Mr. George McGlade left Sunday night for Pierre, S. D., to visit his brother, Mr. John McGlade, for some time.

Mr. Tom Hardin, Jr., of Montezuma, who has been the guest of Mrs. John Schultz, two miles west of the city, for a few days, went to Sheffield Saturday evening to visit her sister, Mrs. Lester Carhart.

R. G. Parks, city treasurer of Walla Walla, Wash., and a brother of S. V. Parks, 603 North Fourth street, died Sunday morning at his home, according to a telegram received by his brother. He was 64 years of age.

Start the day right with a cup of real good coffee and half the troubles will prove to be imaginary. "Chocolate Cream" drinks like it sounds. Some higher priced coffee is not so good.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Campbell, of Oskosh, Wis., and their son, Mr. W. J. Campbell, wife, and son Donald, also of Oskosh, arrived in the city Saturday evening and are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Trine. Mr. J. D. Campbell is an uncle of Mrs. Trine.

Springfield, Mo., is a big city as everybody knows, containing immense territory, but notwithstanding its 24,000 population the combined circulation of its two best daily newspapers just about equals the circulation of the Times-Republican and not more. Try a want ad.

The sale of tickets for the Ole Theobald violin recital Wednesday evening has been very gratifying to the committee. If you have not bought your ticket yet you had better attend to it tomorrow to secure a first class seat.

Mrs. Whitney Williams and Miss Lina Fortz entertained a company of their girl friends Saturday evening at the Williams home, 101 1/2 East Linn street, in honor of Miss Ella Richeson, whose marriage to Mr. George Otton, of Iowa, took place this morning. The affair was in the nature of a novelty shower, and the bride-elect received many pretty gifts. Refreshments were served during the evening.

The funeral of Mrs. Maggie Gorsuch was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence, 410 South First avenue, Rev. N. M. Hodgins officiating. Miss Lucella Mendenhall, Mrs. E. E. Benedict, and Mrs. Havens sang. Many flowers were sent by letter attend to the bearers were Messrs. W. M. and E. A. Collins, T. D. Ferguson, J. M. Snoddy, A. M. Treat, and F. B. Gowland.

Word from Mr. J. P. Dotson, editor of the Crookston, Minn., Times, is to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. Dotson, son Perry, and infant son, will reach this city soon for a visit. Mr. Dotson, who is to be summoned to Washington to testify in favor of Congressman Stevenson, of Minnesota, in the ship subsidy scandal, will accompany his family this far and leave his wife and children here while he is in Washington. Mr. Dotson also expects to stop here while on his way home.

Mrs. Merritt Greene, Sr., was hostess at Edgeworth Saturday afternoon to the members of the bible class which she teaches, and the other teachers in the Congregational Sunday school, entertaining them at 1 o'clock luncheon. Miss Ruth Moscrop and Winifred Chamberlain assisted in serving. The meeting which followed was rather unique and thoroughly delightful, as well as helpful. Each one gave a little informal talk on what had been derived from the last quarter's work, and much enthusiasm was displayed. Some bible conundrums were then read and solved, and Miss Maed McIntosh delighted the company with several vocal numbers.

Eastman kodaks at Newton's. George J. Allen, optical specialist. Brown, photographer, 19 West Main.

The board of supervisors began its monthly session this morning. Social dance at Forney's hall Wednesday evening. Dance tickets 50 cents.

Social dance at Forney's hall Wednesday evening. Dance tickets 50 cents. For the Security gates, 3x3 1/2 x 12 and 14 feet, the only self-closing and self-latching gate made, see Schmidt.

Mrs. May Kugler, who rooms at the Joseph English home, 111 East State street, is worried night to prostration because of the disappearance of her son Lee, aged 20, who left a week ago for Des Moines, presumably called by an injury received by his sweetheart, Miss Tweed.

DOWNING TO BUILD HOME. Will Erect Fine Residence at 707 West Main Street. George D. Downing expects soon to begin the erection of a modern $1,000 residence on the lot at 707 West Main street. Mr. Downing has traded his residence property at the corner of Ninth and Boone street, where he lives, to G. S. Nugent, for the property at 707 West Main. The house on the latter lot is to be moved off to make room for the new dwelling.

WHAT MY WIFE SAYS

Of All the Women in Marshalltown My Wife Thinks She is the Worst Treated.

She says that because she is married to a wall paper man it is impossible for her to get papering done until all others are thru house cleaning. Now, if you are married to some wall paper man, don't kick if he puts you off as he knows you are married to him, and he will let you wait his pleasure, otherwise there is no use waiting as Everlist can and will do your work when he promises it, and not let others take your dates.

Everlist has the mechanics and wall paper ability to do your work. Mrs. Everlist will have to wait unless she gets a divorce and you will have to do the same, if your wall paper man is taking advantage of you. Cut him out and see Everlist who can do a few more rooms on short notice. He will give you the day and you will find the men on the job when you need them.

HOPKINS BUILDING HOUSES.

Start Two Modern Residences Near Corner Fourth and Park Streets. Fred Hopkins and son, Harry Hopkins, have started to build two houses on their property at the corner of Fourth and Park streets. Both houses will face on Park street, and both will be seven room, one and one-half story modern dwellings. They will cost about $2,500 each. The foundation of one has been completed.

MARRIED.

