

CONDITIONS REVERSED

Crude Stuff Exported and Manufactured Articles Imported Fifty Years Ago

FINISHED GOODS GO TODAY

Exceed by Twenty Times Amount of Manufactured Articles Exported in 1850—Conditions Are Exactly Reversed—Washington Just Now the Center of Political Intrigue.

Washington, June 1.—Great as has been the growth in the volume of the manufacturing products of the United States since 1850, the bureau of statistics yesterday issued a statement showing that the proportion of those products, which has been exported, has steadily grown, so that while in 1850 the exports were 64 per cent of the entire product, they had increased in 1905 to 81 per cent.

Taking the articles which have undergone the process of manufacture, and comparing its exportations with those of all articles, the bureau of statistics finds that it formed 32 per cent of the total exports in 1850 and 60 per cent in 1905, while articles in a crude condition formed 68 per cent of the exports in 1850 and but 40 per cent in 1905.

Articles which have undergone a process of manufacture increased twenty-three fold during the period, while those exported in a crude state increased less than seven fold, indicating a growing tendency to turn the product into a finished state by American labor before offering it for sale abroad.

On the other hand, articles which have undergone a process of manufacture formed in 1850 83 1/2 per cent of the imports, and in 1905 but 64 1/2 per cent; while those in a crude state, chiefly used in manufacturing, increased 17 1/2 per cent of the imports in 1850 and 45 1/2 per cent in 1905, showing a tendency to bring the foreign article into the United States in its crude state to be here transformed into the finished product by American labor.

The French court, even in its palmy days, was a mere kindergarten in intrigue in comparison with political circles here in Washington. Aspirants for presidential honors, to a man, are smiling and smiling on the surface, beneath the surface there are plots and counterplots. It was a master stroke on the part of those who hoped to elect Secretary Tift, when they precipitated the bitter campaign in the republican party in Ohio. Now it is declared that a secret but persistent campaign is being waged in Illinois to undermine the enthusiasm for Speaker Cannon. It is declared that the bitter campaign in Ohio was precipitated by the republican party in Ohio. Now it is declared that a secret but persistent campaign is being waged in Illinois to undermine the enthusiasm for Speaker Cannon. It is declared that the bitter campaign in Ohio was precipitated by the republican party in Ohio.

EXCURSION RATES.

Grand Lodge and School of Instruction, A. F. & A. M., Clinton, Via the Northwestern Line. Tickets on sale May 30-31 and June 3-4, return limit June 7. For tickets and full information apply to any ticket agent of the Northwestern line.

A River's Width.

If any boy should ever want to know the width of a river or of any other stream that he may happen on, he can measure it by means of his hat. This is Chicago News. That seems queer, but it is as simple as can be. Here is the way to do it. Stand facing the river or stream and pull down your hat brim until the edge of it is on a line with the edge of the bank on the opposite side of the stream. Then holding your head perfectly steady, turn slowly and carefully around and note where the edge of your hat brim cuts the ground on your side of the stream. The distance from where you stand to that point in the ground will be the width of the stream. Of course the ground on your side of the stream must be level.

Every Man His Own Doctor.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedy has been in the market for many years and enjoys a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an anti-septic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatic pains. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles. Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.

One bottle of each of these five preparations cost but $1.25. For sale by all druggists.

What There Will Be Left to Do.

"But what will there be left for you to do after your tolling and scheming and self-denial have brought you the money you covet?" "What'll there be left? Gosh, I can go to New York and spend 'em, can't I?"

Results are sure and swift. Restitutes the quick and lasting. It penetrates the heart of disease. That is what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea does. McBride & Will Drug Co.

English Spavin Liniment removes all hard swellings or calks and blemishes from horses, blood spavins, curbs, splints, sweeney, ring bones, struts, sprains, all swollen throats, coughs, etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted the most wonderful blemish cure ever known. Sold by C. J. Lander, druggist.

