

BABY'S ITCHING SOOTHED AT ONCE

And Soon Cured Perfectly and Economically—Doctor Called It Eczema and Little Sufferer Rubbed and Twisted All the Time.

CUTICURA AGAIN PROVED "THE GREAT SKIN CURE"

"My baby boy was about nine months old when he had a breaking out on his neck which was very annoying. It used to make him very fretful and cross because it seemed to worry him so much. In the meantime I was sick myself. I had my doctor look at the baby and he told me it was eczema and he wanted to treat it. But a friend of mine told me she knew it could be cured cheaper than any doctor could do it for and in much less time. So I started using the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which I soon found out was what I ought to have had before. For the eczema seemed to itch so the baby could not keep his head still for the Cuticura Soap and the Cuticura Ointment was rubbing and twisting all the time. I used the Cuticura Remedies about three times the first day and began to notice the good effect. The doctor for he began to get rest from rubbing his neck. So I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and now no one could tell that he ever had any kind of breaking out, and since then I have never been without the Cuticura Soap and the Cuticura Ointment. Mrs. Lula Dorsey, 12 Brown St., S. W., Washington, D. C., Oct. 2, 1909."

SKINS ON FIRE

With torturing, disfiguring eczemas, rashes and other itching, burning, bleeding, scaly and crusted skin and scalp troubles are instantly relieved, and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap to cleanse the skin, and the ointments with Cuticura Ointment, purest and sweetest of emollients, to soothe and heal the skin.

JOHN MEMELBRECHT, NEBRASKA FARMER OF WEALTH, WITNESS IN MAYBRAY GANG SUIT.

LARGE NUMBER CALLED TO GIVE TESTIMONY

Hemelbrecht Relates How He Was Fleeced of $5,000 on Fake Horse Race—Rider of Horse Pretended to Be Injured and Gang Got Away With the Money.

Special to Times-Republican. Council Bluffs, Feb. 1.—John Hemelbrecht, the rich Nebraska farmer who is the complaining witness in the suit of the state against Frank Scott, the alleged Maybray steerer, now on trial in district court here on a charge of having fleeced Hemelbrecht out of $5,000 on a fake horse race in Council Bluffs in March of 1908, was one of the star witnesses before the federal grand jury at its session here several months ago when nearly 100 were indicted.

Scott has two indictments against him. He was arrested last June in Sioux City after having escaped the vigilance of the authorities for some months. After being in jail here six weeks Scott secured his release on bail of $6,000.

Hemelbrecht told his story before the grand jury, with variations that are said to have livened the deliberations to a high degree, in the following words:

"Along about the 1st of April, 1908, I first made the acquaintance of Frank Scott, a farmer living near Pender, Neb., my home. About the 20th of April, 1908, I was in Bancroft, Neb., and there Scott introduced me to Richman, who he said, was an old acquaintance and schoolmate, and they wanted me to come to Council Bluffs and act for a man named Frank Maxwell, who, they said, was a brother-in-law of Richman, and that Maxwell was also the private secretary of Hemingway, Crawford, and Gordon, who, they said, were millionaires.

"The next day Scott, Richman and I came to Council Bluffs and met Maxwell at the Grand Hotel. Maxwell said it would be necessary for me to get a draft or some money to make a showing with, so Scott and I went to South Omaha, where I executed a note to the Great Western Commission Company, securing the same by a mortgage on some cattle, and got a draft for $5,000. The same day or the next day Scott went with me to the First National Bank of Council Bluffs, where I deposited the draft.

"About the 24th of April I signed a racing contest agreement, and immediately thereafter commenced betting money that was furnished me by Maxwell and Richman. The next day, Saturday, Maxwell said it would be necessary for me to get my money, that he was unable to get his money because the same was locked up; that my money would be returned to me within a few hours.

