

THEY INJURE CHILDREN.

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You can not be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases.

Regularly, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying and a life-lasting annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders.

They have a very natural action upon the glands and organs with which they come in contact, act as a positive and regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel and its dry mucous lining; remove irritation, overcome weakness, tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles, and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies completely relieve constipation, except when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really no medicine for this purpose so good as Rexall Orderlies, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form, in two sizes of packages, 12 tablets in 30 cents, and 36 tablets in 75 cents.

Remember you can obtain Rexall Orderlies in Marshalltown only at our store—The Rexall Store. The McBride & Will Drug Company.

STARTS CONTEST ON SCHUMANN WILL

DAUGHTER, MRS. AMELIA GARRIGAN, OF GRINNELL, SEEKS TO BREAK WILL.

WAS CUT OFF WITH $1,500 AND BED AND BEDDING

Property Involved in the Contests is Valued $60,000, Which Includes $12,000 in Cash—Contest Centers on Herman Wilts, the Executor Named in the Will.

Seeking to break the will of her father, Peter Christ Schumann, of Jefferson township, who left property valued at $60,000, the contest brought by the daughter, Mrs. Amelia Garrigan, of Grinnell, was begun in the district court this morning.

Because she was cut off with a bequest of $1,500 and "one bed and proper bedding and no more" as the will reads, Mrs. Garrigan is now seeking to break the will, which bequeathed the bulk of the property to Mrs. Garrigan's five brothers.

Executor Named Attacked. Mrs. Garrigan bases her contest, as set forth in her objections to the allowance and probating of the will, on the allegation that her father was mentally unsound and incapable of making a valid will at the time the one in contest was made.

It is also declared in the plaintiff's objections that Herman Wilts, who is named in the will as the executor, procured the will, and that the will is not in fact the will of Schumann but the will of Wilts.

The defense of the executor is that the will is the true will of Schumann, and that he was mentally capable and did make the will.

Left Large Estate. The estate which Schumann left consists of real estate and personal property. According to the inventory of the executor the personal property totals $14,425, of this amount, close to $12,000 was in actual cash and certificates of deposit. Almost $2,000 was represented by notes.

Sons Get Bulk of Estate. Schumann had been married three times. At the time of his death there survived him his third wife, Barbara Schumann, and six children. The children are Gustaf, Albert, Christian, August, Mrs. Amelia S. Garrigan, and Fritz Schumann.

According to the will the wife, Barbara, is given her lawful share of one-third, and in addition $400. The daughter, Mrs. Garrigan, is given $1,500, one bed and bedding, and the rest is divided equally among the sons. From the share that was willed to the son Christian, the sum of $800 is to be deducted, it representing a sum previously advanced to him. By this division the sons will each get approximately $8,000.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Time, the Place, and the Girl" Scores Hit on Third Appearance.

"The Time, the Place, and the Girl," the clever musical comedy by Howard Hough and Adams, scored a hit at the Odeon Saturday night despite the fact that this was the third presentation of the piece here.

Robert G. Pitkin, who appeared with the original New York cast in Happy Johnny Hicks, was seen to advantage in the leading character Saturday night, and Elizabeth Goodall, appeared as Molly Kelly. Miss Goodall was seen in the same role on the last appearance of the company here two seasons ago, and was highly satisfactory.

Florence Smith, new locally in the soubrette character of "the girl," was very clever, and sang much better than the average soubrette. When the company appeared here last Miss Smith was one of the most pleasing of the latter day musical comedies. It abounds in catchy music and has enough of a story to maintain an interest throughout the entire three acts.

"Thorn and Orange Blossoms." "Thorn and Orange Blossoms," one of the old-time melodramas, was presented at the Odeon Sunday night in a very acceptable manner to a good-sized audience.

Robert McGuire wishes to call the attention of the public at large to the fact that he does not intend to do city porter work any less than 25 cents per hour, and all those that are unable to pay 25 cents per hour, that they would please me very much not to send for me. No. 117 East Main, down stairs. Phone 551, Marshalltown, Iowa.

Announces Candidacy For Representative

G. F. STANSBERRY,

Gilman Man Who is First Candidate in Field Before Primaries.

The first candidate to make an official announcement of his candidacy before the primaries in June is G. F. Stansberry, of Gilman, who is in the field for representative to succeed W. H. Arney.

Mr. Stansberry is an old resident of the county, and a well-known citizen of Gilman, where for years he has been engaged in the banking business. He has lived in the county thirty-two years, and has been there all that time with the exception of four years spent at Grinnell in school.

Following the completion of his high school course at Gilman, at a time shortly after the Grinnell tornado, young Stansberry returned to Gilman. The extent of his fortune was not hard to reckon, and consisted of a suit of clothes, 27 cents in cash, good health, and willingness to work. He went to work as a teacher in the rural schools, and for ten years taught in Greencastle township.

In 1894 Mr. Stansberry entered the Bank of Gilman, as assistant cashier, and four years later was made cashier. He continued in this capacity nine years, and two years ago organized the Citizens' Savings Bank, of which he is now cashier. He was honored by his townsmen with the election to the office of mayor, which he held for three terms, or six years. Further than this he has never held office.

As a banker and a business man Mr. Stansberry has been eminently successful. The confidence reposed in him is shown from the fact that he is either guardian, administrator, or executor of twelve different estates. Altho not actively engaged as a tiller of the soil he is pretty well versed on farming, and controls and oversees 1,500 acres of farm land. He has been active in county fair work. Is a member of the executive committee of the fair association, and superintendent of the hog exhibit.

Mr. Stansberry has been active in the promotion of public affairs in his town, and is prominent in church circles, being a member of the official board of the Methodist church, and church treasurer. He has a wide acquaintance throughout the county, and will make a strong candidate. Mr. Stansberry had not expected to announce his candidacy in an official way so early in the race, but his friends have kept insisting that he announce, and he has abided by their advice.

Attorney General Byers to Talk on "Law Enforcement"

H. W. BYERS, OF HARLAN, Attorney General of Iowa to Address Short Course Audience at Odeon Tonight.

H. W. Byers, attorney general of Iowa, who is in the city to conduct a special investigation of the grand jury into the actions of County Attorney J. H. Eckenmayer, as intimated by the Civic League, will address the first evening meeting of short course week at the Odeon tonight. The address will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Byers will talk on "Law Enforcement," a subject on which he should be well qualified to talk, in view of the fact that he has been seeing to it that laws were enforced as have few attorney generals in the country. The short course association considers itself fortunate in securing Mr. Byers for the address, and it would probably not have been possible to get him for the address had it not been that he was to be in the city for the grand jury probe this week.

The public will be welcomed to hear the attorney general, and a nominal admission fee of 25 cents will be charged those who do not hold short course season tickets.

The attorney general should be greeted by a large audience.
