

CAPT. C. H. SHAW ANSWERS SUMMONS

PROMINENT MEMBER OF MASONIC FRATERNITY TAKES DEMIT TO UNKNOWN LODGE

MASTER OF MARSHALL LODGE THIRTEEN YEARS

Former Superintendent of Marshall County Schools, and Once City Clerk—Founded Masonic Lodge of Gilman, Which Bears His Name—May Convene Grand Lodge for Funeral.

Capt. C. H. Shaw, a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity of this city, past grand senior warden of Iowa, and many years ago county superintendent of schools, died at his home, 803 West Linn street, at 4:30 Monday afternoon. A stroke of paralysis, with which he was afflicted Saturday morning, was the cause of death.

Captain Shaw had expected to go to Albion Saturday to conduct the Masonic ritual at the burial of Orlando R. Marsh, of this city. He was overcome with the paralytic stroke while on his way to the station. The entire right side was affected, and the patient never regained consciousness. Captain Shaw was 75 years old.

Captain Shaw was particularly prominent as a Mason. He was a past grand senior warden of the grand lodge of Iowa, and at the time of his death was a district lecturer of the grand lodge. He had served thirteen years as worshipful master of Marshall Lodge No. 108, of this city.

Mr. Shaw was initiated into the Masonic temple on Jan. 28, 1864, and passed Feb. 25, 1864, and raised March 31, 1864. He demitted from Marshall lodge June 25, 1874, going to Gilman, where he helped institute a new lodge, which now bears his name, Cyrus. He brought his demit back from Cyrus to Marshall lodge in January, 1882, and has held his membership here ever since.

Captain Shaw served as master of Marshall lodge continuously from 1869 to 1876, and again from 1894 to 1899. His last term as master was in 1904. He also held memberships in Sigurd Chapter, No. 24, R. A. M., and King Solomon's Council, Royal and Select Masters.

Secretary of Temple Association.

A regretted fact is that Captain Shaw did not live to see the new Masonic temple built in Marshalltown, which had been one of his most cherished desires for years. He was secretary of the Masonic Temple Association, a member of the executive committee and an earnest promoter of the building enterprise rejoicing in the consummation of plans for the new edifice, even to the point of suggesting to realize the fruition of his hopes in the completed structure.

Captain Shaw's Career.

Cyrus H. Shaw was born at Standish, Me., Nov. 15, 1833. He received a liberal education in Standish, Yarmouth and other colleges, finishing at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, in 1858. He then followed teaching in the east until 1861, when he came west and settled at Newton, Jasper county. He taught there one year and was superintendent of schools, and then came to Marshalltown. He taught school in this county a couple of years, but he was elected deputy county treasurer and in 1863 was appointed county superintendent to fill a vacancy. In the fall of the same year he was elected to the county superintendency, re-elected in 1865, and again elected to the same position in 1869 and 1871.

In the spring of 1874 Captain Shaw engaged in the drug business at Gilman, with the late Dr. W. J. Ward, and sold his interest in the latter in the fall of 1877, and returned to Marshalltown, which had been his home since.

Upon returning to Marshalltown Mr. Shaw was for a time in the employ of the Times-Republican business office. Later he entered the employ of W. S. Halbert who was then in the insurance business here.

On Jan. 1, 1861, Mr. Shaw was married to Maria Griffin, of Portland, Me., who died on July 27, 1864, while visiting her father in that state. Two sons were born to this union, Starr C. and Carr Leon Shaw, the former died when but 11 months of age. The son Leon died eight years ago in Maine. Captain Shaw was again married Dec. 23, 1867, to Susan Deeter, who survives him with two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Lloyd and Mrs. Roy R. Bradbury, of this city, and one son, Carl C. Shaw, of Palestine, Tex.

Two brothers, Carlisle Shaw, of Great Falls, Me., and C. C. Shaw, of Santa Ana, Cal., also survive Mr. Shaw.

Captain of Civil War Company.

