

POISONED BY PRICKING PIMPLE

With a Pin—Inflammation Set In and Itching, Pain and Swelling Followed—Unable to Rest Day or Night—Suffered Six Months—Relieved in a Day and Wholly

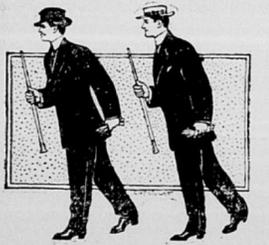

CURED BY CUTICURA ON SISTER'S ADVICE

"Several years ago I had a little pimple come between my ankle and knee. I opened it with a pin which caused it to inflame. In a short time my limb was so poisoned and swollen I could scarcely use it. I suffered intense pain, being unable to rest day or night. I tried every remedy recommended, consulted several specialists but grew worse all the time, finding no relief in anything. My sister recommended the Cuticura Remedies. I began using the Cuticura Remedies according to directions and I was so much relieved that I slept some the first night. The itching, burning and swelling in my limb gradually decreased and the sore began to heal. After six months' suffering such as I had endured, the relief was wonderful. I continued the treatment several weeks and a permanent recovery was the result. I shall ever recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any one suffering from blood and skin diseases. Mrs. D. M. May, R. F. D. 5, Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 25, '09."

SOFT WHITE HANDS In a Night by the Use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

These pure, sweet and gentle emollients preserve the hands, prevent redness, roughness and chapping, and impart in a single night that velvety softness and whiteness so much desired by women. HUNDREDS ATTEND ELKS' DEDICATION

NEW BUILDING, BRILLIANTLY LIGHTED, SCENE OF LARGE FORMAL GATHERING.

BETWEEN 400 AND 500 TAKE PART IN AFFAIR

Beautiful New Structure is Appropriately Dedicated With Ritualistic Service, Addresses, and Dancing Party—Interior is Lavishly Dressed for the Occasion—Details of Program.

Resplendent under a flood of light that shone on the elegant furnishings and the elaborate decorations that had been put up for the occasion, the new $49,000 building of Marshall Lodge, No. 312, B. P. O. E., was formally dedicated Monday evening.

An immense throng that taxed the capacity of the building attended. Between 400 and 500 were present, including in the number practically all of the local members, many of their wives and lady friends, members from nearby points, and Elks from more distant and larger cities of the state.

Roses Abound in Profusion. The interior of the building was brilliant with the colors of the lodge. The stars and stripes occupied a prominent place in the decorations and scores of dozens of roses added to the profusion of the decorative scheme. Smilax, palms, and ferns were used, the former being twined about the chandeliers, and the balustrade of the stairway. The green plants were banked in corners and grouped about the various apartments of the building.

Officers and Committee Receive. The guests were received in the lobby on the first floor by the officers and the reception committee. Those in the receiving line numbered twenty-four. They were as follows: Exalted Ruler O. L. Ingledue, Esteemed Leading Knight Ray R. East, Esteemed Loyal Knight A. C. Conway, Esteemed Lecturing Knight W. C. McCarty, Secretary E. Z. Mack, Treasurer P. S. Balch, Esquire A. L. Stern, Inner Guard R. W. Powell, Tyler M. H. Pinkerton, Chaplain E. L. Jones, and D. S. Good, E. L. Stoltz, Jacob Wittel, J. L. Denmsad, Chris Mitchell, H. A. Welsman, John Jacobson, Benton Davis, F. O. Bailey, and C. M. Coleman.

Program in Lodge Room. The program of dedication proper was given in the lodge room. The furniture was removed and chairs were placed, but the room was none too large for every one to have a seat. This program opened with a selection by the Jones orchestra. The short ritualistic program of dedication was given by the officers of the lodge, and was followed by the address of Charles S. Bradshaw, of Des Moines. The orchestra played again and was followed by Jerry B. Sullivan, of Des Moines, who spoke. Another orchestra number closed the program, and the audience was shown to the parlors, reception, and billiard room until the lodge room could be cleared for dancing.

Dance Until Early Morning. Following the program in the lodge room luncheon was served in the banquet hall. The number present was so large that it was necessary to serve refreshments in three divisions. Four hundred sixteen partook of the viands. The tables were profusely decorated with dozens of bouquets of roses.

As soon as the lodge room had been made ready the dancing program, the music for which was furnished by the Jones orchestra, began. It continued until far into the morning hours. While the rain cut down the attendance from out of the city, the dedication was a complete success in every way.

Committee That Had Charge. Much of the success of the undertaking was due to the following committees, which were in charge of the details: Dedication—Marion Gard, A. P. Strub, A. J. Clark, L. C. Abbott, C. E. Hatcher, E. P. Brande, H. B. Hartless, and A. Psenicka.

