No. 110 Secretary.

THE CALL FOR PINCHOT.

Mr. Theodore Roosevelt has cabled Gifford Pinchot to meet him in London. Mr. Pinchot is on a vessel en route to the strait. That is all but it is enough. Bang! How these sudden explosions shake the nerve!

It will be considered significant that Mr. Roosevelt should send for Pinchot. Both parties to the controversy will see the same significance. It is extremely natural that Roosevelt should send for Pinchot. He knows and trusts him.

The return from Elba is then to be with maps and information furnished by friends instead of enemies of the Roosevelt public policies.

THE WAY OUT OF IT.

Long before the advent of anything like those dire days when we will starve to death for sheer lack of provisions, so often and so seriously predicted by Jim Hill and others, we will learn something of how to make the soil give up its richest.

Perhaps that 640 was farmed with rare slovenliness. It is more likely that the fifteen acres is farmed with rare tidiness. If this reformation is to be extended all over the country how long will it be until consumptive capacity overtakes productive and the labyrinthic prophecies of the Jim Hill come true?

We are a wasteful and extravagant people. Nowhere is this more in evidence than in our farming. This is inherent in our circumstances as a new country, comparatively sparsely settled.

Topics of the Times

It is only an incident but it points to the universal spirit of improvement which has come over Iowa as the result of the law enforcement policies of the present attorney general of the state. Weed laws we had in Iowa for years. But it has remained for this year to see the road supervisors and township trustees of the various counties of the state coming together to consider practical methods for eradicating weeds, pursuant to a command from the attorney general's office.

near the present administration for their candidate. The regulars will now show more respect and even consideration for their insurgent brethren. A good, sound thrashing often has this effect upon a bully.

Now a man can afford to boycott meat for the hens are working. Why don't men pursue their boycotts when eggs are cheap and why don't hens lay when eggs are high?

George Lincoln has made a very efficient game warden for the state and the wonder is that he was reappointed under the present administration. He has, at times, been a progressive.

If John Cowmie would now run for congress in the Second district we could forgive him for resigning from the board of control.

If the state of Iowa has $350,000 due from the federal government for rural purposes, the governor who called the good roads convention should go after the money. It seems that when the state was admitted to the union in 1845, a clause in the admission act gave Iowa 5 per cent of the returns for government land sold within the state.

Those newspapers which made the most noise against Canadian reciprocity now seem to be the most badly worried over the danger of Canada raising her tariff on goods from the states as a retaliatory measure.

The Davenport newspapers are calling for men experienced in city government. As a rule such men are the ones whose destruction is necessary to accomplish reform. What we need is men experienced in business who will give some of their time to city affairs.

In many townships in Iowa they contract their road dragging to farmers and pay cash for the work. In these townships they have good roads.

Will it snow again this spring? That is the question uppermost in the minds of the retired farmers who would be a garden and of the town sport who wants to get into a duck blind.

This is the time of the year for communities to organize their outing clubs if they have no city parks. Nothing can afford such wholesome and healthful entertainment as an outing club with grounds located on a lake if possible, otherwise in the natural timber nearby.

Cannon now shoots nothing but blanks. They say that if Chicago were to go prohibition, the city would be bankrupt. So then the saloonkeeper is only the taxgatherer in disguise?

Uncle Joe now knows what it is to be disciplined. It is so different when the other fellow wields the gad.

The horse beat the automobile to the $200 mark. You can get $200 for a fair horse nowadays, but you can't get a fair automobile for $200.

For awhile the house thought of getting an automobile for Uncle Joe; then they decided to make it a toboggan.

No, it's a different Aldridge, the one in the New York fire insurance scandal; spells it different, too, and probably no near blood kin; only related by fellow feeling it seems.

standard in matters of business management, he'll be no common politician," ventures the Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

"A powerful minority of the dominant party has appeared in both the senate and the house," says the Burlington Gazette, "and honest minority trying with might and main to fulfill the will of their own constituents and the American people."

"A great many mothers feel it to be their main object in life to dress their daughters better than the neighbors," says the Ottumwa Courier. "Just as a great many fathers who succeeded by hard work deaden every spark of energy in their sons by their attempts to give these sons 'advantages.'"

To the Sioux City Tribune it seems "That now, while the spiff is strong, the house should advance one step farther; it should take over to itself the appointment of all its committees. To have grasped the power to create and control the puissant rules committee is much, but it still leaves to a speaker with a tyrant's disposition too great a source of agrandizement in the appointment of other committees. With that power and that disposition he can and will barter and log roll and grow again."