BLACK HAND HISTORY

Fight on in Earnest Against This Murderous System Imported From Italy

HOW THE CRIMINALS EXTORT

Demands Must Be Complied With on Pain of Death—Special Squad of Fifty Detectives Now Hunting Them Down in New York—Bingham on the Trail.

By ROBERTUS LOVE. The police commissioner of New York city has started a movement to set his foot down upon the "Black Hand." One of his feet is artificial, but the other is the real article. He proposes to step down hard and crush the ugly digits of this cruel, murderous, blackmailing conspiracy which has been imported to United States by ex-criminals and unconvicted criminals from the "heel and toe" of Italy.

This police commissioner is General Theodore A. Bingham. It is said that when he gets ready to express an emphatic opinion or utter a firm resolve his jaws click loud enough to awaken the office cat. The click means that the general's mind is cocked and ready to shoot.

As his title implies, General Bingham is a soldier. Though no longer in the United States army, he is commander of a corps of 9,000 men, the police force of the greatest city on the continent. He cannot mobilize this force in its entirety and go out after the Black Hand to crush it, because the Black Hand never fights openly. He must approach the enemy by "underground" methods. As he was an able engineer in the army, it would appear that he is well qualified for underground boring.

The commissioner has organized a squad of fifty detectives to do secret work against the most infamous gang of scoundrels that ever infested civilization. Detective Sergeant Joseph Petrosino, himself an Italian, is in charge of the squad.

New York has a large population of Italians more or less ignorant and helpless. Dumped ashore from the big immigrant ships, they settle in the slum districts of the metropolis. Many of them are from Sicily and others from the lower end of the Italian peninsula, which on the map looks like the heel and toe of a boot. Their own government likes to boot a certain class of them out of that country into this. This class is made up of criminals. Some of them have served prison sentences at home. Others have led lives of brigandage in the Sicilian or lower Italy style without being caught at it. But all of them believed that there is more liberty in America, and they come here expecting to carry on their criminality with a lesser degree of molestation than they find at home.

Extortion on Death Threat.

These ruffians are banded together in a society of a vendetta sort, known to Americans as the Black Hand. The symbol of their threat is a black hand impressed upon the letters which they send to their victims. These letters demand money on pain of swift and horrible death. Their victims are their fellow Italians. These poor ignorant people know the weight of the Black Hand, having felt it in their native land. They are aware that refusal to comply with the demands of the criminals means death. Scarcely a day passes without at least one murder, attempted murder or job of dynamite in New York by the members of this infamous organization. The aggregate of money which they extort from those who comply with their demands is enormous.

The Black Hand hovers like a dark and threatening cloud over the daily life of thousands of Italians in New York as well as in other cities throughout the United States where Italian colonies exist.

This is the kind of bogoboln which Police Commissioner Bingham is now going after with rubber shoes and baited breath. The hunt should develop some Sherlock Holmeses of intellect to the nation. It is going to result in a detective story such as no book covers ever contained unless General Bingham greatly disappoints his friends.

BLACK HAND HISTORY

Fight on in Earnest Against This Murderous System Imported From Italy

HOW THE CRIMINALS EXTORT

Demands Must Be Complied With on Pain of Death—Special Squad of Fifty Detectives Now Hunting Them Down in New York—Bingham on the Trail.

By ROBERTUS LOVE. The police commissioner of New York city has started a movement to set his foot down upon the "Black Hand." One of his feet is artificial, but the other is the real article. He proposes to step down hard and crush the ugly digits of this cruel, murderous, blackmailing conspiracy which has been imported to United States by ex-criminals and unconvicted criminals from the "heel and toe" of Italy.

This police commissioner is General Theodore A. Bingham. It is said that when he gets ready to express an emphatic opinion or utter a firm resolve his jaws click loud enough to awaken the office cat. The click means that the general's mind is cocked and ready to shoot.

As his title implies, General Bingham is a soldier. Though no longer in the United States army, he is commander of a corps of 9,000 men, the police force of the greatest city on the continent. He cannot mobilize this force in its entirety and go out after the Black Hand to crush it, because the Black Hand never fights openly. He must approach the enemy by "underground" methods. As he was an able engineer in the army, it would appear that he is well qualified for underground boring.

