

SHARP WHEAT RALLY

AFTER RATHER WEAK OPENING PRICES ADVANCED FROM $1.12 1/2 TO $1.13 3/4

BEARISH CONDITIONS ABROAD WERE IGNORED

Scant Offerings and Recurrence of Crop Damage Aided Bullish Sentiment—Corn Strong at Start, Frequent Buying Orders Offsetting Large Arrivals and Stocks

Chicago, Feb. 16.—In the last fifteen minutes of trading today May wheat boomed, the price being 2 cents higher at the close than the final figures yesterday. The cause was large purchases by an influential concern. May closed at $1.14 1/2 @ 1.14 3/4. May pork advanced to $23.50 and closed at $23.55.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Wheat rallied sharply in early trading, after a rather weak opening. May opened at 112 1/2 @ 112 3/4 and advanced to 113 1/4 @ 113 3/4. Bearish conditions abroad were ignored and scant offerings, coupled with a recurrence of crop damage reports, helped along the bullish sentiment. Receipts in Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth were 324 cars.

The market continued strong and in the final minutes advanced 1 cent, influenced directly by the purchase of a large quantity for May delivery by an influential concern. The advance all around was from 1/4 to 3/4. The market closed strong, with May 2 cents higher at 114 1/2 @ 114 3/4.

Corn at the outset showed symptoms of strength. Buying orders were frequent and counterbalanced the bearish effect of large arrivals and rapidly accumulating stocks. May opened at 67 1/2 @ 67 3/4. Futures advanced from 3/4 to 1/2 in the early trading and steadied at the higher levels. Receipts were 467 cars.

Corn closed strong at practically the high point, with May 3/4 higher at 68 1/2 @ 68 3/4.

Oats. A good demand in oats changed a start to a firm market in the early trading. May opened at 47 1/2 and advanced to 48. Receipts were 199 cars.

Provisions. Fairly good commission buying, supported by the present high prices for live hogs, made itself felt in the provisions pit, although the start was weaker than it has been of late. In the early trading prices gained generally 5 cents.

SALOONS OUT, WATER IN. Hudson, O., Votes to Go Dry in Order to Get Water. Chicago, Feb. 15.—In order to be properly watered, the town of Hudson, O., yesterday voted to be thoroughly dry. This seeming anomaly was the result of an offer by James William Ellsworth, formerly a prominent resident of Chicago, to make a gift to the village of a water, sewerage and lighting system providing saloons were rigidly excluded.

When the ballots were counted last night it developed that the "drys" had won a signal victory by a vote of 162 to 97. Two years ago the town went dry by a wide margin on practically the same issue, but when a petition for a second election was circulated recently by the advocates of saloons, the town council was compelled, as a result of the state law, to give the voters another chance to record their sentiments at the ballot box. The members of the "wet" element argued that every resident of the village was dissatisfied because Ellsworth had done little in the way of carrying out his promises.

W. Y. C. A. Campaign Successful. Des Moines, Feb. 15.—The W. Y. C. A. closed its membership campaign for a thousand new members Sunday night. The reports showed that it has gained considerably more than this number. The exact number is not known, as all the reports have not been checked up. Miss Jennie Park's team was the winning team, with Miss Joyce Tobin's team a close second.

Increase in State Wards. Des Moines, Feb. 15.—There was an increase of over 400 patients in the fifteen state institutions during the last quarter. This increase does not take into consideration the fact that at the state school for the deaf at Council Bluffs there were over 200 new students. The term of school did not open until the beginning of the quarter.

Delay in Sunday Theater Case. Cedar Rapids, Feb. 15.—The city council was served with notice Monday of an order issued by the supreme court in the theatrical case restraining the council from passing an ordinance prohibiting Sunday performances. It is supposed a final hearing can not be had for a couple of years.

Talent of Success. The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, without a thought of fame. If it comes at all, it will come because it is deserved, not because it is sought after. It is very indiscreet and troublesome ambition which cares so much about fame, about what the world says of us, as to be always looking in the faces of others for approval, to be always anxious about the effect of what we do or say, to be always shouting to hear the echoes of our own voices.

