ELKS LET CONTRACT
FOR NEW BUILDING

HANDSOME LODGE HOME TO COST $36,600—WORK TO BE GIN AT ONCE.

BE OF BRICK AND
STONE, TWO STORIES

Structure is to Be Completed by Oct.
1—Contract Let On Percentage Basis to John Jacobson—Elks Improvement Company to Furnish Material and Labor—Contractor Superintends

The contract for the new building for Marshall Lodge, No. 312, B. P. O.
E., which is to be built on the site at 205 East Main street, was let by the Elks Improvement Company to John Jacobson, of this city. The building is to cost $36,600, and work is to begin at once. The contract calls for completion by Oct. 1.

The contract was let to Jacobson on a percentage basis. The Elks Improvement Company will furnish the material and pay for the labor, while the contractor will superintend and have entire charge of the building operations.

To Be Handsome Structure.
The new lodge home is to be a handsome structure, and will be a marked improvement to East Main street. The plans adopted will be in a general way very similar to the plans as given to the public by the builders several months ago. The structure is to have ground dimensions of 60x120 feet, with a basement of the same size. It will be two stories in height and of brick and stone construction.

The first floor of the building will be divided into two thirty-foot store rooms, one on either side. The central section of twenty feet will furnish the entrance to the lodge quarters on the upper floor, and will be divided into a reception room and lobby.

Lodge Uses All Second Floor.
The lodge will occupy all of the second floor, which will be conveniently divided into lodge rooms, proper, reading and lounging rooms, billiard rooms and buffet. A broad veranda will occupy the entire front of the building along the second floor.

The front is to be of gray pressed brick and all of the trimmings will be of stone. The side walls will be of hard red brick. The basement, which will eventually be equipped with bowling alley, swimming pool and baths, will not be completed for these purposes until at some later date.

MAXWELL ARRESTED HERE.

Young Man Wanted for Rape, Caught by Sheriff Nicholson.
Glenn Maxwell, aged 22 years, who has been wanted since last fall at Nevada on a charge of rape, was arrested on the streets last night by Sheriff A. A. Nicholson. Sheriff E. C. Warwick of Nevada, took the prisoner to Nevada this afternoon.

Maxwell escaped from Ex-Sheriff W.
A. Ricketts, of Nevada, on Oct. 28, while he was being taken to jail at Nevada. Sheriff Warwick learned that Maxwell was here, and asked Sheriff Nicholson to arrest him. After being arrested Maxwell admitted that he was the man wanted. Sheriff Ricketts, from whom Maxwell escaped, offered a reward of $25 for his capture, but since then the sheriff has retired from office and the offer is no longer in force.

GRAND JURY CALLED

Judge J. M. Parker Orders Special Session of the District Court for May 3—Grand Jury Will Investigate Seibert Murder.
Judge J. M. Parker this morning issued an order calling a special term of the district court beginning Monday, May 3, and summoning the grand jury into special session on the same day.

No specific reason for the summoning of the grand jury is given in the order, but it is the intention of the court to have it take up the Seibert murder case.

In issuing the order Judge Parker did not order a special venire of trial jurors drawn for the term, so the presumption is that no jury cases will be tried during the term. Such being the case, Harry LaShelle, in case he is indicted, would not be brought to trial before the August term, which begins Aug. 30.

Judge C. B. Bradshaw adjourned court for the term this morning.

TO FORM STATE
AUTO CLUB HERE

MEETING OF DIFFERENT CITIES
CALLED FOR THIS CITY
TUESDAY NIGHT.

LOCAL CLUB BACK
OF NEW MOVEMENT

Upon invitation of Marshalltown Organization Representatives of Iowa Clubs Will Gather Here With State Club Formation as Object — Nine Cities Invited.

A movement toward the formation of a state automobile club has been started by the Marshalltown Automobile Club, which has issued invitations to the clubs of nine different Iowa cities, to attend a meeting to be held in this city next Tuesday night, April 20.

At this time it is expected that a state association will be formed, and that this state association will be affiliated with the American Automobile Association, the secretary of which the local club has had some correspondence.

There appears to be much enthusiasm among automobilists of the state, and replies to the invitations have been numerous. It will be the object of the state association, as well as local clubs, to work for good roads, promote legislation favorable to automobile interests, and pleasure runs to different points. In fact the general welfare of auto interests is sought.

The invitations extended have been sent to towns where local clubs are already organized. The list includes Davenport, Council Bluffs, Des Moines, Mason City, Fort Dodge, Boone, Dubuque, Sioux City and Cedar Rapids.

James L. Denmead is president of the local club, C. C. Eldridge vice president, and Dwight Denmead, secretary.

Local Comment

The city council has passed an ordinance for $1 gas in Marshalltown. The company has objected to it. Now if the books of the company would show that $1 gas would be an unreasonable rate, Messrs. Jones & Hovey would simply take the council down to their office, show the books and prove their contention without the expense of a lawsuit. The council would then revise its ordinance. But no, the books are not to be shown unless the city attorney does what Jim Good did in the Cedar Rapids case, viz: have the books ordered into court. Senator Van Lan introduced a bill in the legislature this winter giving city councils power to order the books reviewed when fixing a rate, but public service corporations all over the state sent lawyers and lobbyists to Des Moines who defeated the bill, indicating that gas companies everywhere object to having their real earnings known when rates are to be fixed.