"Men like Thomas C. Platt deem their word of the first importance. Not because they are really honest, but if their word is null, they can not secure support by promises. The late Joseph Rhyne was such a man. He always did as he agreed and when a legislator of Iowa had the promise of Mr. Blythe for anything, he got it if it were in the power of Mr. Blythe to grant it. The order of things is wiping out this feature of political life," declares the Webster City Freeman-Tribune.

GENERAL EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Competition may be, as the Standard's counsel asserts, what General Sherman called war, but monopoly is even more so for the defenseless consumer.—Indianapolis News.

Six hundred thousand feet of lumber were burned in Maryland the other day, which included about four-fifths of the state's available supply.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Some of the democrats say it will be just as well if they do not capture the next house. Many a true word is spoken from the chest.—Washington Post.

You have to show the governor of Georgia. He is an author and knows what's what as well as who's who.—Charleston News and Courier.

Roosevelt should time his coming so as to give the world a chance to see the comet.—Atlanta Constitution.

President Ripley, of the Santa Fe says the railroad is between the devil and the deep sea. Some of them have recently been under disconcerting snow slides.—Chicago Record Herald.

Outside Point of View

The first fifteen days of the month of March, 1910, were a bad one for the weather prophets both great and small. Reading of the almanacs that never failed before, is funny business. The "bad storms from the 8th to 12th" were not on time. Fifteen days of sunshine every day is the record of central Iowa. Even the most great weather prophets were utterly discredited. We had a change in the moon, we had a new moon and still no change in the weather, the sun shining day after day. Nothing like it has ever been known in Iowa. The oldest inhabitant is silenced. But will all the almanacs of the neighborhood weather prophets? Not much. A month from now he will be pressing the moon into service again.

There's a curious political condition Iowa these days. In towns so strongly republican that a democrat has no chance to be elected coroner or constable, there's an open criticism of President Taft's political actions and policy that has the smell of democracy. It is not considered heresy for extreme and radical republicans to assert they will not vote for Taft next time, even if he is nominated. The only mistake in this connection is that the mistake is not general or expressed opinion that he is dishonest or a carry-out of his public policies with only the best of motives. Collier's, last week, dubbed him "an easy mark," referring to the Ballinger controversy. This only half expresses the public sentiment in Iowa. Jelly fish, another expression, does not cover the case. He is not a "weak man" exactly. Due credit is given him, for his work in the Philippines, in Cuba, and as an upright judge. The only mistake is that in this country over "the mistakes of Moses." Now a magazine article on the mistakes of Taft would find equal appreciation. His record as president so far is a series of mistakes. He seems to lack the faculty of feeling the public pulse. He made a mistake in his Winona speech and a worse one in six months after reiterating the same sentiments on a public occasion, when it was entirely unnecessary and uncalled for. He wrote a letter or rather two letters, endorsing both Pinchot and Ballinger. The first he had to remove for insubordination and the latter he will have to ask to resign, or place himself on record as keeping a man in his cabinet who has proven by unimpeachable, sworn-to evidence, to be dishonest, a grafter and a tool of the land grabbers of Alaska.

Incidentally, he has shown his lack of political acumen by his attitude toward the republican state of Iowa. Here is a state that at any time can give a republican candidate a hundred thousand majority. A state where the "insurgents" have two powerful U. S. senators and a big majority in the house of representatives, also so labeled. Admitting President Taft's perfect right to line up with the stand-patters, not dispensing his private and public right to praise Aldrich and defend Cannonism, yet if he had "an ounce of (political) sense," he would know better, than to call in Chairman McKinley, of California, Peter Hepburn and Congressman Smith, three dink stand-patters—to get advice on how to deal with the situation in Iowa. To complete the full misinformation he received from these three men, he should have sent for John F. Lacey and Uncle George D. Perkins, of Sioux City. As some one has said what they don't know about political conditions in Iowa would fill a big book.

gard to public sentiment is shown in the effort and determination of Mrs. Carroll to make sex literature and teaching a part of our public school system. There is not only no demand for such work, but a most decided and expressed opposition to it. Not only are the members of our school boards lining up against any such course of study, but teachers everywhere are saying that under no circumstances will they make it a part of their teaching. All this is not touching on the merits of the question. It is simply to tell Mrs. Carroll and those in her wake that Iowa does not want any public school instruction on these subjects. It may be there is need of it, but it is not doing their duty in this matter, just the same, said parents are not going to have any such course of study or lectures in our public schools.

THE DEVIL ONLY KNOWS? [Fayette Post Card.] It looks to us "thisaway," as an Indiana orator would say, that the oncoming political campaign in Iowa will be about as warm and perhaps as disgusting as many bull fights that have preceded it.
