

TEN YEARS' TEST OF ECZEMA CURE

After a ten years' test, oil of wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, has so thoroughly, so absolutely proven its merit for skin diseases, that we have arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer on a 25-cent trial bottle.

We ourselves became convinced years ago. Cures after cure and the testimony of the world's leading skin specialists showed us that the way to cure the skin is thru the skin; not, however, by means of a salve which always clogs the outer skin, but with a penetrating liquid that gets to the inner skin, killing the germs while soothing the healthy tissue.

The Oil of Wintergreen Compound, D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates while soothing the skin; and a 25-cent bottle—a good sized trial bottle—is now offered, besides the $1 bottles, in order to convince everybody. For this trial bottle ought to be enough to show the way to the cure, and at any rate the liquid the instant it is applied will take away that itching, just as soon as the wash is applied, the skin is soothed and refreshed.

JOSEPH TUFFREE 100; RECEIVED INTO ELKS'

Marshalltown's Oldest Citizen Is Initiated Into Local Lodge at Special Session Held in New Elks' Home.

CENTURY MARK ROUNDS OUT CAREER

Without Doubt Marshalltown Man, by Today's Ceremonies, Becomes Oldest Elk in the World--Tuffree Had Last Sick Spell at Pittsburg, Pa., Over Seventy-Three Years Ago--Used Tobacco For Eighty-One Years--Life-Long Republican, and Cast First Vote For Henry Clay--Interesting Incidents and Sketch of His Career--Reception to Friends From 4 This Afternoon Until 9 Tonight--Big Family Dinner Held at Noon.

Surrounded by his children, grand children, and great grand children Joseph Tuffree, the pioneer real estate man of this city, and the oldest man in Marshall county, celebrated the 100th anniversary of his birth at his home, 203 South First street, today.

At 9:30 this morning, for the first time in the new $9,000 home of Marshall Lodge, No. 312, B. P. O. E., a session of the lodge was held, at which Mr. Tuffree accepted the obligations of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, and was initiated into the full privileges of membership.

Is Oldest Elk in World.

Without any doubt Mr. Tuffree is the oldest Elk in the world. That distinction as far as Iowa is concerned has been obtained by Dr. H. C. McClurg, of Des Moines, a former member of the Iowa Soldiers' Home in this city. Dr. McClurg, a few weeks ago, celebrated his 80th anniversary. So far as any of the members of the Elks' lodge in this city are informed, and they have taken special pains within recent weeks to post themselves on old Elks, Mr. Tuffree is entitled to the distinction, and Marshall lodge the honor of having him within its membership.

Used Tobacco Eighty-One Years.

Whatever may be the difference of opinion as to the use of tobacco affecting longevity, Mr. Tuffree's case will oppose the statements of most scientists. Mr. Tuffree began using tobacco when 12 years old, and for eighty-one years he used it both in the form of smoking and chewing. He gave up the weed seven years ago, however, without any inconvenience whatever.

Memory Clear; Mind Active.

Mr. Tuffree is remarkably well preserved. His memory is clear, not only on affairs that happened many years ago, as is the case with most people, but with the events of more recent years. His mind is active, as may be imagined from the fact that he is in his office every day, looking after his own business affairs. His hearing is as acute as would be the case in any normal person of half the age, and it is not uncommon for Mr. Tuffree to remind those with whom he is talking that they need not speak any louder to him than they would to make themselves heard. In fact the members of the family say "Father's hearing is altogether too good at times."

Last Sickness Over Seventy Years Ago.

Mr. Tuffree's last illness was over seventy-three years ago in Pittsburg, Pa., where he landed in the fall of 1836. He had been bothered for several years in the fall, with an acute stomach trouble, which was believed to have been due to malarial conditions. He had a hard attack upon reaching Pittsburg, and went to see Dr. Speer, of the then prominent physicians of Pittsburg. Dr. Speer treated him and Mr. Tuffree has never seen a day since that he was not able to place his feet under the table and eat his meals because of illness. The old doctor who treated him died fifteen years ago.

Early Business Man of Pittsburg.

