NUMEROUS STORMS IN LIVES OF BROWNS

Between His Wife and Mrs. Bradley Late Senator Seems to Have Had Lively Time

SALT LAKE WITNESSES TESTIFY

Mrs. Bradley Followed Brown About Country, Making Life Miserable for Him, and Wife Upbraided Him—Story of a Personal Encounter Between Wife and Mistress.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Damaging testimony was given today against Mrs. Bradley, on trial for killing former Senator Brown. Quite a number of witnesses were called in rebuttal. All being asked as to her mental condition, declared the question of her sanity had not been suggested to them, that she appeared rational and talked coherently. Many of these witnesses saw her shortly after the shooting and talked to her, but none regarded her as insane. Mrs. Bradley was very calm during the proceedings today. She paid careful attention to all that was said on the stand, and while looking tired appeared to bear up better under the ordeal than has been the case on previous days.

Some sensational developments were brought out in the testimony. Soren S. Christensen, of Salt Lake, told of an exciting scene between Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Bradley at Pocatello, Idaho, where Mrs. Brown, meeting defendant, had taken her by the throat and threatened to kill her. The senator had denied he was the father of his son, Max Brown, which called forth a fierce denunciation from Mrs. Brown. Witnesses today testified that Mrs. Bradley admitted shortly after the act, that she shot Brown.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Upon the resumption of the trial of Mrs. Bradley today, Archibald Livingston, a former stenographer to Senator Brown, continuing his testimony in rebuttal, declared that Dec. 1, a week before the tragedy, Mrs. Bradley called him on the telephone and said: "So Brown got away, did he?" Livingston declared upon his telling Mrs. Bradley he did not think Brown would marry her, Mrs. Bradley said: "Well, he will have to, or I'll blow his head off." Witness said Brown, in the presence of Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Bradley and Colonel Tatlock, said he would protect Mrs. Bradley as long as he lived.

Livingston, on cross examination, declared he told Mrs. Bradley many deliberate falsehoods "so he and she could get along."

P. P. Christensen, an attorney of Salt Lake, said he knew Mrs. Bradley intimately. He had witnessed and seen at the depot in the summer of 1905 between her and Brown. Mrs. Bradley insisted on going away with Brown and "fairly hung on to him." Brown, he said, repeatedly repelled her.

Justice Safford halted the trial at this point and directed that a girl 11 years old be required to leave the room with her parents, who accompanied her.

Soren Christensen, of Salt Lake testified that on one occasion while in Pocatello, Idaho, with Brown, Mrs. Bradley appeared suddenly, and that Brown chastised her for following him there. On the same occasion he said Mrs. Brown appeared engaged in a personal struggle with Mrs. Bradley, clutching her by the throat and at the same time exclaiming: "Let me kill her!" Witness further stated that in the Pocatello visit Brown declared in the presence of Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Brown and himself that he was not the father of Max Brown, and that Mrs. Brown upbraided him as a low, vile creature for denying his own child and admitting the fatherhood of bastards.

The physicians who treated Mrs. Bradley at the home of detention, declared she was rational at all times, the very nervous. They detected no sepsis in her condition.

SMOKING ON THE WANE.

Tobacco Habit Not Increasing in America as Fast as Population. New York, Nov. 27.—That the consumption of tobacco in America is not increasing in proportion to the increase in population is one of the interesting facts brought out in the hearing of the government's suit against the American Tobacco company and others under the anti-trust laws. T. B. Yule, head of the purchasing department of the American Tobacco company, said that while the acreage in tobacco had been increased this was due to the increased foreign demand for American tobacco.

BANKS ANXIOUS FOR CASH BASIS

Majority of Middle West Banks Ready To Resume Full Currency Payments

CONDITIONS NEARING NORMAL

It is Thought Likely That All Large Money Centers Will Resume Currency Payments to All Depositors About a Week From Next Monday—Demand for Rush Currency Lessens.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely has returned to Washington after a few days' absence at his home in Illinois. He reports currency conditions in the middle west as rapidly approaching normal, and that with the exception of a very small number of institutions, the banks are practically ready to resume full currency payments. While Ridgely had no definite knowledge as to the exact date when the banks at all the large money centers will resume currency payments to all depositors, he had heard an opinion expressed by persons in a position to know the facts that it was not unlikely that a week from next Monday would be agreed upon.

"JONAH" IS INVOLVED

Maplewood, Mass., Preacher Refuses to Pay Indorsed Note to Christian Bible College, Alleging That the Latter is Not Orthodox.

Boston, Nov. 27.—The courts of Massachusetts may be called upon to pass on the truth of the story of Jonah and the whale. The Christian Bible College has brought suit against Rev. Gustavus A. Hoffman, of Maplewood, Mass., to enforce the payment of an indorsed note. Hoffman declined to pay the note, on the ground that when he signed it he believed the college to be orthodox, but has discovered that it is not. He cites the story of Jonah, which he says the college refuses to accept, and says he will ask the courts to pass on the matter.

Plan of Inland Waterways Commission Is to Restore Navigation on Many Waterways in Various Parts of the Country—Railroad Men and Business Organizations Offer Aid.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The inland waterways commission, whose sessions will continue in this city all week, is considering a plan for government waterways, looking toward the restoration of navigation not only on the Mississippi river, but on other waterways in various parts of the country. The commission has been encouraged in this movement by waterways advocates that have recently been held at various points which have asked the co-operation of the commission in plans relating to the improvement of local rivers and canals. The commission is working on a preliminary report which it will make to the president, outlining the general scope of its plan, which it expects later on to supplement by statistics, which it has collected relating to the decrease in water transportation and inadequacy of railroad transportation. The plan is to "take to the gulf" movement, which is already under way, will receive the first attention from the commission. The commission is in receipt of letters from railroad men and business organizations at different points, offering assistance in the task the commission has in hand.

LABOR IN A ROW

Street Railway Employees Disagree as to Demands for Wages and Riot Follows—Police Called in to Quell Disturbance.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—A diversity of opinion as to whether the demand for increased wages and other concessions from the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, with the alternative of a strike, should be presented to the officials of the company at this time, led to much disorder at a meeting of street car men today. The company controls the city's street railway system. The row began when a conductor was speaking in favor of forcing the demands upon the company. Three men attempted to stop him and an uproar followed. The police present were unable to cope with the situation and more were sent for. The three men were ejected from the hall by the police after they had rescued them from rough handling. The vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, addressed the meeting. The demands of the men in brief are an increase from 21 cents an hour to 25 cents; a ten hour day, and right to purchase uniforms in the open market.