Mr. Shaw raised a company in the spring of 1864, known as Company G, Fourth Iowa volunteer infantry, for the 100-day service in the civil war, with which he went out as captain and mustered out in October of the same year, returning to Marshalltown. He also helped raise Company I, Eighth Iowa cavalry, Colonel Elliott Shurtz's old company. He became a member of M. Thomas Post, No. 94, G. A. R., many years ago.

Captain Shaw was always a staunch and enthusiastic republican and helped elect most of the presidents since the party was organized.

Was City Clerk Under Jones.

Mr. Shaw was elected city clerk of Marshalltown in the spring of 1901, and served one year, being also a candidate in 1902. Being defeated at that time he carried the contest into the courts, under the soldiers' preference law. He lost the case in the district court, but appealed to the supreme court and won. The city then directed its attorney to appeal the case to the United States supreme court, but this has never been done, and the contest has been allowed to go by default.

May Convene Grand Lodge.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 Thursday afternoon from the residence, Rev. William Pence James officiating. Burial will be with Masonic honors, and it is possible that a session of the grand lodge of Iowa will be convened by Grand Master P. J. Martin, of Waterloo, to take charge of the services at the grave. It is intended to select the pall bearers entirely from past masters of the city. Members of the Gilman lodge will join the local fraternity in the funeral, and it is expected that an escort from Cyrus lodge will be chosen from among the older members of the fraternity there.

HAUSER MAKES REPLY.

Answer in Case Involving Man's Parentage is Filed.

The answer of Roy B. Hauser, a young barber of this city, to the claim made in the petition filed by J. H. Windish, of this city, and his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Probst, of Sykeston, N. D., which not only involves the ownership of a half section of land in Wells county, North Dakota, but also whether Hauser is the son of Mrs. Probst, was filed in the district court this morning. The suit was brought to force Hauser to relinquish the deed to the 320-acre Wells county farm, which all the litigants admit Mrs. Probst gave him. It is alleged, however, in the petition, that he secured the deed by means of the alleged fraudulent representation that he is the son of Mrs. Probst. After giving Hauser the deed Mrs. Probst deeded the same farm to her brother, J. H. Windish. An injunction was secured enjoining Hauser from filing or parting with the deed he holds.

In his answer, Hauser makes no attempt to establish his parentage insofar as Mrs. Probst is concerned. Further than to reply that he was recognized by Mrs. Probst as her son, and as such he was held to by friends, relatives and the public by Mrs. Probst. The deed was executed to him at Cedar Rapids on Feb. 11, 1908. The answer says that it was executed without false or fraudulent representations having been made, and that it was not filed for record because of the request of Mrs. Probst not to do so. It is also alleged in the answer that at the time the deed was delivered to Hauser that he and Mrs. Probst entered into a written contract by the terms of which Mrs. Probst was to have the use and possession of the farm during her life time, and that during that time she was to pay a mortgage of $500 on it and also the taxes.

The answer asks that the injunction be dissolved. Copies of both deed and contract were filed with the answer.

FRED ARNOLD INSANE.

Former Postoffice Employee to Be Sent to Hospital.

Fred Arnold, corner Summit and Twelfth streets, who was formerly freeman at the postoffice building, was arrested insane this morning by the commissioners of insanity, and ordered taken to the Independence hospital. According to the report of the commissioners Arnold's insanity is of a delusional type brought on by loss of sleep and worry.

This mental condition first made its appearance in December. At times Arnold is said to be rational, and at other times he has the peculiar delusion that he can not get out of bed. This belief had hold of him this morning when he was examined at his home, and because Sheriff Nicholson was not aware that it would be necessary to transport the man on a cot to the train he could not be taken to Independence this morning. Arrangements have been made to transport him there Wednesday. Arnold is 49 years of age and is married. He was employed at the soldiers' home for several years.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION.

Investigation of Criminal Charges is Begun.

The grand jury of the March term of court went into session this morning to investigate the criminal charges which may be brought to its attention. The following seven men comprise the jury: W. J. Heald, R. R. Ridgeway, J. Freibly, W. W. Yings, R. W. Cowan, D. I. Hillsbeck, and W. F. Wair. Mr. Heald was appointed chairman.

Only one prisoner was in jail to be arraigned before the grand jury to find objections, if any, to its members. He was James Stephens, who is charged with cashing a bogus check at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. He waited preliminary examination and is awaiting the action of the grand jury.

