LONGWORTH, ROOSEVELT'S SON-IN-LAW, COMES TO SUPPORT OF SMITH.

DECLARES IOWA CONGRESSMAN SUPPORTS ROOSEVELT POLICIES

Longworth Writes Letter to Ninth District Voters to Bolster Up Smith's Campaign—Progressives Not Worried as Ohioan Has Long Been Known as Standpatter.

Des Moines, May 2.—Despite the fact that the standpat press has been proclaiming that the issue of Cannonism and Aldrichism is dead, standpatters of the Ninth congressional district have seen fit to give circulation to a letter purporting to come from Congressman Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, in which the latter sets forth that he has been associated with Congressman Smith in congress for seven years and knows him to be a consistent supporter of Roosevelt policies.

The letter was addressed to Almor Stern of Logan, and it is claimed, came voluntarily from Congressman Longworth. It is as follows: "House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., Feb. 1, 1910.—Almor Stern, Logan, Iowa.—Dear Sir: I have heard from some friends of mine in Iowa that you are a close friend of the Hon. Walter L. Smith and interested in his candidacy for congress. I am also informed that it is being charged that he has not been in favor of Roosevelt policies and is not now in favor of carrying out these principles and policies by the present administration. "Allow me to say that in my judgment nothing could be further from the truth. This is the seventh year that I have served with Mr. Smith in the employ of the secret service division of the treasury department; but outside of that I am sure that I am right in saying that Mr. Smith has been at all times a consistent and enthusiastic supporter of the policies of the last administration. It may perhaps be said that it is no business of mine who the people of the Ninth congressional district of Iowa see fit to choose to represent them in congress, and yet I believe myself justified in stating that if opposition is made to Mr. Smith upon the ground that he is not a consistent supporter of Roosevelt policies, "consistent and enthusiastic" as Longworth says he has, but instead has been aligned with Cannon and Aldrich against Roosevelt.

Proof is found, they assert, by merely referring to the time when Roosevelt had occasion to pay special attention to Congressman Smith because of the opposition the latter and several other congressmen gave to the president's bill calling for an appropriation for the coast service. President Roosevelt landed hard on Congressman Smith then, all of which would not have occurred, the progressives point out, had Smith been a "consistent and enthusiastic supporter" of Roosevelt policies.

Garst at Story City. "There is but one way to commend the Iowa insurgent senators for the course they have pursued in congress—but one way to pay them the tribute justly due—and that is to give them a vote of confidence, send men to congress who are in sympathy with their position, and elect standard bearers in the state who are also in perfect accord with them."

So asserted Governor Garst, progressive candidate for governor, in a rousing speech at Story City Saturday night.

It was his initial appearance on the stump in the present campaign, altho he has made several small speeches the past few weeks, and considerable interest attached to his address.

Judge Prouty, progressive candidate for congress in this, the Seventh district, also spoke at the meeting.

Governor Garst left no doubt in the minds of his audience as to where he stood—and asserted that this contest is wholly one of principles, not of men.

HAMILTON DECLINES.
Has Too Much Business to Accept Prohi Secretaryship.
Des Moines, May 2.—John Hamilton has declined to act as secretary of the Iowa Prohibitory Amendment Association. Mr. Hamilton states that business character which will require all his energies for two or three years prevent his accepting the office. President Gordon has called a meeting of the Association to elect another secretary.

In reply to recent attacks by Superintendent Barber of the Anti-Saloon League, Mr. Hamilton states that he personally knows the membership of the league desires peace and harmony and rebukes Superintendent Barber for not showing the friendship to his opponents which "chivalrous souls should accord."

WANT MORE WAGES.
Brick and Tile Employers Demand Increase and Refrain From Work.
Fort Dodge, May 2.—The employees of the Central Brick and Tile Company at Craig's Hollow, have presented a demand for a wage increase of 12 1/2 per cent which they consider necessary owing to the advance in the cost of living.

LAST OF HALF-BREEDS

DEATH OF SOLE SURVIVOR OF BAND OF EARLY IOWA MIXED RACE.

HALF-BREEDS AND LANDS HAD PART IN IOWA HISTORY
Occupied Reservation in Lee County Long After Red Men Had Departed For Other Places—Tract Embraced Many Thousand Acres, Which Were Later Apportioned.

Keokuk, May 2.—With the passing away of Miss Mary Jane Hood at the county home, the last of the half-breed Indians, once so numerous in Lee county, was removed from this earth.