Building—O. L. Ingledue, Marion Gard and C. J. J. A. Doolley, J. L. Denmsad, and George Hiser. Music and Dance—A. L. Stern, E. A. Tuffree, and A. A. Nicholson. Banquet—E. E. Downing, H. S. Lawrence, and R. W. McBride.

In addition to members of the lodge who attended, from nearby towns, representatives of the order were present from Iowa City, Cedar Rapids, Waterloo, Oskaloosa, Fort Dodge, Boone and Des Moines. This morning the flowers that were used in the decorations were sent to St. Thomas and the soldiers' home hospitals.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Arnold, of Pasadena, Married Fifty Years.

Word to the Times-Republican from Pasadena, Cal., tells of the celebration there, by several old Marshalltown friends, of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Arnold, formerly of this city. The affair was a surprise on the aged couple, and the event was all the more enjoyable on that account.

Following a fine basket lunch, which was served on the lawn, Mrs. J. F. Atkinson read an appropriate poem, written as a greeting to the honored couple, and with the reading came the presentation of $25 in gold from the guests. Both Mr. and Mrs. Arnold responded briefly. Another purse of $25 in gold was received from Harry Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, who lives at Seattle, and the who was unable to be present at the anniversary celebration. A large wedding cake, decorated in gold, and bearing the dates, 1860-1910, was one of the pretty features of the anniversary feast.

The old friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, who participated in the surprise, were Messrs. and Mesdames J. F. Atkinson, Joseph Holmes, C. E. Turner, A. E. Wilbur, E. W. Whinery, Charles Miller, T. M. Stone, H. A. Church, R. H. Royce, Calvin Hartwell, Harry Miller, and N. A. Carmean, Dr. J. C. Michener, Dr. J. Lang, Mesdames C. Hub-

Not Well, But Just as Bad For Pussy

Ding, dong bell, Pussy's in the well, Who put her in? Little Johnny Green; Who pulled her out? Little Tommy Stout;

Wasn't he a naughty boy, to treat poor Pussy so, Who neved did him any harm, but caught the mice in his father's barn.

It wasn't a well, but a washing machine that proved the undoing of a poor little kitten, which some naughty Johnny Green had caught and pursued in a large machine standing in front of Abbott & Son's hardware store.

A farmer, who had used one of the machines, and who was going to demonstrate the action to a friend, gave the crank a whirl. A howl, such as the headless horseman might pursue Ichabod Crane rose from the inner depths of the washing machine. The farmer and his friends did not know what to think; the farmer's machine had never acted that way.

The howling continued, growing fainter and fainter. Employees in the store were attracted, opened the machine, and found poor pussy, more dead than alive. Hair had been pulled off in great patches, and the skin had been broken in places. It was only an act of mercy to kill the little animal, and a few ounces of chloroform ended the sufferings of some one's little pet.

HUNDREDS AT EXHIBIT

The Art Exhibit at the Hull Store is Being Viewed by Hundreds and Many Buying Pictures.

Despite the bad weather hundreds of people came to our store yesterday to view the beautiful line of pictures that we have on display, and the common remark was that the price was reasonable for such fine work. A great many made purchases but with the large number of pictures in this display covering a wide range of subjects as they do, you can find just what you want. Come in and look at them, if you want to buy do so, if not you are just as welcome.

THE HULL COMPANY.

"Native Son" Pleases.

The Rockford, Ill. Star publishes a complimentary notice of the work of G. Walter Thompson, a young actor of the Grace Haywood company, and husband of a Marshalltown girl. Mr. Thompson has been appearing in Rockford, and while there met many of his old friends from Pecononia, the Winnebago county town where he was born. The Star says of Mr. Thompson: "G. Walter Thompson, the 'bad man' of the Grace Haywood associate players, now playing at the Grand, is in truth a 'native son.' His home from childhood has been at Pecononia and his mother is still a resident of that village. Mr. Thompson attended the Pecononia school and was The Star's correspondent for several years. He was attracted by the stage and his first step in that direction was with a concert company. For five years he was identified with prominent stock organizations in the south and later the leading man with the Howard Stock Company in Chicago. Mr. Thompson prefers the bad man part, 'heavies' as they are known in stage parlance, and his characterizations are so excellent that they are always a matter for favorable comment from the audience. Mr. Thompson's wife is a well-known leading woman, Fannie E. Johnson. She was temporarily retired from the stage and the couple are living happily at 215 North Court street."

BRITISH EXPLORER IN THE CITY TODAY

LIEUT. H. SHACKLETON, SOUTH POLE EXPLORER, HERE FOR SHORT STAY.

M. Y MAKE DASH FOR POLE AGAIN NEXT YEAR

Lieutenant Shackleton Does Not Discuss the Cook-Pearry Controversy, and Says Their Case is in Good Hands—Explorer Soon to Return Home After Lecturing Tour.

