BLUNDERS INTO TRAP AND SEEKS TO TAKE CREDIT FROM CUMMINS.

DENIES RECORDS OF SHILOH VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

Cummins in Fact Led Fight Which Gained Proper Recognition for Iowa Regiments—Transcript of Evidence in Green Mountain Wreck Probe Not Finished.

Washington, May 19.—President Taft has taken a hand in the Ninth Iowa congressional district campaign, writing a letter in the interest of Walter I. Smith, of the Cannon rules committee.

Gen. Grenville M. Dodge wrote President Taft asking him if Smith was not responsible for the correction of the official record of the two Iowa regiments at the battle of Shiloh when the president was secretary of war. The president replied:

"Many Iowa persons took part in the discussion, and many long arguments were made, and the matter acquired such importance that I delayed deciding the question after the arguments were made, as I recollect it, for several months, and at the end of that time Senators Allison and Dolliver and Secretary Shaw and Smith came to me with an inscription drawn by Smith, which was offered and which I adopted as a solution of the difficult position presented."

Des Moines, May 19.—Some surprise was expressed here among the old soldiers that President Taft has permitted himself to be led into the trap of virtually denying the records of the association of Shiloh veterans in regard to the part taken by Governor A. B. Cummins in fighting for justice to the Iowa soldiers. The facts are well known to Iowa soldiers. It was Governor Cummins who took up the cause of the veterans and fought it thru to a finish, covering several years of hard labor, all of which was done without a dollar of compensation. The final argument in the case was made by Governor Cummins and it took him all one day. A confederate member complimented Cummins by saying that no person, even one who had fought thru the battle, could have given a clearer statement of the facts than he. The Iowa soldiers made it a matter of record giving Cummins credit for his work. Now for the first time it is claimed that Judge Walter I. Smith was almost wholly responsible, and President Taft writes a letter to be used in the campaign in which he does not even refer to Cummins as having anything to do with it. This is, in effect, a direct rebuke to the Iowa old soldiers who all along had supposed that Albert B. Cummins was their chosen attorney and representative and who so gloried.

Willard Eaton, member of the state railroad commission, arrived in the city yesterday to engage in preparing the verdict and report on the Green Mountain rail wreck, but the transcript of evidence was not yet ready. It was suggested to him that he should follow precedent and write out the report now, and when the transcript of evidence is finished date it back. But he politely declined the suggestion.

The bridge contractors and makers of concrete abutments are becoming active in Iowa and are anticipating a big business the next year or two because of the change in the law which was got thru the legislature by Governor Carroll to require that all bridges and culverts be made strong enough to support traction engines. Heretofore the law has been that the owners of such engines must take responsibility for the bridges and culverts if they are weak strength on them by laying planks across for the wheels of the heavy tractors. This part was stricken out so that the responsibility rests on the taxpayers and the owners of damage suits the counties will have to pay. Of necessity the bridges and culverts will have to be reconstructed in many cases to make them safe. An immense business in rebuilding bridges is therefore in sight.

The railroad commission expects to take up at an early date a matter of very great importance to shippers of the state, and that is the consideration before the interstate commerce commission of the readjustment of the Iowa proportional of all interstate rates. An effort was made to induce the commission to take up a case involving only the Des Moines rates. But the commission has taken the ground that it is an Iowa commission, and not one for Des Moines, and that the showing of injustice to Iowa people in the matter of all rates into or out of the state should be worked out with reference to all shipping points in Iowa. When this is done and the board can go to the interstate commerce commission with a case that is comprehensive it will be done. It was long the ambition of Commissioner Eaton to induce the commissions of a half dozen or more of the states in the Mississippi Valley and extending as far as Colorado and Oklahoma, to form a kind of division organization for co-operation in just such matters as this proposed readjustment of rates in this territory. Then if they would go to the interstate commerce commission with a case involving all these rates they would succeed.

IOWA BOY ORATOR

SHELDON THE HOME OF BRILLIANT AND VERSATILE SPEAKER.

HAS NEVER BEEN DEFEATED IN SCORE OF CONTESTS

Victor Button Twice Won State High School Honors, Each Time in Different Class—Now Studying in East and Will Take Up Lyceum Work—Other News.

Special to Times-Republican.

Sheldon, May 19.—To Sheldon belongs the honor of being the home of a young man who is perhaps more widely known among the high school students of the state of Iowa than any other. Reference is made to Victor Button, who has the distinction of having won more honors in state oratorical contests than any one else. He has been in a score or more contests and has yet to meet his first defeat.

In 1906 Button won the humorous prize in the Iowa high school declamatory association contest and again won first in 1907, but this time in the dramatic class. Competent critics say that he is the only boy ever entered in an Iowa contest, having the versatility to win two prizes with the strongly contrasting selections he used.

