M. M. KENDALL

The Live Stock and General Farm Sale Auctioneer
PHONE NO. 54
Trenton, Mo., May 28, 1907.—To any one in need of a competent auctioneer, I would most heartily recommend Col. M. M. Kendall, of Marshalltown, Iowa. I have watched Mr. Kendall both in the school room and at sale yard conducting real sales, while attending the Missouri Auction School. We found him to be honest, industrious and sober. He is a man with very pleasing address while on the block and will "make a dollar" wherever an opportunity is afforded.
Respectfully,
W. B. CARPENTER,
President Dunlap State Bank,
Also President Missouri Auction School.

PRIZE WINNING STOCK

Judges of Cattle, Horses and Swine Make Up Partial List of State Fair Awards

IOWA CLYDE RECEIVES HONORS
Baron Doune Defeats International Show Winner of Last Year — David Harum Still Winning in the Shetland Class—Awards in the Chester White Swine Department.

Special to Times-Republican.
Des Moines, Aug. 28.—Live stock judging at the state fair is in progress. Some of the finest horse and cattle classes were seen and in more than one instance the class completely filled the pavilion ring. In every respect the fair is a tremendous success.

When Baron Doune, a big fine Clyde stallion owned by Skeleton of Lawler, Iowa, won first prize at the state fair Monday it defeated Ethelbert, owned by A. G. Soderburg of Osco, Ill., the horse that won first at the International show at Chicago last year.
David Harum took first prize at the state fair this year and has taken the first prize for about every year that anybody can remember since he was born. David Harum is a Shetland pony and is owned by Geo. A. Heyl of Washington, Ill. He is a pretty black and every year the children crowd about David Harum's stall and wish that they owned David for he has a big long mane and a pretty head.
Some months ago it was heralded that Jim Wilson, of Adair, was out of politics. There was evidence then that he was still keeping his weather eye open but in the stock pavilion the day it looked for a time as tho it was really true. Mr. Wilson sat in a cart behind a standard bred trotter, Iowa Sphinx Jr., and a very broad and interesting smile spread over his face when Iowa Sphinx took a prize ribbon.

One of the features of the stock show yesterday was the victory of an American bred Percheron mare over the best of that breed that France could afford. Singmaster Bros. have recently imported a Percheron mare from France which swept everything before her in the greatest French shows. The mare was entered yesterday in the Percheron mare class. The winner was Tutorine, belonging to H. C. McMillan, of Rock Valley.

About 55,000 people passed the state fair gates yesterday and half of them congregated in the Southern portion of the grounds late in the afternoon to see the "Jokers" make his maiden airship flight. The attendance to date is less than last year, a fact attributed by the management to the refusal of the railroads to make rates. The gate receipts prior to today, compared to last year, are:

Friday	1906	1907
Saturday	3,173	2,518
Sunday	2,230	2,307
Monday	3,838	3,448
Tuesday	11,475	8,588
Wednesday	28,351	26,820
Total	$47,610	$44,439

George D. Perkins and E. R. Nichols delivered the addresses at the soldiers' campfire at the state fair grounds yesterday and at the reception which followed the veterans and a thousand other people expressed their appreciation of the eloquent and patriotic efforts of the orators.

ASSAULT STIRS COUNTY

Criminal Abuse of Girl Who is a Deaf Mute Arouses Jones County People

SUSPECTS UNDER ARREST
Three Men in Custody Charged With the Crime — People Threaten to Take Law Into Their Own Hands Unless Guilty Men Are Punished—Assault Most Brutal.

Special to Times-Republican.
Monticello, Aug. 28.—Public sentiment runs high here over the criminal assault upon Miss Fahrl, a 20-year-old deaf mute, and threats have been made against William Haussler, George Hogan and Fred Rohm, three men confined in jail here under the grave charge.

The dastardly and cowardly assault has caused more excitement than has been felt in Jones county for many years. The details of the crime were shocking and the community in general is breathing threats of injury to the men charged with the commission of the act. Officers have taken extra precautions to prevent an outburst of the citizens' indignation.

Miss Fahrl is the daughter of a well-known farmer residing a few miles south of the city. She possessed an attractive appearance and is apparently well educated. For some time she has attended the state school for the deaf and dumb at Council Bluffs. In the afternoon the girl's parents came to town to visit. During the afternoon she decided to go home and started on her journey unaccompanied. Her assailants had evidently been watching for her because they are said to have laid in wait on the outskirts of the town.

When Miss Fahrl reached the outskirts, according to the story, she was approached by a trio and enticed into a barn nearby. For hours, it is said, she was held by the ruffians in the barn, and finally they permitted her to continue on her way. The deed was easily committed because the victim was unable to cry out or sound an alarm, and the ravishers were unmolested. Almost exhausted, the girl made her way towards home. Before reaching her destination, however, she was again attacked by one of the trio and subjected to another assault.