Now, if this injunction against $1 gas is to come to trial, there is some danger of the Jones and Hovey earnings being exposed, and hence it follows that more than one effort may be expected to appear in this community to get a new franchise and a higher rate before that case has to be tried; in fact, any effort to contract with the city council or citizens for higher rates before the present ordinance is tried out in the courts may fairly come under suspicion.

But what do we care about a few cents on the rate if we get the service?" someone asks. Just this much, Marshalltown consumes 22,000,000 cubic feet of gas per annum now. She should consume 45,000,000 to average with other towns. The increased rate asked was $1.25 instead of $1.00. On 35,000, 000 cubic feet per annum the people of Marshalltown would pay to the gas company $8,750 per annum more than they would pay at the $1.00 rate. Competent engineers have investigated this plant and have recommended that $75,000 would improve both the gas and electric light plants to first class efficiency and capacity. In ten years this twenty-five cents increase would cause the people to pay for all the improvements and still let the gas company own them. If it is asked that the increased rate apply for twenty-five years during the life of the franchise this extra twenty-five cents bonus on every thousand cubic feet of gas would buy the entire Jones & Hovey plant, gas, electric lights and street railway up to the bonds at Jones & Hovey's longest price and pay for the necessary improvements besides. If the city attorney does his duty competent engineers will appraise the physical value of the plant here at $200,000. Several engineers have already established this figure, and the books will show that if Jones & Hovey had been compelled to sell gas last year at $1.00 they could have paid the interest on their bonds and have earned 35 per cent on their actual equity in the property. This ought to be reasonable.

It is argued that we could afford to pay higher rates in order to get rid of Jones and Hovey but if we pay higher rates the people probably will not want to sell or would probably sell to a blind company and take stock in the blind company for their equity. On the other hand if we reduced the rates to what they ought to be and made them stick in court, Jones and Hovey would be more willing to sell and the new purchasers would not need such high rates because they would not have to pay so high a price for the property. To raise the rates from $1 gas would make the people help pay an exorbitant price for Jones and Hovey's property without owning anything in return. Instead of the retail merchants paying $2,000 on the purchase price when Mr. Denmead wanted to sell the pottery plant to Ft.

Dodge people the people of this city would be paying anywhere from $8,750 to $11,250 per annum bonus for ten to twenty-five years according to the life of the contract. It would seem that $218,000 to $281,000 bonus is too high a price even to get rid of Jones and Hovey.

Marshalltown knockers have been in evidence the past three days. Their knocking was in the open and collectively. There were nearly a hundred of them, and each had a hammer, which he used industriously. But these men representing all classes of local citizenship, were knocking to good purpose. They were knocking together a great building within whose walls Marshalltown's character is to be on trial for five weeks. Many of these men are now sore—in spots. Sometimes they hit the wrong nail. But they are heedless of these trifles. Their work has been without compensation in money, and it has been prosecuted with as much zeal as if they had been paid for double time. If all stand together during the revival meetings as earnestly as they have during the tab-ernacle's construction, no combination of forces can withstand the campaign for the city's moral and religious uplift.

If thirty-five church members, men women and children, can buy and pay for a church at $5,000 what could not a membership of 400 to 800 do?

The work of the women in building the tabernacle must not be ignored.
Many a wife has observed a husband pounding a nail for the first time in her experience, and with the very same hammer which she had loaned him, but she has restrained her desire to snatch it from his hands and make it do expert service as it always did at home and she has gone meekly about her assignment at the dinner service. The church dinner, good-fellowship, two-minute speeches and fun have done much to make the boards fly into place between meals. It is a mighty scrub bird, indeed, which will not scratch and strut for all the energy there is in him when he knows that all the hens in the neighborhood are looking on.

It would seem that the difficulties into which our last efforts at paving involved us have not discouraged property owners who want to get out of the mud. Petitions for nearly thirty blocks of concrete paving are now before the council or in circulation. If each property owner will now get a copy of the specifications when the contract is let and study it and then stand over the work as an inspector in front of his own property, there need be no litigation over conformance. The council, too, can profit from recent costly experience and levy assessments according to benefits instead of frontage. If they do not several lawyers are going to make some easy money appealing from the assessments.

JOHN F. SHAVER DEAD.

Former Business Man of This City Passes Away in Chicago.

John F. Shaver, a former well-known business man of this city, and father of Fred D. Shaver, with whom he was associated here many years ago under the firm name of F. D. Shaver & Co., died in Chicago Friday morning, according to a telegram received by Prof. E. S. Kentler, father-in-law of Fred Shaver.

Mr. Shaver had been ill for some time, but the nature of his ailment is not known here. He was 83 years old, but up to the time of his last illness he was in charge of a delicatessen business in Chicago. While in this city the Shavers conducted a hair and men's furnishings business. The elder Mr.
Shaver was for many years a deacon in the First Baptist church, and was church treasurer for some time.

Aside from his wife and son Fred, Mr. Shaver is survived by a son, Frank Shaver, of Chicago, and a daughter living at Madison, Wis.

Mr. Shaver's funeral was held from his residence, 137 Winthrop avenue, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The body will be brought to this city for interment, reaching here at 5:59 Sunday morning.
Interment will be in Riverside at 12:30

WE PUT THEM IN. HE CALLED AT OUR OFFICE A

SAID, "DOCTOR, I CAN EAT OR BITE ANYTHING WITH MY NEW TEETH, AND CAN'T TELL THEM FROM MY OWN, AND WOULD NOT TAKE TEN TIMES WHAT THEY COST.
IF YOU HAVE ANY DOUBTS AS REGARDS THIS CASE WRITE MR. NAUKE. WE HAVE BEEN DOING WORK FOR