In the fall of 1909 Mr. Button entered Emerson College of Oratory at Boston, Mass., where his success has from the first been astonishing. He was elected president of the class of 1912; is a member of the students' board, one of the student critics, and was later made president of the mother chapter of the Phi Alpha Tau fraternity. A short time ago he was made a flattering offer to join the Ben Greet players, which he declined, to take up lyceum work.

PROUTY ANSWERS HULL.

Says Opponent Dodged Questions Put to Him.

Des Moines, May 19.—Captain Hull dodged the issue and played the old Yankee trick of answering a question by asking one when in his Park avenue speech Tuesday night, he said he would vote for Speaker Cannon should the latter be nominated by the republicans of the lower house of congress in party caucus.

So asserted Judge Prouty, his opponent for and vote for the congressional nomination in a speech delivered in the Jefferson Center school house in Madison county last week.

Judge Prouty asserted that Captain Hull was not candid in his answer.

"The question, my dear captain," said Judge Prouty, "is who will you work for and vote for when in the caucus and not what you will do afterward?"

Judge Prouty, continuing, said that Captain Hull, instead of going on record with a candid answer to this, turned the old Yankee trick of dodging and asking a question in return.

APPEAL TO TAFT

Waterloo Saloonkeepers Hope for Clemency in Indian Cases Which is Unique in State—Methods of Securing Evidence Censured.

Waterloo, May 19.—The eleven Waterloo saloonkeepers who appealed to President Taft for clemency to save them from a sixty days' jail sentence for selling liquor to a Tama Indian are much encouraged by the outlook that they will not have to go behind the bars on June 1. Petitions for clemency were sent several days ago by their attorney to the president. He referred them to the department of justice, and the attorney general in turn referred them to James A. Finch, pardon attorney. Mr. Finch has now referred the matter to United States Attorney Paville and Judge Reed for recommendation.

An avalanche of letters from Waterloo business men, many of whom are opposed to the saloon as an institution, has been pouring into Washington ever since Judge Reed passed the minimum sentence on the saloon men who pleaded guilty. These letters ask that President Taft exercise clemency because of the remoteness of Waterloo from the Tama reservation and the rare visits paid by Indians to Waterloo.

The public condemns the means used in getting the saloon men to violate the federal law. An Indian came here for the express purpose of buying liquor so as to furnish the basis for an action in federal court. The Indian was accompanied by an agent, who secured the evidence.

It is reported that the Indian agent at the Tama reservation will join in the throng of petitioners in asking for clemency for the saloon men.

This is the first time this procedure has been taken in Iowa, but the conditions were unique and called for an unusual course of action.

Elvira, May 19.—The aged mother of John Scott, living four miles north of here, was burned to death yesterday. Her son had gone to the barn to attend to his work, leaving his aged mother in the house alone. Returning a few minutes later, he found the house in flames and his mother dead on the floor with her clothing burned from her body. He extinguished the flames, but his mother was beyond help. She was about 70 years of age.

MRS. LAWRENCE DEAD

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF UNION SUCCUMBS TO STROKE OF APOPLEXY.

WAS AMONG PIONEERS OF SOUTHERN HARDIN

Widow of Late J. W. Lawrence and Mother of Well Known Young Bankers—Resided in One House Quarter of Century—Funeral to Be Held Friday—Other News of the State.

Special to Times-Republican.

Union, May 19.—Mrs. Julia A. Lawrence, one of the most prominent residents of Union and a pioneer resident of Hardin county, died this morning at 6:30 o'clock. Several days ago Mrs. Lawrence was stricken with apoplexy and failed to rally, never having regained consciousness.

Mrs. Lawrence was born in Stephenson county, Illinois, March 4, 1847. She came to Iowa in 1851 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd, and settled on a homestead two miles northwest of Union, a part of the homestead later being donated by her father for cemetery purposes. On Jan. 12, 1867, she was married to J. W. Lawrence, and with her husband continued to occupy the Shepherd farm until 1874, when the family moved to Union. Mrs. Lawrence had resided in the same home in which she died for a period of more than a quarter of a century. Mrs. Lawrence is survived by four children. Two daughters died in infancy. The surviving children are Charles E. Lawrence and Carly O. Lawrence, cashier and assistant cashier of the Union bank; Herbert S. Lawrence, assistant cashier of the First National Bank at Marshalltown, and Mrs. O. E. Wood, of Union. Two sisters and one brother also survive, in the persons of Benjamin Shepherd and Mrs. Arno Johnson, of Oregon, and Mrs. Mary West, of Marshalltown.

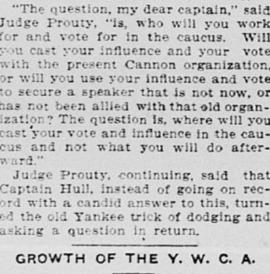

Mrs. Lawrence was a member of the Congregational church from which the funeral will be held on Friday at 1 o'clock. The church will be open to friends from 12:30 until the hour of the funeral.
