WILSON CAPTURES ALL CITY DELEGATES

MARSHALS STRENGTH AT ALL OF WARD CAUCUSES, WINNING BY BIG LEAD.

WILSON'S MAJORITY 267; PLURALITY REACHES 405

Caucuses are well attended and orderly—Wilson's Greatest Strength in First, Fourth and Fifth Wards — Second Ward Only Gives Greater Combined Opponents' Vote.

J. J. Wilson, one of three candidates from this city for district judge, won with ease all of the city's delegations in the ward caucuses held Tuesday night. The caucuses were largely attended and orderly. Wilson marshaled his strength at all of the caucuses, having exceptionally large leads in the First, Fourth and Fifth wards. In the Second only did the combined vote of Judge Parker and J. L. Carney exceed that of Wilson.

The vote of the three candidates by wards follows:

Ward	Wilson	Parker	Carney
First ward	187	20	23
Second ward	106	95	56
Third ward	92	52	32
Fourth ward	159	17	18
Fifth ward	59	4	4
Totals	603	198	138

Wilson's majority—267.
Wilson's plurality—405.

By winning the delegation from the city at the caucuses Mr. Wilson has thirty-one delegates pledged for him out of a total of 106 in the county. The different ward delegations have signed a pledge to support in the convention for judge the choice of the ward caucuses just so long as there is any reasonable hope of that choice winning the nomination.

Comparison With Primary Vote.

A comparison of the total vote cast by the various wards in the last republican primary and the total caucus vote out Tuesday evening is as follows:

Ward	Primary	Caucus
First ward	391	245
Second ward	363	257
Third ward	388	176
Fourth ward	248	194
Fifth ward	84	64
Total votes cast	1,474	939

BEAUTIFUL HOTEL COLFAX.

New Hotel at Colfax One of the Most Inviting Places in America. Ideally situated mid beautiful natural surroundings, snuggled in the edge of a natural timber, overlooking a wide, sweeping river, the new Hotel Colfax, at the famous Iowa mineral springs, is one of the most inviting places in America during the hot summer months.

Colfax is more than a health resort. It is an ideal summer resort as well. Everyone is familiar with the curative properties of the Colfax mineral waters which have become favorably known the country over. The original spring, the gushing waters of which made Colfax famous, was chosen as the site for the beautiful Hotel Colfax, one of the finest hostels in America.

This elegant hotel is situated on a high bluff overlooking the river, and stands at the edge of a natural timber slope covering 120 acres.

The Colfax, which is run on the American plan, is a thoroughly modern and up-to-date hotel. The building is Moorish in design and is absolutely fire proof, being built of reinforced concrete and steel. It is beautifully equipped, containing well-appointed lounging rooms, parlors, and billiard and pool rooms. The corridors are spacious and furnish ample room for indoor exercise in inclement weather.

The ladies' parlors or rest rooms are fitted in simple, but home like style, the furniture being creton upholstered fibre rush, and the wall decorations are soft and neutral in tone. The gentlemen's lounging rooms is mission in its furnishings, and is decorated and draped in harmonious tints.

The dining room is one of the most attractive rooms in the hotel. It is built in the patio design and is decorated in soft tones of gray with curtains and carpets of Du Barry rose. The furniture is of Austrian gray oak.

The hotel is surrounded by a broad covered veranda, and to the front and side is a beautiful Italian terrace. The grounds are laid out in beautiful flower beds, and walks wind their way thru the dense forest to the springs, then back to the hotel, forming a circle and affording ample grounds for outdoor exercise. One of these beautiful walks leads to the "Lover's Leap," a high precipice overlooking the valley below.

The Colfax has its own electric, ice and cold storage plants, its laundry, garage and pumping station. In fact, it is a complete city in miniature and can afford its guests every comfort to be had in the large metropolitan hotels.

The management also operates its own street car system from the thriving little city of Colfax to the hotel, a distance of about one mile. Modern and comfortable cars are run on a fifteen or twenty minute schedule from the railroad station to the hotel and the guests are transported direct from the cars to the hotel entrance.

With all the great conveniences offered and all the comforts afforded the guests, the prices are very moderate and one may enjoy the finest summer resort in the state of Iowa with this great comfort, at no great expense. There is no finer place in the entire country to spend a vacation period, and have all the comforts of a city hotel, than at the new Colfax. It is an institution of which every Iowan should be proud and will in time, no doubt, become one of the most popular resorts in America.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

German Lutheran Conference Chooses Officers For New Year.

The annual session of the German Lutheran synod for southern Iowa, which began at the French Grove Lutheran church north of State Center Tuesday, has an attendance today of between eighty and 100 delegates. The delegates are all being entertained by members of the church and congregation living in the neighborhood.

The new officers of the conference, elected Tuesday afternoon, are Rev. George Bayer, of Marengo, chairman; and Rev. Mr. Wolter, of Ida Grove, secretary.

AT OLSON'S

Our Busy Place Has Been Repainted and Papered, Giving the Already Clean Stock a Brighter Appearance.

Even though we have been pretty badly "torn up" at our store, the past week, owing to papering and painting, we have the satisfaction of knowing our stock of groceries is the freshest and cleanest in the city.

We make an effort to keep our big display window filled with the freshest of fruits and vegetables in season.

We carry the highest quality of "good things to eat" obtainable and solicit your patronage.

DRUG STOCK CHANGES HANDS.

Newman & Coe, of State Center Trade For Canada Land.

A business change at State Center has just been closed, whereby Newman & Coe trade their State Center store and stock to H. Miller, of Cedar Rapids, for two and one-half sections of Canada land in the Saskatchewan district. Mr. Miller takes possession of the drug store June 1, and has retained Mr. Newman as manager. Ben Bonfield, a clerk in the Newman & Coe store, will come to this city June 1 to take a position with the McBride & Will Drug Company.