Hours after she was to have arrived, Miss Fahrl reached home and her parents immediately detected something was wrong about her. She was exceedingly nervous and almost faint. She imparted the story of the attack as well as she could and officers were immediately sent to the trail. Shortly after Haussler and Hogan were placed under arrest, but Rohm escaped. Later he was arrested at Oxford Mills.

BURNED MONEY, THEN SUICIDED
Long Spree Ends in Tragedy at Webster City.
Special to Times-Republican.
Webster City, Aug. 28.—After having made a bonfire out of $2,500 in bills, thrown his rings to the sewer, written a note to J. W. Allington asking him to take care of his body, which he dispatched by special messenger and telling the guests at the Park hotel he was going to commit suicide, Carl Presley walked to the street to the city park late yesterday afternoon, and drawing from his pocket a revolver, called upon passers by to watch him shoot himself.

Then placing the gun deliberately against his head he blew his brains out. In compliance with his written request the body was taken to the Allington undertaking parlors, where it will remain awaiting the arrival of his mother from Minnesota. Presley, who is a former Webster City resident, had been in the city the past two weeks, during the most of which time he had been drinking heavily. His self destruction yesterday afternoon was committed while crazed with drink.

FRIENDS' YEARLY MEETING.
Forty-fifth Annual Session Convened at Okaloosa.
Special to Times-Republican.
Okaloosa, Aug. 28.—The forty-fifth annual assembly of the Iowa Yearly Meeting of Friends is in session here. It was opened by the Christian endeavor devotional and business meeting, which convened at Penn college chapel, according to program. R. H. Williams, president of the yearly meeting, C. E. union, occupied the chair. Albert N. Courtney, who has been supported by the C. E.'s in missionary work in Panama, spoke, urging the union to go forward on gospel lines, which has brought success in the past. Charles M. Woodman, pastor of Portland, Me. Friends church, was also present and encourages all present to take higher ground in Christian experience and service.

Following a short business session, a social hour was pleasantly spent greeting strangers and renewing old acquaintances. The opening session of the yearly meeting proper, devoted to ministry and oversight, convened Tuesday morning. After a short session of devotion the names of representatives were read and routine business was taken up.

AN UNUSUAL OPERATION

Fort Dodge Physicians Successfully Remove Portion of Boy's Intestines

RECOVERING IS ASSURED
Before Operation Was Undertaken Surgeons Had No Faith in the Outcome and Believed Result Would Be Fatal—Knife Was Last Resort — General Iowa News.

Special to Times-Republican.
Fort Dodge, Aug. 28.—Undoubtedly the most unusual case in Fort Dodge surgical experience has come to light this week, when Clarence Kaufman, a 15 year old boy, whose parents reside four miles north of town, was operated on for intussusception. Twenty-seven inches of the intestines were removed entirely from the body and he is now on the road to recovery.

The operation was performed at the Fort Dodge general hospital and since that time the lad has showed slow but steady improvement, the physicians never dreaming that his life could be saved. The Kaufman boy was hurried to the hospital very critically ill, as is always the case in intussusception, which is the name applied to a certain coarctation of the bowels when one portion of the intestines swallows or draws inside of itself, another portion of the intestine. When this happens, it results in excruciating pains and if the trouble cannot be reduced in a short time death invariably results.

When Mr. Kaufman was put upon the operating table, it was found impossible to reduce the intussusception and there was only the faintest hope would remove the entire portion of the intestine that was causing the trouble. This done, neither physicians nor nurses entertained hopes for his recovery but today he is beyond all doubt going to recover.

SIMON DEXTER DEAD.
Has Been Well Known Mason City Resident Since 1865.
Special to Times-Republican.
Mason City, Aug. 28.—The death of Simon B. Dexter, an old and highly respected citizen of this city died yesterday at the age of 71 years. Mr. Dexter has been an old settler here and is well known, having come to the city in the fall of 1865. They have resided here ever since that time with the exception of ten years in Montana. Mr. Dexter had been ill for some time and had returned about three weeks ago from a trip to the home of his brother in Nebraska. The cause of death was the change of climate which benefited him. But upon his return he steadily became weaker and yesterday morning passed away. Death was due to tuberculosis.

He entered the army as private in Company D, Thirty-fourth Illinois infantry and was later made first lieutenant. Deceased was a high rank Mason, and had been very active in life until the death of a son in the Spanish-American war. The funeral services will be held from the house, conducted by the Masons and G. A. R., on Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Messrs. Clausen and Stewart of Marshalltown have been telegraphed for and they are expected.
