon as he learned their identity he started to run.

Chase Him For Blocks. Stanley circled about several squares pursued by the detectives and several uniformed men who joined in the chase. He was finally captured and taken to a police station. He said he lived at 106 West Sixty-first street.

Last night police located Mrs. Coleman at that address. She and Stanley denied any knowledge of the missing bonds. Stanley was held in $5,000 bail for further examination. Mrs. Coleman will be arraigned today.

GIRL IS LEFT TWICE AT ALTAR

Fiance Deserts Her at Time Set for Wedding, and Again Next Day.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6.—Twice deserted at the altar within two days, and by the same man, is the fate of Miss Ella Holdaway of this city. The recent wooer is John Watson, who is now supposed to be in Chicago.

The time first set for the ceremony was last night at the bride's residence. The bridegroom failed to appear. Watson did not appear at the appointed hour. Search was made for him, and it was found he had left his boarding house in the afternoon.

Miss Holdaway learned his trunk had been taken to a railway station, and by the same man, is the fate of Miss Ella Holdaway of this city. The recent wooer is John Watson, who is now supposed to be in Chicago.

Watson made excuses and it was agreed the wedding should take place at 3 p. m. yesterday. Again he failed to appear. It was learned later that he had taken a train for Chicago.

MAY ABANDON SCHOOL

Trouble at Rock River Military Academy at Dixon, Ill.

Dixon, Ill., Feb. 6.—The comedy drama at the Rock River Military Academy shows signs of drawing to an end, and it is said the dissolution of the school under its present management is being considered. Commandant Floyd, formerly a sergeant in the United States army, is possible. Dr. Eaton, head master of the school; G. S. True, teacher of mathematics; Captain A. H. Mole, music master; and Father C. Hall, have resigned from the faculty.

Three of the cadets returned to their home yesterday. Before the strike broke, more than two weeks ago, there were fifty-five boys attending school. Now there are thirty-five. By today it is expected there will be less than thirty.

Letters were mailed yesterday to parents by the boys, who are anxious to leave.

Mr. Floyd has had no control over the boys since the strike. Within the last week some of the boys have disregarded the rules by going out in the evening.

SUE TO PRESERVE CITY PLANTS.

Indianian's Action May Cost Mishawaka Its Public Buildings.

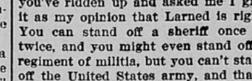

Mishawaka, Ind., Feb. 6.—Mishawaka may lose its city hall, fire station and jail building, and its water company which assumed the municipal bonds may find that papers valued at over $100,000 are worthless, if the suit of William E. Miller and a score of other citizens is decided in favor of the plaintiffs. Action was filed against the city yesterday to have annulled the transfer of the municipal water works and the electric stations to the Mishawaka Public Utilities Company, an imaginary corporation, formed to circumvent the Indiana law limiting the indebtedness of cities. The legal limit had been reached here, but the mayor and city officials wanted elaborate improvements, and organized the utility company. The city is bearing all the expenses of operating the plants, but doesn't own them. The plaintiffs declare it is a steal from the people.

NATURE TELLS STORY.

As Many a Marshalltown Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills. Marshalltown people testify to this. J. H. Brace, of 607 Third Street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills in my case proved the best remedy for kidney ailment I ever used, and I have used many and used them faithfully. I had much trouble from my kidneys and bladder. There were severe pains in my back, the kidney secretions were highly colored and a stinging sensation of scalding accompanied them. I also had a feeling of great exhaustion and became tired at the least exertion. A friend, knowing the symptoms I had and my utter inability to obtain a cure, gave me a portion of a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. The use of these gave conclusive evidence as to their value. Five boxes, which I got usually at McBride & Will's drug store, gave me reason to say that they are a wonderfully valuable remedy. For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other."