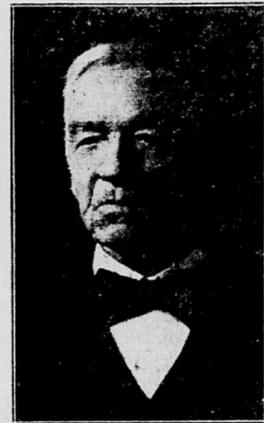

Mr. Tuffree was one of the early business men of Pittsburg, where for ten years, from 1836 until 1846, he was engaged in the grocery and bakery business. His little store was on what was then known as Penn street, but now is designated under the more dignified title of Penn avenue. After he had been in business on Penn street a few years he moved into the "diamond" the heart of the market center. There he remained until he had an opportunity to dispose of his business at a good profit.

Moves to Greene County.

After disposing of his business at Pittsburg Mr. Tuffree moved into Greene county, at a village then known as Jacksonville, situated on the main pike from Wayneburg, the county seat. Here Mr. Tuffree opened a general store, and later built a public house, or tavern, which he operated for three years and sold. This was the first public house in the town.

In the days when Mr. Tuffree went to Pittsburg there was not a railroad into the city. There was a short line of railway from Philadelphia to Columbia, on the Susquehanna river, and this route was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Tuffree. From Columbia they entered Pittsburg thru a canal that had been built between the two towns.

The landing of Mr. and Mrs. Tuffree in Pittsburg, where they prospered, was more of an accident than anything else, and was due to the fact that Mrs. Tuffree was taken ill on the journey. The original destination of the couple, upon leaving the east, was Missouri, but when Mr. and Mrs. Tuffree got as far as Pittsburg it was not considered advisable to proceed farther owing to Mrs. Tuffree's illness. The couple liked the town after being there on their enforced stay, and decided to remain, and the first twenty years of their married life were spent there and in the adjoining Greene county.

Life-Long Republican.

Mr. Tuffree has been a life-long republican in politics, and never cast any other vote than republican, or the party from whence the republican party grew—the white or national republican. Mr. Tuffree says that he is a republican, of the type of McKinley, Henderson, and Allison—but he is not a standpatter. Mr. Tuffree cast his first vote at the age of 23, in 1823, voting for Henry Clay, the national republican candidate, who was defeated by Andrew Jackson.

Native of Delaware.

The man who today celebrated the 100th anniversary of his birth first saw the light of day in Newcastle county, Delaware, on Feb. 10, 1810. He spent his boyhood and young manhood in his native state and Maryland, and at Elkton, Md., on Aug. 4, 1835, claimed as his bride Miss Mary Woolston. Mrs. Tuffree died in this city in 1894, after spending the years from 1835 to 1853 in Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. Tuffree left for what was then Virginia, and settled in a small village twelve miles south of Wheeling, known familiarly in the Virginia country by four names—Mountsville, Elizabethtown, The Flats and Grave Creek.

Came to Iowa in 1856.

Mr. and Mrs. Tuffree remained in Virginia only a year, and then came to this country, arriving at Edenville, now Rhodes, in the spring of 1856. For twenty years Mr. Tuffree farmed one and one-half miles northeast of Rhodes, and upon giving up farm life moved to this city in 1879, and engaged in the real estate business. He has continued in this business ever since, and today is considered as one who is exceptionally well posted on land values.

Is a Fighter.

That Joseph Tuffree is a fighter was evidenced in the last lawsuit that he had in the district court. One year ago today, on his 99th anniversary, Mr. Tuffree was in court, as plaintiff for the third time in the trial of a case brought against John Q. Saint, former postmaster, for $150 commission for the sale of Saint's residence property. The first trial of the case resulted in a disagreement; the second in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $20 and costs. The third trial resulted in a clear victory for Mr. Tuffree, who was awarded the full amount of his claim and the interest.

Informal Reception For Friends.

At the Tuffree residence from 4 this afternoon until 9 o'clock tonight, Mr. Tuffree will be at home to his friends, holding an informal reception. Congratulations by letter and telephone have been pouring into the home all day, and the best wishes on the part of friends and citizens have been showered on Marshalltown's oldest resident.

