HERRIOTT WON'T RUN

WILSON'S CANDIDACY FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER PRECLUDES IT.

HERRIOTT AND WILSON CLOSE POLITICAL FRIENDS

Iowa's Splendid Mine Inspection System Largely Responsible for Absence of Serious Disasters—Corporations Concerned Over Income Tax Bill—Other News of the State.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, Feb. 8.—The fact that James H. Wilson, of Adair, is formally and earnestly in the race for state railroad commissioner, will preclude the possibility of consideration of the name of John Herriott, with whose fortunes Wilson has been closely linked for many years. In fact, it would be inconceivable that Herriott and Wilson could stand opposed to each other.

During all the period of the rise of Herriott, when as state treasurer he was making for himself a reputation as an insurgent of the most vigorous type, when he was stirring up the old railroad assessment matter much to the dismay of those who feared that "party solidarity" would thus be shaken—Wilson was the right hand man and always earnest counselor of the tall statesman from Guthrie. Wilson will run; Herriott will not.

James M. Boyd, of Sioux City, is looming up big as a candidate for state fish and game warden and he is receiving the backing of the political friends of Governor Carroll in that part of the state. The situation politically at Dubuque is such that in all probability the Dubuque candidate will not receive much consideration. There is also an active candidate in Dickinson county with strong political backing.

If the state of Iowa escapes a mine calamity in a year when such accidents seem to be common it will be largely because of the activity of the best mine inspecting force of any state. Edward Sweeney, in charge of the Des Moines and northern Iowa district, is kept busy in the mines all the time. Owing to the very cold weather, the great rush at the mines, the effort to get coal supply laid up and the most day after night work at Iowa mines, there is very great need of frequent inspection of the mines. This is being done in a thorough way by the three men who have been the past six or seven years in charge of the Iowa mines.

Des Moines banks are planning to lay before the school board a plan for the distribution of school money among all those belonging to the clearing house association. More than $500,000 passes thru this fund in Des Moines yearly.

The school board gets its money from the political pull. The banks do not propose to arrange it so that the school district will get interest on the money but will divide the money and consent to hold it without interest for the benefit of the district. The school board at present the one largest plum for the Des Moines banks as they pay interest on state and county funds.

Heads of large corporations are still much concerned over the new corporation tax which was placed in the bill at the instance of the president prior to his consideration of the income tax bill. They have been making a study of the blanks received and the law and have consulted lawyers. Commercial bodies in Iowa are being urged to make war on the publicity feature of the law, especially that which is only a minor feature, the main matter being payment of the large tax in case the corporation is prosperous. Senator Cummins has given assurance that he is in favor of the repeal of the entire law. He was opposed to it in the first place, because it was not in the bill when he was in office. The bill was to put a stop to consideration of the income tax bill. Senator Dolliver is also opposed to the entire income tax scheme. Both referred to the injustice of the publicity clause at the time the bill was pending in the senate and are not in a position to add anything else. Judge Smith, in order to escape the wrath of the men who do not believe it would help them to have the affairs of all Iowa corporations spread upon public records at Washington, is said to be working very hard to have the clause in effect repealed by an administrative order or construction of the law different from that which is clearly on its face. He has filed a brief or argument with the administration in favor of such change in the law. It is stated that the men responsible for the passage of the tax bill will not listen to any suggestion of a repeal of the corporation law or modification of the publicity clause because of fear that when that is attempted there will be other features of the tariff bill discussed.

Notwithstanding that the whole story was immediately denied by Judge Prouty, the "pipe dream" about Judge Prouty going to Governor Carroll with some sort of a proposal to barter away the rights of others in regard to running for office is still going the rounds. A prominent progressive this week received a letter from a Seventh district county stating that the republicans there were going to punish Prouty for having entered into a conspiracy with standpatners in order to get votes. Not only did Judge Prouty immediately deny the whole story, which was printed in the local standpat organ, but the governor's secretary a week later issued a complete denial. However, the papers that gave publicity to the original fake will not print any retraction, hence the untruth will go on doing its work, as it was intended should be the result, and the truth will never overtake the other story.

The state parole board met today for the purpose of formally taking up the various appeals made to the board for action on sentences. There are 148 applications before the board. Many of these are informal in nature and have little merit. A majority can be disposed of without much consideration. There are twelve cases in which attorneys or representatives have asked to be heard. In only one, so far as known in advance, were plans laid for

RESISTANCE TO ACTION.

This was the case of George Baker, of Montgomery county, convicted of manslaughter, and he pleads for clemency on account of wife and family. Elmer Nowell, of Pottawattamie county, asks for parole from an eighteen-year sentence for second degree murder, the claim being that the victim killed himself at Oakland. W. A. Richards, serving eighteen years for robbery, wants full pardon. Judge Henderson represents him and ex-Congressman Hays has hitherto opposed the pardon. William McPursley, colored, serving for life for rape, from Polk county, wants pardon, and Attorney S. J. Brown will plead for him. The other cases merely ask for an order fixing a limit to the imprisonment.

The Illinois Central railroad has carried to the supreme court the fight to prevent the Fort Dodge interurban from crossing at grade a short distance east of Fort Dodge in order to make a needed extension of the trolley line in that part of the state. Among other things the appellant raises a question as to the right of the state to condemn to make a crossing where the crossing is necessary and proper. The chief contention, however, is that the trolley line has another crossing a mile away and that a grade crossing where indicated would be dangerous.

