WRECK DEATH LIST NOW NUMBERS FIFTY

L. M. WALLIN, WASHBURN, N. D., SUCUMB TO INJURIES AT HOSPITAL.

HEMORRHAGE OF LUNG CAUSES MAN'S DEATH

Broken Rib Punctures Pleura, and End Comes Early This Morning—Other Injured Doing as Well as Could Be Expected—Dr. Newman's Case Now Considered Most Serious.

An even half hundred now comprises the total number of dead as a result of Monday's wreck near Green Mountain. L. M. Wallin, the Washburn, N. D. man who has been in a critical condition ever since the wreck, succumbed to his injuries at St. Thomas hospital early this morning.

Mr. Wallin's injuries were known to be serious from the start, and night and day special nurses have been provided him. The man's injuries consisted of a fractured skull and a crushed chest. One of his ribs had been broken and had punctured the pleura. This caused a hemorrhage of the lungs, and death resulted from this immediate cause.

Mr. Wallin was 57 years old, and was in the shoe and millinery business at Washburn. Formerly he was in the drug business. He was quite well to do.

Accompanied by Mrs. Wallin the body left the city at 9:50 this morning, and it is expected that Mrs. Wallin will reach Washburn Monday forenoon. Cosmopolitan Lodge, No. 33, Knights of Pythias, delegated Charles Ambaid to accompany Mrs. Wallin and the body as far as St. Paul. Mr. Wallin was a member of the Washburn Knights of Pythias lodge. Mrs. Wallin has a brother, Peter Johnson, who is a lieutenant of police at Gargona, Canal Zone, where several Marshalltown people are now employed. Mr. Johnson has been notified of his brother-in-law's death by local Pythians.

Condition of the Injured. The most serious case now remaining at the hospital is that of Dr. G. W. Newman, of Mt. Vernon, Mo. Dr. Newman had a restless night, and was not much better this morning.

Jay Switzer, of Waterloo, also had a bad night, but this morning is slightly improved. Switzer began to run a temperature beginning about 5 o'clock Friday evening, and until 11 o'clock some anxiety was felt in his case. The young man's temperature reached 102, but this morning had gone down to 99.

Mrs. William Tietz, of Reinbeck; Misses Irene Cowan and Florence Winn, of Waterloo; Paul Swift, of Waterloo; Miss Olga Swanson, of Vinton; and William Moody, of Red Cedar, Wis., are all better today. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. McDonald, of Perth, N. D., are also improved. G. W. Thompson, of Vinton; and Frank Swanson, of Wilton, N. D., are both doing nicely.

Mrs. Lem Patterson, of Louisiana, Mo., and Mrs. S. C. Gray, of Minneapolis, who are at the Singleton hospital, are also improving.

G. W. Peterson, the Cedar Rapids linehaul, was discharged from St. Thomas Friday afternoon and returned to his home.

With the death of Wallin and the discharge of Peterson the number of injured in St. Thomas hospital stands at twelve. The two at the Singleton hospital make fourteen of the wreck injured still in the hospitals.

RAILROAD MEN INTERESTED.

Big Wreck of Monday Still Topic of Conversation in Yards.

The railroad men of the city have been deeply interested in the scenes surrounding the big wreck of Monday, and the wreck still continues to be the general topic of conversation in the railroad yards.

Railroad men generally agree on one point, and that is that the train was backing entirely too fast. Another point agreed upon is that the train was improperly made up, in the fact that lighter equipment was placed between the engines and the heavier steel frame Pullmans.

Miles Kelleher, one of the oldest engineers on the Iowa Central, who lacked one day of having seen thirty years of active road service when he was injured by a breaking side rod, says that he never saw the equal of the wreck of Monday.

Mr. Kelleher ventures the opinion that if two trains, running sixty miles an hour, collided, the death loss would not have been as great as it was at Green Mountain. Mr. Kelleher says that he had always refused to back up any train unless it was understood that he was to go very slowly. Many times he refused to accept an order to back unless the order was in writing. Kelleher does not think that Engineer Robinson was exceeding the speed limit, and that the report that the train was running forty-five miles an hour is in error. Mr. Kelleher says that the order was not to exceed twenty-five miles an hour, and he thinks that this was about the speed that was being maintained.

Another fault that Engineer Kelleher sees in sending the Rock Island train over the Great Western tracks was that an engineer should have been dispatched as pilot rather than a conductor. Kelleher says that no conductor or brakeman could possibly know the bad places in the track as well as an engineer. In the coaches or cabooses the jar is not felt as it is on the engine, while an engineer knows every soft piece of track and every bad hole. Mr. Kelleher also says that not only should the pilot of a foreign train be an engineer, but he should be an engineer on the division over which the foreign train is being piloted.