Miss Hood, who was formerly a resident of Keokuk, was about 60 years of age, having survived by many years a mother of white parentage. For about twenty-eight years she had been living at the county home, having gone there soon after the accidental death of her brother by drowning. The funeral took place Saturday, and the body was laid to rest in Hickory Grove cemetery.

The death of Miss Hood will at once bring to the minds of the older residents of Keokuk, the story of the well-known "half-breed tract" of Lee county. This historical piece of land occupied the portion of the county lying between the Des Moines and Mississippi rivers, and south of a line drawn from a point on the Des Moines river about one mile below Farmington, to a point touching the lower end of Ft. Madison, to the Mississippi.

Part of Louisiana Purchase.
This tract was a part of the Louisiana purchase, being ceded by the French government to the United States in 1803. On Aug. 4, 1824, the Sac and Fox Indians, the inhabitants of this tract, ceded to the United States by the treaty of Washington, all of the land lying between the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and south of a line 100 miles north of the junction of the Missouri and Kansas rivers, with the exception of this tract, which was reserved for the half-breeds of the said Indian tribes, they holding it, however, by the same title and in the same manner that the other Indian lands were held by the Indians.

By the treaty at Ft. Armstrong, Rock Island, on Sept. 21, 1824, at the close of the Black Hawk war, the Sac and Fox Indians ceded all of southern Iowa within fifty miles of the Mississippi to the United States. By an act of congress approved June 30, 1834, the qualified interests of the half-breeds was converted into an absolute estate in fee, after the passage of this act, most of the half-breeds transferred their interests to other parties.

Land Later Apportioned.
On the 14th day of April, 1840, Josiah Spaulding and twenty-two others filed a petition in the district court of Iowa, Lee county, asking for a partition of said tract among its respective owners. The decree title resulting has been sustained ever since by the courts of this state.

Altogether the "Half-Breed Tract" comprises an area of 118,000 acres. The Sac and Fox Indians inhabiting this territory were a powerful body of aborigines, Chief Keokuk after whom our city is named being one of the great leaders of the Sac. The Sac Tribe at one time had a large village about four miles above Montrose, and their neighbors, the Fox, lived in great numbers at a place called Lowaville, on the Des Moines river.

PASSING OF GEORGE PERKINS.
Former Railroad Commissioner and Politician Dies of Heart Failure.
Des Moines, May 2.—George W. Perkins, aged 75 years, a former state railroad commissioner, died at his home at Shenandoah at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Heart failure was the immediate cause of his death, although paralysis had weakened him.

Mr. Perkins was for many years a figure in Iowa politics, and was widely known thruout Iowa. He had been a resident of Shenandoah for twenty years, and previous to that time lived at Farragut. He was a member of the state railroad commission from 1893 to 1899.

Dwight N. Lewis, present secretary of the state railroad commission, went to Shenandoah Tuesday to the bedside of Mr. Perkins, when he learned that the veteran commissioner was not expected to live many days.

Mr. Perkins is survived by three sons and a daughter. His wife died several years ago. The surviving children are: Fred and George Perkins of Shenandoah, Dr. Charles Perkins of Springdale, Ark., and Miss Nellie Perkins of Shenandoah.

Funeral services will be held from the family residence at Shenandoah Tuesday afternoon at 1:30, with interment at Shenandoah.

DAUGHTER AND HUSBAND DEAD.
Decorah Family Makes Discovery of Double Tragedy.
Decorah, May 2.—The finding of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Gould in their home here yesterday told the story of a double tragedy, supposedly a murder and suicide. Mrs. Gould's father called at his daughter's home Sunday morning and getting no response, entered the house and found the bodies of his daughter and her husband upstairs.

The supposition is that Gould shot his wife with the shotgun found near the bodies and then turned the gun on himself. The man was a plasterer, trade and had several hands employed in Dubuque Sunday. Opening sessions were held in the Eagles' hall, the occasion being given up to addresses by Mayor Haas as President G. S. Marsh, of the local board. Matthew J. Huss, a Chicago attorney, had charge of the exercises and responded. The meeting concluded Monday night, May 10.

Pioneer C. & N. W. Engineer Dead.
Clinton, May 2.—William Huffnagel, one of the oldest engineers in the employ of the Northwestern railway, died at Baraboo, Wis. He was born and reared in Clinton and left here 12 years ago, when he was promoted the position of master mechanic, with headquarters at Baraboo, Wis. He was 64 years old. He will be buried here.