The commissioner has organized a squad of fifty detectives to do secret work against the most infamous gang of scoundrels that ever infested civilization. Detective Sergeant Joseph Petrosino, himself an Italian, is in charge of the squad.

New York has a large population of Italians more or less ignorant and helpless. Dumped ashore from the big immigrant ships, they settle in the slum districts of the metropolis. Many of them are from Sicily and others from the lower end of the Italian peninsula, which on the map looks like the heel and toe of a boot. Their own government likes to boot a certain class of them out of that country into this. This class is made up of criminals. Some of them have served prison sentences at home. Others have led lives of brigandage in the Sicilian or lower Italy style without being caught at it. But all of them believed that there is more liberty in America, and they come here expecting to carry on their criminality with a lesser degree of molestation than they find at home.

Extortion on Death Threat.

These ruffians are banded together in a society of a vendetta sort, known to Americans as the Black Hand. The symbol of their threat is a black hand impressed upon the letters which they send to their victims. These letters demand money on pain of swift and horrible death. Their victims are their fellow Italians. These poor ignorant people know the weight of the Black Hand, having felt it in their native land. They are aware that refusal to comply with the demands of the criminals means death. Scarcely a day passes without at least one murder, attempted murder or job of dynamite in New York by the members of this infamous organization. The aggregate of money which they extort from those who comply with their demands is enormous.

The Black Hand hovers like a dark and threatening cloud over the daily life of thousands of Italians in New York as well as in other cities throughout the United States where Italian colonies exist.

This is the kind of bogoboln which Police Commissioner Bingham is now going after with rubber shoes and baited breath. The hunt should develop some Sherlock Holmeses of intellect to the nation. It is going to result in a detective story such as no book covers ever contained unless General Bingham greatly disappoints his friends.

BLACK HAND HISTORY

Fight on in Earnest Against This Murderous System Imported From Italy

HOW THE CRIMINALS EXTORT

Demands Must Be Complied With on Pain of Death—Special Squad of Fifty Detectives Now Hunting Them Down in New York—Bingham on the Trail.

By ROBERTUS LOVE. The police commissioner of New York city has started a movement to set his foot down upon the "Black Hand." One of his feet is artificial, but the other is the real article. He proposes to step down hard and crush the ugly digits of this cruel, murderous, blackmailing conspiracy which has been imported to United States by ex-criminals and unconvicted criminals from the "heel and toe" of Italy.

This police commissioner is General Theodore A. Bingham. It is said that when he gets ready to express an emphatic opinion or utter a firm resolve his jaws click loud enough to awaken the office cat. The click means that the general's mind is cocked and ready to shoot.

As his title implies, General Bingham is a soldier. Though no longer in the United States army, he is commander of a corps of 9,000 men, the police force of the greatest city on the continent. He cannot mobilize this force in its entirety and go out after the Black Hand to crush it, because the Black Hand never fights openly. He must approach the enemy by "underground" methods. As he was an able engineer in the army, it would appear that he is well qualified for underground boring.

The commissioner has organized a squad of fifty detectives to do secret work against the most infamous gang of scoundrels that ever infested civilization. Detective Sergeant Joseph Petrosino, himself an Italian, is in charge of the squad.

New York has a large population of Italians more or less ignorant and helpless. Dumped ashore from the big immigrant ships, they settle in the slum districts of the metropolis. Many of them are from Sicily and others from the lower end of the Italian peninsula, which on the map looks like the heel and toe of a boot. Their own government likes to boot a certain class of them out of that country into this. This class is made up of criminals. Some of them have served prison sentences at home. Others have led lives of brigandage in the Sicilian or lower Italy style without being caught at it. But all of them believed that there is more liberty in America, and they come here expecting to carry on their criminality with a lesser degree of molestation than they find at home.

Extortion on Death Threat.