At noon today a family dinner was served to a large company of relatives by Mrs. Belle Read, Mr. Tuffree's daughter, assisted by her sister, Miss Jennie Tuffree, and nieces, Mrs. Edward Lynch and Miss May Smith. Mr. Tuffree has seven living children, the only death in his family, aside from Mrs. Tuffree, having been a daughter, Mrs. Julian H. Smith, who passed away last May. The living children are Edmund Tuffree, Francis Tuffree, Joseph C. Tuffree, Elmer A. Tuffree, Mrs. Della Read, Mrs. O. J. Worley, and Miss Jennie Tuffree. All of the children reside in this city, with the exception of Mrs. Belle Read, who lives in Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Tuffree also has nineteen grandchildren, and nine great grandchildren. All of Mr. Tuf-free's children excepting the California son, and all of his grandchildren with the exception of five, were here today to help the centenarian celebrate his anniversary. Two of the great grandchildren were also present.

MARRIED.

Grace-Stevens. A home wedding, very quiet owing to the recent illness of the bride's mother, was celebrated Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. E. C. Austin, 206 East Webster street, when her daughter, Miss Myrtle Stevens, became the wife of Mr. Claud M. Grace, of Glenwood Springs, Colo. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. S. E. Ellis, of the Methodist church, in the presence of about twenty relatives and near friends. The bride's dress was of blue swiss.

Following the ceremony, a three-course lunch was served by Mrs. Austin, assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. W. Sylvester, of Fort Dodge, and Mrs. George Willigrod. The decorations were of red and white in the dining room, and pink in the parlor. Carnations were the flowers used.

Mrs. Grace has been a resident of this city for the greater part of her life. She studied to be a nurse in the Methodist hospital, Des Moines, for about eighteen months, prior to a year ago, but did not graduate in the profession. Mr. Grace is a ranchman near Glenwood Springs, where they expect to arrive in about two weeks. The couple will leave this city next Thursday, and will visit a few days in Cedar Rapids and Fort Dodge before going on to Glenwood Springs.

Granger-Wheeler.

Mr. George F. Granger and Miss Lulu Wheeler, both of Colo, were married at the office of the officiating justice, S. E. Peck, Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Granger is a farmer. The couple will live on a farm near Colo.

UNIONS ESPOUSE CAUSE OF GIRLS

LABOR ORGANIZATIONS TO CALL ON BUSINESS MEN TO TAKE OUT TELEPHONES.

CENTRAL SHOPMEN BACK OF MOVEMENT

Committee of Union Men to Call on Friends Among Merchants and Business Houses, and Ask That They Lend Support to Striking Operators by Removing 'Phones.

That some of the labor unions of the city are to espouse the cause of the striking telephone operators, and use their influence to induce merchants and business men to remove their telephones from their places of business, in lending their support to the operators, is said to be the next move in the telephone strike's situation.

A member of a leading labor organization is authority for the statement that the shopmen of the Iowa Central, who are strongly organized, have decided to stand by the girls and have appointed a committee to wait upon the business men within the next few days and ask that the telephones be taken out.

Superintendent Bove was asked today if he knew of such a movement, and said that he did not. When asked what effect such a movement might have on the situation he replied that he did not see how it would be materially affected. "All that we could do if a subscriber wants his telephone removed is to remove it," said the superintendent. "If the business man can't get along without his telephone we will have to get along without his business."

Girls Distribute Circulars.

Under the signatures of the operators' Imperial Union, which the striking operators have formed, circulars have been distributed generally throughout the city. It is addressed to telephone subscribers, outlines the girls' side of the case and the increase in wages asked, and pleads for the moral support of all subscribers.

In the Police Court.

W. M. Ryan, of Chicago, and J. P. Christ, of Chicago, who were arrested for vagrancy, were sent to jail for ten days by Justice Millard Wednesday evening.

George Davis, of Montour, who was arrested for threatening to shoot J. S. Erwin, of Tama, according to the complaint in Justice Peck's court, was arraigned this morning. He pleaded not guilty and the case was taken to Justice Millard's court on a charge of venue.
