KAISER STOLE A MARCH.

He'll Have Last Word—Phonographic Record Sealed Until Death. Berlin, Dec. 11.—Steps are said to have been taken for the suppression of another American Kaiser's march which his majesty spoke five years ago into a talking machine for preservation in the collection of voices of the immortals at Yale university.

Other versions of the Kaiser's seclusion are current, some of them suggesting that he is demoralized. According to one satirical story, the Kaiser is passing thru a series of "soul storms" of the most violent character and that he is unable to regain his composure.

ROOSEVELT MAY SUE

of securities of the canal, or made a penny out of them, or made a single dollar out of the $40,000,000 paid by the United States. Cromwell in the October statement said he did not even receive the $40,000,000 into his hands as counsel for the company but that it was paid direct by the United States treasury thru the government's bankers into the Bank of France at Paris to the credit of the liquidators of the two companies, who distributed it to the hundreds of thousands of beneficiaries.

Facts Are Not New. Mr. Cromwell then calls attention to the fact that on the first day of the hearings before the senate committee on interoceanic canals in February, 1906, he made an explicit and detailed statement showing the above facts, as to the manner of the payment of the money; also a detailed statement of the disbursement by Panama of the $40,000,000 paid by the United States to Panama, showing the disposition by Panama of every dollar. He also says he told the same committee that the alleged syndicate for Americanizing the canal company had "no life or force of being, did not exist as a door nail."

Mr. Cromwell says all this testimony is public record and available to the world and news, "and had either of them been as interested in publishing the truth as they were in the creation of a political sensation they doubtless would have taken the pains to have published the above facts which I quote."

"Absolutely and unqualifiedly false," is the characterization Mr. Cromwell then gives the statements published by the World and the News. Here Mr. Cromwell goes into a long detailed statement of the various negotiations leading up to and including the final purchase of the canal by the United States. He then says:

How Money Was Distributed. "Since the recent publications I have made inquiries in Paris and am informed that the distribution of these moneys is a matter of public record, the amount received by the liquidator of the old Panama Canal company has been distributed by him as an officer of the court to the holders of the obligations of the old company; that these persons appeared in person at the office of the liquidator to receipt for the moneys paid to them; that they numbered 22,296, the largest number of individuals probably ever appearing in person upon a single business affair, and that the average amount is and was $156; the complete and detailed record of these payments, together with the names and receipts of every person to whom payment was made, and the amount of such payment, is in the hands of the liquidator in his offices at 50 Rue Etienne Marcel, Paris, which is in a prominent and frequented part of the city near the bourse, easily found by any one desirous of so doing."

DEAL WAS ABOVE BOARD.

Press Representatives Investigate the Official Records. Chicago, Dec. 11.—When President Roosevelt wrote his letters to William Dudley Foulke concerning the insinuations of impropriety on the part of the administration, Douglas Robinson, the president's brother-in-law, and Charles P. Taft, in the purchase of the Panama canal property, he declared all the papers relating to the case were open to the public.

For three days representatives of the press have been overhauling these papers, says a Washington dispatch to the Chicago Tribune. In them was nothing to indicate the government officials connected with the purchase had any knowledge of the ownership of the stock in the company which owned the property, or that any Americans were interested in the matter.

The president always has taken the position, and does so today, that he does not care a rap whether French men or Patagonians got the $40,000,000 paid by the United States for the canal. The thing he was after was to get the canal for the United States, and he got it.

The price paid was determined by a board of United States officers after a careful and thorough investigation on the isthmus, and the authority to pay that sum was given to the president by congress after the whole matter had been threshed out in both houses.

So far as this government knew, or had any occasion to know, the persons for whom it dealt for the canal property were Frenchmen or their representatives, and the Frenchman who received for the $40,000,000 was the representative of the Panama Canal company, duly accredited.

Neither the president nor any one acting for him made any investigation at the time of the purchase as to the personnel of the new Panama Canal company. Whoever got the money sold to the United States for it property which the United States wanted and had approved at that sum.