Otten-Richeson. Mr. George H. Otten, of Laurel, and Miss Etta Richeson, of this city, were married this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. S. E. Ellis. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. W. D. Richeson, 611 East Nevada street, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otten of Laurel. The couple will reside on a farm near Laurel.

OBITUARY.

Prochaska. Harry Charles Prochaska, the 7-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Prochaska, 602 South Sixth street, died at 2:45 Sunday afternoon of pneumonia. Short services will be held at the grave in Riverside at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rev. J. J. Fitzpatrick officiating.

The case of L. H. Smith vs. F. L. Meeker, which was begun Saturday morning, was resumed.

Licensed to Wed. George H. Otten, farmer, aged 25, of Laurel, and Etta M. Richeson, aged 27, of Marshalltown.

HITS BUGGY; ARRESTED

Lawrence Grau (of Tama, Who Drove His Car Into Buggy at LeGrand Badly Damaging it and Fatally Injuring the Horse, Arrested—Settles for $200 and Costs.

Lawrence Grau, of Tama, who, while driving an automobile thru LeGrand about 9 o'clock Saturday night ran into a buggy, containing Aaron Shellenbarger, aged 16, of LeGrand, and badly damaged the buggy and fatally injuring the horse, was arrested and brought to LeGrand this morning.

He was released when he settled with the owner of the horse and vehicle for $200 and the costs incidental to his arrest. The horse was so badly hurt that it had to be killed. Young Shellenbarger was not thrown out of the buggy and escaped unhurt.

The auto and the buggy met a short distance east of the town square. Shellenbarger turned out to give the machine half of the road, but instead of taking it, Grau's machine crashed into the horse and buggy. One of the animal's legs was broken and one was dislocated.

Before Grau drove away the number of the machine was taken and Montour was telephoned to stop him. Later Montour telephoned that it could not do so because he went thru there too fast. Still later the owner's name was learned and a charge of exceeding the speed limit was filed against him.

BENEDICT & BRINNALL.

By Jinks. Eugene W. Chadin, the famous prohibitionist, was congratulated at a dinner in Chicago on his discovery in the Washington capitol, of the fact that Jefferson's portrait was labeled Patrick Henry and vice versa.

"Yes, they made a ludicrous mistake there in Washington," said Mr. Chadin. "It reminds me of a mistake a boy made in Waukesha. 'When I practiced law in Waukesha, I often went skating in brisk weather like this. Well, one afternoon a young fellow in a Norfolk jacket skated by me; he was towing a girl who held on by the jacket's belt. 'A young Waukeshan, observing this performance, said to me: 'Wall, by jinks, I've often wondered what them bellybands was for, and now, by jinks, I know'."

His Future. Sad tho it may be, they were quarreling. He had come into the house smoking a cigar and she had protested.

"You know well enough that I object to your smoking in the house," she said. He scowled, arose and started for the door, he called over his shoulder: "Some day I hope I'll find a home where man can smoke in peace."

"Have patience, dear. Have patience," his wife called after him. "You'll die sometime, you know."

A Fortunate Version. Jack—Winnie told me that you and George Reynolds were holding hands at the luncheon table last night. Martha—Winnie makes me tired! I wish she'd tend to her own affairs and let other people alone! The truth of the matter is that George took hold of my hand for just a moment—like that—and let go of it right away. He was only playing.

Jack—That's your version of it. I have another. Martha—What is it, Mr. Green Eyed Jealousy? Jack—That it was a tablespoon.

Bird With a History. "Speaking of Christmas turkeys," said Sir Thomas Lipton in the Cedric's smoking room, "reminds me of a Piccadilly club."

Devonshire man sent this club, on about Christmas, a fine, large swan in a hamper. The hamper was addressed to the secretary, who notified the club members of the treat that was in store, and a special swan dinner was arranged for the 23d.

"The swan came on, at this dinner, looking magnificent—erect and stately on a great silver-gilt salver. But tought! It was so tough you couldn't have carved the gravy. All perceived that they had been hoaxed. 'A few days later the sender of the swan dropped in at the club. 'Got my swan all right, I hope? he said to the society."

AVOID HARSH DRUGS.

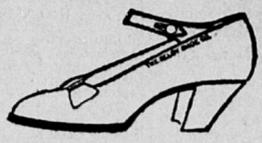

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury To the Bowels. If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact. We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not grip, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 21 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Rexall Drug Company.

"Yes, and a nice trick you played on us," was the reply. "Trick? What do you mean?" "Why, we boiled that swan for sixteen hours, and when it came on the table it was tougher than a block of granite!" "Good gracious! Did you have my swan cooked?" "Yes of course." "The other was in despair. 'Why, that bird was historic,' he groaned. 'I sent him up to be stuffed and preserved. He had been in my family for 250 years. He had eaten out of the hand of King Charles I.'"

An Aggressive Fight Wins

IN one Iowa town of not more than 3,000 inhabitants a department store is conducted with great success and is making good money for its owners. This, in spite of the fact that there is a thriving and growing city of four times its population nearby. A good stock of goods, good business methods and an aggressive advertising campaign were the contributing factors in building up this remarkable business.

They have swift competition, but they created business and have been able to hold it.

Make your advertising aggressive and back it up with aggressive business methods and you will succeed against all kinds of competition. Use the paper that reaches the people you want to reach. The Times-Republican has a large circulation in central Iowa.