Substitute for Gold. In France a substitute for gold has been afforded by combining 94 parts of copper and 6 parts of antimony and adding a little magnesium carbonate to increase the weight. It is said that this alloy can be drawn, wrought and soldered much like true gold, and that it also receives and retains a golden polish. It is worth about 25 cents a pound.

Wonder of Mechanism. A German shoemaker spent 15 years of his leisure moments in constructing a clock of the grandfather shape, nearly six feet high, made entirely of straw. The wheels, pointers, case and every detail are exclusively of straw. The most remarkable fact is that it is reported to keep perfect time, though the durability of this strange piece of mechanism is a matter of doubt.

The Ant-Hill Epoch. The age of great men is going; the epoch of the ant hill, of life in multiplicity, is beginning. The century of individualism, if abstract equality triumphs, runs a great risk of seeing no more true individuals. By continual leveling and division of labor society will become everything and man nothing.—Amiel's Journal.

Utilizing His Creditor. "Seems to me little Juggins is cutting a wide swath for a man of small means. Has he struck oil recently?" asked Harkaway. "Oh, no," laughed Robinson. "He's a good manager. He makes a little creditor go a long ways."—Harpers Weekly.

ROW OVER SICKLES

HOUSE COMMITTEE DIVIDED ON MORE HONORS FOR "GENERAL DAN."

PLAN TO GIVE NEW TITLE PRECIPITATES A FIGHT

Minority of House Committee Believes Sickles Has Had Enough Honors and Sufficient Salary—Dewey Shines as an Entertainer—Washington Gossip.

[Special Correspondence.] Washington, Feb. 14.—The house committee on military affairs is divided on the question of paying honor to Gen. Daniel Sickles, the civil war hero, who fought valiantly at Gettysburg and left a leg on that bloody field.

The committee by majority vote has decided to report favorably a bill to promote General Sickles to the grade of lieutenant general retired. He is now a major general. A minority report opposes his promotion.

It is not that anyone of the committee opposes the idea that General Sickles is entitled to high honor. But some of them, including the chairman, Representative Hull, think General Sickles has already had honors enough. He was made a major general for his services at Gettysburg. He has been a member of congress and was minister to Spain. He now receives $6,500 a year and would get $25,000 a year more if made a lieutenant general.

Many a soldier who lost a leg in the civil war would be glad to be getting a small part of what General Sickles is receiving.

On the other hand, General Sickles is one of the last surviving generals of the civil war and it will not be easy to resist the sentiment in favor of "fighting Dan" when the bill gets into the house.

Senator Dewey, of New York, is one of the best hosts in congress. Folks who go to the Dewey home generally want to go again. The reception which was given there at the time of the visit of the New York editors to Washington recently, is being much commented on. It does not often happen that one can meet at a Washington home or any other home outside of New York, a man who can talk so well as Senator Dewey. He is the vice president of the house and various other officials and statesmen of high degree. It happened at the Dewey home and Senator Dewey was much pleased over it, as he had the right to be.

February is a great month for the member of congress who has any reputation as an orator. He is almost certain to be deluged with invitations to speak on various occasions. Above all, on Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, and on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22. These invitations come all the way from Maine to California. A large number of senators and representatives accept invitations to speak on these days and the consequence is that the attendance in congress about that time is slim.

Former Representative "Jim" Watson of Indiana, has been back in Washington lately, looking up old friends about the capitol. As republican whip in the senate, he has had a great success, a bright and shining light. He could sing a Methodist hymn with the Methodists and—well, he could refrain from singing hymns if forced into company that made it seem essential. He was, in short, a good mixer. As a wit, he beat John Dwight of New York not less than one block and some folks say two. Dwight is not able to go around to "the boys" and consult their wishes the way Watson used to do it. Moreover, the relations of Watson and a number of the house demagogues were most excellent and he could generally draw on them for reinforcements when in a tight hole.

