

Appendicitis

How To Avoid It and Escape a Surgical Operation, Told By One Who Knows.

A Simple Method That is Always Effective—Trial Package Sent Free.

It has only been a few years since it was discovered that a surgical operation would cure appendicitis; in fact, it has been but a short time since the disease was discovered and named.

Whenever there is an inflamed condition of the appendix, caused by impacted feces, the small cavity opening into the intestine, you then have appendicitis.

The older doctors used to call this inflammation of the bowels, and were puzzled to know the cause of the disease, no medical man can tell you why we should have an appendix, why we find it where it is, or what are its functions, if it has any.

The disease for which the operation is a cure is usually caused by indigestion, and in many cases follows a large and indigestible meal.

Physicians have until recently recommended an operation, but now, as it is known that it is caused by indigestion, or dyspepsia, a cure without an operation is assured.

Where the patient is treated with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the unhealthy conditions prevailing rapidly disappear, the stomach and intestines are placed back in their normal condition, every organ of the body operates as it should, and the inflammation is reduced and the operation is avoided.

Conscientious physicians, who are looking after the best interests of their patients, will always keep a supply of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets handy in their office, where in cases of sudden attacks of indigestion they can relieve the patient at once.

There is no record of a case of appendicitis where the stomach and bowels were in a healthy condition and properly digested the food from meal to meal.

No better advice can be given to any one who has attacks of indigestion, or who has been threatened with appendicitis, than to tell him to go to the drug store, pay for and take home a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Whenever heartburn, gas in stomach or bowels, heart disease or stomach troubles, sour eructations, acidity or fermentation are present, act at once. Take a dose of the Tablets and get relief as soon as possible.

CAMPAIGN OF DEFENSE

G. S. GILBERTSON REVIEWS WORK CUT OUT FOR IOWA PROGRESSIVES.

CONTEST FOR PRESERVATION OF REPUBLICAN PARTY

Now Up to Voters to Say Whether They Will Control Party Affairs or Turn Them Over to Jackson's Crowd of Henchmen Employed by Special Interests.

Special to Times-Republican. Des Moines, April 8.—"It will be a campaign of self defense and for the preservation of the republican party in Iowa," said Senator G. S. Gilbertson, speaking of the progressive campaign just started.

His only regret is that he will be unable to have any part, for while his health is fairly recovered his doctors have forbidden that he re-engage in anything that will be likely to break him down again. Mr. Gilbertson has been at the head of the small organization which has handled the progressive cause for several years. He has devoted both his time and his money to the cause. He has always been willing to work, and always with no thought of himself, for under no circumstances could he ever be induced to get into the game for himself.

Temporarily the campaign will be in charge of Robert J. Fleming, one of the owners of the big Fleming block in Des Moines, and president of the Des Moines school board. Mr. Fleming is much the same kind of a man as Mr. Gilbertson—thoroughly loyal, earnest, a devoted republican, a believer in the principles of the party and convinced that if the party is to survive it must go forward along the lines indicated by the senators and the state leaders of the party.

The plans to be made for carrying on the fight to keep Iowa in the progressive column are well in hand but it is regarded as probable there will be a conference of somewhat general nature to have the leading republicans compare notes and arrange a program.

It is now up to the republicans of the state to decide whether they shall retain control of their own affairs or transfer the control to the small group of special representatives of the interests thru the McKinley syndicate committee which is ready with its million dollar fund to take over Iowa and administer the state according to its pleasure. But for the action taken at the time of the good roads conference in organizing to capture Iowa nothing would have been done except to insist upon indorsement of the republican platform and principles and the party leaders of the state. But the standstoppers have shown that they intend to sweep everything if they can, and they claim to have the state and national administrations pledged to aid in the fight. Hence the progressive republicans who stand by the platform are determined upon making the fight. Headquarters will probably be opened soon and work will be commenced immediately.

Wednesday morning John Cowine got on a street car and started for the state house.