"Scott and I went to the bank and I got $5,000. We went back to the hotel and Maxwell was there. He had some money also, when I got back, and his money and mine was placed in a grip. Soon after the millionaires and horses and about 1 o'clock Gordon stirred up a fuss about being $500 short, and wanted the money in the stakeholder's hands counted. This was smoothed over and the race was held. The rider of our horse pretended to be injured and Maxwell declared the race off and said that they would run it at some future time, if I would put up some more money. Scott and I took the train for Blair and said that he was coming back to look into the matter. "I got some telegrams after I got home, which was all." Bankers and business men of Pender and Bancroft, Neb., and a large number of others, are here to testify in the case.

WONDERFUL HOW IT CURED

Says Miss Gertrude Gatlin, of Timberville, Miss., After She Had Taken Cardui for Her Pains.

Timberville, Miss.—Miss Gertrude Gatlin of this place writes: "I did not know that anything could stop the wondrous pains from which I had suffered for two years, until I tried your wonderful medicine, Cardui. "I had been troubled with various female ailments, but they were cured in a little while, thanks to Cardui. "When I hear any of my friends say they feel bad, I tell them to try Cardui. It is a blessing to womanhood."

Not every medicine can be depended on to cure a woman's ills. Not every tonic will bring back woman's health. Cardui, the woman's tonic medicine, will do both, by the power of its unique, specific, curative, strengthening ingredients, especially adapted for use in cases of female ailments.

Composed exclusively of pure, vegetable materials with a gentle strengthening action on the system, Cardui is perfectly harmless to young and old and can be relied upon to have absolutely no bad after-effects. Thousands of thankful ladies have written to tell of the benefit Cardui has been to them. Why not to you? Will you try it? Please do. N. E.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. For special instructions and 96-page booklet, "How to Take Cardui," send in plain wrapper on request.

PROMINENT FARMER FLOWN.

Hamilton County Man Disappears Following Charge of Bastardy. Special to Times-Republican.

Webster City, Feb. 1.—Jacob W. Beaman, a prominent and well known farmer residing in Fremont township, northwest of this city, has fled the country, following the filing of papers in the district court here in which he is charged with bastardy by the father of a 17-year-old girl, who has been wedded and has a child. On Jan. 11 the girl gave birth to a child. The disappearance of Beaman has caused a sensation and, pending the hearing of the bastardy case, an attachment has been secured against his property. He is well-to-do.

The charge against Beaman is filed by Nicholas Niles, who says that on Jan. 11 his daughter, Susan, gave birth to a child of which Beaman is the father. It appears that the girl started working in the Beaman family when she was 16 years old. Beaman is married and has one child. His wife stands by him, alleging the whole matter is a worked up case of blackmail. The community is much stirred up over the affair.

New Hampton. Within six months this city is promised a new modern hotel to take the place of the one recently burned. Lee Miller has bought a site opposite the public library, and will commence the building immediately. When completed it will cost $10,000.

Britt. Gust Horstman's son met with a serious accident, getting one of his hands caught in the corn sheller and badly mangled it. A doctor was called to dress the injured member and reports that all four fingers were taken from the hand.

Kiron. Glen Goetsch, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goetsch, had a serious accident while with Drayman Olson getting freight from train No. 56. It seems that Glen had been on top of the cars and in coming down and nearing the last step he slipped and fell, breaking his left leg above the knee.

Dysart. Charles Crisman has bought the first suburban home of Adam Herwig, in the west part of town consideration $6,200, the highest priced property sold in Dysart for years. The property consists of twenty acres of choice farm land with fine large residence, barn etc., all practically new. Mr. Crisman takes possession March 1.

Mason City. The Mason City short course, which adjourned Saturday, after a successful week, will not be held next year. The demands upon the Ames faculty are such that this county is asked to pass up the privilege of the course for a year, and probably, if desired, the following year a course will be held here. The financial affairs of the course are in good condition.

Hospers. Schools, churches and all public gatherings at Hospers have been abandoned by the council until Feb. 5 on account of the prevalent smallpox. The disease appears in a very light form and nothing serious is anticipated. The prompt action by the council is commendable and will be the means of soon stamping out the disease, it is thought.

Sioux City. As the result of tests made during the past month by Daniel Dissen, city sealer and measurer, five Sioux City coal dealers were arrested Saturday afternoon and charged with violating the city ordinance which states that a variation of over thirty pounds under weight, called for on a coal order is unlawful and that the dealer selling the coal is liable to a fine of not less than $10 or more than $100, or imprisonment for not less than two nor more than thirty days.