These ruffians are banded together in a society of a vendetta sort, known to Americans as the Black Hand. The symbol of their threat is a black hand impressed upon the letters which they send to their victims. These letters demand money on pain of swift and horrible death. Their victims are their fellow Italians. These poor ignorant people know the weight of the Black Hand, having felt it in their native land. They are aware that refusal to comply with the demands of the criminals means death. Scarcely a day passes without at least one murder, attempted murder or job of dynamite in New York by the members of this infamous organization. The aggregate of money which they extort from those who comply with their demands is enormous.

The Black Hand hovers like a dark and threatening cloud over the daily life of thousands of Italians in New York as well as in other cities throughout the United States where Italian colonies exist.

This is the kind of bogoboln which Police Commissioner Bingham is now going after with rubber shoes and baited breath. The hunt should develop some Sherlock Holmeses of intellect to the nation. It is going to result in a detective story such as no book covers ever contained unless General Bingham greatly disappoints his friends.

BLACK HAND HISTORY

Fight on in Earnest Against This Murderous System Imported From Italy

HOW THE CRIMINALS EXTORT

Demands Must Be Complied With on Pain of Death—Special Squad of Fifty Detectives Now Hunting Them Down in New York—Bingham on the Trail.

By ROBERTUS LOVE. The police commissioner of New York city has started a movement to set his foot down upon the "Black Hand." One of his feet is artificial, but the other is the real article. He proposes to step down hard and crush the ugly digits of this cruel, murderous, blackmailing conspiracy which has been imported to United States by ex-criminals and unconvicted criminals from the "heel and toe" of Italy.

This police commissioner is General Theodore A. Bingham. It is said that when he gets ready to express an emphatic opinion or utter a firm resolve his jaws click loud enough to awaken the office cat. The click means that the general's mind is cocked and ready to shoot.

As his title implies, General Bingham is a soldier. Though no longer in the United States army, he is commander of a corps of 9,000 men, the police force of the greatest city on the continent. He cannot mobilize this force in its entirety and go out after the Black Hand to crush it, because the Black Hand never fights openly. He must approach the enemy by "underground" methods. As he was an able engineer in the army, it would appear that he is well qualified for underground boring.

The commissioner has organized a squad of fifty detectives to do secret work against the most infamous gang of scoundrels that ever infested civilization. Detective Sergeant Joseph Petrosino, himself an Italian, is in charge of the squad.

New York has a large population of Italians more or less ignorant and helpless. Dumped ashore from the big immigrant ships, they settle in the slum districts of the metropolis. Many of them are from Sicily and others from the lower end of the Italian peninsula, which on the map looks like the heel and toe of a boot. Their own government likes to boot a certain class of them out of that country into this. This class is made up of criminals. Some of them have served prison sentences at home. Others have led lives of brigandage in the Sicilian or lower Italy style without being caught at it. But all of them believed that there is more liberty in America, and they come here expecting to carry on their criminality with a lesser degree of molestation than they find at home.

Extortion on Death Threat.

These ruffians are banded together in a society of a vendetta sort, known to Americans as the Black Hand. The symbol of their threat is a black hand impressed upon the letters which they send to their victims. These letters demand money on pain of swift and horrible death. Their victims are their fellow Italians. These poor ignorant people know the weight of the Black Hand, having felt it in their native land. They are aware that refusal to comply with the demands of the criminals means death. Scarcely a day passes without at least one murder, attempted murder or job of dynamite in New York by the members of this infamous organization. The aggregate of money which they extort from those who comply with their demands is enormous.

The Black Hand hovers like a dark and threatening cloud over the daily life of thousands of Italians in New York as well as in other cities throughout the United States where Italian colonies exist.

This is the kind of bogoboln which Police Commissioner Bingham is now going after with rubber shoes and baited breath. The hunt should develop some Sherlock Holmeses of intellect to the nation. It is going to result in a detective story such as no book covers ever contained unless General Bingham greatly disappoints his friends.

BLACK HAND HISTORY

Fight on in Earnest Against This Murderous System Imported From Italy

HOW THE CRIMINALS EXTORT

Demands Must Be Complied With on Pain of Death—Special Squad of Fifty Detectives Now Hunting Them Down in New York—Bingham on the Trail.