STREETS WILL BE THIRTY FEET WIDE

COUNCIL, IN CAUCUS, DECIDES NOT TO SPECIFY TWENTY-FOUR FOOT STREETS.

HULL STICKS FOR THE WIDER THOROUGHFARES

Experience in Waterloo Has Been That Narrow Streets Are Unsatisfactory, and Some Are Now Being Made Wider — North Thirteenth Street to Be Forty Feet in Width.

At a caucus of the city council the various members of that body decided not to specify twenty-four foot pavements on the various streets so petitioned by property owners, and the streets will be specified thirty feet in width.

At first most of the councilmen were inclined to favor the narrower street because of the saving of 20 per cent in cost to every property owner, and because ordinary traffic does not use the last three feet of pavement along the curb line, but Mr. Hull raised the objection that in this age of automobiles we need pavements wide enough for frightened horses to pass the machines with wide room between. It was also stated that in Waterloo some of the narrower pavements are being made wider owing to the growth of the town, so it was decided to stick to the thirty-foot width which now prevails in Marshalltown.

Exceptions were made, however, on East North street, which was made twenty feet wide because the street itself is so narrow, and likewise on South Twelfth street twenty-four feet was the width adopted, while Thirteenth street, from Main to the soldiers' home, will be ordered forty feet wide owing to the street car being in the center.

Property owners on South Fourth street, West Church street, South Sixth avenue, South Fourth avenue, Jerome street, and South Third street had petitioned for a twenty-four-foot width.

The narrower pavement is endorsed by many civil engineers and by engineering magazines and was proposed by Mr. Kirby and others because the saving of 20 per cent in the total cost of paving helps to get paving improvement down to a cost which everybody will be willing to pay in order to have their streets paved, and which will result in paving an entire city within a very few years, whereas at the prohibitive cost of the past a city can lay only a small amount of paving every five years or more and then it is done generally over the protests of property owners.

As to the corner lot assessments the council has decided to obey the spirit of the law as laid down in supreme court decisions in other states and as virtually adopted in the decision of the Morgan case and will not attempt to assess to the property owner more than one-third the cost of a pavement running along the long side of a corner lot which has already been paved in front.

BABY OPENS THE PRISON DOOR.

Minnesota Child Finds the Proof of Prisoner's Innocence.

Crookston, Minn., May.—Patrick J. Fearon's baby, Gerald, has swung open the prison doors that recently closed on his father. Fearon was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment, but probably will be set free in a short time.

Fearon formerly was chief clerk in the United States land office at Crookston. He is now a prisoner in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Gerald, while left by his mother to play in the debris of the library drawer, found the government records which his father was charged with destroying.

In preparation for a contemplated trip the contents of the drawer, thought worthless, were cast in a pile upon the floor. The son's nimble fingers opened some of the papers, and the mother's attention being attracted, she found the proofs of her husband's innocence, which he had maintained to the last.

The missing papers were placed in the hands of Receiver Toupin and Register Peterson of the Crookston land office. The papers consist of two sets of filings, involving valuable tracts of land in northern Minnesota.

Straightway, with the aid of friends, Mrs. Fearon placed in the hands of an attorney means for action to free her husband.

THEFTS BREAK GRAIN FIRM.

Trick of Eastern Agent Causes Loss of $377,000.

Chicago, May 23.—The affairs of Durant & Elmora Company, grain operators, with offices at 145 Van Buren street, Chicago, and Albany, N. Y., are involved in financial difficulties to the amount of more than $377,000. The National Commercial Bank of Albany holds the concern's paper for $300,000 and the First National Bank of the same city for $77,000.

According to a dispatch received from Albany, Gibson Oliver, treasurer of the company and in charge of the Albany office, is said to have confessed to responsibility for irregularities in the matter of warehouse receipts, by which the concern was able to obtain money from the banks without having the grain represented by the receipts on hand.

Oliver is said to have made a full confession of the affair to an attorney and told all about the plan. The scheme is said to have been worked thru the aid of an accomplice in the office of the Albany local freight agent of the Delaware and Hudson railroad. Oliver, in his confession, is said to have implicated Henry C. Palmer, a Chicago employe of the company, as an accomplice.

A Narrow Escape.

Integrity

WE have often talked with you about value.

This time we have something to say on Integrity. Integrity of Purpose, of Honor, is just as directly applicable to clothes as to character.

For many years we have adhered unwaveringly to the principle that Integrity of Purpose and Honor would eventually build up a wide and steadfast trade. That policy won out,---our present host of friends proves it.

Before we started in the clothing business we needed a clothing manufacturer who believed in our policy of Integrity---and lived up to it. In this way, and in no other, could we carry out our ideas.

So we examined into the policies of every clothing manufacturer known, and chose without hesitation Hart, Schaffner & Marx. For years, without deviation, have they satisfied us in the Integrity of their product. We have been able to talk to our friends truthfully on the Value and Integrity of these Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes.

Those who wear them prove our statements---and the Integrity of the clothes we sell. Come now,---and prove them for yourself.

A Faithful Friend in Quarters Oak

If, as some on has said, "Silence is the most effective eloquence" then we have only to study the picture of this broad seat chair to fully grasp the deeper meaning of the word. Nothing we can say in cold type will emphasize its attractiveness. One should see it and put its many virtues to the simple test of practical use.

Observe Its Generous Lines For One's Greater Comfort

The chair measures thirty-seven inches in height, back is twenty-four inches high from the seat, outside width is twenty-eight inches. Luxurious comfort is certainly assured by comparing these dimensions with those of the ordinary "rocker." The quartered oak is beautifully grained and the loose seat of Spanish Morocco Goat Leather with double-deck spring cushion is practical wear-proof.