NO CHOICE STEERS

Cattle Receipts of Usual Friday Order—Market Quiet and Steady

HOGS ARE WEAK AND LOWER

Neither Packers Nor Shippers Displayed Much Desire to Purchase and Prices Were Down Five to Ten — Lambs in Active Demand, at Good Advance for Choice Native.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Cattle were quiet and steady. Receipts were made up of the usual off quality of stuff of Friday, with no choice steers in evidence. Buyers are anticipating a slump in the demand for beef and say that it has already arrived. This is the annual dope sprung on the strength of the liberal receipts of poultry and the depression due to that cause is likely to last till the first of the year, or later. At any rate, it is confidently believed that moderate receipts will be in order for buyers admit that they are not eager to load up with a surplus of beef at this time.

Hogs were weak and 5 @ 10 cents lower. The market lacked activity, neither packers nor shippers displaying much desire to purchase.

Shipping demand has been a considerable factor in the trade this week, practically nullifying the bear campaign of the packers which has at frequent intervals looked like a mere bluff. In four days shippers have taken nearly 40,000 hogs which is nearly as many as they were buying a year ago. One reason for this is that Pittsburg has been closed and Buffalo is not getting much stuff, shippers being afraid of getting inside a quarantine line.

Sheep were steady and lambs were in active demand, at an advance of 10 @ 15 cents for choice natives.

Current prices are considerably higher than a year ago, when $6.25 was the limit on lambs and feeding lambs were selling at $5.75. This applies only to lambs, as hogs are very bad actors at this juncture. A year ago exporters were paying $4.60 for sheep and $4.85 for heavy yearlings.

Medium lambs have experienced the late advance this week. The 5c kind in the last week crossed the 5c line on the 10th. Local killers have been compelled to buy medium stuff, because shippers were bidding up choice lambs on them.

"This will be a turning point in the season," said a salesman. "We will either get a glut early next week in response to the bulge or the run will be light. It all depends on how the country feels. The chances are that Monday will fetch in enough to give buyers the upper hand again, and at this altitude very little will be needed to break the market."

Feeders have been wanted as badly as ever all week and have sold up to $6.10, but packers have been buying such Iowa cornfed lambs as go to Michigan feeders under normal conditions. A feeder got a band yesterday at $6.10, for which a packer bid $6 assorted.

CONVERT A CRIMINAL. Man Wanted for Forgery Visits Rescued Mission by Accident—Holdup Plans Abandoned—Wanted at Cedar Rapids.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—"Throw out the life line" was the song that greeted a half drunk man who on Tuesday night stumbled into the lifeboat Mission at 461 State street, thinking it was a saloon.

On discovering his mistake he attempted to leave, but was detained by the man at the door, whose duty it is to cheer up the poor sinner who comes to seek salvation.

"Let me go," exclaimed the visitor, as he tried to open the door. "This is no place for me. I thought it was a saloon."

On Wednesday night the same man returned to the mission and was recognized by the door attendant. This time he was sober.

He waited until the meeting was over and then approached R. H. McBride, superintendent of the Garfield boulevard branch of the Y. M. C. A. In the dimly lighted mission the man fell on his knees and in a voice choking with emotion told Mr. McBride that he was a criminal. He said he had passed two forged checks at Cedar Rapids, Ia., and that he wanted to pay the penalty.

The convert said his name was William Crandall. Mr. McBride advised him to surrender himself to the police, which he did yesterday afternoon.

A telegram was sent to the Cedar Rapids police, and an answer was received yesterday. It was the sense of the mission that won for him the confidence and respect of those who had not before met him, and inspired faith in the ultimate success of the enterprise. Arrangements have been made for an extension of Park and Broad streets thru a ten acre tract of land belonging to the Girl Mission, which lies between the city proper, the tract just purchased is to be platted by Mr. Janney, and a street will be opened east and west from Park to West street.