Primary Candidates of Marshall County

A. A. NICHOLSON, Present Sheriff Who Seeks Renomination at Primary.

Alva A. Nicholson, sheriff of Marshall county, makes public today the announcement of his candidacy for renomination before the June primaries. Mr. Nicholson is now on the last year of his first term, and is asking renomination not only because of the usual custom in this county, but because he feels that he has given a successful administration of his office.

Mr. Nicholson is widely known in the county, and is a member of one of the old families of Marion township—a son of Joel L. Nicholson. Mr. Nicholson's record as a peace officer extends into his boyhood, as is generally known by the older residents of the county. It was the capture of "Jack" Harkaway, on July 9, 1892, at first brought Alva Nicholson into public notice. Harkaway, who had robbed the Whitacre general store at Albion, broke jail in company with a man named Woods, who was in jail for liquor nuisance, and a Grundy county horse thief who was in the custody of Sheriff Pence, and for safe keeping, Sheriff Pence swore in many deputies, and Will and Alva Nicholson were among those who were looking thru the river bottoms near their own town, five miles northeast of town.

Will and Alva Nicholson came across Harkaway in the woods, at about 9 o'clock at night, and recognized him from his description. The young man called on him to halt, and in grappling with him, Harkaway pulled out a razor and slashed Alva Nicholson across the right arm, rendering it helpless. Harkaway then struck Alva Nicholson, and Alva and Will bound Harkaway with ropes and brought him to town.

This is the story of how Alva Nicholson happened to become interested in the work of an officer of the peace. He hopes never to have another such row escape as that of years ago, but his spirit of bravery is as keen now as it was then, and should the test come he would be "there."

SLYGOORD GOES FREE. KILLING JUSTIFIABLE

SUCH IS THE VERDICT OF JURY IN BATESOLE MURDER CASE AT CARRINGTON.

DEFENSE'S EVIDENCE SHOWED PROVOCATION

Jury Out Only Few Hours Before Verdict Was Reached—Case Has Been On Trial Since Tuesday—Self Defense Was Plea of Slygoord, and Testimony Bore Him Out.

Joe Slygoord, the former Grinnell man who was arrested for the murder of Frank Batesole, of Carrington, N. D., formerly of this city, is again a free man, a jury in the Foster county district court at Carrington having returned a verdict of justifiable homicide Friday, according to a telegram to the Times-Republican.

The plea of self defense was made by the prisoner, and his witnesses bore him out. Even Batesole's son told how his father had struck Slygoord with the crowbar that Slygoord used later in dealing Batesole a blow on the head from which he died three days later.

The case has been on trial since Wednesday. Most of Tuesday was consumed in securing a jury, and this work was finished Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The same witnesses examined in the preliminary hearing were used in the trial of the case. The jury was out only a few hours before reaching a verdict.

The case was tried before Judge E. B. Goss, of Minot, who exchanged courts with Judge Burke. C. B. Craven, state's attorney, prosecuted the case, and E. P. Kelley, of Carrington, was Slygoord's attorney.

ROW; CHARGE INSANITY

Mrs. Grace Hall, Wife of P. A. Hall, South of the City, Charged With Being Insane—Is Discharged by Commissioners.

Family disturbances and quarrels in which all took part, resulted Friday night in Mrs. Grace Hall, wife of P. A. Hall, who lives on South Center street, near the city limits, being arrested on a charge of insanity. Mrs. Hall was arraigned before the commissioners this morning, who found her perfectly sane, and discharged her. The complaint against her was filed by her husband's brother, P. W. Hall, who with the Hall brothers' mother, Mrs. A. A. Hall, occupy the same home.

According to the younger Mrs. Hall, her brother-in-law and mother-in-law seek to get rid of her and get her out of the home. The immediate cause of the young woman's arrest and the filing of the charge of insanity was a quarrel in which she and the brother-in-law engaged Friday. Later she locked herself in her room and when her husband, brother-in-law and mother-in-law attempted to get in, she refused to unlock the door. When they tried to force the door she picked up a revolver that was in the room and fired two shots into the floor to frighten them, so she says. The shots had the effect desired, but it caused the summoning of the sheriff's officers.

The commissioners of insanity advised Mrs. Hall to go to the home of her parents in Minneapolis for a time at least, and she was making arrangements to do so after the hearing.

WANTS UMBRELLA HANDLE.

George Lowery, of Valley Junction, Looking for Keepsake.

George Lowery, of Valley Junction, a Rock Island fireman, is anxious to secure, if possible, the gold handle of the umbrella carried by his mother, Dr. May Lewis, of Valley Junction, one of the victims of the Rock Island wreck. The handle of the umbrella bore Dr. Lewis' name, engraved on the top, and some one has evidently picked it up and is keeping it as a souvenir. The rest of the umbrella, badly torn and twisted, was found, but the handle was broken off and was missing. Dr. Lewis' fine Swiss watch was found and turned over to the son when he came to claim the body. Any one who may happen to know of the whereabouts of the umbrella handle will confer a great favor on the dead woman's son to send it to him at Valley Junction.