"You're not going to work again today?" was asked.

"No, I feel as if a great burden had been lifted from me," he said. "It is a great relief and I never realized it until today. I think possibly I have taken it all too seriously. The fact is that for twelve years I have been weighted down with the thought of good for the $600 of the helpless persons in care of the board; have had this on my mind day and night and never for a moment have been able to get away from a feeling of deep responsibility. I realize now that possibly I have too often carried home the great burden and have made it my whole life."

"But I have a clear conscience as to my service for the state and have enjoyed it greatly because it has made me feel I was doing something for the good of humanity and to better society as a whole. But today I also feel glad that the responsibility has passed to others and no matter what happens I can not be responsible now."

"Do you intend to make any statement in defense?" was asked.

"Well, that depends upon circumstances. I am informed, it is not officially that the governor is making, or going to make an investigation and will report on the same. If that investigation is fairly conducted and the facts brought out there will be nothing to say. The people are entitled to know the facts. But it may be necessary for me to defend myself and the state and tell of conditions as they are and have been. You may be sure that if I say anything I will state facts just as they are."

"For one thing, it must be remembered that no person making a hasty visit to the institutions can ever have any real knowledge of what is going on. The law requires that the members of the board of control not only visit the institutions but grant an audience to any inmate. The members of the board are required to know what is going on, not what the superintendent says, or what some outsider may say, but get it from the inmates and all others. The inmates have an absolute right to lay their grievances, if they have any, before the members of the board, and this is for the protection of the inmates and the interests of the state. It is therefore obvious that no person can know better than the members of the board as to what are conditions at the institutions."

"But I am glad to be out. I do not care for controversy and hope none will be followed up."

MAYORS SEEK LIGHT. In Quadary, Under New Law, Over Appointment of City Physicians. Des Moines, April 8.—In numerous cities and towns over the state, the mayor and the city council have locked horns over the appointment of health physicians, and Secretary Sumner of the state board of health has been appealed to for aid in straightening out the tangle.

Mayors, acting under a new law, have appointed health physicians, but this new law neither sets forth the duties of these physicians shall be nor does it provide any salary for such an officer.

The old law not repealed by this statute, however, makes it the duty of the local board of health to elect the health physician, and under this provision the city councils have been asserting their right to the appointment. This act sets forth the duties of the health physician and also provides for his salary.

Secretary Sumner has held that this act is the one which should govern, and the health physician shall be appointed and has advised the city officers to this effect.

Within the past few days Secretary Sumner has received letters from Cascade and Mount Airy, where this difficulty has arisen.

KICKED ON ADVANCE. Several Towns Threatened to Boycott Declaimatory Contest. Correctionville, April 8.—The "high cost of living" came very near upsetting the big annual contest of the Athens Declaimatory Contest, which is the high schools of Correctionville, Anthon, Washita, Holstein, Galva, Schaller and Early, held here last night.

Over 400 tickets had been spoken for by visiting schools when someone from the Northwest State Normal at Earl's about the charge of 50 cents per seat instead of 35 cents as heretofore. Early, Schaller, Galva and Holstein put their heads together by telephone and agreed they wouldn't stand for it, and so notified Superintendent M. D. Smith of this place.

Professor Smith, altho an ardent progressive, turned standpatter in this case, and said "50 cents or no contest." He explained, however, that the Northwestern railroad is charging $30 more for the special train after the contest than for the regular train, and that all expenses are higher and a better show than ever before would be given for the reason that Correctionville's famous high school chorus and orchestra would appear for several numbers. The boycotters finally agreed to stand for the 15 cents tilt in price.

NEWS OF ELDORA. Improvement of Business Building—Local and Personal Notes. Special to Times-Republican. Eldora, April 8.—A new and modern building is being put in the building on Marian street, occupied by the John D. Reed drug store. In the new arrangement both the entrance to the store and to the offices upstairs will be in the same vestibule on the southeast corner of the building with the one large plate glass window in the front.

