Reinbeck Graduates Nineteen. Special to Times-Republican. Reinbeck, May 28.—The high school here graduated a class of eleven boys and eight girls this year. Commencement exercises were held in the opera house last night and an audience which filled every part of the building assembled to honor the occasion. Reinbeck is a leader in educational matters and no town in the state can show a better school spirit. We not only have the finest and best equipped school building of any town of our size in the state, but we have one of the most progressive and best managed schools. We are the only town of our size teaching domestic art and the girls in the graduating class were clad in beautiful dresses cut, fit and made by themselves. Can this be duplicated in Iowa in any town, large or small? Professor MacBride, of the state university, delivered a fine address on the subject of education. The diplomas were presented by Senator S. W. DeWolf, president of the board.

The graduating class was as follows: Latin course—Jack N. Bassarac, Emma I. Cooper, Lillian E. Hausler, Alice A. Ingols, Edwoud J. Miller, Lee Miller, Margaret E. Miller, Martha E. Miller, Alta E. Mohr. English-German course—Ruth Carroll, John Gethmann, E. Klance Greene, John N. Jacobsen, Harley Ingols, Henry W. Ramsey, L. Vern Robinson, James S. Taylor, Ralph F. Terrall, Augusta E. Willms. Harlan Class Numbers Nineteen. Special to Times-Republican. Harlan, May 28.—The public schools of Harlan will close the school year next Friday. The whole week will be devoted to the exercises and festivities of closing. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered to the class next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. Allan Scollay Hock, of St. Paul's Episcopal church. The senior class play will be rendered at the opera house Wednesday evening, June 2. Its title will be "Charles's Aunt." Members of the class have secured an instructor to be here from Omaha with costumes for the play, and he will be with them for four days practice. The twenty-third annual commencement exercises will be held at the opera house Friday evening June 3, with the following program: Instrumental duet, Lucile and Hortense Miller; prayer, Rev. McCormick; duet, "Hear Me, Normal," Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Tilton; address, "Things That Are Real," Prof. F. C. Eastman; University of Iowa, violin solo, "Adoration," Miss Elva Hammer; presentation of the graduating class by Superintendent H. Nielsen and presentation of diplomas by President Edward S. White of the board of education. The graduating class numbers nineteen, of which twelve are boys and seven girls. The class roll is Jennie Bacon, Ruth Dunnington, Adelaide McCamley, Gladys Dackey, Edna Edwards, Bessie Miller, Grace Pierce, Robert Campbell, Victor Dackey, Leonard Holcoring, Frank Murphy, Christie McCormick, Allan Shepherd, Emerson Cooper, Harry Griffith, Frank Johnson, Uffe Norgaard, Karl Paulsen and John Wyland. Class Day Exercises at Auburn. Special to Times-Republican. Lake City, May 28.—The class day exercises held at the Auburn hall yesterday by the class of 1910, drew a large audience. Ed Erouch, class president, delivered the salutatory address, and the class history was given by Iva Brooks. Next followed an oration by Russell Jones, on "Challenge of the City." Bertha Lesse delivered the class poem and Anna Reardon gave the oration, "Progress of a Century." Wilbur Thompson read the class will. Two pupils, Nettie Anderson and Milo Fleming, gave the class prophecy. After a short talk by Professor Vance, the class song, composed by Wilma Merrill, closed the program. In the evening, after a short program, the members of the graduating class were presented with their diplomas.

