WALLACE POINTS WAY

AGRICULTURIST SHOWS NECESSITY FOR NEW DEAL ON RAIL COMMISSION

MUST REVOLUTIONIZE PERSONNEL AND METHODS

Wallace Urges Farmer Republicans to Support Thorne and Assent of Board Members—Thorne Assured of Nomination—Real Fight Between Ottosen and D. J. Palmer.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, May 26.—In the issue of this week Wallace's Farmer, comes out with the most aggressive statement yet made in regard to the necessity for a new deal in regard to railroads in Iowa. The voters are urged to secure a new railroad commission and to effect a revolution in the personnel and methods of that body.

The voters are urged to support Thorne and Ottosen for commissioners as the only effective way of gaining control. It is pointed out that there are two places to fill and it will be necessary to elect two who are in harmony. Wallace insists that in all probability Clifford Thorne will be the high man in the game and that the real fight will be between Colonel Palmer and the second man on the progressive state. Wallace's is confident that the only man who stands any show of beating Palmer is Chris Ottosen, of Humboldt county.

The contest on railroad commission has not been attracting as much attention as at first, but the campaign is being prosecuted with much vigor in some of the states. There is a question but that Col. D. J. Palmer is making the most thorough canvass for the place and that he will probably reach a much larger number of voters than any other with appeals for support. In his sixteen years on the board he has done many favors to men and they will all be reached.

Mr. Thorne has done some speaking in the state and starting off with the indorsement of the farmers and shippers he will undoubtedly be nominated to the place. Mr. Ottosen has also gone at the matter systematically and his vote will be enormous. Both are progressives concerning whose loyalty there has never been a question. Both are well fitted for the position. The indorsement given them by Wallace's Farmer will mean a good many thousand votes for them and is more than likely to land them in the places.

As to what is being done by Ferguson, Wilson, Stitz and others on the ticket but little is known here. Wilson is sure to receive a large vote from the old soldiers because he is as well known in G. A. R. circles as anyone in the state. It is said that the committee in which he is being elected for control of the state are taking no part in the contest for railroad commissioners or other officers.

Is the president of the United States paying off the grudges of Secretary of War Taft and the politicians induced Taft to sign undertaking to tell how it came about that the war department was not permitted to place on the Shiloh monuments an erroneous statement as to Iowa history.

There are two views—one that Governor Cummins should have relied upon by the Iowa Shiloh commission to fight thru to a finish their case against the war historians at Washington; the other that Walter I. Smith, assisted by a few of his congressional associates really did it all. Not until this campaign was under way did the Smith theory ever come to the surface. The record of the Iowa Shiloh commission gives the true history of the matter and the commission, including in its personnel war veterans who had long been political opponents of Cummins, gave to him the major credit, which it is now sought to deny him.

One of the members of the commission points out the fact as significant that in order to accomplish this little measure of justice to the memory of Iowa soldiers, Governor Cummins deprecates completely the work that he perhaps ever made for the most intricate lawsuit, and that as a matter of history he compelled a reopening of the case two or three times and forced President Roosevelt virtually to overrule the secretary of war.

That there were some sore spots left in and around the war department is certain. That they should some time break out was regarded as probable. But some of the Iowa old soldiers, as they think about the matter are becoming just a trifle resentful that a second attempt should be made to falsify Iowa history and especially that it should proceed from a source which indicates that it may be little else than a "getting back" at Cummins for his part in fighting the legal battle for the Iowans.

Excellent coaching and hard work on the part of Coach St. Clair told yesterday and the good showing of this year's track team and the very promising outlook for the future is due to the ability of St. Clair.

Plans are being made now for the completion of a new track building and the interest devoted to college football and other work for which the foundation is designed. It will become available immediately, and help to carry on religious teaching without awaiting the building of the cathedral itself.

The Protestant Episcopal Cathedral Foundation was chartered by congress in 1852. Mr. Kasson was a member of the board of trustees. It is proposed to build in Washington a great national church—a free church to all the people of the United States who come to the capital of the country, where the best preachers of the country shall preach for the benefit of all. It is to be made the center of aggressive and up-to-date endeavors in behalf of charity, religious education, missionary undertakings and worship.

The cathedral when completed will represent a total money outlay of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. There has thus far been raised for the purchase of the ground and the beginning of the work on the building about $1,100,000.