Gladstone's Literary Ambitions. Gladstone's literary aims never failed to annoy Sir Robert Peel. That literature would seduce Gladstone from politics was his fear. Lord Houghton, for instance, related how he was at Drayton when "Church and State" reached Sir Robert. Peel hastily turned over the pages and threw the book on the floor with the exclamation: "That young man will ruin his fine political career if he persists in writing trash like this." And on another occasion he marveled that a man with a career before him should want to write books.

Iron Cross of Prussia. The iron cross is the Prussian order of knighthood instituted March 10, 1813, by Frederick William III, and conferred for distinguished services in the war when carried on. The decoration is an iron cross with silver mounting. The grand cross is one of double size, presented exclusively for the gaining of a decisive battle or the capture or brave defense of a fortress.

The Anchor of Good Literature. What is, of all books, the world's "best seller"? It will astonish some persons, it will do the hearts of multitudes good, to learn that each year there are printed and sold 17,000,000 Bibles, giving that book an indisputable lead over all its possible competitors. There is still hope for our literature.

Drawback. The Alpine guide waxed eloquent. "Behold," he cried, "yon beetling crags!" "They bode for everybody though!" "They bode in the rich American, and suddenly spat in token of his discontent. It was not true, however, that he lacked appreciation of the beautiful and the sublime, provided these were costly and exclusive.—Fuck.

Heir to Wealth Works Hard. Twenty years ago J. P. Morgan, Jr. began working as a shipping clerk with Drexel, Morgan & Co. Later he became executive head of his father's London house. He assisted in organizing the London Underground and the International Mercantile Marine Company—the so-called "ship trust." He is a director of both the above companies, of the United States Steel Corporation, the Northern Pacific railway, Acadia Coal Company and of the North British Mercantile Insurance Company.

Bread in Politics. From the days of Joseph down the only well populated country which had enough grain to satisfy its own consumers was Egypt, rich beyond the record of any other soil this side of Paradise. Ferrero, in his history of Rome, shows the transcendent political importance of corn in all times. Feed your people, king or demagogue else they will overthrow you. For the masses from further antiquity to most recent days, there has never been any torch of dissatisfaction, rebellion and anarchy like a shortage of bread.

Wants Autos to Fight Fire. Chief Wagner of Washington's fire department is agitating for automobile fire-fighting apparatus, and has officially recommended it to the commissioners of the District of Columbia. Chief Wagner reports that in Springfield, Mass., one automobile engine was operated from July 15 to August 14, in which time it responded to 47 alarms, traveled nearly 240 miles and cost the department for that time only $11.41. He holds that this is a conclusive argument in favor of the motor vehicle as against the picturesque, but slower, horse-drawn engine.

Local Livestock Market. Marshalltown prices on livestock were quoted by Britain & Co., today as follows, and farmers are requested to telephone the packing house for selling hogs, cattle or sheep anywhere:

CATTLE. Good fat cows and heifers—2.50 @ 3.00. Fair cows and heifers—2.00 @ 2.75. Poor cows and heifers—2.00 @ 2.75. Veals—4.00 @ 5.00. Good veal, over 250 lbs.—3.50. Bulls—2.50 @ 3.00.

HOGS. Premium, over 200—8.40. Premium, 150 to 200—8.30. Premium, 100 to 150—8.05. Premium, 50 to 100—7.75. Good packers—8.30.

New Work For Farm Boys. (Inter Ocean.) About eleven years ago the heads of the College of Agriculture of Cornell University conceived the plan of organizing the boys and girls of New York state into agricultural clubs. The boys quickly responded to the idea of having corn-growing contests and the girls were more than willing to show what they could do in the line of bread-making and sewing.

Today more than 350,000 boys and girls in the United States are enrolled in junior agricultural clubs. In their various contests they are learning the reasons for success and failure in growing various crops. In the dairy, the poultry yard, and in the kitchen and all parts of the home.

In New York state, where the idea originated, there are 75,000 children in the junior agricultural clubs organized in every county to study the raising of corn, vegetables, fruit and poultry and how to cook and sew. Nebraska ranks second, with 25,000 children in junior agricultural clubs, organized in fifty-nine out of the ninety-one counties in the state. North Dakota, Ohio, Mississippi and Indiana each has about 5,000 children in these clubs.