By ROBERTUS LOVE. The police commissioner of New York city has started a movement to set his foot down upon the "Black Hand." One of his feet is artificial, but the other is the real article. He proposes to step down hard and crush the ugly digits of this cruel, murderous, blackmailing conspiracy which has been imported to United States by ex-criminals and unconvicted criminals from the "heel and toe" of Italy.

This police commissioner is General Theodore A. Bingham. It is said that when he gets ready to express an emphatic opinion or utter a firm resolve his jaws click loud enough to awaken the office cat. The click means that the general's mind is cocked and ready to shoot.

As his title implies, General Bingham is a soldier. Though no longer in the United States army, he is commander of a corps of 9,000 men, the police force of the greatest city on the continent. He cannot mobilize this force in its entirety and go out after the Black Hand to crush it, because the Black Hand never fights openly. He must approach the enemy by "underground" methods. As he was an able engineer in the army, it would appear that he is well qualified for underground boring.

The commissioner has organized a squad of fifty detectives to do secret work against the most infamous gang of scoundrels that ever infested civilization. Detective Sergeant Joseph Petrosino, himself an Italian, is in charge of the squad.

New York has a large population of Italians more or less ignorant and helpless. Dumped ashore from the big immigrant ships, they settle in the slum districts of the metropolis. Many of them are from Sicily and others from the lower end of the Italian peninsula, which on the map looks like the heel and toe of a boot. Their own government likes to boot a certain class of them out of that country into this. This class is made up of criminals. Some of them have served prison sentences at home. Others have led lives of brigandage in the Sicilian or lower Italy style without being caught at it. But all of them believed that there is more liberty in America, and they come here expecting to carry on their criminality with a lesser degree of molestation than they find at home.

Extortion on Death Threat.

These ruffians are banded together in a society of a vendetta sort, known to Americans as the Black Hand. The symbol of their threat is a black hand impressed upon the letters which they send to their victims. These letters demand money on pain of swift and horrible death. Their victims are their fellow Italians. These poor ignorant people know the weight of the Black Hand, having felt it in their native land. They are aware that refusal to comply with the demands of the criminals means death. Scarcely a day passes without at least one murder, attempted murder or job of dynamite in New York by the members of this infamous organization. The aggregate of money which they extort from those who comply with their demands is enormous.

The Black Hand hovers like a dark and threatening cloud over the daily life of thousands of Italians in New York as well as in other cities throughout the United States where Italian colonies exist.

This is the kind of bogoboln which Police Commissioner Bingham is now going after with rubber shoes and baited breath. The hunt should develop some Sherlock Holmeses of intellect to the nation. It is going to result in a detective story such as no book covers ever contained unless General Bingham greatly disappoints his friends.

Baby Mine

Every mother feels a great dread of the pain and danger attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of misery. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of the great pain and danger of maternity; this hour which is dreaded as woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the serious accidents so common to the critical hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Book containing valuable information of interest to all women, will be sent to any address free upon application to BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Mother's Friend

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Rambler

The Car of Steady Service

The new utility car Model 21, has been positively proven the most convenient, simple and serviceable car ever built. The unit power plant in this car stands far beyond all others in compactness, accessibility and efficiency. These are not mere generalities but positive points of superiority, and we stand ready to prove every claim by actual demonstration. See us about this proposition. We can interest you if you are thinking of buying an Automobile. Let us demonstrate for you what a Rambler will do.

ELDRIDGE-BEEBE

Auto and Garage Co.

Automobiles and Supplies

Second Hand Machines Bought and Sold Gasoline Engines, General Repairing LIVERY Everything for Your Motor Car Office and Garage Rear Marshalltown State Bank MARSHALLTOWN, IOWA

Gillette Transfer Co.

STORAGE FOR HOUSEHOLD GOODS, MERCHANDISE, ETC., PIANOS AND SAFES MOVED NO. 116 WEST MAIN STREET VMOI 'NMOULTVHSHVW

HOW ARE YOUR HORSES?