It is probable that the grand jury will be in session only a short time.

ARREST ELMER BUCK FOR SALOON ROBBERY

ELMER BUCK IS CAUGHT, BUT HIS PAL ESCAPES AFTER RUNNING FIGHT

POLICE WATCH PAIR ENTER THE SALOON

Carl A. Steinmayer Saloon, at 410 South Center Street, Robbed of $13 and Quantity of Cigars—Police Come on the Scene as the Front Door is Being Broken In.

All but caught in the act, Elmer Buck, a well-known frequenter of the levee district, was arrested by Chief of Police W. E. Nicholson at 11 o'clock Tuesday night, just after he is alleged to have broken into and robbed the Carl A. Steinmayer saloon, 410 South Center street.

A man, who it is claimed, was in the saloon with Buck, escaped after engaging in a running revolver fight with Ed Helen, of Minneapolis, special agent for the Iowa Central, who was with Chief Nicholson when Buck was arrested.

Officers Watch Thieves.

While the two officers, who were hidden, looked on, Buck and his pal entered the building. Separating, the two officers approached from opposite directions, but before they got to the building, Buck came out. He was arrested on the sidewalk almost in front of it. When searched he had $2.20 in money in his pocket and 350 cigars under his arm.

Second Man Gets Away.

While Chief Nicholson was putting the handcuffs on Buck, Helen, who presumed there was a rear door to the saloon, out of which the second man would come, started for the rear of the building. Before he had reached it Buck's pal emerged from the front door and started to run north on Center street. After Nicholson had shouted for him to halt, which attracted Helen's attention, the latter came from around the building and gave chase, shooting as he ran. The man emptied five shots from his revolver at the pursuing officer, before he turned east, ducked around a building, and lost himself among the cars on the Grand Western tracks. As far as the officers know the fellow got away without being hurt, and Helen also escaped unharmed. In his flight the man dropped three boxes of cigars.

Hear Glass Door Broken.

While they were searching the railroad yards, and were just in the act of coming out to Center street near the saloon, the officers heard the crashing of glass. They were in time to see two men run across the street away from the saloon. The officers waited in hiding until the men returned and entered the building before they prepared to capture them. They found out afterwards that the sound of glass breaking was made when the glass in the door was smashed. This made easy the springing of the lock.

Shooting Attracts Crowd.

The shooting attracted a big crowd. One man who inadvertently happened to be passing near the scene made haste to retreat to cover when bullets began to sing around him. The nearest place of safety happened to be the home of the owner of the saloon. Without knocking he sprang against the front door and leaped into the house, almost frightening the members of the family out of their wits by his sudden entrance.

Arrangements were being made today to arraign Buck some time in the afternoon. Steinmayer claims $12, and he doesn't know how many cigars were stolen.

HOPKINS IN THIRD.

Hurlbut Retires in Favor of Well-Known Merchant.

Fred Hopkins, one of the well-known business men of the city, and president of the Marshalltown Retail Merchants' Association, is to be a candidate for membership on the city council from the Third ward, instead of Myo C. Hurlbut. Mr. Hurlbut withdrew from the canvass, endorsing Mr. Hopkins.

There is scarcely a man better known in the Third ward than Fred Hopkins. He has lived in the ward ever since coming to Marshalltown thirty-three years ago. For many years there has been an effort made to induce him to run for the council, but each time he has refused. The pressure brought to bear on him this year, however, was so great that he has finally consented.

Mr. Hopkins is a merchant tailor, and has been in business here continuously for twenty-five years. He is a progressive citizen, and has always been a leader in the upbuilding of Marshalltown. He is a heavy property owner, and practically all of his holdings are in the ward in which he lives. Mr. Hopkins' friends consider that he is a strong candidate, and will work hard for his election.

Hurlbut's Withdrawal.

To the Public: Since announcing as a candidate for the council from the Third ward Mr. Fred Hopkins has been induced to come out for the same office. I wish in this public manner, to withdraw my name and to heartily endorse Mr. Hopkins. Myo C. Hurlbut.