While enroute from Grinnell to Waterloo Lieut. H. Shackleton, One Hundred Sixty-second Royal Engineers, of the British army, and the man who has come nearer to the south pole than any other explorer, was in the city for a short time this morning. Lieutenant Shackleton delivered a lecture in Grinnell Monday night, and tonight appears in Waterloo.

Within 105 Miles of Pole. Lieutenant Shackleton has the distinction of having reached a point within 105 miles of the south pole, his observations showing 88 degrees and 23 minutes south. Next year he is to take another trip to the antarctic regions on a geographical survey. To a Times-Republican reporter this morning the lieutenant said that it was quite possible he would make another dash for the pole if he found conditions favorable.

Doesn't Discuss Cook and Peary. When asked about what he thought of the Cook-Pearry controversy Lieutenant Shackleton said that he made it a point never to discuss the case at all. "The case is in the hands of competent judges," said the lieutenant, "and it is not for me to say what I think."

Soon to Return to England. Lieutenant Shackleton arrived in this country on March 25, and has been lecturing ever since. He expressed himself as being immensely pleased with America, and this is his first visit to this country. Lieutenant Shackleton will go to Chicago from Waterloo tomorrow, and will sail for England on June 10 from Montreal.

Lieutenant Shackleton is a young man about 35 years old, is well built, of medium height. He enjoys his work of exploration, and hopes some day to be recorded in history as the first man to discover the south pole.

BOND VS. INSPECTION.

Two Members Believe That Inspection is Useless Expense. Supervisors Bueghly and Keen think that the county's work is being looked after to good advantage without the expense of inspectors. Their letters explain for themselves:

Keen Looks to the Bond. To Editor Times-Republican:—For the benefit of Taxpayer who I think is needlessly alarmed and for the public generally I will give a few facts and safeguards which surround the building of the county farm and also the building of the concrete bridges the present year. Now to begin with we will suppose the two men Longcor and McCarten, that are interested in the farm building and Mr. Stark who has the contract for the bridges are honest men, if they are the public has nothing to fear. They each have a reputation which is worth more to them than all they may get out of their contract. It would not pay them to do poor work, besides, they are governed by the specifications which they must live up to or get no pay. The building at the county farm is under the supervision of an architect. All work must be O. K'd by him and then the board must be satisfied and pass on it. They also put up a bond to secure the county from loss. Mr. Koontz, the superintendent at the farm, has been instructed to keep his eyes and ears open and report to the board at once if he notices anything wrong. Of course, we do not know to a certainty whether every trowel of mortar at the farm and every shovelful of concrete on the bridges are mixed in the right proportion, but the work will be thoroughly examined by the board and if it shows any defect the work will not be paid for. If Taxpayer or any one else interested wish to take the time to examine the Thirteenth street bridge and any bridge that Mr. Stark has built for the county they will be able to see the difference between them. The Thirteenth street bridge was put up under the supervision of an engineer and the rest under the supervision of Mr. Meeks, our bridge superintendent, and board of supervisors.

Now I think the issue raised at the present time was entirely out of place. All the honest men in the world do not live in Marshalltown. The taxpayer will be protected by the board and I think the building and the bridges will be something that the people of Marshalltown will feel proud of. I do not see the need of inspectors being appointed at an expense of $1,200 to $1,500 but if our honorable chairman, Mr. Emes, wishes them he can appoint them if he will assume the responsibility for the extra outlay.

N. O. KEBEN, Supervisor.

Bueghly Disagrees With Emes. Editor Times-Republican: In reply to Taxpayer of the 6th inst., will only answer as to bridges. I am also a taxpayer, and as a member of the board of supervisors, would not think of spending the county's money foolishly any more than I would my own. In regard to having an inspector to oversee this work, it might be all right, if it was necessary. The contractor to do this work is under bond large enough in the estimation of the board, for the faithful performance of his work, according to plans and specifications. The board also hold a five-year guarantee from the contractor on the bridges, that are being built this year and bond large enough in the estimation of the board to make good any defects should any occur.

What more does Mr. Taxpayer want. Does he think it a wise plan to pay an inspector $5 or $8 per day, making an additional expense to the county of from $150 to $200 on each bridge. Mr. Emes says we think or we guess they are all right. I want him to show me one concrete bridge put in by this same contractor or by the county bridge superintendent in the past four or five years, that is defective. He can't do it. It seems to me this should be some proof that the work has been done right. If a concrete bridge stands one year without showing any defects, it will stand 100 years unless something unusual happens to it.

FRESH, RIPE PINEAPPLES.

One Hundred Cases of Fine Fruit Received at the Office Fruit Company.

It is a little early to talk canning fruit to the housewives, but no one knows how much of any kind of fruit there is going to be had. The wise woman will can what she can get and when she can get it. We have received 100 cases of fine, ripe pineapples, and they are being sold at a price that will pay you to can some of them. You had better put up a dozen, anyway.