Are you going to subject them to an extra strain of work this spring?

WATKIN'S PABULAR STOCK FOOD

will help to keep up their nerve and vitality until the strain of hard work is over. When in town come around and get a pail or barrel, or mail your order.

A. V. SHACKELFORD, Agent.

Removed to 203 East Church St. MARSHALLTOWN, IOWA.

Every Woman

is interested and should know about the wonderful Marvel Whirling Doucho. AN OVERSIGHT FOR THE WOMAN: If she cannot apply the Marvel Doucho, she cannot get the benefit. It gives full particulars and directions in plain, simple English. MARVEL CO., 44 E. 23d St., New York.

F. E. NORTHUP LAWYER

OVER LaShelle's Cigar Store Marshalltown, Iowa.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE PILLS OF THE FUTURE. Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Pills in Red and Gold wrapper. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHICHESTER'S PILLS. They are sold by DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

THE BLACK HAND AND ITS OFFICIAL ENEMIES.

Buffalo, where he had charge of the construction of a breakwater. It was going from the White House to the pile driver, but Bingham liked it, for his specialty was engineering work. One day in the spring of 1904, Derrick fell on him, crushing his left leg so that it required amputation above the knee. When he recovered, the president promoted him to be a brigadier general and the next day retired him for "disability incurred in the line of duty." Thus at forty-five General Bingham faced the world on half pay and one leg.

Surprised by the Mayor.

But the future had no terrors for him. He began to cast about for some big railroad engineering work after fitting himself with an artificial leg and a stout cane. Then Mayor McClellan sent for him, Bingham being in Boston, offering him a place in the administration. General Bingham expected to get some post where his ability as a civil engineer might be employed. To his surprise, when he arrived in New York the mayor offered him the police commissionership—that autocratic office once held by the other Theodore.

About the first thing Commissioner Bingham did after he took the oath of office was to abolish the "shoo fly" squad established some years before by Commissioner Roosevelt to spy upon policemen and see if they were doing their duty.

Then he called together the police inspectors, captains and other commanding officers and made a little impromptu speech which would go down to history as a classic of common sense were it not for the fact that it contains a tinker's dam and several stronger expletives which render it unfit for reproduction in any great religious journal. Stripped of most of its epithetical verbiage, this speech runs about thus:

"Men, I'm glad to meet you. You look like a many lot of officers. I love a man. I try to be a man myself. I've been sent for to come here and do a certain piece of work, and I'm going to do it if I can and if I've the strength. I want to talk to you heart to heart. We are strangers now, and I come here

FORTUNES TO BE MADE.

Mexico a Fine Field For Young Americans to Work.

"More fortunes will be made in Old Mexico in the next twenty years than in any other country on the globe," said F. C. MacLean of Paris, Mexico, in an interview with the Washington Post writer. "The people of the United States have no conception of the wonderful wealth of Mexico. That country is just emerging from a sleep of centuries. One has only to cross the line into Mexico to see pictures of a life many centuries old. The peons are using plows of the style of 500 years ago. The customs and methods of that country in many states are the most primitive, I dare say, in this world today. But there are no happier persons on earth than the peons of Mexico. Give them a serape, a shirt, a covering for their legs and a few beans and they ask for nothing more."

"The country, however, is developing rapidly under the administration of President Diaz, who, I believe, is one of the greatest men of the century. Masonry, too, has aided wonderfully in the development. It has furnished inspiration to the people that has led them into industry and improvements that would have been thought impossible less than a quarter of a century ago."

A Bid for More Money.

Young Mr. Sapeigh—Willie, I'd like to speak to you a moment. You saw me kissing your sister in the hall a moment ago. If I give you a quarter will you promise never to say anything about it?"

Willie—Huh! The fellow who kissed her there last night give me 75 cents for not peaching."

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Signature of J. C. Atchafalca

Howlow Glass Bricks. The demand for hollow bricks and building blocks for house construction has induced glass manufacturers to put hollow glass bricks on the market, and they promise to be used extensively for novel and artistic effects, says the Builder.