Malcom's Graduates. Special to Times-Republican. Malcom, May 28.—The Malcom high school will graduate a class on Thursday, June 2, with the following program: Invocation by Rev. L. A. Crull; salutatory, Alta E. Bryant; cornet solo, J. B. Marling; class poem, Mollie Swindall; class will, Martha Erickson; solo, Katherine Latchem; class history, Frank P. Meigs; class prophecy, Stella Mason City. Rupturing a blood vessel in a fit of coughing, Mrs. Benjamin Hill, wife of a well-known Milwaukee conductor, died suddenly at her home at Mason City. Estherville. The corner stone laying of the new $10,000 Christian church will be held Sunday, May 29, with proper ceremonies. A sacred band concert will be given, followed by an address by Rev. E. J. Emmons. Waterloo. Louis Reed, of Waterloo, claims the record for getting drunk fast upon getting out of jail after serving his time for intoxication. On his release from custody Reed drank a quart of whisky and within thirty minutes was locked up again for intoxication. Dubuque. An unknown tramp Thursday evening lost his life in the Mississippi a short distance below Dubuque. The body was not recovered. The dead man was bathing with a number of fellow hoboes when he got beyond his depth. Correctionville. The Northwest Iowa Veterans' Association will hold its annual reunion at Correctionville July 19, 20 and 21. Sufficient funds have been raised by J. H. Horner, commander, and extensive preparations are being made to make it one of the best reunions ever held in the northwest. Dubuque. The case of the state of Iowa against Walter Smith, charged with incendiarism, was taken up before Judge Matthews Thursday afternoon. Smith is the young man who confessed to having started the fire in the opera house. The afternoon was consumed in the securing of a jury. Cedar Falls. The Cedar Falls high school graduated on Thursday a class of forty boys and girls. The class play was given on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Mirlan Woolson Brooks severs her connection with the school at this time after six years' work. She will take a post graduate course during the summer at the University of Wisconsin and in the fall will begin her work as instructor in history in the Des Moines high school. Mason City. The Wayne avenue coal shed of the Iowa Central Railway Company was completely destroyed by fire Thursday morning, when a fire originated from heating coal. A call was sent in to the fire department and they soon had the flames under control so that the pumping station located there was saved. The damage resulting to the station was but slight. The department did some good work in saving the pumping station from being destroyed. Sioux City. Sioux City business men will risk $6,000 for the sake of getting three days of aeroplane flying exhibitions by Glenn H. Curtiss. At a meeting they authorized President Dave Davidson to name a committee to go among the business men and get subscriptions to a guarantee fund that Curtiss required of $6,000, and the advertising and other expenses that will be incurred. This may require $2,000 more. The meet will likely be June 29-30 and July 1. Sioux City. C. H. Kendall, who in the federal court sued the Omaha road for $15,000 for the death of his son, Miles, who was killed at a crossing, secured dismissal of the case without prejudice and will sue in the district court for $2,000. Young Kendall was a messenger boy in the employ of the Pelletier Company and was delivering a package at the time of the accident. Judge Willard said to believe the boy had been guilty of contributory negligence, so the plaintiff's attorney asked for a dismissal. Boone. Two hogs of S. J. Wheeler have shown symptoms of rabies recently, since they were bitten some little time ago by a dog that wandered out from Boone. The hogs for a time seemed to have recovered from the effects of their injuries, until the last few days when they became restless and showed uneasy disposition. Thursday morning one of the animals became vicious and killed one or two small pigs. The animal was immediately shot and the other animal was shut up to watch the progress of the case. Sheldon. Mrs. Florence May Lane, wife of H. C. Lane, a local banker and merchant who died five years ago, has been served with notice of a suit for $37,500 brought by John W. McGraw, a furniture man of Chicago. Mr. McGraw has the basis for his action, sets up the claim that the $37,500 is due him on various matters. He claims that he purchased some valuable pictures for Mrs. Lane at her direction, also that she did not fulfill her part of an agreement in connection with the proposed purchase of several sections of Canadian land for services he claims he has rendered at her instance. Mr. McGraw alleges there is due him $15,000. The whole amount of his claim reaches the total above stated. The case will come up for hearing at the October term of the O'Brien county court. Clear Lake. There are a few hustling fans. Clear Lake will play ball this summer and will have a team equal to or better than any place in northern Iowa. Ben Dyer, of Des Moines, has been engaged as manager and promises to give a good account of himself. He is secretary of the city league of Des Moines and plays left field. There is going to be no trouble about getting a good team together—one that will be able to hold its own with any of them. The money has been raised and most of the players have been contracted for. Mason City. A move to set apart some of the estate of William Ebel, insane, who figured in district court here last year and who was hitherto a well known farmer in the south part of the county, for the benefit of his wife has taken form and which it seems will bring on the legal controversy. Attorney Thomas H. Milner, who appeared for Ebel at the time he was on trial for incest in the county, is here again in the interests of the state. Michael Coughlin, who has charge of the interests of Mrs. Ebel, is pushing the matter. Manson. Richard Carver was found lying in the road pinned down by a cart, by a neighbor, where he had been thrown by a stallion he was driving. The animal tried to act up a little with him and Mr. Carver jerked him severely. He got up and overturned the cart, pinning Mr. Carver beneath it and rendering him unconscious. A passing neighbor assisted Mr. Carver into the cart and he drove to town, not realizing how badly he was injured until a physician examined him carefully and found that his right hip was badly fractured. As Mr. Carver is 54 years old, the wound will necessarily be a long time in healing. Mason City. Held here since Sunday in the county jail, Everett Stearns of St. Paul, accused of financing an orgie in which a number of local young people were retained, was released from jail by his father, C. E. Stearns, a contractor of St. Paul. Mr. Stearns was at work at Fairbault, Minn., when he heard of his son's difficulty. The boy has been drawing upon his father for various sums for some time and the revelation which he parent received was decidedly a stunning one. Young Stearns was arrested here along with Claude Booth, William Stevens, Pearl Rogers, Emily Haven, Ethlyn Williams and several others, all local residents. Earlville. J. Werkmeister, mayor of this city, received notice this week from the authorities of Pontiac, Ill., of a $1,200 reward offered for the capture of one Ray Scribner, who recently shot an officer of Pontiac. It seems a photo of the man accompanied the notice, and upon observation it was found that this same man in other clothes, was put in the "clipper" train at this place. He was in an intoxicated condition and was endeavoring to ride the blind baggage. He was taken into custody by Marshal J. Taylor and given a night's lodging in the jail and in the morning left for the west, saying he was going to get employment at Waterloo. The description of the man tallied exactly with the features of the photo. Mayor Werkmeister at once notified the sheriff of Pontiac by wire that the man had been seen here and was headed for Waterloo. Waterloo. The eleven Waterloo saloonkeepers, sentenced to serve a term in jail for selling intoxicating drinks to an Indian, will not march to the entrance of the place of confinement on the first day of the coming June, and the charges appear bright that they will never be compelled to make the trip—not at least, on the charges which have been filed and upon which sentence was based in the United States court at Dubuque by Judge Green. W. N. Birdall, attorney for the convicted men, has received word from United States Marshal Fabel of Storm Lake that he would be in Washington, D. C., on June 10, 11 or 12, and that he would like to meet the Waterloo attorneys at that time to take the matter personally with the president and the department of justice, with the hope of securing a pardon for the eleven men. Judge Reed will give further extension of time, if required.

Michael Coughlin, who has charge of the interests of Mrs. Ebel, is pushing the matter. Manson. Richard Carver was found lying in the road pinned down by a cart, by a neighbor, where he had been thrown by a stallion he was driving. The animal tried to act up a little with him and Mr. Carver jerked him severely. He got up and overturned the cart, pinning Mr. Carver beneath it and rendering him unconscious.