The school board met this week for the first time since its new organization. Nothing of importance was done. At the meeting of the council next Monday evening the teachers for the coming year will be elected.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thayer returned this week from California, where they have been during the winter months.

Clara Lentz, the little girl who was operated upon recently for abdominal abscess, is recovering nicely.

A nine pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frisby north of this city, Wednesday.

Carl S. Newcomer returned this week from a trip to Liberal, Kan., where he went in the interests of the J. D. Newcomer Company of this city.

THE PROHIB CONVENTION. "Drys" Will Place Full Ticket in Field By Petition. Des Moines, April 8.—A full state ticket will be nominated by the prohibitionists in convention in Des Moines April 26 and 27. The party has lost its place on the ballot by failing to poll a 2 per cent vote last year and will have to secure its place this year by petition.

Malcolm Smith of Cedar Rapids will act as chairman. At the afternoon session the addresses will be delivered by Lars J. Skromme on the Scandinavian work, Rev. J. H. Hector of York, Penn., on the work of the Philadelphia conference, and Prof. C. H. Gordon of Des Moines. A banquet will be held at the Wellington Hotel that evening at which E. E. Lobeck, prohibition member of the Minnesota legislature, and C. R. Jones of Chicago, chairman of the national prohibition committee will speak.

ONE OF FINEST THEATERS IN ENTIRE MIDDLE WEST

Fire Broke Out Just After Evening Performance Closed—Origin is Undeveloped—Loss is Covered by Insurance—Other News of the State in General.

Special to Times-Republican. Dubuque, April 8.—The new Bijou Theater, just completed at a cost of $60,000, burned to the ground last night, fire breaking out shortly after the close of the evening performance. The origin of the fire is still unknown, but it is believed it originated somewhere in the vicinity of the stage. The loss is covered by insurance. The building was one of the finest theaters in the entire west.

FELL FIFTY FEET. Then Told Doctor He Wasn't Hurt at All. Des Moines, April 8.—Altho he fell fifty feet while trimming a gigantic tree at the home of Howard Clark, on Forest Drive, B. D. Daniels miraculously escaped injury except for a sprained shoulder.

Daniels was in the top-most part of the tree when he lost his balance by slipping on a limb. He was seen by those in the yard to hurtle thru the air to the ground. Missing limbs, and with not a thing to break his fall, Daniels struck the earth.

Someone turned in an alarm at the home of Howard Clark, where a record trip to the Howard residence with the city physician. When the latter inquired as to the injuries of the man, Daniels himself responded: "Not hurt at all doctor."

BRUTALLY ASSAULTED. Greek Laborer Held Up and Beaten by Negro With Hammer. Council Bluffs, April 8.—Lying on the bed in his room with both eyes blackened and nearly closed from contusions, with a badly swollen and ailing wound in his right temple, Joe Emile, a Greek laborer at the Northwestern yards, was found by his partner, Steve Kelevane, at a late hour last night. Altho stunned and in a stupor Emile was not unconscious and after being aroused, the police were notified.

Emile was returning from work at the Northwestern yards about 10 o'clock at night when the assault took place. On nearing his rooming house at Twelfth street and Avenue E he was set upon by a negro and badly beaten. The thug wanted his money and when he learned that Emile had none, proceeded to beat him up still more, using a hammer in order that he might accomplish a more thorough job. Altho in bad shape the Greek will recover.

SHIPPED WHISKY IN MEAT. Bottle Rolls Out in Car and Owner is Arrested. Sioux City, April 8.—When a stat came off a box supposed to contain meats being sent to the Winnebago Indian reservation in Nebraska, a sparkling bottle of whisky was found in the rear of the baggage car, things began to look doubtful for James Logan, the shipper of the box. He was arrested not long afterward on the charge of selling liquor to Indians.