Iowa Grove. Records in the county clerk's office show that during the past year 115 marriage licenses were granted and only five divorces. No particular month or season of the year seems to have been singled out as a particular favorite for the operations of cupid, the 115 marriage licenses being fairly well distributed thru the year and each month maintaining a good average. In the ratio of divorces to marriages, it is doubtful if any county in Iowa can show a lower percentage.

Waukon. R. W. Barger, a Chicago attorney, was fined $50 for contempt of court by Judge Hobson, following a verdict of $1,100 returned by the jury in the case of Miss Cummings against the Penn Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, which company Barger represented. Miss Cummings' stock of millinery was entirely destroyed by a coal burn in 1908 and she sued for $1,100. The case was hard fought. During the trial of the case Judge Hobson frequently admonished Barger against insinuations about the court. During his argument to the jury Barger intimated that the case was influenced and controlled by Attorney Hart, counsel for Miss Cummings. The jury returned a verdict for the full amount. The court then called Attorney Barger before him and asked him if he had anything to say why he should not be fined for contempt of court. The Chicago attorney's remarks were freely made of defiance. The court then fined him $50, which he paid.

FORESTRY PROF. QUILTS

RESIGNATION OF C. A. SCOTT, OF HORTICULTURE DEPARTMENT, IOWA STATE COLLEGE.

TO BECOME HEAD FORESTER IN KANSAS

Professor Scott's Resignation Will Take Effect in June—Gets Temporary Absence in Spring to Outline Work in Sunflower State, Where He Graduated in Forestry Work.

Special to Times-Republican. Ames, Feb. 1.—Prof. C. A. Scott, who has been associate professor of horticulture in charge of forestry at the Iowa State College since September, 1908, tendered his resignation to the college board yesterday, and will go to Kansas Agricultural College to become state forester and head of the forestry department of that institution. His resignation takes effect in June, at the close of school, and the board has voted him a temporary leave of absence to go to Kansas in the spring and outline school work that he will do when he takes up the work of state forester.

The new position will take him away from the Kansas institution a good deal of the time to oversee work at the state forestry stations, two of which are maintained in the Sunflower commonwealth—one at Dodge and the other at Ogalala.

Mr. Scott graduated in forestry at Kansas in 1901 and then worked for the government forestry service several years. He later studied a year at the forestry school at Yale, and has spent two years at Ames, where he has accomplished a great deal in farm forestry work.

DEATH OF MRS. EDWARD CARROL. Wife of Prominent Young Farmer Dies of Heart Failure.

Special to Times-Republican. Iowa Falls, Feb. 1.—Profound sorrow reigned thruout this entire community when the sad news was flashed over the wires that Mrs. Edward Carrol had answered the final summons. She had been ill with pneumonia for two weeks but was recovering nicely when the end came unexpectedly. Saturday about noon she was stricken with a severe attack of heart failure which was the immediate cause of her death. Mrs. Carrol, nee Kearney, was but 23 years old, prominent in social circles here and was noted for her kindly ways and winning manner. She is mourned by her husband and a little son, William, only 6 months old. The body was taken to St. Mary's Catholic church at Ackley, this morning, where the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Father Meagher, and she was laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery.

FOOT CAUGHT IN THE FROG. Mason City Brakeman Meets With Bad Accident. Special to Times-Republican.

Mason City, Feb. 1.—E. N. Norquist, a Northwestern brakeman, living here, was brought to the city Sunday with his foot completely crushed. The accident happened at Spencer, when Norquist was switching in the yards and in some manner had his foot caught in the frog of the switch and the wheels of a box car passed over the foot. The rear end of the car caught his clothes and dragged him for two car lengths. He was brought to the hospital here.

THE MEN AND WOMEN Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce. Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It. It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide pre-eminence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and enjoying the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. After thirty years of general usage, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is everywhere accepted as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. It cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects. To get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, buy the genuine only; the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. Price, 50 cents per bottle.