E. W. Garrett, clerk of the parole board, has received a great many letters especially from staunch republicans in the southern part of the state urging him to be a candidate for clerk of the supreme court, but he is as yet undecided and stated yesterday that he does not know whether he will accept the nomination for the supreme court clerk's office, is also waiting for the turn of affairs before deciding and will certainly not make any announcement until after the present term of court.

Washington, Iowa, Feb. 8.—Smith W. Brookhart, who attracted state-wide attention several years ago by openly defying James W. Blythe, the former political boss of the reservation, announces his candidacy for the republican nomination for congress from the First district. Mr. Brookhart clearly defines the issues and enunciates a platform that is distinctly progressive and opposed to Cannonism. As Congressman Kennedy has allied himself with the cannon forces in Washington, the fight for the nomination will be clear-cut. In his announcement Mr. Brookhart says:

"I stand for the Roosevelt policies with the construction and vigor given them by Roosevelt himself, and I am opposed to the Aldrich-Cannon interpretation of these policies.

"There has grown up in this country a financial oligarchy composed of perhaps less than a hundred men who dominate the great monopolies in railroads, oil, steel, sugar, tobacco, minerals, manufactures and foods. It is now more powerful and therefore more dangerous than the slave-holding oligarchy that preceded the civil war. It is also more secret and elusive and its methods of controlling the press and both parties in congress have but recently come to light. It is now represented in congress by Aldrich and Cannon who yield nothing to the great progressive movement started by Roosevelt and endorsed by Taft, except what is wrung from them by political necessity. The greatest of the Roosevelt policies, is that which seeks to overthrow the political power of this oligarchy to make it subject to the laws of the government, and to turn its swollen fortunes back to the people by graduated taxation.

"The Chicago platform of 1908 is a correct definition of the measure of protection. If congress had strictly followed the platform the tariff agitation would have ended. For future action I favor a tariff commission with the powers demanded by President Taft and a revision from time to time as the facts are obtained.

"I am opposed to ship subsidies and a central bank.

"I favor the postal savings bank, but only upon condition that the postoffice receiving deposits shall redeposit in the nearest banks under proper safeguards.

"Any individual or corporation doing a business under a public franchise or exercising the right of eminent domain, is in the public service and when engaged in interstate commerce, should be subject to government regulation and control. Waterloo, Feb. 8.—Susan A. McAlvin, spinster, 80 years of age and one of the pioneer school teachers of northeastern Iowa, died yesterday at the home of her nephew, Dr. J. G. McAlvin. Death was due to senility of old age, aggravated by recent illness. Some eight weeks ago the decedent fell from a chair, and while no bones were broken she was so badly bruised that she was unable to be up and about and an attack of pneumonia followed. There was recovery from pneumonia, but the wasted constitution was unable to withstand so many shocks and death came.

LETTER DAY SAINTS ADJOURN.

Next Meeting of Western Iowa District in Missouri Valley.

Special to Times-Republican.

Logan, Feb. 8.—The Letter Day Saints meetings of the Little Sioux district in session here since Thursday evening, of Feb. 3, closed Sunday evening. The attendance has been exceptionally good.

A noteworthy feature of the I. D. S. organization is that the different ministers preach the gospel without stipulated salaries; however, the minister and the family are properly looked after by the church organization. One-tenth of the profits or surplus earnings of the members of the church are accorded to the minister as a matter of compulsion but of free will offering. The district agent, A. M. Fyrande of Magnolia, has collected during the year past nearly $5,000 in Woodbury, Monona and Harrison counties.

The Little Sioux district embraces a large territory of western Iowa and has for its president, Sidney Pitt, Sr., of Persia; assistants, Joseph Lane of Pisgah, and James Donaldson of Woodbine; secretary, J. D. Stewart of Magnolia.

There was much rivalry among the different towns of the district over the location of the next place of meeting, yet Missouri Valley was finally selected, the date of the meeting to be June 4, 1910.

Steel Farm Wagons and Trucks

The growing scarcity of oak and hickory wood stock suitable for making farm wagon gears led to the introduction of the New Bettendorf. There are many specially good points claimed for this steel wagon, among which are the following:

Bettendorf steel axles can not be worn, as they are protected against wear by removable sleeves, and hence the original carrying capacity is never decreased. Steel front bolster, steel rear bolster. Steel rear hounds. Steel sand board. Noblets to lose or get loose. No wood parts to shrink. No checking of wood parts. No question of proper seasoning of wood stock. No trouble from climate conditions. It is never too wet or too dry for the Bettendorf steel gears.

WALTHAM WATCHES

The Authentic American Watch

It is a matter of history that the Waltham Watch Company was the first in the world to make watches with interchangeable parts by machinery.

It is a matter of knowledge to all scientific watchmakers that every device and mechanical improvement of importance in the making of watches has originated in the factory of the Waltham Watch Company at Waltham, Massachusetts.

It is a matter of fact that the Waltham Watch Company makes more watches than any other watch company in the world.

It is a matter of general opinion that the Waltham Watch Company makes better watches than any other company in the world.

It is a matter of wisdom to buy a Waltham Watch adjusted to temperature and position and to buy only of a reliable retail jeweler.