This took place Tuesday, and yesterday Logan was taken before a justice of the peace and fined $100. He waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury on $200.

Almost every imaginable manner and means of secreting liquor into the reservation is used, but this is a new one on the authorities. A car containing the Logan purchased meat in Sioux City and asked the proprietor of the market at which he made the purchase for a box in which he could take the meat home. Given the box, he is alleged to have packed it behind the meat, and after the car was full of whisky and meat, after which he shipped it to an address at Winnebago.

WAITRESS ON TRAIN. Mrs. Alma Garnier, of Carroll, Assists on Railroad Diner. Carroll, April 8.—Pretty, vivacious and charming, Mrs. Alma Garnier, of Carroll, has the distinction of being one of the very few waitresses on a dining car in the United States. Mrs. Garnier does the serving on the diner on trains No. 29 and 17 between Sioux City and Carroll on the Northwestern road, in assuming the difficult task of waiting table on a swaying diner. Mrs. Garnier adds another to the many new vocations offered to women.

The little waitress says she likes her job, that people are nice to her and she is going to "stay at it." She has been on the run for a little over five months and her appearance has been a revelation to many of the wearied travelers who enter the diner for a meal as much to pass away the time as to satisfy an appetite.

Even tho the waitress' name begins with a "Mrs." her position possesses its romantic side. On the same car with her works a steward, a dapper, black haired young man of whom she appears to take no more notice while at work than of any of her customers. That man is her husband, Alma Garnier, and it is because of their love for each other that Mrs. Garnier can claim the distinction of being among the exceedingly few dining car waitresses in America.

Superintendent Matters now is thinking of trying women on other runs where it is difficult to keep the traditional darkey.

WOMAN MINISTER DELIVERS SENSATIONAL ADDRESS AT UNITARIAN CHURCH. Des Moines, April 8.—Rev. Miss Gertrude von Petzold turned upon the members of the Unitarian church, gathered Wednesday night to consider whether or not they should continue to employ women pastors, and routed them home in a goodly number.

In a sensational address, the feminine minister declared to the men present that she proposes to keep on advocating woman suffrage, no matter whether it makes them cringe or whether it doesn't.

She defended women in the pulpit. She declared that it ought to make no difference to a church whether the minister wears petticoats or trousers. And when she had finished the congregation, which has been considerably upset on the woman pastor question, gave her the glad hand and a vote of thanks. It was announced that Rev. Miss Mary Safford will return next week to resume charge of the pulpit.

IOWA MUSIC IN KING'S PALACE. Overture "Story City" Rendered By Band in Christiania. Story City, April 8.—The overture "Story City" was played in the royal palace in Christiania, Norway, on March 13, in honor of the composer, who is at present making a tour of Europe. The piece, which is arranged for band, was played by the Second Brigade musical corps, of which Ole Olson, the well known composer, is the leader.

Many here have had the pleasure of hearing this overture and feel that it must have been enjoyed by music lovers in the old country, as it contains much of the sentiment and many of the turns which have made Norwegian music famous all over the world. It is not often that Story City is advertised so effectively at such a distance from home.

Mr. Clements is of the opinion that there is a great amount of coal in the near vicinity of Eldora. It is his intention to investigate. He is in the city at the present time, and in company with Fredrick Burningshaw, who owns much of the land, has been looking over the mineral lands in the immediate vicinity.

The principals are Maurice Stram, an employe of the Independent Meat Company, and Miss Lena Wolke, who recently arrived from Russia for the purpose of becoming a bride. Mr. Stram and Miss Wolke were lovers in the old country and he made the venture to the land of the free to establish a home for his fair sweetheart. He was frugal, as men of his race are, and recently he felt wealthy enough to send for Miss Wolke and the marriage Sunday will be the happy culmination of the romance.

The ceremony will be in charge of Rabbi S. Smolensky and will take place in the temple between the hours of 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

IOWA TEACHERS IN SESSION.
